ONE BIG BEAUTIFUL BILL ACT

Mr. ARRINGTON, from the Committee on Budget, submitted the following

R E P O R T

MINORITY VIEWS

[To accompany H.R. 1]

The Committee on the Budget, to whom reconciliation recommendations were submitted pursuant to title II of H. Con. Res. 14, the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2025, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

INTRODUCTION BY THE COMMITTEE ON THE BUDGET

This legislation is the principal vehicle to advance President Trump's America First agenda. It delivers tax relief for Americans, reforms entitlement programs to ensure they are serving the most vulnerable, keeps our nation safe, and rolls back burdensome, expansive government regulations.

The gross federal debt is currently $36.2 trillion—121 percent of GDP. According to the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office (CBO), it is projected to increase to $59.2 trillion in 2035—134.8 percent of GDP. The fiscal year 2025 deficit is projected to be $1.9 trillion and CBO projects that by 2035 the annual deficit will have grown to $2.5 trillion.

As the Nation's debt and deficits have grown so has interest spending. Interest spending this year is estimated to be $952 billion or 3.2 percent of GDP and exceeds what we spend each year on our military. CBO estimates that over the decade interest spending will total $13.8 trillion and consume up to forty percent of all individual income taxes. These interest payments provide no benefits and finance no government service or operations. Instead, they divert resources from true needs.

Spending is also estimated to explode, from $7 trillion annually in 2025 to $10.6 trillion in 2035. As a share of the economy, future spending is estimated to average 24.9 percent over the next thirty years, well above the historic average of 21.1 percent. Revenues, in contrast, increase as a percentage of GDP, growing from the historical average of 17.3 percent to an average of 18.6 percent over the next three decades. Excessive spending, not insufficient revenue, explains the surge in annual deficits.

The Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, H. Con. Res. 14, provided the framework to implement President Trump's America First agenda and reduce spending by at least $1.5 trillion over fiscal years 2025 through 2034.

Pursuant to section 310 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee on the Budget binds together the submissions from the 11 instructed authorizing committees, without substantive revision, and reports the reconciliation bill to the House of Representatives.

This reconciliation bill contains the legislative recommendations marked up by the 11 authorizing committees of the House of Representatives pursuant to the reconciliation instructions included in H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025. These legislative recommendations were transmitted to the Committee on the Budget. CBO has confirmed that ten of the eleven submissions satisfied the instructions for the House authorizing committees instructed in H. Con. Res. 14. Although the House Committee on Armed Services exceeded its instruction, the legislative recommendations transmitted by the House Committee on Armed Services comply with the instruction given to the Senate Committee on Armed Services in H. Con. Res. 14.

This reconciliation bill addresses unchecked, automatic mandatory spending and tackles the fraud, waste, and unnecessary spending that will saddle our children with a debt they never voted for. This bill encompasses the single largest package of mandatory savings ever advanced by Congress. The policies in the One Big Beautiful Bill Act accomplish these reforms in a fiscally responsible package that will make our country stronger, safer, and more solvent.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: Title II of H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, included reconciliation instructions directing the Committees of the House of Representatives to propose legislation that would produce specified budgetary results.

Depending on the time available to complete the estimate, CBO has provided either a point estimate or information about whether the Committee has complied with the reconciliation instructions.

BRIEF EXPLANATION

The provisions passed by the Committee reduce the deficit within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Agriculture, as instructed by H. Con. Res. 14, establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for Fiscal Year 2025 and setting forth the appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2026 through 2034, as passed by the House of Representatives on February 18, 2025.

PURPOSE AND NEED

The House Concurrent Resolution, H. Con. Res. 14, included budget reconciliation instructions directing the Committee on Agriculture to report changes in laws within its jurisdiction that result in decreases to the deficit of not less than $230,000,000,000 for fiscal years 2025 through 2034. The Committee on Agriculture reported provisions out of Committee that meet those instructions by making much needed and overdue reforms to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and providing the resources necessary to shore up the farm safety net and invest in other critical functions.

Though intended to supplement the food budget for low-income individuals, due to a lack of effective oversight by Congress, overreach by the executive branch and States in administration of the program, and a weakening of statutory provisions intended to promote work, SNAP has ballooned in cost and is not effectively serving those who truly need the benefit. Since 2019, SNAP rolls have increased by 17 percent, from 36 million in 2019 to 42 million today, meanwhile the overall cost of the program has grown by 83 percent, ballooning from $60 billion to $110 billion annually. The Congressional Budget Office projects Federal outlays on SNAP to exceed $115 billion by 2035. This is an unsustainable trajectory that threatens the longterm integrity and health of the SNAP program.

Because the SNAP benefit is 100 percent funded by the Federal government, there is minimal incentive for States to control costs, enhance efficiencies, and improve outcomes for recipients. Instead, we have seen States discourage work and expand benefits for those the program was not intended to serve.

Despite a time limit and work requirement enshrined in law for Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWDs) on SNAP, only 28 percent of these individuals have earned income from work. USDA and States have intentionally limited enforcement of the SNAP work requirement for ABAWDs through waivers, leaving 40 percent of these work-ready individuals today under a waiver of the ABAWD work requirement, remaining on the SNAP rolls long after the three-month time limit.

Moreover, the statutory gross monthly income limit is set at 130 percent of the Federal Poverty Line (FPL) for SNAP eligibility. The statute also specifies certain asset limits. Nonetheless, 44 States have opted into some form of Broad-Based Categorical Eligibility (BBCE), a loophole in the law that the Obama Administration exploited to allow States to increase SNAP eligibility up to 200 percent of the FPL and waive asset limits entirely simply because an individual is receiving a brochure from another welfare program. This loophole violates the income and asset limits set in the law by Congress.

Increasing SNAP caseloads have consequences for those this program was intended to serve. States, who administer the program, collectively make close to $13 billion per year in erroneous payments, both overpayments and underpayments, to participants in the SNAP program. Error rates for individual States range from over 60 percent to less than 5 percent, with a national average error rate of 11.68 percent, which has nearly doubled since 2019. Moreover, the majority of SNAP State agencies are out of compliance with processing applications on time. Federal law is clear: States must process SNAP applications within 30 days for most households, and seven days for those who are elderly or disabled. This failure by the States means families in need are waiting too long for assistance.

The provisions reported out of the Committee on Agriculture achieve significant savings for taxpayers through common sense reforms to SNAP including preventing the executive branch from unilaterally increasing SNAP benefits without Congressional authority, ensuring that able-bodied adults who can work do work, limiting the ability of States to take advantage of loopholes in the law that allow them to inflate SNAP benefits regardless of true need, and encouraging States to administer the SNAP program more efficiently and effectively.

Since the enactment of the Agricultural Improvement Act of 2018 (PL 115–334, 2018 Farm Bill) total production costs for producers have increased by over 30 percent. This, coupled with steep and rapid declines in commodity prices from recent highs, has resulted in negative projected returns for all major row crops. Some commodities are on their third consecutive year of negative returns, eroding farmers' balance sheets and driving a 55 percent year-over-year increase in Chapter 12 (farm) bankruptcies. These conditions in the farm economy are what the Title I commodity policy provisions were intended to help mitigate. However, due to inflation, the effective support provided by the current policies is almost negligible. The combination of worsening economic conditions, concerning increases in farmer debt, and lack of a sufficient safety net, compelled Congress in December of 2024 via the American Relief Act, 2025 (PL 118–158) to provide $10 billion in emergency ad hoc assistance to row crop producers and over $20 billion to compensate farmers impacted by natural disasters in 2023 and 2024.

While this assistance was critical for many producers to service debt and secure operating loans for crop year 2025, relying on costly and unbudgeted aid is not a sustainable trajectory for the taxpayer or for producers who need a more reliable and predictable safety net to make long-term business decisions.

To mitigate the need for future unbudgeted assistance—which has grown to $130 billion since 2018—the Committee included provisions to make targeted and strategic enhancements to the farm safety net. These improvements focus on Title I commodity policy, designed to assist farmers during periods of low prices, as well as crop insurance, where average coverage levels have stagnated since 2000, when the last significant reforms were made.

The Committee also sought to address other key priorities in its jurisdiction such as: increasing investment in trade promotion activities, which assist the export dependent agriculture sector with finding foreign markets for U.S. food, feed, and fuel; enhancing livestock biosecurity programming to prepare for, prevent, and respond to animal disease outbreaks which could devastate livestock and poultry industries; investing in public research infrastructure to spur innovation and aid the U.S. in regaining global dominance in new agricultural technologies; and provide a continuation of funding for other policies that are vital to improving rural prosperity and economic development.

SECTION BY SECTION

SUBTITLE A—NUTRITION

Sec. 10001. Thrifty Food Plan.

Section 10001 amends section 3(u) of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 to provide a cost neutrality provision that would prevent the Secretary from increasing the cost of the thrifty food plan based on a reevaluation or update of market baskets, which under this section may not occur more frequently than every 5 years. This section also requires the Secretary to publish in the Federal Register with an opportunity for comment a notice prior to any update of the thrifty food plan market baskets. Under section 3(u)(4), the Secretary would be required to adjust the cost of the thrifty food plan to reflect changes in the Consumer Price Index.

Sec. 10002. Able Bodied Adults Without Dependents Work Requirements.

Subsection (a) of section 10002 amends the exceptions listed for able bodied adults without dependents (ABAWD) in Section 6(0)(3) of the Food and Nutrition Act to the SNAP work requirement. Specifically, this section would increase the age with which ABAWDs must continue working to qualify for SNAP to 64 (up from 54 currently); it changes the generic, functional definition of "dependent child" for ABAWD purposes from under 18 years of age to under 7; and it carves out an exception to the work requirements for a person responsible for a child 7 years of age or older who is married and resides with an individual who complies with the SNAP work requirements.

Subsection (b) of section 10002 keeps in place the October 1, 2030 sunset provision currently in law for the ABAWD exception for: homeless individuals; veterans; and individuals who are 24 years of age or younger and who were in foster care under the responsibility of a State on the date of attaining 18 years of age or such higher age as the State has elected under section 475(8)(B)(iii) of the Social Security Act.

Sec. 10003. Able Bodied Adults Without Dependents Waivers.

Paragraph (1) of section 10003 amends Section 6(o)(4)(A) of the Food and Nutrition Act—which addresses State waiver requests to the work requirement for ABAWDs—by requiring county or county-equivalents to have unemployment rates of over 10% to be eligible for waivers, such waivers being valid for not more than 12 consecutive months. Currently, the Secretary has wide discretion to issue such waivers indefinitely across entire States if the Secretary determines the area does not have a sufficient number of jobs.

Paragraph (2) of section 10003 amends Section 6(o)(6)(F) to lower the maximum number of exempt ABAWDs not living in a waived county or county-equivalent from the SNAP work requirement from 8 percent of such individuals in the State to 1 percent.

Sec. 10004. Availability of Standard Utility Allowances Based on Receipt of Energy Assistance.

Subsection (a) of section 10004 amends Section 5(e)(6)(C)(iv)(I) of the Food and Nutrition Act to limit the use of payments of $20 or more from the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Act of 1981 (or similar energy assistance program) to automatically qualify for the standard utility allowance in determining SNAP allotments to only households with elderly or disabled members. Currently, all households qualify.

Subsection (b)(l) of section 10004 amends Section 5(k)(4) of the Food and Nutrition Act to limit the exclusion from income for the purposes of determining SNAP allotments, payments made pursuant to State law to provide energy assistance to a household to only households with an elderly or disabled member. Subsection (b)(2) amends Section 5(k)(4) of the Food and Nutrition Act to limit the inclusion of expenses paid on behalf of a household under a State law to provide energy assistance as "out-of-pocket" expenses to be considered in the excess shelter deduction for purposes of determining SNAP allotments to only households with an elderly or disabled member. Currently, all households enjoy those benefits.

Sec. 10005. Restrictions on Internet Expenses.

Section 10005 amends Section 5(e)(6) of the Food and Nutrition Act by adding at the end a new subparagraph (E) that explicitly forbids the use of household internet costs from being used in computing the excess shelter expense deduction in determining the size of household SNAP allotments.

Sec. 10006. Matching Funds Requirement.

Subsection (a) of section 10006 amends Section 4(a) of the Food and Nutrition Act by adding a new paragraph (2). Paragraph (2)(A) would require all States to contribute 5 percent of the cost of SNAP allotments beginning in fiscal year 2028. Paragraph (2)(8) increases the percentage that States must contribute based on each respective State's SNAP error rate. States with error rates of between 6 and 8 percent must contribute 15 percent; States with error rates of between 8 and 10 percent must contribute 20 percent; and States with error rates equal to or greater than 10 percent must contribute 25 percent.

Subsection (b) of section 10006 is a rule of construction meant to add further clarity that in no event may the federal government pay towards SNAP allotments an amount greater than the "Federal Share" (100 percent minus the State Share described in subsection (a)).

Sec. 10007. Administrative Cost Sharing.

Section 10007 amends Section 16(a) of the Food and Nutrition Act by reducing the federal share of the cost of administering SNAP from 50 percent to 25 percent, thereby increasing the State share of administrative costs from 50 percent to 75 percent.

Sec. 10008. General Work Requirement Age.

Paragraph (I) of section 10008 amends Section 6(d)(1) of the Food and Nutrition Act by changing the general SNAP work requirement age from over 15 and under 60, to over 17 and under 65. Paragraph (2) amends Section 6(d)(2) by increasing the age of a child for which a parent will be exempted from the general SNAP work requirements from under the age of 6 to under the age of 7.

Sec. 10009. National Accuracy Clearinghouse.

Section 10009 amends Section 11(x)(2) of the Food and Nutrition Act by adding at the end a new subparagraph (D) that would require state agencies to use indications of multiple issuances of SNAP benefits to prevent multiple issuances of other federal and State assistance program benefits.

Sec. 10010. Quality Control Zero Tolerance.

Section 10010 amends Section 16(c)(l)(A)(ii) of the Food and Nutrition Act by reducing the tolerance level for errors in SNAP from $37 in 2014 dollars (adjusted annually to account for inflation) to $0.

Sec. 10011. National Education and Obesity Prevention Grant Program Repealer.

Section 10011 repeals Section 28 of the Food and Nutrition Act: The National Education and Obesity Prevention Grant Program.

Sec. 10012. Alien SNAP Eligibility.

Section 10012 amends Section 6(f) of the Food and Nutrition Act to limit SNAP benefits to only individuals who reside in the United States and are citizens or lawful permanent residents of the United States.

Sec. 10013. Emergency Food Assistance.

Section 10013 amends Section 203D(d)(5) of the Emergency Food Assistance Act of 1983 to extend mandatory funding for each fiscal year through 2031 to carry out federal projects aimed at reducing food waste, providing food to individuals in need, and building relationships between agricultural production, processing, and distribution.

SUBTITLE B—INVESTMENT IN RURAL AMERICA

Sec. 10101. Safety Net.

Section 10101(a) amends section 1111 of the Agricultural Act of 2014 to include a 10% to 20% increase to the statutory reference price for all covered commodities. Effective beginning in the 2031 crop year, the reference price for all covered commodities above shall equal the reference price in the previous crop year multiplied by 1.005 and cannot exceed 115 percent of the reference price for such covered commodity.

Section 10101(b) amends section 1112 of the Agricultural Act of 2014 to maintain all current base acres while providing a 1-time allocation of new base for not more than an additional 30,000,000 base acres for producers who currently do not have base or whose average planted and prevented plant acres exceed the current base acres on the farm. DISSENTING VIEWS

We write to express our dismay over the partisan reconciliation bill that was advanced out of the House Agriculture Committee on a party-line vote the evening of May 14, 2025. The policies included in the bill are backward and put our country on the wrong track. Taking food assistance away from millions of American children, seniors, veterans and people with disabilities to fund tax breaks for the wealthy and large corporations will have long-term costs on the country, both in terms of increasing the deficit and with regard to diminishing opportunities for our nation's children.

Furthermore, picking apart the farm bill—including some farm policy in reconciliation while leaving the majority of the farm bill behind—jeopardizes this year's and future farm bills. The risk to farm country cannot be overstated: successful farm bills rely on the farm bill coalition to pass the House, the Senate and be signed into law. This coalition is as broad and diverse as the farm bill itself and splintering it without any consideration for future generations of farmers does a great disservice to the farm families we represent as members of the Agriculture Committee.

Dismantling Title IV of the farm bill with a $300 billion cut to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) hurts everyone, particularly at a time when the cost of living is squeezing every American and too many are just one paycheck away from disaster. Seniors living on fixed incomes, parents struggling to afford groceries for their children, people with disabilities and their caretakers will all suffer when their food is taken away. We should work together to make basic needs programs like SNAP work better, not worse, for all Americans so they remain available when people fall on hard times. These historic cuts to food assistance will also hurt the farm and food economy, because when the people our farmers feed cannot afford food, the farmers that grow our food sell less. As currently written, these cuts will extract at least $30 billion from the farm economy.

This negative chain reaction will hurt hardworking people beyond farmers' fields as well. Grocers, truckers, packaging and production plant workers will lose income and jobs due to a drop in food demand. As many as 27,000 retailers, largely in rural counties, are at the highest risk of shutting their doors due to the economic impact of these cuts to critical food assistance for vulnerable Americans.[1]

Hunger is a human condition, and cutting anti-hunger, basic needs programs comes with a human cost. The specific policies used to effectuate these cuts are so far-reaching and extreme that no family currently receiving food assistance will be spared. Take, for example, the estimated $155 billion cost shift to states proposed in this bill.

Increasing the current administrative cost-shift for states to 75 percent and creating an unfunded mandate that attempts to force states to pay for SNAP benefits will create a death spiral for federal food assistance in America. These new burdens will amount to hundreds of millions—or billions—in demands on state budgets that they will be simply unable to meet. State governments, particularly those with high poverty rates or smaller tax bases, which are often more rural states, will have limited options to cover these federally-mandated budget shortfalls: take food assistance away from residents, raise taxes or slash other programs and services, like funding for their departments of agriculture, veterans services, programs for treating addiction, and even public schools or libraries. The bill also alters how SNAP payment error rates are calculated, which will cause state error rates to balloon, and their required cost-shift to increase significantly as a result, exacerbating an already impossible scenario. The Majority's bill creates systemic rot within food assistance programs by defunding them, rather than making them work better.

Furthermore, the bill adds more burdensome paperwork requirements that will take away food assistance from seniors and families with children. Expanding these requirements to adults up to age 64 means more seniors struggling to find work after losing their jobs will not only lose work, but also their food assistance. They arbitrarily reclassify which children are deemed "dependents" for the purposes of determining who receives SNAP benefits, resulting in families with children losing their ability to purchase healthy food. Current law uses standards that are instinctively reasonable for most Americans. People under the age of 18 are considered dependent on their parents. Yet this bill decides that children older than six are not dependent on their parents for food. This does not reduce waste, fraud and abuse or improve program efficiency—but it does take food away from an estimated 3 million people to fund tax breaks for large corporations.

Of the many harmful policies included in this bill, another targets the Thrifty Food Plan. Essentially, the Majority requires that food assistance only be adjusted for inflation, ignoring changing dietary guidelines, nutrition recommendations, causing benefits to deteriorate over time. As time passes, SNAP benefits would become impotent and ineffectual. The 2021 Thrifty Food Plan update, the first of its kind in nearly 50 years, lifted 2.9 million people out of poverty and had even stronger impacts in many rural states like Alabama, Oklahoma, and West Virginia, due to the insufficiency of benefits after waiting nearly five decades to do a true update.[2] This policy wages a war of attrition against SNAP, whittling away at its purchasing power until whatever food assistance our nation's hungry children and seniors receive is too meager to fulfill the program's core function: helping vulnerable Americans meet their basic need for food.

The Nutrition Title of the farm bill should be debated and improved as part of the farm bill—a piece of legislation that failed to reach the House floor for a vote last Congress due to a lack of support for a $30 billion cut to SNAP. This all-out assault on the title's food assistance programs in a partisan reconciliation process is a flashing red light indicating that present and future farm bills are in danger.

This bill leaves the majority of the farm bill behind. The last farm bill marked up in the House Agriculture Committee was 800 pages long. This reconciliation bill is 97 pages short. It decimates Title IV and, while it breaks off bits and pieces of other farm bill titles, it falls woefully short of meeting the standard of being a serious piece of legislation that would uplift rural communities and provide America's farmers, ranchers, foresters and producers with the long-term stability and regulatory certainty they need.

This bill includes nothing for rural development or the farm credit system. It does nothing to provide U.S.-grown food commodities with market opportunities through U.S. food aid programs. Nothing in this bill helps address the wildfire crisis or improve forest health; in fact, this bill takes us backward by including harmful rescissions to popular forest conservation programs. There is nothing in this bill to help our energy independence by fostering renewable fuels markets for farmers. Instead, the Majority cuts a full, five-year farm bill off at the knees, extracting over $300 billion from farm bill programs to fund tax breaks for the already rich.

This bill could have helped family farmers, the families they feed and rural communities. The Majority had other priorities in mind.

The Majority's reconciliation bill pits certain commodities against others, and anti-hunger groups against farm groups. The Majority could have brought everyone together—instead, they chose to advance a bill that further divides our country by favoring the "haves" at the expense of the "have-nots." Bringing everyone back to the table and rebuilding trust will take time. Rushing reckless cuts to food assistance programs and busting up the farm bill coalition demonstrates that the Majority prefers to spend its time on other things. Rural communities and family farms will perish as a result.

This is not the first time Democrats have warned our Republican colleagues that the long-term consequences of these policies would hurt struggling farmers, hardworking parents and children. We have said it publicly and privately, numerous times. The Majority has not listened. Instead, they chose to advance their partisan reconciliation bill on May 14, 2025.

Democrats voted against the reconciliation bill in Committee. We will vote against the larger bill, which, in addition to taking food away from children and seniors, takes health care away from people through $625 billion in Medicaid cuts, when it comes to the House floor for a vote. We hope that between our markup and the floor vote, a handful of brave Republicans will stand up and say, "Enough is enough," and decide to work with Democrats to improve basic needs programs instead of destroying them and, ultimately, work with us in a bipartisan fashion on a full, five-year farm bill. That is the only way that farmers and the rural communities in which they live, Americans working throughout the food supply chain and our hungry neighbors will be empowered to thrive, together.

Sincerely,

ANGIE CRAIG,
Ranking Member.

		Contains private-sector mandate?	No

CBO has not reviewed the legislation for effects on spending subject to appropriation.

The legislation would:

- Appropriate $150 billion, primarily for military activities of the Department of Defense (DoD)
- Modify authorities for privatizing military housing

Estimated budgetary effects would mainly stem from:

- Expending funds appropriated for DoD's military activities

Areas of significant uncertainty include:

- Anticipating the rate at which DoD and other agencies can obligate the provided funds, which would affect the rate of outlays and amounts that could eventually be sequestered
- Estimating the number of new agreements for housing privatization

Legislation summary: H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, instructed the House Committee on Armed Services to recommend legislative changes that would increase deficits up to a specified amount over the 2025–2034 period. As part of the reconciliation process, the House Committee on Armed Services approved legislation on April 29, 2025, that would increase deficits.

Estimated Federal cost: In CBO's estimation, the reconciliation recommendations of the House Committee on Armed Services would increase deficits by $144.0 billion over the 2025–2034 period. The estimated budgetary effects of the legislation are shown in Table 1. The costs of the legislation fall within budget functions 050 (national defense) and 700 (veterans benefits and services).

Budget authority includes specified and estimated amounts.

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the legislation will be enacted in summer 2025. CBO's estimates are relative to its January 2025 baseline and cover the period from 2025 through 2034. Outlays of appropriated amounts were estimated using historical obligation and spending rates for similar programs.

Direct spending: Enacting this legislation would increase direct spending by $144.0 billion over the 2025–2034 period. (see Table 2). Almost all of that amount would result from specified direct appropriations for defense activities ($142.8 billion in outlays), with additional estimated amounts related to changes to military housing privatization authorities ($1.2 billion in outlays).

Appropriated amounts: The legislation would appropriate $150.3 billion for 2025. Of that amount, almost all would be for the Department of Defense (DoD), with the remainder for nuclear weapons activities of the Department of Energy ($3.2 billion) and the Armed Forces Retirement Home ($6 million). CBO expects that amounts appropriated by this legislation would be subject to sequestration under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. CBO estimates that a portion of any unobligated balances from those appropriations would be canceled in 2027, 2028, and 2029, which would reduce the budget authority provided by this legislation. After adjusting for the effects of sequestration, CBO estimates that, on net, specified budget authority would total about $146.3 billion and outlays from that budget authority would total $142.8 billion over the 2025–2034 period. The following sections would appropriate specific amounts for the following purposes:

- Section 20002 would appropriate $33.8 billion for shipbuilding programs, increasing outlays by $31.8 billion;
- Section 20003 would appropriate $24.7 billion for air and missile defense activities, increasing outlays by $23.5 billion;
- Section 20004 would provide $20.7 billion for the acquisition of munitions and sustainment of the defense industrial base, increasing outlays by $19.5 billion;
- Section 20005 would appropriate $13.5 billion to expedite the delivery of low-cost weapons and capabilities, increasing outlays by $13.0 billion;
- Section 20006 would appropriate $0.4 billion to improve the audit readiness of DoD's financial statements and for cybersecurity programs, increasing outlays by $0.4 billion;
- Section 20007 would provide $7.3 billion for air superiority programs, increasing outlays by $6.8 billion;
- Section 20008 would provide $12.9 billion for improvements to nuclear forces (of which $3.2 billion would be for the Department of Energy), increasing outlays by $12.6 billion;
- Section 20009 would appropriate $11.1 billion to improve the capabilities of the U.S. Indo-Pacific Command, increasing outlays by $10.5 billion;
- Section 20010 would appropriate $11.5 billion to improve military readiness, increasing outlays by $10.9 billion;
- Section 20011 would appropriate $5.0 billion for border security activities, increasing outlays by $4.9 billion;
- Section 20012 would appropriate $2.0 billion for military intelligence programs, increasing outlays by $1.9 billion;

• Section 20013 would appropriate $10 million for oversight activities by the DoD Inspector General, increasing outlays by $9 million; and

• Section 20001 would increase budget authority by $8.5 billion. Of that amount, $7.3 billion would be specifically appropriated for efforts to improve the quality of life for members of the armed forces, increasing outlays by $6.9 billion.[1] The remaining budget authority and outlays in section 20001 would arise from changes to housing privatization authorities, described in the next section.

Estimated Amounts: Section 20001 would modify authorities related to the privatization of military housing that CBO estimates would increase direct spending by $1.2 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

To finance housing privatization projects, DoD typically enters into long-term contracts with private-sector developers to renovate, construct, operate, and maintain military housing. Those developers leverage DoD contributions, along with expected future Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) payments for military personnel, to borrow additional capital to complete the projects.

CBO considers acquiring housing for military personnel in that manner to be a governmental activity, and that amounts expended by such public-private ventures should be recorded in the federal budget as outlays at the time they occur. When proposed legislation would affect transactions involving third-party financing of governmental activities, CBO's cost estimate for the legislation shows budget authority for the full cost of the project at the time the project is initiated. Outlays are shown over the construction period for each project. In cost estimates, CBO classifies those cash flows as direct spending.

Subsection 20001(b) would increase, through 2029, the limit on the amount of funding that DoD can contribute to privatization projects. Measured by the total capital costs of a project, the section would raise DoD's authorized contribution threshold from 33.3 percent to 60 percent. CBO expects that providing additional funding would facilitate DoD privatization projects that are not financially viable under current law.

CBO estimates that extra funding would allow DoD to initiate one additional privatized housing project by 2029. Based on the cost of previous projects, CBO estimates that the new project would cost $500 million. To account for the uncertainty regarding the timing of that project, CBO evenly distributed the estimated budget authority over the 2026–2029 period. Thus, after accounting for the time needed to complete the construction of the project, CBO estimates that increasing the funding limit would increase direct spending by $450 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Subsection 20001(c) would authorize DoD to pay higher rates of BAH through 2029 to unaccompanied service members living in military housing (such as barracks) provided under the Military Housing Privatization Initiative. CBO expects that the increased payments would facilitate DoD privatization projects that are not financially viable under the current amounts for that allowance.

[1] The amounts appropriated by section 20001 include $6 million for the Armed Forces Retirement Home, which falls under budget function 700 (veterans benefits and services).

CBO estimates that in each year from 2027 through 2029, DoD would initiate one project for unaccompanied housing as a result of the higher rates. Based on the cost of previous projects and adjusting for inflation, CBO estimates that, on average, projects would cost $270 million each. Accounting for the time necessary to complete each project, CBO estimates that enacting the higher BAH would increase direct spending by $780 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Uncertainty: Unobligated balances of appropriations provided by this legislation would be subject to sequestration procedures. The amount sequestered would depend on how quickly the agencies can obligate the provided amounts. If obligation rates differ from CBO's estimates, the amount of balances canceled through sequestration could be greater or less than estimated here.

In addition, the cost and number of the military housing privatization projects arising from the temporary authorities in section 20001 could differ from CBO's estimates.

Pay-As-You-Go Considerations: The Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 establishes budget-reporting and enforcement procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or revenues. The net changes in outlays that are subject to those pay-as-you-go procedures are shown in Table 1.

Increase in Long-Term Net Direct Spending and Deficits: CBO estimates that enacting the legislation would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035.

Mandates: The legislation contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

Estimate Prepared By: Federal Costs: Caroline Dorminey (for Procurement); William Ma (for Operation and Maintenance, Defense Outlays); Christopher Mann (for Military Construction, Family Housing); Aldo Prosperi (for National Defense Stockpile, Research and Development); David Rafferty (for Military Retirement); Dawn Sauter Regan (for Military and Civilian Personnel); Matt Schmit (for Military Health System). Mandates: Brandon Lever.

Estimate Reviewed By: David Newman, Chief, Defense, International Affairs, and Veterans' Affairs Cost Estimates Unit; Kathleen FitzGerald, Chief, Public and Private Mandates Unit; Christina Hawley Anthony, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis; H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis; Chad Chirico, Director of Budget Analysis.

Estimate Approved By: Phillip L. Swagel, Director, Congressional Budget Office.

Budget authority includes estimated and specified amounts.

[a] In addition to the amounts specifically appropriated, section 20001 would modify military housing privatization authorities, which CBO estimates would increase direct spending by $1.2 billion over the 2025–2034 period. Those amounts are included in the $8.5 billion in budget authority and $8.1 billion in outlays for section 20001. The amounts shown here are included in the estimate for section 20001.

[b] In total, this legislation would specifically appropriate $150.3 billion. Unobligated balances from those amounts would be subject to sequestration under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. CBO estimates that a portion of any unobligated balances from those appropriations would be canceled in 2027, 2028, and 2029, which could reduce the budget authority provided in this legislation. The estimated reductions in budget authority and outlays from the sequestration of unobligated balances are included in each section for which CBO estimates there would be unobligated balances and in the Total Changes above.

DISSENTING VIEWS

There is clear bipartisan support among the members of this committee for defense investments that support modernization, readiness, innovation, and the quality of life of our service members and their families. The ideal process for considering these investments is the normal authorization and appropriations process. For over six decades, this committee has worked within this process and proven again and again its ability to tackle the hardest and most controversial issues of the day—and illustrated the value of working across the aisle to solve the national security problems that matter to the American people. Unfortunately, by rubber stamping this proposed legislation and endorsing this folly, the committee has roundly rejected its normal tradition of forceful and bipartisan oversight.

There's no question that the Department of Defense has requirements and that we as a country face threats and challenges from around the world. We clearly need to meet those threats and challenges, and we need to do so in ways that promote efficiency and effectiveness and allow for greater innovation. Unfortunately, it is equally true that gifting the Pentagon an additional $150 billion with few to no guardrails, on top of the nearly $900 billion in defense authorizations and appropriations already passed, and without receiving the President's Budget for Fiscal Year 2026 or even the execution instructions for the Fiscal Year 2025 Continuing Resolution, defies basic common sense. Paying for it with a combination of debt borne by future generations and devastating cuts that can only come from critical programs like Medicaid, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, and student loan and grant programs at the Department of Education is unacceptable. Turning around and giving this giant blank check to a Pentagon reeling from the chaos inflicted by Secretary of Defense Hegseth, the irrational and destructive actions of Elon Musk and his so-called Department of Government Efficiency, and a President consumed only with loyalty, is beyond foolish.

This committee has yet to receive even the most basic transparency information from the Pentagon and the Trump Administration about important matters within its jurisdiction, including leaks of classified information and the chaos inflicted on the Department of Defense and its employees by DOGE's opaque and misguided efforts. Rather than use this opportunity to fulfill our responsibilities, most of our Republican colleagues didn't show up during consideration of this legislation. None—except for the Chairman—spoke or engaged in the process in any meaningful way.

This legislation represents a failure of our responsibility as Members of the committee entrusted with the immense responsibility of careful and considered oversight of the Department of Defense. I remain committed to working across the aisle to pass a responsible budget and defense authorization that meet our national security requirements, but we can and must do this without exploding the deficit and debt while giving trillions in tax cuts to the wealthy and willfully turning a blind eye to Pentagon leaders more consumed with vanity and culture wars than with actual management and leadership.

Sincerely,

ADAM SMITH,
Ranking Member.

DISSENTING VIEWS

This reconciliation bill allocates an additional $150 billion to the Department of Defense, supplementing the $849.9 billion already authorized under the Fiscal Year 2025 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA). While I strongly support investing in our military and national security, that investment must not come at the expense of hardworking American families. While there are portions of this bill that I would support as submitted through the normal process, I cannot support providing reconciliation funds by taking food from school-aged children. Because of this, I am strongly opposed to the passage of the proposed reconciliation package.

Cutting essential programs like Medicare, SNAP, and Head Start—which millions rely on—to fund wasteful defense initiatives is reckless and short-sighted. These cuts will have devastating consequences for our most vulnerable communities, undermining the very foundations of economic security and opportunity that Americans depend on. We must pursue a balanced approach to national defense—one that strengthens our military while protecting critical social safety nets.

In addition to the fundamental flaws, this legislation funds a litany of wasteful programs, further exacerbating fiscal irresponsibility in defense spending. The Sentinel program has spiraled into an 81% cost overrun, reaching $140.9 billion, with no clear strategic necessity. Meanwhile, Congress is allocating $2 billion for the Nuclear-Armed Sea-Launched Cruise Missile (SLCM–N)—a system that is redundant to existing capabilities and, when combined with Sentinel, heightens the risk of nuclear escalation with our adversaries.

The excessive funding for the Golden Dome proposal is equally troubling, raising serious concerns about effectiveness, cost, and oversight. Despite the Department of Defense's failure to provide Congress with a plan or cost estimate, my Republican colleagues are pushing for a $25 billion investment in a program with highly questionable technical feasibility. Deploying space-based interceptors under this initiative will fuel global instability, increasing tensions with rival nations and further militarizing the space domain. Rather than racing toward failure, we should be carefully evaluating the strategic value, and risk, of these programs.

President Trump's use of military aircraft for immigration enforcement is deeply alarming, potentially unconstitutional, and a wasteful misuse of our military resources. Despite my formal requests for the Department of Defense to halt these unjustified operations, the responses I have received have been insufficient in addressing my concerns. These military deportation flights transport fewer migrants yet cost three times more than ICE's civilian aircraft. Allocating an additional $5 billion to the Department of Defense for "repatriation" efforts, as this legislation does, is unnecessary and fiscally irresponsible.

Legislation involving such massive expenditures must go through Congress's normal authorization and appropriations process. This is especially critical when funding decisions threaten essential programs like healthcare and food assistance. The American people deserve rigorous debate to ensure Congress responsibly balances national security priorities with the needs of our citizens. Instead, not only was this bill rushed through without debate, but many of my Republican colleagues failed to show up.

We cannot continue to waste billions on ineffective programs and political legacy projects while ignoring the real needs of the American people.

Sincerely,

JOHN GARAMENDI,
Member of Congress.

Such a maximum total price for completion shall be determined for students in each income category and student aid index category (as determined by the Secretary). In determining the maximum total price for completion to be charged to each such category of students, the institution may consider the ability of a category of students to pay tuition and fees, but may not include in such consideration any Federal Pell Grants or other Federal financial aid awards that may be available to such category of students under this title.

"(2) MULTIPLE MAXIMUM TOTAL PRICE GUARANTEES.—In the event that a student receives more than 1 maximum total price guarantee because the student is included in more than 1 category of students for which the institution determines a maximum total price guarantee amount for the purposes of subsection (c), the maximum total price guarantee applicable to such student for the purposes of this section shall be equal to the lowest such guarantee amount.

this title who were enrolled in the institution in each such award year who—

"(i) completed a program of study at the institution within 100 percent of the program length of such program; or

"(ii) only in the case of a two-year institution or a less than two-year institution—

"(I) transfer to a four-year institution; and

"(II) within 4 years after first enrolling at the two-year or less than two-year institution, complete a program of study at the four-year institution for which a bachelor's degree (or substantially similar credential) is awarded.

"(b) MAXIMUM GRANT AMOUNT.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), the maximum amount an eligible institution may receive annually for a grant under this subpart shall be the amount equal to—

"(1) the average, for the 3 most recent award years, of the number of students enrolled in the institution in an award year who receive Federal financial aid under this title; multiplied by

"(2) $5,000.

"(c) FLEXIBLE USE OF FUNDS.—A PROMISE grant awarded under this subpart shall be used by an eligible institution to—

"(2) SECONDARY FUNDS.—Beginning award year 2028–2029, if the amounts made available to the Secretary under paragraph (1) to carry out this subpart in any award year are insufficient to fully fund the PROMISE grants awarded under this subpart in such award year, there shall be available to the Secretary, in addition to such amounts, any funds returned to the Secretary under section 484B in the previous award year.

"(b) REDUCTION OF GRANT AMOUNT IN CASE OF INSUFFICIENT FUNDS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—If the amounts made available to the Secretary under subsection (a) to carry out this subpart for an award year are not sufficient to provide grants to each eligible institution in the amount determined under section 420U for such award year, the Secretary shall reduce each such grant amount by the applicable percentage described in paragraph (2).

"(2) APPLICABLE PERCENTAGE.—The applicable percentage described in this paragraph is the percentage determined by dividing—

"(A) the amounts made available under subsection (a) for the award year described in paragraph (1); by

"(B) the total amount that would be necessary to provide grants to all eligible institutions in the amounts determined under section 420U for such award year.

"SEC. 420W. DEFINITIONS.

"(II) a graduate credential, 300 percent of the poverty line applicable to a single individual as determined under section 673(2) of the Community Services Block Grant Act (42 U.S.C. 9902(2)) for such year.

"(B) GEOGRAPHIC ADJUSTMENT.—

"(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in clause (ii), the Secretary shall use the geographic location of the institution at which a student completed a program of study to adjust the value-added earnings of the student calculated under subparagraph (A) by dividing—

"(I) the difference between clauses (i) and (ii) of such subparagraph; by

"(II) the most recent regional price parity index of the Bureau of Economics Analysis for the State or, as applicable, metropolitan area in which such institution is located.

"(ii) EXCEPTION.—The value-added earnings of a student calculated under subparagraph (A) shall not be adjusted based on geographic location in accordance with clause (i) if such student attended principally through distance education.

"(II) when combined with the program length of such additional educational program for licensure, has a total program length that exceeds the relevant earnings measurement period prescribed for such program of study under clause (i),

except that in no case shall the annual earnings of a student be measured more than 1 year after the student completes such additional educational program.

"(2) PROGRAM LENGTH.—The term 'program length' means the minimum amount of time in weeks, months, or years that is specified in the catalog, marketing materials, or other official publications of an institution of higher education for a full-time student to complete the requirements for a specific program of study.".

(b) INSTITUTIONAL REFUNDS.—Section 484B of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1091b) is amended by adding at the end the following:

COMMITTEE VIEWS

INTRODUCTION

Between federal, state, and local government support, taxpayers are spending over a quarter of a trillion dollars annually on postsecondary education. The Department of Education (ED or Department) alone disburses roughly $100 billion in federal student aid annually, essentially making it the largest consumer bank in the United States. Investments of this magnitude should result in positive returns for students and taxpayers, yet that's not the case. For example, half of the $300 billion in Pell Grants ED will disburse over the next decade will be to students who never graduate.[1] Over half of recent college graduates work in jobs that only require a high school diploma.[2] Unsurprisingly, students, families, and taxpayers are questioning whether postsecondary education is worth the cost.[3]

Rising Costs

In the two decades prior to the COVID–19 pandemic, published tuition and fees increased an astounding 164 percent, nearly three times faster than the rate of inflation. Such increases far outpace the costs of medical services, child care, housing, and nearly every other good or service in the economy.[4] Since there has been no commensurate increases in household income, paying for college has become an increasingly difficult endeavor, with the share of Americans' expenditures put towards postsecondary education nearly doubling between 1989 and 2019.[5] Even after accounting for grants and scholarships, the typical low-income family is still expected to pay roughly a third of its household income for the annual cost of an in-state public education.[6]

Rising costs are not to the result of inadequate government support, as taxpayer funding for postsecondary education is higher today than at any point in the nation's history. In fact, if tuition revenue per student had simply risen at the rate of inflation over the last two decades, expansions in financial aid would have reduced the average in-state public college student's tuition bill to zero.[7] Rather, the overwhelming evidence suggests that colleges have exploited the availability of generous government support to charge outrageous prices for low-value degrees and fund wasteful spending on campus. For example, a 2017 study by the New York Federal Reserve found that colleges raise tuition by 60 cents for each $1 increase in federal loan subsidies.[8] Other studies have found that the PLUS loan program, which provides effectively unlimited federal loans to parents of undergraduate and graduate students, has inflationary impacts on tuition as well; according to a 2023 study, the PLUS loans to graduate students increase costs dollar for dollar.[9] Simply put, colleges "capture" financial aid in the form of higher prices, and those higher prices result in more taxpayer spending on financial aid to try to fill the gap, only for that financial aid to be captured, and so on and so forth.

Declining Returns

Rising costs would not be a problem if the benefits of postsecondary education rose at the same rate. However, both graduation rates and the college wage premium have been stagnant for two decades.[10] As a result of rising costs and stagnant outcomes, the return on investment for postsecondary education has inevitably declined. Research shows that a quarter of bachelor's degree programs and 40 percent of master's degree programs leave students worse off than if they had not enrolled in college in the first place.[11] Moreover, far too many students do not graduate at all; according to data from the Department, 40 percent of students never complete their degree.[12]

Importantly, students aren't the only party that suffers when enrolling in postsecondary education that doesn't pay off; taxpayers suffer as well. Students face higher unemployment rates, rely on government safety net programs, and ultimately fail to repay their loans—all of which impacts taxpayers. Despite "oversight" of postsecondary education from states, accreditors, and ED, hundreds of thousands of students will borrow for programs that leave them worse off than if they had never enrolled in school in the first place. Currently, federal student loans have essentially zero underwriting when it comes to the cost and quality of the education students are pursuing, and colleges, which receive all these dollars upfront, have no incentive to change it. In turn, taxpayers are expected to recoup just 80 cents for every dollar lent to students and parents, resulting in over a quarter-trillion dollars in losses over the next decade alone.[13]

A Broken System

The repeated patching of this broken system has built up a horrific Frankenstein that is increasingly problematic, politically contentious, and difficult to fix. In the absence of congressional action, the Biden-Harris administration attempted to spend $1 trillion in taxpayer money on student loan bailouts while doing nothing to address the underlying issues of student debt and college costs.[14] As a result, students are expected to borrow more and default at greater rates than those taking out loans during the height of the COVID–19 pandemic.[15] Just one third of borrowers are actually making payments on their loans as required, with the tens of millions of others being either delinquent, in default, or in limbo as a result of this Democrat-created crisis.[16]

STUDENT SUCCESS AND TAXPAYER SAVINGS

Through budget reconciliation, Republicans have an opportunity to provide real, lasting solutions to the issues plaguing postsecondary education while saving taxpayers hundreds of billions of dollars in the process through policies focused on streamlining loan repayment, simplifying student loan options, and strengthening accountability to ensure that students and taxpayers get a return on their investment in postsecondary education.

Streamlining Student Loan Repayment

Under current law, there are over 50 ways for borrowers to meet their repayment obligations. This tangled web of repayment options makes it difficult for schools and loan servicers to communicate options to borrowers, including those who stand to benefit the most from certain borrower safety net options like income-driven repayment (IDR) plans but often never enroll in such plans because they are unable to navigate them effectively.[17] Moreover, struggling borrowers also are deterred from making payments under IDR in many cases because their payments too often fail to cover their interest, let alone reduce their balance by a meaningful amount, leaving taxpayers to foot the bill when the borrower ultimately defaults. To reduce complexity and protect borrowers and taxpayers from unaffordable debt, House Republicans are proposing to pare back the maze of options and curb excess loan forgiveness windfalls provided to those who don't need them.

Repayment Plans

There are currently several different repayment plan options; however, the most utilized plans fall into two categories: (1) fixed repayment plans; and (2) IDR plans, which allow borrowers to make payments based on their income rather than their debt and provide forgiveness typically after 20 to 25 years even for payments of $0. In 2023, the Biden administration created a new IDR plan—dubbed the SAVE plan—that dramatically lowered monthly payments for all borrowers and decreased time to forgiveness for all borrowers to as little as 10 years. Simply put, the SAVE repayment plan effectively turned the student loan program into a backdoor mechanism for providing "free" college. Importantly, several states filed lawsuits seeking to block its implementation. Federal courts have signaled that they not only see the "SAVE" plan as illegal but also that other existing plans created by ED using the same statutory authority are illegal as well, threatening to throw the entire student loan repayment system into chaos and leaving the current administration with few options.

In order to prevent this Democrat-created crisis from occurring today or recurring in the future, the House reconciliation proposal streamlines repayment options for current and new borrowers. Borrowers enrolled in the IDR plans that are subject to the injunction currently in place by the courts will be moved into the existing income-based repayment plan that is authorized in the Higher Education Act and will also have available to them all fixed repayment options authorized in law as well as the new repayment assistance plan described below. These reforms will ensure that current borrowers maintain access to safety net programs in light of the pending court decision and will prevent any further disruptions for borrowers going forward. For new borrowers, the proposal pairs down repayment options to just two: a fixed "mortgage" style plan and a "repayment assistance plan" that provides targeted relief to borrowers in need by preventing ballooning balances, reducing payments for those with children, and eliminating marriage penalties that exist under current plans. Taken together, the repayment reforms will vastly simplify student loan repayment to benefit both borrowers and taxpayers.

Simplifying Student Loan Options

Overwhelming evidence suggests that colleges have exploited the availability of generous taxpayer-backed loans to raise prices rather than improve access and affordability. Recognizing this, House Republicans are proposing reforms to streamline loan options to increase simplicity and affordability for students and families, as well as curtail the extent to which schools force students to borrow excessive amounts of debt that they will never be able to repay. These reforms include sunsetting Grad PLUS Loans—which allow graduate students to effectively borrow unlimited sums—as well as subsidized loans provided to undergraduates. In doing so, the proposal also replaces the outdated and arbitrary annual loan limits currently in place under the Stafford program with flexible annual loan limits that vary by students' program of study, while also adding reasonable aggregate limits. The House proposal also reins in the predatory Parent PLUS program which, like Grad PLUS, has no borrowing limits, by requiring that students maximize their borrowing first before PLUS loans are made available to their parents, as well as by placing a reasonable $50,000 aggregate cap on borrowing per parent.

Accountability for Students and Taxpayers

While the reforms to loan limits and student loan repayment will go a long way towards curtailing excessive government spending, those reforms alone will not address the fact that hundreds of billions of taxpayer dollars flow to low-value institutions and programs each year, leaving both students and taxpayers worse for investing in them. Under the current system, thousands of students enroll in programs that leave them financially worse off than if they had never gone to college in the first place. The existence of schools and programs like this, which give students a negative return on their investment, is the consequence of a lack of accountability for college costs and student outcomes.[18] The House proposal will ensure accountability for students, institutions, and ED when it comes to the hundreds of billions of taxpayer dollars all three parties benefit from.

Skin in the Game

The centerpiece of the House Republican proposal to lower the cost of postsecondary education for students, families, and taxpayers is the bipartisan notion that all institutions should have a stake in their students' success. To address the absence in underwriting and accountability for taxpayer dollars, House Republicans are proposing to hold colleges accountable for the outcomes of their graduates, including through charging them a fee for the taxpayer losses on the loans they disburse to students, as well as rewarding schools for enrolling and graduating low-income students in high-value programs with flexible block grant funding. Importantly, this proposed new system will be phased in over the next decade, with the first risk-sharing payments occurring no earlier than three years after enactment. Further, with a sector neutral accountability system in place, the proposal peels back outdated and flawed metrics like the 90/10 rule that artificially increase tuition and punish institutions for enrolling low-income students in high-quality programs, as well as other rules that are selectively applied based on the tax status of the college. Taken together, the Committee Print's institutional accountability provisions will change the incentives for institutions, lower college costs, and yield financial returns for students, schools, and taxpayers alike.

Other Reforms

The House proposal also improves accountability for taxpayer dollars with respect to students and the Department. To the former, recognizing that half of Pell Grant recipients fail to graduate, the proposal changes the definition of full-time student with respect to the Pell Grant, requiring that students take the appropriate number of courses to allow them to graduate on-time in order to receive their full award. The proposal also aligns Pell Grant eligibility with the federal student loan program, requiring that students must be enrolled at least half time (though calculated over the entire year rather than semester) in order to receive their Pell Grant. Importantly, the proposal uses the savings recovered from these Pell eligibility changes to help shore up Pell Grant funding over the next decade, which has an expected shortfall of $87 billion by the end of fiscal year 2034. These reforms, along with the supplemental funding, close nearly 80 percent of the shortfall through 2034, and fully funds the Pell Grant program into Fiscal Year 2027. Lastly, the Committee Print aligns postsecondary education and the workforce by opening up Pell Grant eligibility to high-quality, short-term credential programs, including non-traditional providers that operate outside of the accreditation system but demonstrate strong outcomes.

With respect to the Department, the proposal repeals regulations providing backdoor loan forgiveness put forth under President Biden and ensures that no future Secretary has the opportunity to transfer trillions of dollars of debt from those who borrowed to hardworking taxpayers who did not.

COMMITTEE PRINT SUMMARY

There is bipartisan agreement that student loan debt is too high, completion rates are too low, and far too many students are left worse off after paying for postsecondary education than if they had never enrolled in the first place. For too long, policymakers have relied on patchwork "solutions" that exacerbate these problems without addressing their root cause: the inflated cost of obtaining a college degree. Fortunately, Committee Republicans are stepping up to fix the underlying problem permanently through the Committee Print, which provides a comprehensive solution that will lower college costs for students and families in the following ways:

- Strengthening accountability for students and taxpayers. It is time to ensure accountability for the hundreds of billions of taxpayer funds that flow to postsecondary education. Colleges should have a stake in their students' success and be responsible for reimbursing taxpayers for a portion of their losses if students don't see financial value from enrolling in an institution and can't repay.
    - Students, families, and the federal government pay tens, sometimes hundreds, of thousands of dollars in tuition while many degrees offer students no additional value but leave graduates with debt. Too many are left worse off than if they never enrolled in the first place.
    - The Committee Print requires colleges to have skin in the game by paying a portion of their students' unpaid loans based on how much of a return on investment the degree provided. Institutions that continue to saddle their students with debt eventually face increasing penalties and risk loss of access to federal student aid.
    - The Committee Print reins in executive overreach by preventing any future attempts at loan "forgiveness" and repeals a range of burdensome and costly Biden-era regulations.
    - Additionally, Pell Grant reforms ensure Pell funds go towards families and students in need while promoting completion. Students must be enrolled at least half-time to receive Pell. The Committee Print also closes loopholes that allowed wealthy families with foreign income or large amounts of assets to still receive Pell Grants. The Committee Print reinvests budgetary savings back into Pell to keep the program sustainable.
- Streamlining student loan options. The reforms included in the Committee Print protect taxpayers and increase simplicity and affordability so students don't borrow excessive debt they can never repay. It is time to reform the loan program so that students, institutions, and taxpayers can all benefit.
    - For undergraduate students, the Committee Print has a maximum cap of $50,000. For graduate students, it sunsets the harmful GradPLUS loans that allowed for uncapped lending for programs that had little to no return on investment. For the loans remaining for graduate students, the Committee Print now implements maximum aggregate student loan caps of $100,000 for graduate students and $150,000 for professional students.

  - The Committee Print sets annual limits of both undergraduate and graduate loans to the median cost of the program of study across the nation. This will put downward pressure on program costs. Thus, the lifetime aggregate limit for every student is $200,000.
  - The Committee Print also puts a total cap of $50,000 on the predatory Parent PLUS loans and requires students to borrow the maximum amount they can before their parent takes out a loan on their behalf.

- Simplifying the student loan repayment. The student loan repayment process has become bloated and too complex. The Committee Print simplifies the loan repayment system to help troubled borrowers repay loans without saddling taxpayers with the burden of paying back the loans of wealthy borrowers.
  - The Committee Print repeals President Biden's improperly named "SAVE" repayment plan that would have cost taxpayers $220 billion because it enabled little to no actual repayment of loans.
  - The Committee Print then streamlines the litany of other repayment plans into two plans: a fixed repayment plan (like a house mortgage) and an income-driven repayment (IDR) plan to help lower-income borrowers in need.
  - The Committee Print's new IDR plan scales payments up with income, includes a minimum monthly payment, and prevents balances from always ballooning. This ensures that all borrowers, even those struggling, can make payments.
  - Current borrowers in limbo will be given clarity and placed into one of the existing statutory income-based repayment plans. They then have the option to switch into the new plan if they choose.

  - Use of Funds. Provides flexibility to use funds to meet the maximum price guarantee required under the program, as well as other initiatives to improve college affordability, college access, and student successes in ways that best suit the needs of the institution and its students; requires institutions to report and evaluate how funds are used and disseminate best practices based on those evaluations.
  - Maximum Price Guarantee. Requires that, as a condition of receiving PROMISE grants, institutions must provide prospective students a guaranteed maximum total price for a given program of study based on income and financial need categories established by the Secretary; requires such guarantee to be for a minimum period of enrollment (up to six years or the institution's median time to completion, whichever is less).

(ii) an amount equal to the amount determined to be the student aid index with respect to that student for that year, except that a student aid index of less than zero shall be considered to be zero for the purposes of this clause,

(D) ⟦A student⟧ For each academic year beginning before July 1, 2025, a student eligible for the total maximum Federal Pell Grant under subparagraph (A) who has (or whose spouse or parent, as applicable based on whose information is used under such subparagraph, has) foreign income that would, if added to adjusted gross income, result in the student no longer being eligible for such total maximum Federal Pell Grant, shall not be provided a Federal Pell Grant until the student aid administrator evaluates the student's FAFSA and makes a determination regarding whether it is appropriate to make an adjustment under section 479A(b)(1)(B)(v) to account for such foreign income when determining the student's eligibility for such total maximum Federal Pell Grant.

(E) With respect to a student who is not eligible for the total maximum Federal Pell Grant under subparagraph (A) or a minimum Federal Pell Grant under subparagraph (C), the Secretary shall subtract from the student or parents' adjusted gross income, as applicable based on whose income is used for the Federal Pell Grant calculation, the sum of the following for the individual whose income is so used, and consider such difference the adjusted gross income for purposes of determining the student's eligibility for such Federal Pell Grant award under such subparagraph:

twice the amount of the total maximum Federal Pell Grant for such academic year.

[(2)] (2)(A) LESS THAN FULL-TIME ENROLLMENT.—In any case where a student is enrolled in an eligible program of an institution of higher education on less than a full-time basis (including a student who attends an institution of higher education on less than a half-time basis) during any academic year, the amount of the Federal Pell Grant to which that student is entitled shall be reduced in direct proportion to the degree to which that student is not so enrolled on a full-time basis, rounded to the nearest whole percentage point, as provided in a schedule of reductions published by the Secretary computed in accordance with this subpart. Such schedule of reductions shall be published in the Federal Register in accordance with section 482. Such reduced Federal Pell Grant for a student enrolled on a less than full-time basis shall also apply proportionally to students who are otherwise eligible to receive the minimum Federal Pell Grant, if enrolled full-time.

(B) LESS THAN HALF-TIME ENROLLMENT.—Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), a student who first receives a Federal Pell Grant on or after July 1, 2025, shall not be eligible for an award under this subsection for any academic year beginning after such date in which the student is enrolled in an eligible program of an institution of higher education on less than a half-time basis. The Secretary shall update the schedule of reductions described in subparagraph (A) in accordance with this subparagraph, including for students receiving the minimum Federal Pell Grant.

If, with respect to any student, it is determined that the amount of a Federal Pell Grant for that student exceeds the cost of attendance for that year, the amount of the Federal Pell Grant shall be reduced until the Federal Pell Grant does not exceed the cost of attendance at such institution.

(4) STUDY ABROAD.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this subpart, the Secretary shall allow the amount of the Federal Pell Grant to be exceeded for students participating in a program of study abroad approved for credit by the institution at which the student is enrolled when the reasonable costs of such program are greater than the cost of attendance at the student's home institution, except that the amount of such Federal Pell Grant in any fiscal year shall not exceed the maximum amount of a Federal Pell Grant for which a student is eligible under paragraph (1) or (2) during such award year. If the preceding sentence applies, the financial aid administrator at the home institution may use the cost of the study abroad program, rather than the home institution's cost, to determine the cost of attendance of the student.

(5) TOTAL MAXIMUM FEDERAL PELL GRANT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—For award year 2024–2025, and each subsequent award year, the total maximum Federal Pell Grant award per student shall be equal to the sum of—

(vi) $1,236,000,000 for each succeeding fiscal year.

(9) ADDITIONAL PAYMENT PERIODS IN SAME AWARD YEAR.—

(A) Effective in the 2017–2018 award year and thereafter, the Secretary shall award an eligible student not more than one and one-half Federal Pell Grants during a single award year to permit such student to work toward completion of an eligible program if, during that single award year, the student has received a Federal Pell Grant for an award year and is enrolled in an eligible program for one or more additional payment periods during the same award year that are not otherwise fully covered by the student's Federal Pell Grant.

(D) In any case where an eligible student is receiving a Federal Pell Grant for a payment period that spans 2 award years, the Secretary shall allow the eligible institution in which the student is enrolled to determine the award year to which the additional period shall be assigned, as it determines is most beneficial to students.

(ii) actively serving as a public safety officer and died in the line of duty while performing as a public safety officer; and

(B) who is less than 33 years of age.

(3) INFORMATION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law—

(A) the Secretary shall establish the necessary data-sharing agreements with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs and the Secretary of Defense, as applicable, to provide the information necessary to determine which students meet the requirements of paragraph (2)(A)(i); and

(B) the financial aid administrator shall verify with the student that the student is eligible for the adjustment and notify the Secretary of the adjustment of the student's eligibility.

(4) TREATMENT OF PELL AMOUNT.—Notwithstanding section 1212 of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (34 U.S.C. 10302), in the case of a student who receives an increased Federal Pell Grant amount under this section, the total amount of such Federal Pell Grant, including the increase under this subsection, shall not be considered in calculating that student's educational assistance benefits under the Public Safety Officers' Benefits program under subpart 2 of part L of title I of such Act.

(5) PREVENTION OF DOUBLE BENEFITS.—No eligible student described in paragraph (2) may concurrently receive a grant under both this subsection and subsection (b).

(6) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary shall award grants under this subsection in the same manner and with the same terms and conditions, including the length of the period of eligibility, as the Secretary awards Federal Pell Grants under subsection (b), except that—

(A) the award rules and determination of need applicable to the calculation of Federal Pell Grants under subsection (b)(1), and the eligibility requirement of enrollment on at least a half-time basis under subsection (b)(2), shall not apply to grants made under this subsection; and

(B) the maximum period determined under subsection (d)(5) shall be determined by including all grants made under this section received by the eligible student and all grants so received under subpart 10 before the effective date of this subsection.

(7) DEFINITION OF PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICER.—For purposes of this subsection, the term "public safety officer" means—

(A) a public safety officer, as defined in section 1204 of title I of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (34 U.S.C. 10284); or

(II) at a planned special event.

(d) PERIOD OF ELIGIBILITY FOR GRANTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The period during which a student may receive Federal Pell Grants shall be the period required for the completion of the first undergraduate baccalaureate course of study being pursued by that student at the institution at which the student is in attendance, except that any period during which the student is enrolled in a noncredit or remedial course of study, as described in paragraph (2), shall not be counted for the purpose of this paragraph.

(2) NONCREDIT OR REMEDIAL COURSES; STUDY ABROAD.—Nothing in this section shall exclude from eligibility courses of study which are noncredit or remedial in nature (including courses in English language instruction) which are determined by the institution to be necessary to help the student be prepared for the pursuit of a first undergraduate baccalaureate degree or certificate or, in the case of courses in English language instruction, to be necessary to enable the student to use already existing knowledge, training, or skills. Nothing in this section shall exclude from eligibility programs of study abroad that are approved for credit by the home institution at which the student is enrolled.

(3) NO CONCURRENT PAYMENTS.—No student is entitled to receive Pell Grant payments concurrently from more than one institution or from both the Secretary and an institution.

(4) POSTBACCALAUREATE PROGRAM.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), the Secretary may allow, on a case-by-case basis, a student to receive a Federal Pell Grant if the student—

(A) is carrying at least one-half the normal full-time work load for the course of study the student is pursuing, as determined by the institution of higher education; and

(B) is enrolled or accepted for enrollment in a postbaccalaureate program that does not lead to a graduate degree, and in courses required by a State in order for the student to receive a professional certification or licensing credential that is required for employment as a teacher in an elementary school or secondary school in that State, except that this paragraph shall not apply to a student who is enrolled in an institution of higher education that offers a baccalaureate degree in education.

(5) MAXIMUM PERIOD.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the period during which a student may receive Federal Pell Grants shall not exceed 12 semesters, or the equivalent of 12 semesters, as determined by the Secretary by regulation. Such regulations shall provide, with respect to a student who received a Federal Pell Grant for a term but was enrolled at a fraction of full time (and at least half time, in the case of a student who first receives a Federal Pell Grant under subsection (b) on or after July 1, 2025), that only that same fraction of such semester or equivalent shall count towards such duration limits.

(B) EXCEPTION.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Any Federal Pell Grant that a student received during a period described in subclause (I) or (II) of clause (ii) shall not count towards the student's duration limits under this paragraph.

(ii) APPLICABLE PERIODS.—Clause (i) shall apply with respect to any Federal Pell Grant awarded to a student to enroll in an eligible program at an institution—

(I) during a period of a student's attendance at an institution—

(aa) at which the student was unable to complete a course of study due to the closing of the institution; or

(bb) for which the student was falsely certified as eligible for Federal aid under this title; or

(II) during a period—

(aa) for which the student received a loan under this title; and

(bb) for which the loan described in item (aa) is discharged under—

(AA) section 437(c)(1) or section 464(g)(1);

(BB) section 432(a)(6); or

(CC) section 455(h) due to the student's successful assertion of a defense to repayment of the loan, including defenses provided to any applicable groups of students.

(e) APPLICATIONS FOR GRANTS.—

(1) DEADLINES.—The Secretary shall from time to time set dates by which students shall file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid under section 483.

(2) APPLICATION.—Each student desiring a Federal Pell Grant for any year shall file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid containing the information necessary to enable the Secretary to carry out the functions and responsibilities of this subpart.

(f) DISTRIBUTION OF GRANTS TO STUDENTS.—Payments under this section shall be made in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Secretary for such purpose, in such manner as will best accomplish the purpose of this section. Any disbursement allowed to be made by crediting the student's account shall be limited to tuition and fees, and food and housing if that food and housing is institutionally owned or operated. The student may elect to have the institution provide other such goods and services by crediting the student's account.

(g) INSUFFICIENT APPROPRIATIONS.—If, for any fiscal year, the funds appropriated for payments under this subpart are insufficient to satisfy fully all entitlements, as calculated under subsections (b) and (c) (but at the maximum grant level specified in such appropriation), the Secretary shall promptly transmit a notice of such insufficiency to each House of the Congress, and identify in such notice the additional amount that would be required to be appropriated to satisfy fully all entitlements (as so calculated at such maximum grant level).

(h) USE OF EXCESS FUNDS.—

(1) 15 PERCENT OR LESS.—If, at the end of a fiscal year, the funds available for making payments under this subpart exceed the amount necessary to make the payments required under this subpart to eligible students by 15 percent or less, then all of the excess funds shall remain available for making payments under this subpart during the next succeeding fiscal year.

(2) MORE THAN 15 PERCENT.—If, at the end of a fiscal year, the funds available for making payments under this subpart exceed the amount necessary to make the payments required under this subpart to eligible students by more than 15 percent, then all of such funds shall remain available for making such payments but payments may be made under this paragraph only with respect to entitlements for that fiscal year.

(i) TREATMENT OF INSTITUTIONS AND STUDENTS UNDER OTHER LAWS.—Any institution of higher education which enters into an agreement with the Secretary to disburse to students attending that institution the amounts those students are eligible to receive under this subpart shall not be deemed, by virtue of such agreement, a contractor maintaining a system of records to accomplish a function of the Secretary. Recipients of Pell Grants shall not be considered to be individual grantees for purposes of chapter 81 of title 41, United States Code.

(j) INSTITUTIONAL INELIGIBILITY BASED ON DEFAULT RATES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—No institution of higher education shall be an eligible institution for purposes of this subpart if such institution of higher education is ineligible to participate in a loan program under part B or D as a result of a final default rate determination made by the Secretary under part B or D after the final publication of cohort default rates for fiscal year 1996 or a succeeding fiscal year.

(2) SANCTIONS SUBJECT TO APPEAL OPPORTUNITY.—No institution may be subject to the terms of this subsection unless the institution has had the opportunity to appeal the institution's default rate determination under regulations issued by the Secretary for the loan program authorized under part B or D, as applicable. This subsection shall not apply to an institution that was not participating in the loan program authorized under part B or D on October 7, 1998, unless the institution subsequently participates in the loan programs.

(k) WORKFORCE PELL GRANT PROGRAM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For the award year beginning on July 1, 2026, and each subsequent award year, the Secretary shall award grants (to be known as "Workforce Pell Grants") to eligible students under paragraph (2) in accordance with this subsection.

(2) ELIGIBLE STUDENTS.—To be eligible to receive a Workforce Pell Grant under this subsection for any period of enrollment, a student shall meet the eligibility requirements for a Federal Pell Grant under this section, except that the student—

(A) shall be enrolled, or accepted for enrollment, in an eligible program under section 481(b)(3) (hereinafter referred to as an "eligible workforce program"); and

(B) may not—

(i) be enrolled, or accepted for enrollment, in a program of study that leads to a graduate credential; or

(ii) have attained such a credential.

(3) TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF AWARDS.—The Secretary shall award Workforce Pell Grants under this subsection in the same manner and with the same terms and conditions as the Secretary awards Federal Pell Grants under this section, except that—

(A) each use of the term "eligible program" (except in subsections (b)(9)(A) and (d)(2)) shall be substituted by "eligible workforce program under section 481(b)(3)"; and

(B) a student who is eligible for a grant equal to less than the amount of the minimum Federal Pell Grant because the eligible workforce program in which the student is enrolled or accepted for enrollment is less than an academic year (in hours of instruction or weeks of duration) may still be eligible for a Workforce Pell Grant in an amount that is prorated based on the length of the program.

(4) PREVENTION OF DOUBLE BENEFITS.—No eligible student described in paragraph (2) may concurrently receive a grant under both this subsection and—

(A) subsection (b); or

(B) subsection (c).

(5) DURATION LIMIT.—Any period of study covered by a Workforce Pell Grant awarded under this subsection shall be included in determining a student's duration limit under subsection (d)(5).

For award year 2028–2029 and each succeeding award year, from reserved funds remitted to the Secretary in accordance with section 454(d) and additional funds made available under section 420V, as necessary, the Secretary shall award PROMISE grants to eligible institutions to carry out the activities described in section 420U(c). PROMISE grants awarded under this subpart shall be awarded on a noncompetitive basis to each eligible institution that submits a satisfactory application under section 420T for a 6-year period in an amount that is determined in accordance with section 420U.

SEC. 420T. ELIGIBLE INSTITUTIONS; APPLICATION.

(a) ELIGIBLE INSTITUTION.—To be eligible for a PROMISE grant under this subpart, an institution shall—

(1) be an institution of higher education under section 102, except that an institution described in section 102(a)(1)(C) shall not be an eligible institution under this subpart; and

(2) meet the maximum total price guarantee requirements under subsection (c).

(b) APPLICATION.—An eligible institution seeking a PROMISE grant under this subpart (including a renewal of such a grant) shall submit to the Secretary an application, at such time as the Secretary may require, containing the information required under this subsection. Such application shall—

(1) demonstrate that the institution—

(A) meets the maximum total price guarantee requirements under subsection (c); and

(B) will continue to meet the maximum total price guarantee requirements for each award year during the grant period with respect to students first enrolling at the institution for each such award year;

(2) describe how grant funds awarded under this subpart will be used by the institution to carry out activities related to—

(A) increasing postsecondary affordability, including—

(i) the expansion and continuation of the maximum total price guarantee requirements under subsection (c); and

(ii) any other activities to be carried out by the institution to increase postsecondary affordability and minimize the maximum total price for completion paid by students receiving need-based student aid;

(B) increasing postsecondary access, which may include—

(i) the activities described in section 485E of this Act; and

(ii) any other activities to be carried out by the institution to increase postsecondary access and expand opportunities for low- and middle-income students; and

(C) increasing postsecondary student success, which may include—

(i) activities to improve completion rates and reduce time to credential;

(ii) activities to align programs of study with the needs of employers, including with respect to in-demand industry sectors or occupations (as defined in section 3 of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (29 U.S.C. 3102)); and

(iii) any other activities to be carried out by the institution to increase value-added earnings and postsecondary student success;

(3) describe—

(A) how the institution will evaluate the effectiveness of the institution's use of grant funds awarded under this subpart; and

(B) how the institution will collect and disseminate information on promising practices developed with the use of such grant funds; and

(4) in the case of an institution that has previously received a grant under this subpart, contain the evaluation required under paragraph (3) for each previous grant.

(c) MAXIMUM TOTAL PRICE GUARANTEE REQUIREMENTS.—As a condition of eligibility for a PROMISE grant under this subpart, an institution shall—

(1) for each award year beginning after the date of enactment of this subpart, not later than 1 year before the start of each such award year (except that, for the first award year beginning after such date of enactment, the institution shall meet these requirements as soon as practicable after such date of enactment), determine the maximum total price for completion, in accordance with subsection (e), for each program of study at the institution applicable to students in each income category and student aid index category (as determined by the Secretary) and publish such information on the institution's website and in the institution's catalog, marketing materials, or other official publications;

(2) for the award year for which the institution is applying for a PROMISE grant, and at least 1 award year preceding such award year, provide to each student who first enrolls, or plans to enroll, in the institution during the award year and who receives Federal financial aid under this title a maximum total price guarantee, in accordance with this section, for the minimum guarantee period applicable to the student; and

(3) provide to the Secretary an assurance that the institution will continue to meet each of the maximum total price guarantee requirements under this subsection for students who first enroll, or plan to enroll, in the institution during each award year included in the grant period.

(d) DURATION OF MINIMUM GUARANTEE PERIOD.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The minimum period during which a student shall be provided a guarantee under subsection (c) with respect to the maximum total price for completion of a program of study at an institution shall be the average, for the 3 most recent award years for which data are available, of the median time to credential of students who completed any undergraduate program of study at the institution during each such award year, except that such minimum guarantee period shall not be less than the program length of the program of study in which the student is enrolled.

(2) LIMITATION.—An institution shall not be required to provide a maximum total price guarantee under subsection (c) to a student after the conclusion of the 6-year period beginning on the first day on which the student enrolled at such institution.

(e) DETERMINATION OF MAXIMUM TOTAL PRICE FOR COMPLETION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For the purposes of subsection (c), an institution shall determine, prior to the first award year in which a student enrolls at the institution, the maximum total price that may be charged to the student for completion of a program of study at the institution for the minimum guarantee period applicable to a student, before application of any Federal Pell Grants or other Federal financial aid under this title. Such a maximum total price for completion shall be determined for students in each income category and student aid index category (as determined by the Secretary). In determining the maximum total price for completion to be charged to each such category of students, the institution may consider the ability of a category of students to pay tuition and fees, but may not include in such consideration any Federal Pell Grants or other Federal financial aid awards that may be available to such category of students under this title.

(2) MULTIPLE MAXIMUM TOTAL PRICE GUARANTEES.—In the event that a student receives more than 1 maximum total price guarantee because the student is included in more than 1 category of students for which the institution determines a maximum total price guarantee amount for the purposes of subsection (c), the maximum total price guarantee applicable to such student for the purposes of this section shall be equal to the lowest such guarantee amount.

SEC. 420U. GRANT AMOUNTS; FLEXIBLE USE OF FUNDS.

(a) GRANT AMOUNT FORMULA.—

(1) FORMULA.—Subject to subsection (b) and section 420V(b), the amount of a PROMISE grant for an eligible institution for each year of the grant period shall be calculated by the Secretary annually and shall be equal to the amount determined by multiplying—

(A) the lesser of—

(i) the difference determined by subtracting one from the quotient of—

(I) the average, for the 3 most recent award years for which data are available, of the median value-added earnings for each such award year of students who completed any program of study of the institution; divided by

(II) the average, for the 3 most recent award years for which data are available, of the maximum total price for completion determined under section 420T(e) applicable for each such award year to students enrolled in the institution in any program of study who received financial aid under this title; or

(ii) the number two;

(B) the average, for the 3 most recent award years for which data are available, of the total dollar amount of Federal Pell Grants awarded to students enrolled in the institution in each such award year; and

(C) the average, for the 3 most recent award years for which data are available, of the percentage of low-income students who received Federal financial assistance under this title who were enrolled in the institution in each such award year who—

(i) completed a program of study at the institution within 100 percent of the program length of such program; or

(ii) only in the case of a two-year institution or a less than two-year institution—

(I) transfer to a four-year institution; and

(II) within 4 years after first enrolling at the two-year or less than two-year institution, complete a program of study at the four-year institution for which a bachelor's degree (or substantially similar credential) is awarded.

(2) DEFINITION OF LOW-INCOME.—In this section, the term "low-income", when used with respect to a student, means that the student's family income does not exceed the maximum income in the lowest income category (as determined by the Secretary).

(b) MAXIMUM GRANT AMOUNT.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), the maximum amount an eligible institution may receive annually for a grant under this subpart shall be the amount equal to—

(1) the average, for the 3 most recent award years, of the number of students enrolled in the institution in an award year who receive Federal financial aid under this title; multiplied by

(2) $5,000.

(c) FLEXIBLE USE OF FUNDS.—A PROMISE grant awarded under this subpart shall be used by an eligible institution to—

(1) carry out activities included in the institution's application for such grant related to postsecondary affordability, access, and student success;

(2) evaluate the effectiveness of the activities carried out with such grant in accordance with section 420T(b)(3)(A); and

(3) collect and disseminate promising practices related to the activities carried out with such grant, in accordance with section 420T(b)(3)(B).

SEC. 420V. AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.

(a) USED OF RESERVED FUNDS.—

(1) PRIMARY FUNDS.—To carry out this subpart, there shall be available to the Secretary any funds remitted to the Secretary as reimbursements in accordance with section 454(d) for any award year.

(2) SECONDARY FUNDS.—Beginning award year 2028–2029, if the amounts made available to the Secretary under paragraph (1) to carry out this subpart in any award year are insufficient to fully fund the PROMISE grants awarded under this subpart in such award year, there shall be available to the Secretary, in addition to such amounts, any funds returned to the Secretary under section 484B in the previous award year.

(b) REDUCTION OF GRANT AMOUNT IN CASE OF INSUFFICIENT FUNDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If the amounts made available to the Secretary under subsection (a) to carry out this subpart for an award year are not sufficient to provide grants to each eligible institution in the amount determined under section 420U for such award year, the Secretary shall reduce each such grant amount by the applicable percentage described in paragraph (2).

(2) APPLICABLE PERCENTAGE.—The applicable percentage described in this paragraph is the percentage determined by dividing—

(A) the amounts made available under subsection (a) for the award year described in paragraph (1); by

(B) the total amount that would be necessary to provide grants to all eligible institutions in the amounts determined under section 420U for such award year.

SEC. 420W. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) VALUE-ADDED EARNINGS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a student who received Federal financial aid under this title and who completed a program of study offered by an institution of higher education, the term "value-added earnings" means—

(i) the annual earnings of such student measured during the applicable earnings measurement period for such program (as determined under subparagraph (C)); minus

(ii) in the case of a student who completed a program of study that awards—

(I) an undergraduate credential, 150 percent of the poverty line applicable to a single individual as determined under section 673(2) of the Community Services Block Grant Act (42 U.S.C. 9902(2)) for such year; or

(B) GEOGRAPHIC ADJUSTMENT.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in clause (ii), the Secretary shall use the geographic location of the institution at which a student completed a program of study to adjust the value-added earnings of the student calculated under subparagraph (A) by dividing—

(I) the difference between clauses (i) and (ii) of such subparagraph; by

(II) the most recent regional price parity index of the Bureau of Economics Analysis for the State or, as applicable, metropolitan area in which such institution is located.

(ii) EXCEPTION.—The value-added earnings of a student calculated under subparagraph (A) shall not be adjusted based on geographic location in accordance with clause (i) if such student attended principally through distance education.

(C) EARNINGS MEASUREMENT PERIOD.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—For the purpose of calculating the value-added earnings of a student, except as provided in clause (ii), the annual earnings of a student shall be measured—

(I) in the case of a program of study that awards an undergraduate certificate, post baccalaureate certificate, or graduate certificate, 1 year after the student completes such program;

(II) in the case of a program of study that awards an associate's degree or master's degree, 2 years after the student completes such program; and

(II) when combined with the program length of such additional educational program for licensure, has a total program length that exceeds the relevant earnings measurement period prescribed for such program of study under clause (i),

except that in no case shall the annual earnings of a student be measured more than 1 year after the student completes such additional educational program.

(2) PROGRAM LENGTH.—The term "program length" means the minimum amount of time in weeks, months, or years that is specified in the catalog, marketing materials, or other official publications of an institution of higher education for a full-time student to complete the requirements for a specific program of study.

* * * * * * *

SEC. 428. FEDERAL PAYMENTS TO REDUCE STUDENT INTEREST COSTS.

(a) FEDERAL INTEREST SUBSIDIES.—

(1) TYPES OF LOANS THAT QUALIFY.—Each student who has received a loan for study at an eligible institution for which the first disbursement is made before July 1, 2010, and—

(A) which is insured by the Secretary under this part; or

(B) which is insured under a program of a State or of a nonprofit private institution or organization which was contracted for, and paid to the student, within the period specified in paragraph (5), and which—

(i) in the case of a loan insured prior to July 1, 1967, was made by an eligible lender and is insured under a program which meets the requirements of subparagraph (E) of subsection (b)(1) and provides that repayment of such loan shall be in installments beginning not earlier than 60 days after the student ceases to pursue a course of study (as described in subpara-graph (D) of subsection (b)(1)) at an eligible institution, or

(ii) in the case of a loan insured after June 30, 1967, was made by an eligible lender and is insured under a program covered by an agreement made pursuant to subsection (b), shall be entitled to have paid on his or her behalf and for his or her account to the holder of the loan a portion of the interest on such loan under circumstances described in paragraph (2).

(2) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS TO RECEIVE SUBSIDY.—(A) Each student qualifying for a portion of an interest payment under paragraph (1) shall—

(i) have provided to the lender a statement from the eligible institution, at which the student has been accepted for enrollment, or at which the student is in attendance, which—

(I) sets forth the loan amount for which the student shows financial need; and

(II) sets forth a schedule for disbursement of the proceeds of the loan in installments, consistent with the requirements of section 428G;

(ii) meet the requirements of subparagraph (B); and

(iii) have provided to the lender at the time of application for a loan made, insured, or guaranteed under this part, the student's driver's number, if any.

(B) For the purpose of clause (ii) of subparagraph (A), a student shall qualify for a portion of an interest payment under paragraph (1) if the eligible institution has determined and documented the student's amount of need for a loan based on the student's estimated cost of attendance, estimated financial assistance, and, for the purpose of an interest payment pursuant to this section, student aid index(as determined under part F), subject to the provisions of subparagraph (D).

(C) For the purpose of this paragraph—

(i) a student's cost of attendance shall be determined under section 472;

(ii) a student's estimated financial assistance means, for the period for which the loan is sought—

(I) the amount of assistance such student will receive under subpart 1 of part A (as determined in accordance with section 484(b)), subpart 3 of part A, and parts C and E; plus

(II) other scholarship, grant, or loan assistance, but excluding—

(aa) any national service education award or post-service benefit under title I of the National and Community Service Act of 1990; and

(bb) any veterans' education benefits as defined in section 480(c); and

(iii) the determination of need and of the amount of a loan by an eligible institution under subparagraph (B) with respect to a student shall be calculated in accordance with part F.

(D) An eligible institution may not, in carrying out the provisions of subparagraphs (A) and (B) of this paragraph, provide a statement which certifies the eligibility of any student to receive any loan under this part in excess of the maximum amount applicable to such loan.

(E) For the purpose of subparagraphs (B) and (C) of this paragraph, any loan obtained by a student under section 428A or 428H or a parent under section 428B of this Act or under any State-sponsored or private loan program for an academic year for which the determination is made may be used to offset the student aid index of the student for that year.

(3) AMOUNT OF INTEREST SUBSIDY.—(A)(i) Subject to section 438(c), the portion of the interest on a loan which a student is entitled to have paid, on behalf of and for the account of the student, to the holder of the loan pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be equal to the total amount of the interest on the unpaid principal amount of the loan—

(I) which accrues prior to the date the student ceases to carry at least one-half the normal full-time academic workload (as determined by the institution), or

(II) which accrues during a period in which principal need not be paid (whether or not such principal is in fact paid) by reason of a provision described in subsection (b)(1)(M) of this section or in section 427(a)(2)(C).

(ii) Such portion of the interest on a loan shall not exceed, for any period, the amount of the interest on that loan which is payable by the student after taking into consideration the amount of any interest on that loan which the student is entitled to have paid on his or her behalf for that period under any State or private loan insurance program.

(iii) The holder of a loan with respect to which payments are required to be made under this section shall be deemed to have a contractual right, as against the United States, to receive from the Secretary the portion of interest which has been so determined without administrative delay after the receipt by the Secretary of an accurate and complete request for payment pursuant to paragraph (4).

(iv) The Secretary shall pay this portion of the interest to the holder of the loan on behalf of and for the account of the borrower at such times as may be specified in regulations in force when the applicable agreement entered into pursuant to subsection (b) was made, or, if the loan was made by a State or is insured under a program which is not covered by such an agreement, at such times as may be specified in regulations in force at the time the loan was paid to the student.

(v) A lender may not receive interest on a loan for any period that precedes the date that is—

(I) in the case of a loan disbursed by check, 10 days before the first disbursement of the loan;

(II) in the case of a loan disbursed by electronic funds transfer, 3 days before the first disbursement of the loan; or

(III) in the case of a loan disbursed through an escrow agent, 3 days before the first disbursement of the loan.

(B) If—

(i) a State student loan insurance program is covered by an agreement under subsection (b),

(ii) a statute of such State limits the interest rate on loans insured by such program to a rate which is less than the applicable interest rate under this part, and

(iii) the Secretary determines that subsection (d) does not make such statutory limitation inapplicable and that such statutory limitation threatens to impede the carrying out of the purpose of this part, then the Secretary may pay an administrative cost allowance to the holder of each loan which is insured under such program and which is made during the period beginning on the 60th day after the date of enactment of the Higher Education Amendments of 1968 and ending 120 days after the adjournment of such State's first regular legislative session which adjourns after January 1, 1969. Such administrative cost allowance shall be paid over the term of the loan in an amount per year (determined by the Secretary) which shall not exceed 1 percent of the unpaid principal balance of the loan.

(iii) subparagraph (B)(ii) by substituting "100 percent" for "75 percent".

(E) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, in the case of an outstanding loan transferred to a guaranty agency from another guaranty agency pursuant to a plan approved by the Secretary in response to the insolvency of the latter such guarantee agency, the Secretary shall apply the provision of—

(i) the fourth sentence of subparagraph (A) by substituting "100 percent" for "95 percent";

(ii) subparagraph (B)(i) by substituting "90 percent" for "85 percent"; and

(iii) subparagraph (B)(ii) by substituting "80 percent" for "75 percent".

(F)(i) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, in the case of exempt claims, the Secretary shall apply the provisions of—

(I) the fourth sentence of subparagraph (A) by substituting "100 percent" for "95 percent";

(II) subparagraph (B)(i) by substituting "100 percent" for "85 percent"; and

(III) subparagraph (B)(ii) by substituting "100 percent" for "75 percent".

(ii) For purposes of clause (i) of this subparagraph, the term "exempt claims" means claims with respect to loans for which it is determined that the borrower (or the student on whose behalf a parent has borrowed), without the lender's or the institution's knowledge at the time the loan was made, provided false or erroneous information or took actions that caused the borrower or the student to be ineligible for all or a portion of the loan or for interest benefits thereon.

(G) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Secretary shall exclude a loan made pursuant to a lender-of-last-resort program when making reimbursement payment calculations under subparagraphs (B) and (C).

(2) CONTENTS OF GUARANTY AGREEMENTS.—The guaranty agreement—

(A) shall set forth such administrative and fiscal procedures as may be necessary to protect the United States from the risk of unreasonable loss thereunder, to ensure proper and efficient administration of the loan insurance program, and to assure that due diligence will be exercised in the collection of loans insured under the program, including (i) a requirement that each beneficiary of insurance on the loan submit proof that the institution was contacted and other reasonable attempts were made to locate the borrower (when the location of the borrower is unknown) and proof that contact was made with the borrower (when the location is known) and (ii) requirements establishing procedures to preclude consolidation lending from being an excessive proportion of guaranty agency recoveries on defaulted loans under this part;

(B) shall provide for making such reports, in such form and containing such information, as the Secretary may reasonably require to carry out the Secretary's functions under this subsection, and for keeping such records and for affording such access thereto as the Secretary may find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports;

(C) shall set forth adequate assurances that, with respect to so much of any loan insured under the loan insurance program as may be guaranteed by the Secretary pursuant to this subsection, the undertaking of the Secretary under the guaranty agreement is acceptable in full satisfaction of State law or regulation requiring the maintenance of a reserve;

(D) shall provide that if, after the Secretary has made payment under the guaranty agreement pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection with respect to any loan, any payments are made in discharge of the obligation incurred by the borrower with respect to such loan (including any payments of interest accruing on such loan after such payment by the Secretary), there shall be paid over to the Secretary (for deposit in the fund established by section 431) such proportion of the amounts of such payments as is determined (in accordance with paragraph (6)(A)) to represent his equitable share thereof, but (i) shall provide for subrogation of the United States to the rights of any insurance beneficiary only to the extent required for the purpose of paragraph (8); and (ii) except as the Secretary may otherwise by or pursuant to regulation provide, amounts so paid by a borrower on such a loan shall be first applied in reduction of principal owing on such loan;

(E) shall set forth adequate assurance that an amount equal to each payment made under paragraph (1) will be promptly deposited in or credited to the accounts maintained for the purpose of section 422(c);

(F) set forth adequate assurances that the guaranty agency will not engage in any pattern or practice which results in a denial of a borrower's access to loans under this part because of the borrower's race, sex, color, religion, national origin, age, handicapped status, income, attendance at a particular eligible institution within the area served by the guaranty agency, length of the borrower's educational program, or the borrower's academic year in school;

(G) shall prohibit the Secretary from making any reimbursement under this subsection to a guaranty agency

when a default claim is based on an inability to locate the borrower, unless the guaranty agency, at the time of filing for reimbursement, certifies to the Secretary that diligent attempts, including contact with the institution, have been made to locate the borrower through the use of reasonable skip-tracing techniques in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary; and

(H) set forth assurances that—

(i) upon the request of an eligible institution, the guaranty agency shall, subject to clauses (ii) and (iii), furnish to the institution information with respect to students (including the names and addresses of such students) who received loans made, insured, or guaranteed under this part for attendance at the eligible institution and for whom default aversion assistance activities have been requested under subsection (l);

(ii) the guaranty agency shall not require the payment from the institution of any fee for such information; and

(iii) the guaranty agency will require the institution to use such information only to assist the institution in reminding students of their obligation to repay student loans and shall prohibit the institution from disseminating the information for any other purpose.

(I) may include such other provisions as may be necessary to promote the purpose of this part.

(3) FORBEARANCE.—A guaranty agreement under this subsection—

(A) shall contain provisions providing that—

(i) upon request, a lender shall grant a borrower forbearance, renewable at 12-month intervals, on terms agreed to by the parties to the loan with the approval of the insurer and documented in accordance with paragraph (10), and otherwise consistent with the regulations of the Secretary, if the borrower—

(I) is serving in a medical or dental internship or residency program, the successful completion of which is required to begin professional practice or service, or is serving in a medical or dental internship or residency program leading to a degree or certificate awarded by an institution of higher education, a hospital, or a health care facility that offers postgraduate training, provided that if the borrower qualifies for a deferment under section 427(a)(2)(C)(vii) or subsection (b)(1)(M)(vii) of this section as in effect prior to the enactment of the Higher Education Amendments of 1992, or section 427(a)(2)(C) or subsection (b)(1)(M) of this section as amended by such amendments, the borrower has exhausted his or her eligibility for such deferment;

(II) has a debt burden under this title that equals or exceeds 20 percent of income;

(III) is serving in a national service position for which the borrower receives a national service educational award under the National and Community Service Trust Act of 1993; or

(IV) is eligible for interest payments to be made on such loan for service in the Armed Forces under section 2174 of title 10, United States Code, and, pursuant to that eligibility, the interest is being paid on such loan under subsection (o);

(ii) the length of the forbearance granted by the lender—

(I) under clause (i)(I) shall equal the length of time remaining in the borrower's medical or dental internship or residency program, if the borrower is not eligible to receive a deferment described in such clause, or such length of time remaining in the program after the borrower has exhausted the borrower's eligibility for such deferment;

(II) under clause (i)(II) or (IV) shall not exceed 3 years; or

(III) under clause (i)(III) shall not exceed the period for which the borrower is serving in a position described in such clause; and

(iii) no administrative or other fee may be charged in connection with the granting of a forbearance under clause (i), and no adverse information regarding a borrower may be reported to a consumer reporting agency solely because of the granting of such forbearance;

(B) may, to the extent provided in regulations of the Secretary, contain provisions that permit such forbearance for the benefit of the student borrower as may be agreed upon by the parties to an insured loan and approved by the insurer;

(C) shall contain provisions that specify that—

(i) the form of forbearance granted by the lender pursuant to this paragraph, other than subparagraph (A)(i)(IV), shall be temporary cessation of payments, unless the borrower selects forbearance in the form of an extension of time for making payments, or smaller payments than were previously scheduled;

(ii) the form of forbearance granted by the lender pursuant to subparagraph (A)(i)(IV) shall be the temporary cessation of all payments on the loan other than payments of interest on the loan that are made under subsection (o);

(iii) the lender shall, at the time of granting a borrower forbearance, provide information to the borrower to assist the borrower in understanding the impact of capitalization of interest on the borrower's loan principal and total amount of interest to be paid during the life of the loan; and

(iv) the lender shall contact the borrower not less often than once every 180 days during the period of forbearance to inform the borrower of—

(I) the amount of unpaid principal and the amount of interest that has accrued since the last statement of such amounts provided to the borrower by the lender;

(II) the fact that interest will accrue on the loan for the period of forbearance;

(III) the amount of interest that will be capitalized, and the date on which capitalization will occur;

(IV) the option of the borrower to pay the interest that has accrued before the interest is capitalized; and

(V) the borrower's option to discontinue the forbearance at any time; and

(D) shall contain provisions that specify that—

(i) forbearance for a period not to exceed 60 days may be granted if the lender reasonably determines that such a suspension of collection activity is warranted following a borrower's request for deferment, forbearance, a change in repayment plan, or a request to consolidate loans, in order to collect or process appropriate supporting documentation related to the request, and

(ii) during such period interest shall accrue but not be capitalized.

Guaranty agencies shall not be precluded from permitting the parties to such a loan from entering into a forbearance agreement solely because the loan is in default. The Secretary shall permit lenders to exercise administrative forbearances that do not require the agreement of the borrower, under conditions authorized by the Secretary. Such forbearances shall include (i) forbearances for borrowers who are delinquent at the time of the granting of an authorized period of deferment under section 428(b)(1)(M) or 427(a)(2)(C), and (ii) if the borrower is less than 60 days delinquent on such loans at the time of sale or transfer, forbearances for borrowers on loans which are sold or transferred.

(4) DEFINITIONS.—For the purpose of this subsection, the terms "insurance beneficiary" and "default" have the meanings assigned to them by section 435.

(5) APPLICABILITY TO EXISTING LOANS.—In the case of any guaranty agreement with a guaranty agency, the Secretary may, in accordance with the terms of this subsection, undertake to guarantee loans described in paragraph (1) which are insured by such guaranty agency and are outstanding on the date of execution of the guaranty agreement, but only with respect to defaults occurring after the execution of such guaranty agreement or, if later, after its effective date.

(6) SECRETARY'S EQUITABLE SHARE.—(A) For the purpose of paragraph (2)(D), the Secretary's equitable share of payments made by the borrower shall be that portion of the payments remaining after the guaranty agency with which the Secretary has an agreement under this subsection has deducted from such payments—

(i) a percentage amount equal to the complement of the reinsurance percentage in effect when payment under the guaranty agreement was made with respect to the loan; and

(ii) an amount equal to 24 percent of such payments for use in accordance with section 422B, except that—

(I) beginning October 1, 2003 and ending September 30, 2007, this clause shall be applied by substituting "23 percent" for "24 percent"; and

(II) beginning October 1, 2007, this clause shall be applied by substituting "16 percent" for "24 percent".

(B) A guaranty agency shall—

(i) on or after October 1, 2006—

(I) not charge the borrower collection costs in an amount in excess of 18.5 percent of the outstanding principal and interest of a defaulted loan that is paid off through consolidation by the borrower under this title; and

(II) remit to the Secretary a portion of the collection charge under subclause (I) equal to 8.5 percent of the outstanding principal and interest of such defaulted loan; and

(ii) on and after October 1, 2009, remit to the Secretary the entire amount charged under clause (i)(I) with respect to each defaulted loan that is paid off with excess consolidation proceeds.

(C) For purposes of subparagraph (B), the term "excess consolidation proceeds" means, with respect to any guaranty agency for any Federal fiscal year beginning on or after October 1, 2009, the proceeds of consolidation of defaulted loans under this title that exceed 45 percent of the agency's total collections on defaulted loans in such Federal fiscal year.

(7) NEW PROGRAMS ELIGIBLE FOR 100 PERCENT REINSURANCE.—(A) Notwithstanding paragraph (1)(C), the amount to be paid a guaranty agency for any fiscal year—

(i) which begins on or after October 1, 1977 and ends before October 1, 1991; and

(ii) which is either the fiscal year in which such guaranty agency begins to actively carry on a student loan insurance program which is subject to a guaranty agreement under subsection (b) of this section, or is one of the 4 succeeding fiscal years, shall be 100 percent of the amount expended by such guaranty agency in discharge of its insurance obligation insured under such program.

(B) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1)(C), the Secretary may pay a guaranty agency 100 percent of the amount expended by such agency in discharge of such agency's insurance obligation for any fiscal year which—

(i) begins on or after October 1, 1991; and

(ii) is the fiscal year in which such guaranty agency begins to actively carry on a student loan insurance program which is subject to a guaranty agreement under subsection (b) or is one of the 4 succeeding fiscal years.

(C) The Secretary shall continuously monitor the operations of those guaranty agencies to which the provisions of subparagraph (A) or (B) are applicable and revoke the application of such subparagraph to any such guaranty agency which the Secretary determines has not exercised reasonable prudence in the administration of such program.

(8) ASSIGNMENT TO PROTECT FEDERAL FISCAL INTEREST.—If the Secretary determines that the protection of the Federal fiscal interest so requires, a guaranty agency shall assign to the Secretary any loan of which it is the holder and for which the Secretary has made a payment pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(9) GUARANTY AGENCY RESERVE LEVEL.—(A) Each guaranty agency which has entered into an agreement with the Secretary pursuant to this subsection shall maintain in the agency's Federal Student Loan Reserve Fund established under section 422A a current minimum reserve level of at least 0.25 percent of the total attributable amount of all outstanding loans guaranteed by such agency. For purposes of this paragraph, such total attributable amount does not include amounts of outstanding loans transferred to the guaranty agency from another guaranty agency pursuant to a plan of the Secretary in response to the insolvency of the latter such guaranty agency.

(B) The Secretary shall collect, on an annual basis, information from each guaranty agency having an agreement under this subsection to enable the Secretary to evaluate the financial solvency of each such agency. The information collected shall include the level of such agency's current reserves, cash disbursements and accounts receivable.

(C) If (i) any guaranty agency falls below the required minimum reserve level in any 2 consecutive years, (ii) any guaranty agency's Federal reimbursement payments are reduced to 85 percent pursuant to paragraph (1)(B)(i), or (iii) the Secretary determines that the administrative or financial condition of a guaranty agency jeopardizes such agency's continued ability to perform its responsibilities under its guaranty agreement, then the Secretary shall require the guaranty agency to submit and implement a management plan acceptable to the Secretary within 45 working days of any such event.

(D)(i) If the Secretary is not seeking to terminate the guaranty agency's agreement under subparagraph (E), or assuming the guaranty agency's functions under subparagraph (F), a management plan described in subparagraph (C) shall include the means by which the guaranty agency will improve its financial and administrative condition to the required level within 18 months.

(ii) If the Secretary is seeking to terminate the guaranty agency's agreement under subparagraph (E), or assuming the guaranty agency's functions under subparagraph (F), a management plan described in subparagraph (C) shall include the means by which the Secretary and the guaranty agency shall work together to ensure the orderly termination of the operations, and liquidation of the assets, of the guaranty agency.

(E) The Secretary may terminate a guaranty agency's agreement in accordance with subparagraph (F) if—

(i) a guaranty agency required to submit a management plan under this paragraph fails to submit a plan that is acceptable to the Secretary;

(ii) the Secretary determines that a guaranty agency has failed to improve substantially its administrative and financial condition;

(iii) the Secretary determines that the guaranty agency is in danger of financial collapse;

(iv) the Secretary determines that such action is necessary to protect the Federal fiscal interest; or

(v) the Secretary determines that such action is necessary to ensure the continued availability of loans to student or parent borrowers.

(F) If a guaranty agency's agreement under this subsection is terminated pursuant to subparagraph (E), then the Secretary shall assume responsibility for all functions of the guaranty agency under the loan insurance program of such agency. In performing such functions the Secretary is authorized to—

(i) permit the transfer of guarantees to another guaranty agency;

(ii) revoke the reinsurance agreement of the guaranty agency at a specified date, so as to require the merger, consolidation, or termination of the guaranty agency;

(iii) transfer guarantees to the Department of Education for the purpose of payment of such claims and process such claims using the claims standards of the guaranty agency, if such standards are determined by the Secretary to be in compliance with this Act;

(iv) design and implement a plan to restore the guaranty agency's viability;

(v) provide the guaranty agency with additional advance funds in accordance with section 422(c)(7), with such restrictions on the use of such funds as is determined appropriate by the Secretary, in order to—

(I) meet the immediate cash needs of the guaranty agency;

(II) ensure the uninterrupted payment of claims; or

(III) ensure that the guaranty agency will make loans as the lender-of-last-resort, in accordance with subsection (j);

(vi) use all funds and assets of the guaranty agency to assist in the activities undertaken in accordance with this subparagraph and take appropriate action to require the return, to the guaranty agency or the Secretary, of any funds or assets provided by the guaranty agency, under contract or otherwise, to any person or organization; or

(vii) take any other action the Secretary determines necessary to ensure the continued availability of loans made under this part to residents of the State or States in which the guaranty agency did business, the full honoring of all guarantees issued by the guaranty agency prior to the Secretary's assumption of the functions of such agency, and the proper servicing of loans guaranteed by the guaranty agency prior to the Secretary's assumption of the functions of such agency, and to avoid disruption of the student loan program.

(G) Notwithstanding any other provision of Federal or State law, if the Secretary has terminated or is seeking to terminate a guaranty agency's agreement under subparagraph (E), or has assumed a guaranty agency's functions under subparagraph (F)—

(i) no State court may issue any order affecting the Secretary's actions with respect to such guaranty agency;

(ii) any contract with respect to the administration of a guaranty agency's reserve funds, or the administration of any assets purchased or acquired with the reserve funds of the guaranty agency, that is entered into or extended by the guaranty agency, or any other party on behalf of or with the concurrence of the guaranty agency, after the date of enactment of this subparagraph shall provide that the contract is terminable by the Secretary upon 30 days notice to the contracting parties if the Secretary determines that such contract includes an impermissible transfer of the reserve funds or assets, or is otherwise inconsistent with the terms or purposes of this section; and

(iii) no provision of State law shall apply to the actions of the Secretary in terminating the operations of a guaranty agency.

(H) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary's liability for any outstanding liabilities of a guaranty agency (other than outstanding student loan guarantees under this part), the functions of which the Secretary has assumed, shall not exceed the fair market value of the reserves of the guaranty agency, minus any necessary liquidation or other administrative costs.

(I) The Secretary shall not take any action under subparagraph (E) or (F) without giving the guaranty agency notice and the opportunity for a hearing that, if commenced after September 24, 1998, shall be on the record.

(J) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the information transmitted to the Secretary pursuant to this paragraph shall be confidential and exempt from disclosure under section 552 of title 5, United States Code, relating to freedom of information, or any other Federal law.

(K) The Secretary, within 6 months after the end of each fiscal year, shall submit to the authorizing committees a report specifying the Secretary's assessment of the fiscal soundness of the guaranty agency system.

(10) DOCUMENTATION OF FORBEARANCE AGREEMENTS.—For the purposes of paragraph (3), the terms of forbearance agreed to by the parties shall be documented by confirming the agreement of the borrower by notice to the borrower from the lender, and by recording the terms in the borrower's file.

(d) USURY LAWS INAPPLICABLE.—No provision of any law of the United States (other than this Act and section 207 of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (50 U.S.C. App. 527)) or of any State (other than a statute applicable principally to such State's student loan insurance program) which limits the rate or amount of interest payable on loans shall apply to a loan—

(1) which bears interest (exclusive of any premium for insurance) on the unpaid principal balance at a rate not in excess of the rate specified in this part; and

(2) which is insured (i) by the United States under this part, or (ii) by a guaranty agency under a program covered by an agreement made pursuant to subsection (b) of this section.

(f) PAYMENTS OF CERTAIN COSTS.—

(1) PAYMENT FOR CERTAIN ACTIVITIES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary—

(i) for loans originated during fiscal years beginning on or after October 1, 1998, and before October 1, 2003, and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, shall, except as provided in subparagraph (C), pay to each guaranty agency, a loan processing and issuance fee equal to 0.65 percent of the total principal amount of the loans on which insurance was issued under this part during such fiscal year by such agency; and

(ii) for loans originated on or after October 1, 2003, and first disbursed before July 1, 2010, and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, shall, except as provided in subparagraph (C), pay to each guaranty agency, a loan processing and issuance fee equal to 0.40 percent of the total principal amount of the loans on which insurance was issued under this part during such fiscal year by such agency.

(B) PAYMENT.—The payment required by subparagraph (A) shall be paid on a quarterly basis. The guaranty agency shall be deemed to have a contractual right against the United States to receive payments according to the provisions of this paragraph. Payments shall be made promptly and without administrative delay to any guaranty agency submitting an accurate and complete application under this subparagraph.

(C) REQUIREMENT FOR PAYMENT.—No payment may be made under this paragraph for loans for which the disbursement checks have not been cashed or for which electronic funds transfers have not been completed.

(g) ACTION ON INSURANCE PROGRAM AND GUARANTY AGREEMENTS.—If a nonprofit private institution or organization—

(1) applies to enter into an agreement with the Secretary under subsections (b) and (c) with respect to a student loan insurance program to be carried on in a State with which the Secretary does not have an agreement under subsection (b), and

(2) as provided in the application, undertakes to meet the requirements of section 422(c)(6)(B) (i), (ii), and (iii), the Secretary shall consider and act upon such application within 180 days, and shall forthwith notify the authorizing committees of his actions.

(i) MULTIPLE DISBURSEMENT OF LOANS.—

(1) ESCROW ACCOUNTS ADMINISTERED BY ESCROW AGENT.—Any guaranty agency or eligible lender (hereafter in this subsection referred to as the "escrow agent") may enter into an agreement with any other eligible lender that is not an eligible institution or an agency or instrumentality of the State (hereafter in this subsection referred to as the "lender") for the purpose of authorizing disbursements of the proceeds of a loan to a student. Such agreement shall provide that the lender will pay the proceeds of such loans into an escrow account to be administered by the escrow agent in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (2) of this subsection. Such agreement may allow the lender to make payments into the escrow account in amounts that do not exceed the sum of the amounts required for disbursement of initial or subsequent installments to borrowers and to make such payments not more than 10 days prior to the date of the disbursement of such installment to such borrowers. Such agreement shall require the lender to notify promptly the eligible institution when funds are escrowed under this subsection for a student at such institution.

(2) AUTHORITY OF ESCROW AGENT.—Each escrow agent entering into an agreement under paragraph (1) of this subsection is authorized to—

(A) make the disbursements in accordance with the note evidencing the loan;

(B) commingle the proceeds of all loans paid to the escrow agent pursuant to the escrow agreement entered into under such paragraph (1);

(C) invest the proceeds of such loans in obligations of the Federal Government or obligations which are insured or guaranteed by the Federal Government;

(D) retain interest or other earnings on such investment; and

(E) return to the lender undisbursed funds when the student ceases to carry at an eligible institution at least one-half of the normal full-time academic workload as determined by the institution.

(j) LENDERS-OF-LAST-RESORT.—

(1) GENERAL REQUIREMENT.—In each State, the guaranty agency or an eligible lender in the State described in section 435(d)(1)(D) of this Act shall, before July 1, 2010, make loans directly, or through an agreement with an eligible lender or lenders, to eligible students and parents who are otherwise unable to obtain loans under this part (except for consolidation loans under section 428C) or who attend an institution of higher education in the State that is designated under paragraph (4). Loans made under this subsection shall not exceed the amount of the need of the borrower, as determined under subsection (a)(2)(B), nor be less than $200. No loan under section 428, 428B, or 428H that is made pursuant to this subsection shall be made with interest rates, origination or default fees, or other terms and conditions that are more favorable to the borrower than the maximum interest rates, origination or default fees, or other terms and conditions applicable to that type of loan under this part. The guaranty agency shall consider the request of any eligible lender, as defined under section 435(d)(1)(A) of this Act, to serve as the lender-of-last-resort pursuant to this subsection.

(2) RULES AND OPERATING PROCEDURES.—The guaranty agency shall develop rules and operating procedures for the lender-of-last-resort program designed to ensure that—

(A) the program establishes operating hours and methods of application designed to facilitate application by students and ensure a response within 60 days after the student's original complete application is filed under this subsection;

(B) consistent with standards established by the Secretary, students applying for loans under this subsection shall not be subject to additional eligibility requirements or requests for additional information beyond what is required under this title in order to receive a loan under this part from an eligible lender, nor, in the case of students and parents applying for loans under this subsection because of an inability to otherwise obtain loans under this part (except for consolidation loans under section 428C), be required to receive more than two rejections from eligible lenders in order to obtain a loan under this subsection;

(C) information about the availability of loans under the program is made available to institutions of higher education in the State; and

(D) appropriate steps are taken to ensure that borrowers receiving loans under the program are appropriately counseled on their loan obligation.

(3) ADVANCES TO GUARANTY AGENCIES FOR LENDER-OF-LAST-RESORT SERVICES.—(A) In order to ensure the availability of loan capital, the Secretary is authorized to provide a guaranty agency designated for a State with additional advance funds in accordance with subparagraph (C) and section 422(c)(7), with such restrictions on the use of such funds as are determined appropriate by the Secretary, in order to ensure that the guaranty agency will make loans as the lender-of-last-resort. Such agency shall make such loans in accordance with this subsection and the requirements of the Secretary.

(B) Notwithstanding any other provision in this part, a guaranty agency serving as a lender-of-last-resort under this paragraph shall be paid a fee, established by the Secretary, for making such loans in lieu of interest and special allowance subsidies, and shall be required to assign such loans to the Secretary on demand. Upon such assignment, the portion of the advance represented by the loans assigned shall be considered repaid by such guaranty agency.

(C) The Secretary shall exercise the authority described in subparagraph (A) only if the Secretary determines that eligible borrowers are seeking and are unable to obtain loans under this part or designates an institution of higher education for participation in the program under this subsection under paragraph (4), and that the guaranty agency designated for that State has the capability to provide lender-of-last-resort loans in a timely manner, in accordance with the guaranty agency's obligations under paragraph (1), but cannot do so without advances provided by the Secretary under this paragraph. If the Secretary makes the determinations described in the preceding sentence and determines that it would be cost-effective to do so, the Secretary may provide advances under this paragraph to such guaranty agency. If the Secretary determines that such guaranty agency does not have such capability, or will not provide such loans in a timely fashion, the Secretary may provide such advances to enable another guaranty agency, that the Secretary determines to have such capability, to make lender-of-last-resort loans to eligible borrowers in that State who are experiencing loan access problems or to eligible borrowers who attend an institution in the State that is designated under paragraph (4).

(4) INSTITUTION-WIDE STUDENT QUALIFICATION.—Upon the request of an institution of higher education and pursuant to standards developed by the Secretary, the Secretary shall designate such institution for participation in the lender-of-last-resort program under this paragraph. If the Secretary designates an institution under this paragraph, the guaranty agency designated for the State in which the institution is located shall make loans, in the same manner as such loans are made under paragraph (1), to students and parent borrowers of the designated institution, regardless of whether the students or parent borrowers are otherwise unable to obtain loans under this part (other than a consolidation loan under section 428C).

(5) STANDARDS DEVELOPED BY THE SECRETARY.—In developing standards with respect to paragraph (4), the Secretary may require—

(A) an institution of higher education to demonstrate that, despite due diligence on the part of the institution, the institution has been unable to secure the commitment of eligible lenders willing to make loans under this part to a significant number of students attending the institution;

(B) that, prior to making a request under such paragraph for designation for participation in the lender-of-last-resort program, an institution of higher education shall demonstrate that the institution has met a minimum threshold, as determined by the Secretary, for the number or percentage of students at such institution who have received rejections from eligible lenders for loans under this part; and

(C) any other standards and guidelines the Secretary determines to be appropriate.

(6) EXPIRATION OF AUTHORITY.—The Secretary's authority under paragraph (4) to designate institutions of higher education for participation in the program under this subsection shall expire on June 30, 2010.

(7) EXPIRATION OF DESIGNATION.—The eligibility of an institution of higher education, or borrowers from such institution, to participate in the program under this subsection pursuant to a designation of the institution by the Secretary under paragraph (4) shall expire on June 30, 2010. After such date, borrowers from an institution designated under paragraph (4) shall be eligible to participate in the program under this subsection as such program existed on the day before the date of enactment of the Ensuring Continued Access to Student Loans Act of 2008.

(8) PROHIBITION ON INDUCEMENTS AND MARKETING.—Each guaranty agency or eligible lender that serves as a lender-of-last-resort under this subsection—

(A) shall be subject to the prohibitions on inducements contained in subsection (b)(3) and the requirements of section 435(d)(5); and

(B) shall not advertise, market, or otherwise promote loans under this subsection, except that nothing in this paragraph shall prohibit a guaranty agency from fulfilling its responsibilities under paragraph (2)(C).

(9) DISSEMINATION AND REPORTING.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall—

(i) broadly disseminate information regarding the availability of loans made under this subsection;

(ii) during the period beginning July 1, 2008 and ending June 30, 2011, provide to the authorizing committees and make available to the public—

(I) copies of any new or revised plans or agreements made by guaranty agencies or the Department related to the authorities under this subsection;

(II) quarterly reports on—

(aa) the number and amounts of loans originated or approved pursuant to this subsection by each guaranty agency and eligible lender; and

(bb) any related payments by the Department, a guaranty agency, or an eligible lender; and

(III) a budget estimate of the costs to the Federal Government (including subsidy and administrative costs) for each 100 dollars loaned, of loans made pursuant to this subsection between the date of enactment of the Ensuring Continued Access to Student Loans Act of 2008 and June 30, 2010, disaggregated by type of loan, compared to such costs to the Federal Government during such time period of comparable loans under this part and part D, disaggregated by part and by type of loan; and

(iii) beginning July 1, 2011, provide to the authorizing committees and make available to the public—

(I) copies of any new or revised plans or agreements made by guaranty agencies or the Department related to the authorities under this subsection; and

(II) annual reports on—

(aa) the number and amounts of loans originated or approved pursuant to this subsection by each guaranty agency and eligible lender; and

(bb) any related payments by the Department, a guaranty agency, or an eligible lender.

(II) the total amount of interest waived, paid, or otherwise not charged by the Secretary during such year under the income-based repayment plan described in section 455(q); plus

(III) the total amount of principal and interest forgiven, cancelled, waived, discharged, repaid, or otherwise reduced by the Secretary under any act during such year that is not included in subclause (II) and was not discharged or forgiven under section 437(a), 428J, or section 455(m).

(ii) SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES.—For the purpose of calculating the non-repayment loan balance of student cohorts under this paragraph, the Secretary shall—

(I) for each qualifying student loan in a student cohort that is included in another student cohort because the student who borrowed such loan completed two or more programs of study during the same award year, the sum of the amounts described in subclauses (I) through (III) of clause (i) for such qualifying student loan shall be divided equally among each of the student cohorts in which such loan is included; and

(D) TOTAL PRICE.—With respect to a student who received Federal financial assistance under this title and who completes a program of study, the term "total price" means the total amount, before Federal financial assistance under this title was applied, a student was required to pay to complete the program of study. A student's total price shall be calculated by the Secretary as the difference between—

(i) the total amount of tuition and fees that were charged to such student before the application of any Federal financial assistance provided under this title; minus

(ii) the total amount of grants and scholarships described in section 480(i) awarded to such student from non-Federal sources for such program of study.

(B) shall include provision for acceleration of repayment of the whole, or any part, of such loan, at the option of the borrower;

(C)(i) may provide, at the option of the institution, in accordance with regulations of the Secretary, that during the repayment period of the loan, payments of principal and interest by the borrower with respect to all outstanding loans made to the student from a student loan fund assisted under this part shall be at a rate equal to not less than $40 per month, except that the institution may, subject to such regulations, permit a borrower to pay less than $40 per month for a period of not more than one year where necessary to avoid hardship to the borrower, but without extending the 10-year maximum repayment period provided for in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph; and

(ii) may provide that the total payments by a borrower for a monthly or similar payment period with respect to the aggregate of all loans held by the institution may, when the amount of a monthly or other similar payment is not a multiple of $5, be rounded to the next highest whole dollar amount that is a multiple of $5;

(D) shall provide that the loan shall bear interest, on the unpaid balance of the loan, at the rate of 5 percent per year in the case of any loan made on or after October 1, 1981, except that no interest shall accrue (i) prior to the beginning date of repayment determined under paragraph (2)(A)(i), or (ii) during any period in which repayment is suspended by reason of paragraph (2);

(E) shall provide that the loan shall be made without security and without endorsement;

(F) shall provide that the liability to repay the loan shall be cancelled—

(i) upon the death of the borrower;

(iii) if the borrower is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that can be expected to result in death, has lasted for a continuous period of not less than 60 months, or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 60 months; or

(iv) if the borrower is determined by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to be unemployable due to a service-connected disability;

(G) shall provide that no note or evidence of obligation may be assigned by the lender, except upon the transfer of the borrower to another institution participating under this part (or, if not so participating, is eligible to do so and is approved by the Secretary for such purpose), to such institution, and except as necessary to carry out section 463(a)(6);

(H) pursuant to regulations of the Secretary, shall provide for an assessment of a charge with respect to the loan for failure of the borrower to pay all or part of an installment when due, which shall include the expenses reasonably incurred in attempting collection of the loan, to the extent permitted by the Secretary, except that no charge imposed under this subparagraph shall exceed 20 percent of the amount of the monthly payment of the borrower; and

(I) shall contain a notice of the system of disclosure of information concerning default on such loan to consumer reporting agencies under section 463(c).

(2)(A) No repayment of principal of, or interest on, any loan from a student loan fund assisted under this part shall be required during any period—

(i) during which the borrower—

(I) is pursuing at least a half-time course of study as determined by an eligible institution; or

(II) is pursuing a course of study pursuant to a graduate fellowship program approved by the Secretary, or pursuant to a rehabilitation training program for disabled individuals approved by the Secretary, except that no borrower shall be eligible for a deferment under this clause, or loan made under this part while serving in a medical internship or residency program;

(ii) not in excess of 3 years during which the borrower is seeking and unable to find full-time employment;

(iii) during which the borrower—

(iv) not in excess of 3 years for any reason which the lender determines, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary under section 435(o), has caused or will cause the borrower to have an economic hardship;

(v) during which the borrower is engaged in service described in section 465(a)(2); or

(vi) during which the borrower is receiving treatment for cancer and the 6 months after such period;

and provides that any such period shall not be included in determining the 10-year period described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1).

(B) No repayment of principal of, or interest on, any loan for any period described in subparagraph (A) shall begin until 6 months after the completion of such period.

(C) An individual with an outstanding loan balance who meets the eligibility criteria for a deferment described in subparagraph (A) as in effect on the date of enactment of this subparagraph shall be eligible for deferment under this paragraph notwithstanding any contrary provision of the promissory note under which the loan or loans were made, and notwithstanding any amendment (or effective date provision relating to any amendment) to this section made prior to the date of such deferment.

(3)(A) The Secretary is authorized, when good cause is shown, to extend, in accordance with regulations, the 10-year maximum repayment period provided for in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) with respect to individual loans.

(B) Pursuant to uniform criteria established by the Secretary, the repayment period for any student borrower who during the repayment period is a low-income individual may be extended for a period not to exceed 10 years and the repayment schedule may be adjusted to reflect the income of that individual.

(4) The repayment period for a loan made under this part shall begin on the day immediately following the expiration of the period, specified in paragraph (1)(A), after the student ceases to carry the required academic workload, unless the borrower requests and is granted a repayment schedule that provides for repayment to commence at an earlier point in time, and shall exclude any period of authorized deferment, forbearance, or cancellation.

(5) The institution may elect—

(A) to add the amount of any charge imposed under paragraph (1)(H) to the principal amount of the loan as of the first day after the day on which the installment was due and to notify the borrower of the assessment of the charge; or

(B) to make the amount of the charge payable to the institution not later than the due date of the next installment.

(6) Requests for deferment of repayment of loans under this part by students engaged in graduate or post-graduate fellowship-supported study (such as pursuant to a Fulbright grant) outside the United States shall be approved until completion of the period of the fellowship.

(7) There shall be excluded from the 9-month period that begins on the date on which a student ceases to carry at least one-half the normal full-time academic workload (as described in paragraph (1)(A)) any period not to exceed 3 years during which a borrower who is a member of a reserve component of the Armed Forces named in section 10101 of title 10, United States Code, is called or ordered to active duty for a period of more than 30 days (as defined in section 101(d)(2) of such title). Such period of exclusion shall include the period necessary to resume enrollment at the borrower's next available regular enrollment period.

(d) AVAILABILITY OF LOAN FUND TO ALL ELIGIBLE STUDENTS.—An agreement under this part for payment of Federal capital contributions shall include provisions designed to make loans from the student loan fund established pursuant to such agreement reasonably available (to the extent of the available funds in such fund) to all eligible students in such institutions in need thereof.

(e) FORBEARANCE.—(1) The Secretary shall ensure that, as documented in accordance with paragraph (2), an institution of higher education shall grant a borrower forbearance of principal and interest or principal only, renewable at 12-month intervals for a period not to exceed 3 years, on such terms as are otherwise consistent with the regulations issued by the Secretary and agreed upon in writing by the parties to the loan, if—

(A) the borrower's debt burden equals or exceeds 20 percent of such borrower's gross income;

(B) the institution determines that the borrower should qualify for forbearance for other reasons; or

(C) the borrower is eligible for interest payments to be made on such loan for service in the Armed Forces under section 2174 of title 10, United States Code, and, pursuant to that eligibility, the interest on such loan is being paid under subsection (j), except that the form of a forbearance under this paragraph shall be a temporary cessation of all payments on the loan other than payments of interest on the loan that are made under subsection (j).

(2) For the purpose of paragraph (1), the terms of forbearance agreed to by the parties shall be documented by—

(A) confirming the agreement of the borrower by notice to the borrower from the institution of higher education; and

(B) recording the terms in the borrower's file.

(f) SPECIAL REPAYMENT RULE AUTHORITY.—(1) Subject to such restrictions as the Secretary may prescribe to protect the interest of the United States, in order to encourage repayment of loans made under this part which are in default, the Secretary may, in the agreement entered into under this part, authorize an institution of higher education to compromise on the repayment of such defaulted loans in accordance with paragraph (2). The Federal share of the compromise repayment shall bear the same relation to the institution's share of such compromise repayment as the Federal capital contribution to the institution's loan fund under this part bears to the institution's capital contribution to such fund.

(2) No compromise repayment of a defaulted loan as authorized by paragraph (1) may be made unless the student borrower pays—

(A) 90 percent of the loan under this part;

(B) the interest due on such loan; and

(C) any collection fees due on such loan;

in a lump sum payment.

(g) DISCHARGE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If a student borrower who received a loan made under this part on or after January 1, 1986, is unable to complete the program in which such student is enrolled due to the closure of the institution, then the Secretary shall discharge the borrower's liability on the loan (including the interest and collection fees) and shall subsequently pursue any claim available to such borrower against the institution and the institution's affiliates and principals, or settle the loan obligation pursuant to the financial responsibility standards described in section 498(c).

(2) ASSIGNMENT.—A borrower whose loan has been discharged pursuant to this subsection shall be deemed to have assigned to the United States the right to a loan refund in an amount that does not exceed the amount discharged against the institution and the institution's affiliates and principals.

(3) ELIGIBILITY FOR ADDITIONAL ASSISTANCE.—The period during which a student was unable to complete a course of study due to the closing of the institution shall not be considered for purposes of calculating the student's period of eligibility for additional assistance under this title.

(4) SPECIAL RULE.—A borrower whose loan has been discharged pursuant to this subsection shall not be precluded, because of that discharge, from receiving additional grant, loan, or work assistance under this title for which the borrower would be otherwise eligible (but for the default on the discharged loan). The amount discharged under this subsection shall be treated as an amount canceled under section 465(a).

(5) REPORTING.—The Secretary or institution, as the case may be, shall report to consumer reporting agencies with respect to loans that have been discharged pursuant to this subsection.

(h) REHABILITATION OF LOANS.—

(1) REHABILITATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the borrower of a loan made under this part who has defaulted on the loan makes 9 on-time, consecutive, monthly payments of amounts owed on the loan, as determined by the institution, or by the Secretary in the case of a loan held by the Secretary, the loan shall be considered rehabilitated, and the institution that made that loan (or the Secretary, in the case of a loan held by the Secretary) shall request that any consumer reporting agency to which the default was reported remove the default from the borrower's credit history.

(B) COMPARABLE CONDITIONS.—As long as the borrower continues to make scheduled repayments on a loan rehabilitated under this paragraph, the rehabilitated loan shall be subject to the same terms and conditions, and qualify for the same benefits and privileges, as other loans made under this part.

(C) ADDITIONAL ASSISTANCE.—The borrower of a rehabilitated loan shall not be precluded by section 484 from receiving additional grant, loan, or work assistance under this title (for which the borrower is otherwise eligible) on the basis of defaulting on the loan prior to such rehabilitation.

(D) LIMITATIONS.—A borrower only [once] twice may obtain the benefit of this paragraph with respect to rehabilitating a loan under this part.

(2) RESTORATION OF ELIGIBILITY.—If the borrower of a loan made under this part who has defaulted on that loan makes 6 ontime, consecutive, monthly payments of amounts owed on such loan, the borrower's eligibility for grant, loan, or work assistance under this title shall be restored to the extent that the borrower is otherwise eligible. A borrower only once may obtain the benefit of this paragraph with respect to restored eligibility.

(i) INCENTIVE REPAYMENT PROGRAM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Each institution of higher education may establish, with the approval of the Secretary, an incentive repayment program designed to reduce default and to replenish student loan funds established under this part. Each such incentive repayment program may—

(A) offer a reduction of the interest rate on a loan on which the borrower has made 48 consecutive, monthly repayments, but in no event may the rate be reduced by more than 1 percent;

(B) provide for a discount on the balance owed on a loan on which the borrower pays the principal and interest in full prior to the end of the applicable repayment period, but in no event may the discount exceed 5 percent of the unpaid principal balance due on the loan at the time the early repayment is made; and

(C) include such other incentive repayment options as the institution determines will carry out the objectives of this subsection.

(2) LIMITATION.—No incentive repayment option under an incentive repayment program authorized by this subsection may be paid for with Federal funds, including any Federal funds from the student loan fund, or with institutional funds from the student loan fund.

(j) ARMED FORCES AND NOAA COMMISSIONED OFFICER CORPS STUDENT LOAN INTEREST PAYMENT PROGRAMS.—

(1) AUTHORITY.—Using funds received by transfer to the Secretary under section 2174 of title 10, United States Code, or section 268 of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Commissioned Officer Corps Act of 2002 for the payment of interest on a loan made under this part to a member of the Armed Forces or an officer in the commissioned officer corps of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, respectively, the Secretary shall pay the interest on the loan as due for a period not in excess of 36 consecutive months. The Secretary may not pay interest on such a loan out of any funds other than funds that have been so transferred.

(2) FORBEARANCE.—During the period in which the Secretary is making payments on a loan under paragraph (1), the institution of higher education shall grant the borrower forbearance in accordance with subsection (e)(1)(C).

(k) The Secretary may develop such additional safeguards as the Secretary determines necessary to prevent fraud and abuse in the cancellation of liability under subsection (c)(1)(F). Notwithstanding subsection (c)(1)(F), the Secretary may promulgate regulations to resume collection on loans cancelled under subsection (c)(1)(F) in any case in which—

(1) a borrower received a cancellation of liability under subsection (c)(1)(F) and after the cancellation the borrower—

(A) receives a loan made, insured, or guaranteed under this title; or

(B) has earned income in excess of the poverty line; or

(2) the Secretary determines necessary.

(A) For an applicant with special circumstances under subsection (b) to—

(i) the cost of attendance;

(ii) the values of the data used to calculate the student aid index; or

(iii) the values of the data used to calculate the Federal Pell Grant award.

(B) For an applicant with unusual circumstances under subsection (c), to the dependency status of such applicant.

(2) LIMITATIONS ON AUTHORITY.—

(A) USE OF AUTHORITY.—No institution of higher education or financial aid administrator shall maintain a policy of denying all requests for adjustments under this section.

(B) NO ADDITIONAL FEE.—No student or parent shall be charged a fee for a documented interview of the student by the financial aid administrator or for the review of a student or parent's request for adjustments under this section including the review of any supplementary information or documentation of a student or parent's special circumstances or a student's unusual circumstances.

(C) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—The authority to make adjustments under paragraph (1)(A) shall not be construed to permit financial aid administrators to deviate from the cost of attendance, the values of data used to calculate the student aid index or the values of data used to calculate the Federal Pell Grant award (or both) for awarding aid under this title in the absence of special circumstances.

(3) ADEQUATE DOCUMENTATION.—Adequate documentation for adjustments under this section must substantiate the special circumstances or unusual circumstances of an individual student, and may include, to the extent relevant and appropriate—

(A) REQUIREMENTS FOR THE SECRETARY.—The Secretary shall—

(i) enable each student who, based on an unusual circumstance described in section 480(d)(9), may qualify for an adjustment under subsection (a)(1)(B) that will result in a determination of independence under this section or section 479D to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid as an independent student for the purpose of a provisional determination of the student's Federal financial aid award, with the final determination of the award subject to the documentation requirements of subsection (a)(3);

(i) notify the student of the institutional process, requirements, and timeline for an adjustment under this section and section 480(d)(9) that will result in a review of the student's request for an adjustment and a determination of the student's dependency status under such sections within a reasonable time after the student completes the Free Application for Federal Student Aid;

(ii) provide the student a final determination of the student's dependency status and Federal financial aid award as soon as practicable after all requested documentation is provided;

(iv) presume that any student who has obtained an adjustment under this section and section 480(d)(9) and a final determination of independence for any preceding award year at an institution of higher education to be independent for each subsequent award year at the same institution unless—

(I) the student informs the institution that circumstances have changed; or

(II) the institution has specific conflicting information about the student's independence.

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall implement a system under which the statements and supporting documentation, if required, of an individual declaring that such individual is in compliance with the requirements of subsection (a)(5) shall be verified prior to the individual's receipt of a grant, loan, or work assistance under this title.

(2) SPECIAL RULE.—The documents collected and maintained by an eligible institution in the admission of a student to the institution may be used by the student in lieu of the documents used to establish both employment authorization and identity under section 274A(b)(1)(B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1324a) to verify eligibility to participate in work-study programs under part C of this title.

(3) VERIFICATION MECHANISMS.—The Secretary is authorized to verify such statements and supporting documentation through a data match, using an automated or other system, with other Federal agencies that may be in possession of information relevant to such statements and supporting documentation.

(1) if the institution has provided such eligibility based on a verification of satisfactory immigration status by the Immigration and Naturalization Service,

(2) because the institution, under subsection (g)(4)(A)(i), was required to provide a reasonable opportunity to submit documentation, or

(3) because the institution, under subsection (g)(4)(B)(i), was required to wait for the response of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to the institution's request for official verification of the immigration status of the student.

(3) SPECIAL RULE.—For award years beginning prior to July 1, 2008, the Secretary shall not take any compliance, disallowance, penalty, or other action based on a violation of this subsection against a student or an eligible institution when such action arises out of such institution's prior award of student assistance under this title if the institution demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary that its course of instruction would have been in conformance with the requirements of this subsection.

(2) If there is a determination by the Secretary that the social security number provided to an eligible institution by a student is incorrect, the institution shall deny or terminate the student's eligibility for any grant, loan, or work assistance under this title until such time as the student provides documented evidence of a social security number that is determined by the institution to be correct.

(3) If there is a determination by the Secretary that the social security number provided to an eligible institution by a student is incorrect, and a correct social security number cannot be provided by such student, and a loan has been guaranteed for such student under part B of this title, the institution shall notify and instruct the lender and guaranty agency making and guaranteeing the loan, respectively, to cease further disbursements of the loan, but such guaranty shall not be voided or otherwise nullified with respect to such disbursements made before the date that the lender and the guaranty agency receives such notice.

SEC. 484B. INSTITUTIONAL REFUNDS.

(a) RETURN OF TITLE IV FUNDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If a recipient of assistance under this title withdraws from an institution during a payment period or period of enrollment in which the recipient began attendance, the amount of grant or loan assistance (other than assistance received under part C) to be returned to the title IV programs is calculated according to paragraph (3) and returned in accordance with subsection (b).

(2) LEAVE OF ABSENCE.—

(A) LEAVE NOT TREATED AS WITHDRAWAL.—In the case of a student who takes 1 or more leaves of absence from an institution for not more than a total of 180 days in any 12-month period, the institution may consider the student as not having withdrawn from the institution during the leave of absence, and not calculate the amount of grant and loan assistance provided under this title that is to be returned in accordance with this section if—

(i) the institution has a formal policy regarding leaves of absence;

(ii) the student followed the institution's policy in requesting a leave of absence; and

(iii) the institution approved the student's request in accordance with the institution's policy.

(B) CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO RETURN.—If a student does not return to the institution at the expiration of an approved leave of absence that meets the requirements of subparagraph (A), the institution shall calculate the amount of grant and loan assistance provided under this title that is to be returned in accordance with this section based on the day the student withdrew (as determined under subsection (c)).

(3) CALCULATION OF AMOUNT OF TITLE IV ASSISTANCE EARNED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The amount of grant or loan assistance under this title that is earned by the recipient for purposes of this section is calculated by—

(i) determining the percentage of grant and loan assistance under this title that has been earned by the student, as described in subparagraph (B); and

(ii) applying such percentage to the total amount of such grant and loan assistance that was disbursed (and that could have been disbursed) to the student, or on the student's behalf, for the payment period or period of enrollment for which the assistance was awarded, as of the day the student withdrew.

(B) PERCENTAGE EARNED.—For purposes of subparagraph (A)(i), the percentage of grant or loan assistance under this title that has been earned by the student is—

(i) equal to the percentage of the payment period or period of enrollment for which assistance was awarded that was completed (as determined in accordance with subsection (d)) as of the day the student withdrew, provided that such date occurs on or before the completion of 60 percent of the payment period or period of enrollment; or

(ii) 100 percent, if the day the student withdrew occurs after the student has completed (as determined in accordance with subsection (d)) 60 percent of the payment period or period of enrollment.

(C) PERCENTAGE AND AMOUNT NOT EARNED.—For purposes of subsection (b), the amount of grant and loan assistance awarded under this title that has not been earned by the student shall be calculated by—

(i) determining the complement of the percentage of grant assistance under subparts 1 and 3 of part A, or loan assistance under parts B, D, and E, that has been earned by the student described in subparagraph (B); and

(ii) applying the percentage determined under clause (i) to the total amount of such grant and loan assistance that was disbursed (and that could have been disbursed) to the student, or on the student's behalf, for the payment period or period of enrollment, as of the day the student withdrew.

(4) DIFFERENCES BETWEEN AMOUNTS EARNED AND AMOUNTS RECEIVED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—After determining the eligibility of the student for a late disbursement or post-withdrawal disbursement (as required in regulations prescribed by the Secretary), the institution of higher education shall contact the borrower and obtain confirmation that the loan funds are still required by the borrower. In making such contact, the institution shall explain to the borrower the borrower's obligation to repay the funds following any such disbursement. The institution shall document in the borrower's file the result of such contact and the final determination made concerning such disbursement.

(B) RETURN.—If the student has received more grant or loan assistance than the amount earned as calculated under paragraph (3)(A), the unearned funds shall be returned by the institution or the student, or both, as may be required under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (b), to the programs under this title in the order specified in subsection (b)(3).

(b) RETURN OF TITLE IV PROGRAM FUNDS.—

(1) RESPONSIBILITY OF THE INSTITUTION.—The institution shall return not later than 45 days from the determination of withdrawal, in the order specified in paragraph (3), the lesser of—

(A) the amount of grant and loan assistance awarded under this title that has not been earned by the student, as calculated under subsection (a)(3)(C); or

(B) an amount equal to—

(i) the total institutional charges incurred by the student for the payment period or period of enrollment for which such assistance was awarded; multiplied by

(ii) the percentage of grant and loan assistance awarded under this title that has not been earned by the student, as described in subsection (a)(3)(C)(i).

(2) RESPONSIBILITY OF THE STUDENT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The student shall return assistance that has not been earned by the student as described in subsection (a)(3)(C)(ii) in the order specified in paragraph (3) minus the amount the institution is required to return under paragraph (1).

(B) SPECIAL RULE.—The student (or parent in the case of funds due to a loan borrowed by a parent under part B or D) shall return or repay, as appropriate, the amount determined under subparagraph (A) to—

(i) a loan program under this title in accordance with the terms of the loan; and

(ii) a grant program under this title, as an overpayment of such grant and shall be subject to—

(I) repayment arrangements satisfactory to the institution; or

(II) overpayment collection procedures prescribed by the Secretary.

(C) GRANT OVERPAYMENT REQUIREMENTS.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding subparagraphs (A) and (B), a student shall only be required to return grant assistance in the amount (if any) by which—

(II) 50 percent of the total grant assistance received by the student under this title for the payment period or period of enrollment.

(ii) MINIMUM.—A student shall not be required to return amounts of $50 or less.

Such information shall also include information on the various payment options available for student loans, including income-sensitive and income-based repayment plans for loans made, insured, or guaranteed under part B and [income-contingent and] income-based repayment plans for loans made under part D. In addition, such information shall include information to enable borrowers to assess the practical consequences of loan consolidation, including differences in deferment eligibility, interest rates, monthly payments, and finance charges, and samples of loan consolidation profiles to illustrate such consequences. The Secretary shall provide information concerning the specific terms and conditions under which students may obtain partial or total cancellation or defer repayment of loans for service, shall indicate (in terms of the Federal minimum wage) the maximum level of compensation and allowances that a student borrower may receive from a tax-exempt organization to qualify for a deferment, and shall explicitly state that students may qualify for such partial cancellations or deferments when they serve as a paid employee of a tax-exempt organization. The Secretary shall also provide information on loan forbearance, including the increase in debt that results from capitalization of interest. Such information shall be provided by eligible institutions and eligible lenders at any time that information regarding loan availability is provided to any student.

The Secretary shall only provide direct links to databases that can be accessed without charge and shall make reasonable efforts to verify that the databases included in a direct link are not providing fraudulent information. The Secretary shall prominently display adjacent to any such direct link a disclaimer indicating that a direct link to a database does not constitute an endorsement or recommendation of the database, the provider of the database, or any services or products of such provider. The Secretary shall provide additional direct links to information resources from which students may obtain information about fraudulent and deceptive practices in the provision of services related to student financial aid.

(4) The Secretary shall widely publicize the location of the information described in paragraph (1) among the public, eligible institutions, and eligible lenders, and promote the use of such information by prospective students, enrolled students, families of prospective and enrolled students, and borrowers.

except that an emergency action shall not exceed 30 days unless limitation, suspension, or termination proceedings are initiated by the Secretary against the institution within that period of time, and except that the Secretary shall provide the institution an opportunity to show cause, if it so requests, that the emergency action is unwarranted;

(H) the limitation, suspension, or termination of the eligibility of a third party servicer to contract with any institution to administer any aspect of an institution's student assistance program under this title, or the imposition of a civil penalty under paragraph (3)(B), whenever the Secretary has determined, after reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing, that such organization, acting on behalf of an institution, has violated or failed to carry out any provision of this title, any regulation prescribed under this title, or any applicable special arrangement, agreement, or limitation, except that no period of suspension under this subparagraph shall exceed 60 days unless the organization and the Secretary agree to an extension, or unless limitation or termination proceedings are initiated by the Secretary against the individual or organization within that period of time; and

(ii) Any civil penalty may be compromised by the Secretary. In determining the amount of such penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the institution of higher education subject to the determination, and the gravity of the violation, failure, or misrepresentation shall be considered. The amount of such penalty, when finally determined, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, may be deducted from any sums owing by the United States to the institution charged.

MINORITY VIEWS

INTRODUCTION

Committee Democrats firmly believe the Republicans plan in the Committee Print of H. Con. Res. 14 [1] will lower the quality of higher education and make higher education more expensive for students. The Majority's plans will weaken the Direct Loan program and eliminate the PLUS Loan program, which will make it harder for some students to afford a college degree, and impossible for others. It creates new repayment options that are less generous then current law, at a time that we know borrowers are struggling to repay their loans. Finally, the bill dismantles key portions of the higher education accountability framework to protect students and taxpayers from waste, fraud, and abuse without proposing a viable alternative framework. The Committee Print will have a net-negative impact on both students and institutions of higher education.

BACKGROUND ON THE RISING COST OF COLLEGE AND THE FLAWED CONSIDERATION OF THE COMMITTEE PRINT

The value of a college degree cannot be understated. Research has consistently found that a college degree confers significant financial and non-financial returns, particularly for low-income students and students of color.[2] Typically, people with bachelor's degrees make over $1 million more than high school graduates over their lifetimes.[3]

But as the cost of obtaining a degree has risen sharply over the last three decades, apprehension about the value of college has risen as well. From 1990 to 2019, the net cost of attendance has grown 81 percent at public four-year colleges, 33 percent at private nonprofit colleges, and 19 percent at public two-year colleges.[4] The cost of college has significantly outpaced inflation, and many Americans' ability to afford a college education has declined.[5] And the Pell Grant has not grown sufficiently to keep pace with increases in tuition and fees. The Pell Grant now covers the smallest share of college costs in four decades.[6] Further, state investment in higher education has declined over the decades.[7] Students are forced to make up that difference; to cover the remaining costs of college, low-income students are taking out loans at higher rates than their high-income peers and graduating with higher debt loads.

[1] Through the report, the legislative text marked up by the Committee will be referred to as the "Committee Print." The reconciliation process requires all committees to mark-up up distinct portions of an unintroduced bill and at time of markup, they are referred to as the "Committee Print".

In order to support students in achieving their higher education goals, the federal government has a responsibility to invest in higher education and help ensure the higher education system is strong. However, the House Majority, along with the Trump Administration, are destabilizing the U.S. higher education system and making more difficult for students to afford a college education. In its first 100 days, the Trump administration has abruptly defunded billions of dollars in university research, snatched funds back from institutions without official findings of wrongdoing, issued an executive order designed to give the federal government more control over what schools teach, and temporarily cut off access to income-based repayment options for borrowers.[8] It has done all this while attempting to dismantle the Department of Education, a which will cause confusion to students, student loan borrowers, and colleges.[9] Meanwhile, House Republicans are seeking to advance policies via the Budget Reconciliation process that will make it even harder for institutions to deliver quality education, for students to afford higher education, and for the federal government to provide oversight of the federal student aid program. The over $300 billion in savings achieved in this bill is not being used to shore up this higher education system in other ways. It will be used to finance the trillions of dollars in tax cuts for billionaires.

THE COMMITTEE PRINT DECREASES COLLEGE ACCESS AND MAKES COLLEGE LESS AFFORDABLE

The Majority proposes a package of damaging policies that will create a bleak landscape for college access and affordability. Committee Democrats are deeply concerned the proposed changes to federal student aid will collectively limit access to a range of programs of study for low-income students, steer students into the private loan market, and make it harder for borrowers to pay off their loans, all in direct opposition to the goals that drove the creation of the Higher Education Act.

Capping Aid at the Median Cost of College

The Committee Print caps the total amount of federal student aid that any student can receive at the median cost of attendance for a student enrolled in a similar program of study, based on national data. The stated intent of this policy is to encourage institutions of higher education to lower their tuition prices; however, Committee Democrats are not aware of any research that signals this policy is an appropriate approach to lower college costs. As a threshold matter, capping aid at the median cost of attendance would mean 50 percent of students who rely on federal student aid would not receive enough federal aid to cover the cost of their program. Higher education advocates rightfully argue this will create a harmful funding gap that impacts students' ability to cover the basics needs components of their cost of attendance, such as housing and transportation and will be detrimental to students' ability to obtain their degree.[10] Further, by using nationwide averages to cap costs, students attending school in high cost of living areas will be disproportionately impacted. Although Committee Republicans believe this aid cap will incentivize institutions to lower their prices, Committee Democrats believe this unfounded, one-size-fits-all approach does not take into consideration variables across the higher education system. When coupled with provisions limiting the Secretary's ability to regulate discussed later in these views, this provision would sew chaos throughout higher education by discouraging students from entering school to begin with or drive them into the private loan market.

Pell Grants

The Majority's proposal would weaken the Pell Grant program—the cornerstone of federal student aid. Despite the declining purchasing power of the Pell Grant, it remains a powerful tool that unlocks significant additional financial support for low-income students in higher education.[11]

In recent years, Congress, led by Committee Democrats, has secured historic improvements to the Pell Grant, including laws that resulted in approximately 610,000 more Pell Grant recipients and nearly 1.5 million students receiving the maximum Pell Grant in 2024,[12] the restoration of Pell Grant eligibility to incarcerated students,[13] and a $900 total increase in the maximum Pell Grant in the year-end budget deals for fiscal years 2022 and 2023.[14] Based on this track record of recent successes, the Committee Print would have been the perfect opportunity to reduce college costs for students by increasing the value of the Pell Grant for all students. Instead, the Republicans made two changes to Pell Grant eligibility that will result in fewer students receiving a Pell Grant.

First, the Committee Print changes the definition of "full time", for Pell only, from 24 semester hours to 30 semester hours a year. While Committee Republicans have sought to make changes to Pell in multiple Congresses to incentivize on-time completion, those proposals usually took the form of some type of bonus on top of the maximum Pell Grant to incentivize students to take a larger courseload. Here, recognizing any dollars spent to increase the Pell Grant would be dollars that could not be saved to fund tax cuts for the top 1%, Committee Republicans abandoned the idea of a bonus to incentivize taking a larger courseload and instead adopted a policy creating a penalty for Pell recipients who do not take a larger courseload. For low-income students who are balancing other responsibilities such as work and child care alongside their education, part-time enrollment may be their sole option, and they should not be penalized for that. Further, research shows that at 80% of institutions, Pell Grant recipients graduate on-time at a lower rate than non-Pell recipients.[15] Creating a penalty by raising the number of semester hours required to receive a Pell Grant seems in no way connected to the reasons why Pell recipients may not complete college on time, and is not likely to increase completion rates, and instead penalize students.

Coupled with the change in the definition of "full time", the Committee Print also eliminates Pell Grant eligibility for students enrolled less than half time, which would be under 15 semester hours a year. Under current law, eligible Pell Grant recipients receive a prorated grant award based on the number of credit hours they take in any semester. While the result may be that a student taking a smaller courseload may get a smaller Pell Grant, that smaller grant is still pivotal to funding that student's education. It's money that can cover tuition, fees, and living expenses that does not need to be paid back. This is often the case for adult learners attending school part time while working part time—they are Pell eligible due to their need analysis, but don't receive a full amount they are eligible for. Instead of recognizing this is a fact of life for many low-income students, the Committee Print will simply eliminate Pell eligibility for many of these students, forcing them to either finance their current course load through other means, or to take more course hours each semester, decreasing the time they can work. Committee Democrats feel that ending Pell eligibility for students enrolled less than half time simply refuses to recognize the realities faced by modern students. The result will be fewer students pursuing higher education, the exact opposite goal of the original authors of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

Committee Democrats were also surprised that the Majority included Workforce Pell Grants in the Committee Print. Last Congress, the Democrats and Republicans negotiated and introduced H.R. 6585, the Bipartisan Workforce Pell Act, a bill that would allow students to use Pell Grants to enroll in high-quality, short-term workforce programs. The Bipartisan Workforce Pell Act was carefully negotiated, and included language to ensure that unscrupulous programs could not take students' valuable Pell dollars and leave them without a worthwhile credential. While the partisan language the Committee considered does include Workforce Pell Grants with a structure that is similar to the Bipartisan Workforce Pell Act, it does not include key consumer protection guardrails to protect students.

Campus-Based Aid

The Committee Print includes a new grant program, Promoting Real Opportunities to Maximize Investments in Savings in Education (PROMISE). As it was originally proposed in the College Cost Reduction Act PROMISE would be a performance-based grant to reward institutions for providing strong earnings outcomes, keeping tuition low, and matriculating low-income students. To receive a PROMISE grant, an institution must provide students with a maximum total price guarantee, establishing the most money an institution could charge the student to complete their program, based on the student's family income and financial need.

Though Committee Democrats generally support the creation of programs that increase postsecondary access opportunities for low- and middle-income students, we have several concerns with the PROMISE program. First, PROMISE grants would essentially function as a block grant to institutions, with few enumerated requirements in the bill as to their use. There was not even a provision requiring some minimum percentage of the grant aid to be directly given to students to offset their need, so a school could use its grant for various purposes rather than "maximizing investments in savings in education".

Additionally, Committee Democrats worry the maximum total price guarantee requirement will disincentivize schools from participating in the PROMISE program. While this attempt to control college costs is commendable, it is imperative that proposed policies to keep higher education affordable are actually viable. In this case, it is unclear whether institutions would significantly cap tuition costs just to become eligible to participate in a program with no guarantee that it will receive funds. Further, public institutions are particularly at risk of not accessing these funds, since tuition at most public institutions is determined by state and local governments.[16] The volatile and unpredictable nature of state funding for higher education makes it challenging for public institutions to guarantee tuition levels for multiple years at a time, meaning they will likely be ineligible for PROMISE grants due to factors beyond their control.[17]

Additionally, Committee Democrats worry whether the Committee Print's PROMISE provisions include resources sufficient enough to make a meaningful difference for students. Under the proposal the funding to make the grants would come from the proceeds of the risk sharing scheme proposed in the Committee Print, and after the first year of implementation funds returned to title IV under HEA section 484B. Under the PROMISE proposal from the College Cost Reduction Act, if the risk sharing scheme did not produce enough funds for eligible schools to receive PROMISE grants, the bill required prioritization of institutions with the highest percentages of low-income students for PROMISE funding.[18] But since the Committee Print must follow the stricter rules of Budget Reconciliation, grant funds are ratably reduced for all eligible institutions. Funding a proposal in such a manner without a guarantee that all eligible institutions, and most importantly students at their institutions, will have the ability to benefit from the program, is unwise.

Finally, it is not lost on Committee Democrats that this is an attempt to co-opt the "PROMISE" branding in higher education, which has generally come to refer to programs across the country that provide free (or highly subsidized) semesters of community college.[19] Relatedly the America's College Promise Act (ACP),[20] a bill first introduced in 2015, establishes a federal-state partnership to expand access to higher education by providing two years of tuition-free community college and creating grants for Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), Tribal Colleges and Universities[21] and Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) to provide two years of tuition-free education. The Republican's PROMISE program is fundamentally different from what Committee Democrats offered in ACP or the Promise programs that the non-profit College Promise indicates are at "approximately 104 community college and university programs offered across 45 states." The PROMISE program as included in Committee Print does not offer a real mechanism to solve issues of college affordability and completion.

Limiting Access to Federal Student Loans

The Committee Print revises the aggregate and annual Direct Loan limits for undergraduate and graduate students. The current aggregate Direct Loan limits are $31,000 for dependent undergraduate students, $57,500 for independent undergraduate students, and $138,500 for graduate and professional students.[22] The Committee Print changes the aggregate limit to $50,000 for dependent and independent undergraduate students, $100,000 for graduate students, and raises the limit to $150,000 for professional graduate students. Independent undergraduate students and nonprofessional graduate students will face drastic cuts to their total federal student loan eligibility from these limits. In conjunction with other loan changes detailed below, most students will be worse off with this proposal.

The Committee Print also eliminates the subsidization of undergraduate loans. Under current law, a portion of an undergraduates Direct Loans would have the interest rate subsidized so those loans were not accruing interest while the undergraduate was in school. The rationale is simple: we should not penalize the student for not paying back their loan while they are enrolled and studying. This simple change will result in billions saved that can be spent on tax cuts, but will have drastic implications on the student loan balances of millions of undergraduate students.

The Committee Print also allows institutions to cap loans even further based on program of study. This will create significant affordability issues for students preparing for impactful careers in fields with traditionally low earnings, such as teaching and social work. Several higher education and consumer protection advocates fear that giving colleges this authority will "threaten universal access to student loans"[23] and restrict college access for students whose needs are not otherwise met.[24]

The Committee Print, consistent with H.R. 6951, also eliminates Parent PLUS and Graduate PLUS loans for all future borrowers. The PLUS program is not without its faults,[25] but taking a hatchet to the program instead of a scalpel will only drive families and graduate students to the predatory private loan market[26] to finance higher education. Advocates across the political spectrum have emphasized that to successfully steer students and families away from PLUS loans, robust front-end student aid and increased institutional aid are essential.[27] Eliminating PLUS Loans without providing such additional front-end aid will likely have a disastrous effect on the demographic groups that disproportionately relies on PLUS Loans, low-income and first generation students. The families of these students tend to take out Parent PLUS loans at higher rates compared to other student groups due in part to having less generational wealth and fewer financial resources generally.[28]

Taken together, the Committee Print's "affordability" provisions could result in many students being unable to afford graduate degrees. By eliminating Grad PLUS loans, lowering Direct Loan limits, and providing no other increases in grant aid, access to careers that require graduate education will be severely limited since the cost of attendance for many of these programs will now exceed many students' total federal student aid eligibility.[29] This financing structure will inevitably harm low-income students and students of color by either requiring them to take out predatory private loans to finance their education or forcing them to walk away from higher education entirely, with a sizable amount of debt but no degree to help pay it off. Committee Democrats welcome conversations on ways to address the serious concerns about the PLUS program but any actions we take must not come at the expense of compromising access and affordability for students.

Loan Repayment Plans

The Committee Print streamlines the repayment options available to Direct Loan program participants into two plans: a standard repayment plan and a new repayment assistance plan. While higher education advocates have long asked Congress to streamline the loan program,[30] the model in the Committee Print is not designed to support borrowers; rather, its proposed "assistance" plan will leave some borrowers paying until they die and will lead many more to making decades of unaffordable payments. The bill's repayment assistance plan (RAP) is tiered by amount borrowed and by the borrower's Adjusted Gross Income (AGI). Under the RAP plan all borrowers, even those with no income, would be required to make a monthly payment of at least $10. Additionally, unlike current income-based repayment plans, borrowers are not eligible for forgiveness until they've been in repayment for 30 years, so many borrowers could end up making payments on their loans for their entire life without receiving any relief. Higher education advocates are concerned that this new plan will make higher education less affordable and drive more borrowers into delinquency and default.[31]

This proposal is a stark contrast to the Saving on a Valuable Education (SAVE) Plan developed by the Biden Administration.[32] The SAVE plan was the most generous repayment plan ever established and was designed to drastically help low- and middle-income borrowers finance their educations. Compared to the proposed RAP in the Committee Print, the SAVE Plan requires borrowers to make payments equal to 5 percent of their discretionary income (calculated as any income above 225 percent of the federal poverty level). The Department of Education estimated that once fully implemented, more than one million low-income borrowers would have qualified for $0 loan payments per month, allowing families to focus on the basic needs of food, housing, and transportation.[33] Under the SAVE plan "borrowers will see their total payments per dollar borrowed fall by 40%. Borrowers with the lowest projected lifetime earnings will see payments per dollar borrowed fall by 83 percent." [34] Based on attacks from Republican State Attorneys General, the SAVE plan was prevented from ever being fully implemented, and under the Trump administration it is officially no longer an option. Committee Democrats will continue to advocate for the concepts embodied in the SAVE plan, which we believe will better allow borrowers to manage their higher education debt and focus on their other financial needs.

The Committee Print also prohibits the Secretary of Education (Secretary) from developing new repayment plans or modifying existing repayment plans if those changes would be considered "economically significant" and increase subsidy costs to the federal government. This is extremely concerning because, if it became law, no future administration—Democrat or Republican—would have the authority to make common-sense changes to loan repayment that support the needs of borrowers. This prohibition is a direct attack on the Biden Administration's attempts to improve student loan repayment for borrowers.[35] Any disinterested party would realize it is crucial that the Secretary has the flexibility to respond to the ever-changing needs of borrowers; the COVID–19 pandemic was a perfect example of the nimbleness needed to address borrowers' economic struggles.[36]

Public Service Loan Forgiveness

The Committee Print does not make extensive changes to the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program; however, it excludes student loan payments made during medical and dental internships and residencies as qualifying payments towards PSLF. During the markup Rep. Lucy McBath (GA–06) noted that residencies and internships reflect a time when doctors and dentists are working the longest hours of their careers for the least pay. During this time, under the RAP plan they could be forced to pay $10 a month while potentially having little to no actual income. Some of the more complex dental residency programs last 6 years,[37] meaning that a borrower could be in active repayment for 6 years working at the Department of Veteran's Affairs [38] and none of those 72 payments would qualify towards eventual forgiveness.

Additionally, according to the American Dental Association (ADA), many dental students rely on PSLF as part of their student loan management strategy to reduce their overall financial burden.[39] Cutting PSLF for dental and medical internships and residencies will result in fewer doctors and dentists in underserved communities, especially rural communities which are already facing a healthcare shortage crisis.[40]

Borrower Supports

While H.R. 6951 included some strong bipartisan provisions to support borrowers in repayment, such provisions cost money, and as a result had to be modified or eliminated from the Committee Print. The Committee Print admirably left in place a provision to allow borrowers to rehabilitate their defaulated loans twice, rather than the current limit of just once. This will provide borrowers struggling with default additional opportunities to improve their financial wellbeing. Unfortunately the other two consumer protections from H.R. 6951 were either deeply modified or eliminated completely. For example H.R. 6951 eliminated interest capitalization in all instances, building off work the Biden Administration undertook to eliminate interest capitalization in the six places in law it had the authority to do so.[41] But the Committee Print only eliminates capitalization of interest for borrowers enrolled in the new RAP—leaving other four other instances where borrowers will see unpaid interest added to their principle.[42] But the third and final bipartisan proposal from H.R. 6951, the elimination of origination fees on all new student loans, was not included in the Committee Print at all. Origination fees were originally established to offset costs of the now-defunct Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) program.[43] The current origination fees of 1 percent for Direct Loans and 4 percent for PLUS loans significantly contribute to increased loan balance, especially for graduate borrowers.[44] Their elimination has significant bipartisan support in Congress; they were all included in the Lowering Obstacles to Achieve Now (LOAN) Act in the 118th Congress.[45]

THE MAJORITY GUTS FEDERAL ACCOUNTABILITY FRAMEWORK, LEAVING STUDENTS AND TAXPAYERS VULNERABLE

Risk Sharing Agreements

The Majority proposes a risk-sharing agreement in which all institutions must compensate the federal government for a portion of the unpaid principal and interest on loans for their students. The "risk sharing" model has long been a Republican policy goal designed to encourage institutions to "have skin in the game" with respect to student loan repayment rates.[46]

Committee Democrats, although not opposed to holding institutions accountable for student outcomes, have significant concerns with this risk-sharing proposal. This model will encourage institutions to judge programs of study solely on their ability to provide immediate financial benefits to their graduates. Many essential programs of study such as education or social work, are obviously necessary but do not always have simple return on investment equations. Other programs, like many liberal arts programs, pay off for students, but on a longer time horizon than contemplated by the Republicans risk sharing scheme. The policy is also deeply worrying for under-resourced institutions and institutions that disproportionately serve low-income students and students of color, such as community colleges, HBCUs, and MSIs. Many scholars have expressed concern that without incorporating multiple dynamic metrics that take into account the demographics of students that institutions serve, the risk-sharing model will create perverse incentivizes for institutions to enroll high-income students who are most well situated to graduate and repay their student debt.[47] The bill does not include any mechanisms to address these concerns, nor does it contain anything requiring institutions or the federal government to measure potential effects of the policy. Committee Democrats support accountability frameworks that will incentivize institutions to effectively serve high-need students and ensure their degree completion, not proposals such as the one included in the Committee Print that has the potential to deny such students access to high-quality education.

Ultimately, the biggest concern for Committee Democrats is that Committee Republicans view the risk-sharing model as the sole accountability tool for institutions. Even if this model was successful, it does not provide accountability for other serious financial risks that unscrupulous institutions pose to students and taxpayers.

Deregulation

By far one of the most egregious components of the Committee Print is the complete dismantling of the existing federal accountability framework designed to protect students and taxpayers from waste, fraud, and abuse in higher education. The statutory and regulatory oversight mechanisms repealed in the bill are vital tools the Department of Education (Department) uses to ensure students get the full benefit of federal student aid through monitoring institutions that pose significant risks and penalizing such institutions accordingly.

Repealed under the Committee print, the 90/10 rule requires that for-profit institutions receive no greater than 90 percent of their revenue from federal aid. This provision was first established by Congress in the 1992 HEA reauthorization to prohibit for-profit entities from deriving the entirety of their revenue from the federal government.[48] Unscrupulous for-profit colleges have long preyed on vulnerable student populations to increase their revenue without providing these students a valuable education.[49] In recent years, these institutions have increasingly preyed on veterans, since their G.I. Benefits did not count under the 90 percent cap.[50] In 2021, Congress passed the American Rescue Plan Act, which included a bipartisan provision to close this loophole and prevent institutions from targeting veterans for their benefits.[51]

Despite strong bipartisan support for closing this loophole,[52] Committee Republicans continue to argue that the 90/10 rule is another part of the Democratic "educational agenda" to "expand federal intervention at the expense of students and taxpayers."[53] And it is worth noting that while Committee Republicans regularly claim to prioritize taxpayers, CBO estimated that a previous attempt by Republicans to repeal the 90/10 rule would have cost taxpayers $2 billion over the 2018–2027 period.[54]

Committee Democrats have witnessed the ongoing predatory behaviors of certain for-profit institutions, particularly with respect to veterans,[55] and are appalled by the removal of this bipartisan accountability framework. Congress has a responsibility to protect America's veterans from being manipulated by the for-profit industry.

Gainful Employment

The gainful employment (GE) rule, also repealed by the Committee Print, sets a meaningful and necessary framework for the Department to enforce compliance with the statutory requirement under the HEA that vocational training programs prepare students for gainful employment. The GE rule helps ensure students are attending programs designed to support their postsecondary needs and prepare them to have good jobs in the workforce. The rule also saves significant money for taxpayers; analysis indicates that the previous Trump Administration's previous recission of the GE rule risked losing roughly $6.2 billion in taxpayer funds over ten years through Pell Grants and student loans flowing to low-quality programs that leave students with high levels of debt and low earnings.[56]

Thankfully, in 2023, the Biden Administration released the strongest ever GE rule to protect students from low-quality training programs by establishing metrics related to high levels of debt and low post-completion earnings.[57] The Department estimates that 92 percent of public institutions and 97 percent of private nonprofit institutions have no programs that fail the new GE rule.[58] Comparatively, despite for-profit institutions accounting for only 11 percent of GE programs, 55 percent of these institutions have at least one program of study that does not pass one of the two GE metrics, and nearly 90 percent of students in failing GE programs attend for-profit institutions.[59] Due to the disproportionate level of failing programs at for-profit institutions, the Department estimates that as a consequence of the GE rule, there will be significant enrollment shifts from low-quality programs to programs at community colleges and HBCUs.

Committee Republicans have decried this rule as a "witch hunt" against for-profit institutions[60] and continue to ignore the what the data clearly shows: low-quality for-profit programs will continue to bilk students and taxpayers unless they are held accountable for poor student outcomes.

Borrowers Defense to Repayment

The Majority eliminates the current borrowers defense to repayment rule, a powerful legal tool providing loan forgiveness for borrowers who have been defrauded by colleges that engaged in certain instances of gross misconduct.[61] In 2022, the Biden Administration released a new borrowers defense regulation that establishes the strongest framework yet for borrowers to raise a defense to repayment if their institution has misled or harmed them.[62] Since promulgating this rule, the Department has discharged more than $14.8 billion in loans for over one million borrowers through borrowers defense.[63]

While Committee Republicans paint the Department as being the "judge, jury, and executioner" of targeted debt relief such as borrowers defense,[64] it must be underscored that borrowers defense also helps recover significant amounts of cancelled loan amounts from institutions, which helps ensure taxpayers are not harmed by the gross misconduct of an institution.[65] While repealing this rule will make it extremely hard for defrauded students to receive loan discharges to which they are entitled, it will also allow disreputable schools to get away with their misconduct and leave taxpayers holding the bag. Committee Democrats remain committed to supporting students who have been defrauded by their institutions and, through no fault of their own, have not reaped the benefits of a higher education.

Closed School Discharge

When institutions close precipitously, students are often left scrambling to try to transfer to another institution, and many do not ultimately transfer. The closed school discharge rule helps borrowers get a "fresh start" after a school closure by discharging student loans taken out at the closed school.[66] The Biden Administration strengthened the closed school discharge rule by providing an automatic loan discharge for all borrowers one year after the closure of their institution.[67] This rule is an essential backstop for students who were promised an education and a credential they never received through no fault of their own. The Majority will wrongfully remove this tool from defrauded borrowers, and Committee Republicans have produced no justification for its elimination.

Prohibition on Promulgating Regulations

The Committee Print prohibits the Secretary, and all future Secretaries, from implementing any substantially similar regulations to the repealed or revised regulations in the bill. This is another direct attack on the significant progress the Biden Administration made to strengthen higher education regulations to protect students and taxpayers.[68] Throughout last Congress, Committee Republicans have touted the importance of accountability in higher education.[69] Yet, they have proposed to eliminate these protections and restrict future federal engagement on them without proposing a robust alternative accountability framework.

It cannot be understated that this extreme deregulation agenda will erode the integrity of the federal student aid system and signal that the federal government does not have the responsibility to protect students and taxpayers from waste, fraud, and abuse in higher education. Committee Democrats believe the existing accountability framework—augmented by improvements by the Biden Administration—is an essential oversight mechanism for America's students and taxpayers.

CONCLUSION

The Committee Print includes harmful policies that will erode the integrity of the Title IV program and the U.S. higher education system as a whole. It reduces access to college, makes college education less affordable, and eliminates customer protections for borrowers. At a fundamental level it increases the share of the cost of higher education borne by students, who will pay more for longer to go to school. And it does all this simply to provide funding for billionaire tax cuts. Committee Democrats cannot support legislation that will leave students and borrowers worse off, especially when done for this purpose. For this and the reasons stated above, Committee Democrats unanimously opposed the Committee Print when the Committee on Education and the Workforce considered it on April 29, 2025. We strongly urge the House of Representatives to do the same.

COMMITTEE PRINT, TITLE IV—COMMITTEE ON ENERGY AND COMMERCE, PROVIDING FOR RECONCILIATION PURSUANT TO H. CON. RES. 14

CONTENTS

PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

Federal spending is unsustainably outpacing revenues, and a revolution of common-sense reform is necessary to strengthen and preserve our nation's fiscal independence and prosperity. The purpose of the Committee on Energy and Commerce's budget reconciliation legislative recommendations is to advance a combination of common-sense deficit reduction and targeted offsets that will support U.S. innovation, strengthen and reform Medicaid, and end Green New Deal-Style waste.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

On April 10, 2025, the House of Representatives agreed to the Senate amendment to H. Con. Res. 14, a concurrent resolution setting forth the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year (FY) 2025, setting forth the appropriate budgetary levels for FY 2026 through FY 2034, and providing reconciliation instructions. The resolution included the following budget reconciliation instructions for the Committee: The Committee on Energy and Commerce shall submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction to reduce the deficit by not less than $880,000,000,000 for the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034.

SUBTITLE A—ENERGY

Energy is essential to the nation's economy, its productive capacity, its security, and the health and welfare of the public. The United States is blessed with tremendous natural resources and an economic system that fosters the free flow of capital to support innovation and technological capabilities. It also maintains the most sophisticated and efficient system of energy production and delivery in the world. The vast and complex electricity systems in this country deliver uninterrupted power to the public, manufacturers, and industry. These energy systems serve to provide for the affordable, reliable energy and electric power necessary to expand America's security and create the goods and services essential to a modern economy, along with providing for the public welfare.

America's shale revolution transformed the nation's energy posture in the world and underscores the benefits of American energy expansion. The nation has emerged as the world's number one producer of oil and natural gas, and the number one exporter of liquified natural gas (LNG). This status as a leading world producer and exporter of oil and gas has brought significant benefits to the domestic economy, U.S. energy security, and allies overseas.

Since 2016, U.S. LNG is estimated to have contributed $408 billion to our domestic Gross Domestic Product and supports 273,000 direct, indirect, or induced jobs. Expanded U.S. LNG exports also benefit U.S. energy security and national security by reducing the influence of Russia and the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) in international markets. Russia's war on Ukraine exposed the world's vulnerability to unstable energy suppliers, especially in Europe, emphasizing the importance of stable, secure, and more affordable American natural gas supplies. In the wake of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, U.S. LNG replaced upwards of 50 percent of Russian natural gas importations into European nations.[1]

Energy exploration and production provide immense economic benefits to states and local municipalities where royalties and associated taxes provide funding for public resources such as schools, firefighters, public safety officials, and other activities to the benefit of local communities. For example, the members of the Texas Oil and Natural Gas Association paid $27.3 billion in state and local taxes and state royalties in 2024.[2]

Oil and natural gas account for about 74 percent of the primary energy sources consumed in the U.S. every year, with natural gas accounting for some 43 percent of electric power generation, according to the U.S. Energy Information Administration.[3] Natural gas provides the largest share of baseload and dispatchable electric power generation. This share has increased as various state and federal policies have led to the shut-down of baseload and dispatchable generation over the past decade, a trend that accelerated in recent years, particularly for coal-fired generation.[4]

Meanwhile, after years of minimal growth, electricity demand in the United States is projected to grow nationally at a significant rate through the end of the decade.[5] Over the past several decades, the electric grid experienced modest demand for electric power, averaging about 0.5 percent growth per year since 2015; however, recent estimates show annual growth rate ranging between 3.7 percent to 15 percent by 2030.[6] Much of this growth is expected to come from industrial facilities and data centers powering the increasing use of AI. By the end of the decade, data centers that are driving increases in electricity demand could consume as much as 9.1 percent of all electricity in the United States.[7]

Projections for a surge in demand for reliable power for AI come at a time when the North American Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) has repeatedly raised concerns over the adequacy and reliability of the grid. These concerns with the U.S. grid are due to a confluence of factors that have forced premature retirements of reliable generation without adequate replacement generation and electric infrastructure. The head of the NERC stated he believes the United States is headed for a reliability crisis.[8]

While much of the new generation seeking interconnection to the bulk power system consists of wind and solar, these intermittent resources cannot meet the reliability needs of high-tech manufacturing and data centers on their own as they are not a one-to-one replacement of existing non-intermittent, dispatchable resources like coal, natural gas, hydropower or nuclear.

SUBTITLE B—ENVIRONMENT

Since 2022, the cost, effectiveness, and implementation of provisions in the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) have been called into question. The climate and energy provisions in the 2022 Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) will significantly increase the deficit, far more than originally anticipated. Updated projections of the IRA estimate the cost of climate and energy provisions have ballooned from the projected $384.9 billion to $1.045 trillion.[9] The University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School updated its budget estimate of the IRA's climate and energy provisions, from $384.9 billion between 2022–2031 to $1,045 billion for the same period. timated that the IRA "will provide an estimated $1.2 trillion of [climate-related] incentives by 2032." [10]

In recent years, investigations and non-partisan sources have raised concerns about implementation of the IRA's funding programs. Offices of the Inspector General (OIG) at several agencies have warned that the IRA provisions have increased risks of waste, fraud, and abuse.[11]

The Committee has monitored EPA's efforts to implement the IRA's grant programs including through hearings and letters requesting information from EPA.[12] At a March 29, 2023, hearing before the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations, EPA Inspector General Sean O'Donnell provided testimony regarding risks surrounding EPA's new Office of Environmental Justice and External Civil Rights administering a large amount of funding and potentially bypassing important internal controls.[13] Additionally, the Subcommittee on Environment, Manufacturing, and Critical Materials held a September 19, 2024, hearing at which the Inspector General provided testimony regarding EPA's challenges managing IRA grant programs.[14]

In November 2024, Committee majority staff released a report providing examples of EPA using grant programs funded under this provision to select activist organizations with clear political leanings and public policy agendas to receive funding.[15] Finally, Members of the Committee further discussed concerns with EPA's IRA grant programs at a February 26, 2025, hearing before the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations.[16]

Subtitle B would decrease the federal deficit by approximately $104,934 as a result of repealing authorizations and rescinding unobligated funds that were appropriated to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) under the Inflation Reduction Act, Public Law 117–169, and repealing EPA's final rule relating to "Multi-Pollutant Emissions Standards for Model Years 2027 and Later Light-Duty and Medium-Duty Vehicles," (89 Fed. Reg. 27842), and repealing the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's final rule relating to "Corporate Average Fuel Economy Standards for Passenger Cars and Light Trucks for Model Years 2027 and Beyond and Fuel Efficiency Standards for Heavy-Duty Pickup Trucks and Vans for Model Years 2030 and Beyond," (89 Fed. The IRA appropriated EPA $41.456 billion—more than four times the amount that Congress appropriated to EPA in fiscal year 2021. The IRA funding was allocated across 17 EPA programs—seven of which were authorized for the first time as a result of IRA amendments to the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. 7401, et seq. These newly authorized programs included the establishment of the Clean Heavy-Duty Vehicle grant program, which was created through a new section 132 of the Clean Air Act and appropriated $1 billion, 42 U.S.C. 7432; the Greenhouse Gas Reduction Fund, which was created through a new section 134 of the Clean Air Act and appropriated $27 billion, 42 U.S.C. 7434; the Methane Emissions and Waste Reduction Incentive Program for Petroleum and Natural Gas Systems, which was created through a new section 136 of the Clean Air Act and appropriated $1.55 billion, 42 U.S.C. 7436; and the Environmental and Climate Justice Block Grant program, which was established through a new section 138 of the Clean Air Act and appropriated $3 billion, 42 U.S.C. 7438. Other provisions of the IRA increased appropriated amounts for existing EPA programs, including $235.5 million for air pollution reduction and monitoring activities and $350 million for carbon labeling and product declaration programs under the Clean Air Act.

On March 30, 2023, the EPA Office of Inspector General issued a memorandum entitled, "Management Implication Report: Mitigation of Grant Fraud Vulnerabilities," noting the IRA created several new programs and that "Proper oversight of funding recipients has always been critical to ensure proper stewardship of taxpayer dollars. The importance of such oversight has increased in light of the [Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act] and the IRA. We are issuing this report to inform the Agency of certain issues related to the awarding and disbursement of grants, as well as to provide considerations for the Agency to strengthen its grant-funding mechanisms."

This Subtitle repeals the authorizations and unobligated balances of funds made available to EPA under the IRA. This Subtitle does not alter, amend, or rescind EPA's other legal authorities or appropriated dollars other than those that were included in the IRA.

In 2024, the Committee for a Responsible Federal Budget estimated that EPA's proposed vehicle emissions rule would increase the federal deficit by $280 billion through 2033, if finalized. This Subtitle also repeals EPA's final rule relating to "Multi-Pollutant Emissions Standards for Model Years 2027 and Later Light-Duty and Medium-Duty Vehicles," (89 Fed. Reg. 27842), and the companion National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's final rule relating to "Corporate Average Fuel Economy Standards for Passenger Cars and Light Trucks for Model Years 2027 and Beyond and Fuel Efficiency Standards for Heavy-Duty Pickup Trucks and Vans for Model Years 2030 and Beyond," (89 Fed. Reg. 52540).

SUBTITLE C—COMMUNICATIONS

Spectrum resources are vital for the United States economy and have raised over $230 billion since 1993.[17] The NTIA and the FCC are the two agencies tasked by Congress to oversee and manage our nation's spectrum resources—a finite natural resource.[18] NTIA manages federal spectrum allocations as many Federal agencies use spectrum to perform vital operations, including the Department of Defense, the Department of Transportation, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.[19] The FCC is responsible for overseeing the non-Federal use of spectrum, including commercial usage.[20]

The FCC, in collaboration with NTIA on federal spectrum bands, has made spectrum frequencies available for next-generation wireless technology use. For the United States to stay a global leader in the deployment of future wireless technologies, the FCC will need to make additional spectrum available, particularly mid-band spectrum, for commercial use. On November 13, 2023, the White House released a National Spectrum Strategy and on March 12, 2024, NTIA released the National Spectrum Strategy Implementation Plan.[21] Through this strategy, the U.S. government began the process of studying federal spectrum bands that could be made available for commercial use, and those processes are ongoing. NTIA is working with federal licensees through the interagency process to solicit their feedback on those bands.

The FCC has had the authority to auction licenses for spectrum use since Congress passed the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act in 1993 and has been conducting spectrum auctions since 1994. However, this authority expired for the first time on March 9, 2023, limiting the ability of the FCC to conduct spectrum auctions and raise revenue for the U.S. Treasury. This legislation would reauthorize the FCC's authority to conduct auctions through September 30, 2034, and the auctions conducted during that timeframe are expected to raise $88 billion in revenue for the Treasury through spectrum auction proceeds.

Subtitle C, Part 1 would generate approximately $88 billion in revenue to the United States Treasury in spectrum auction proceeds through reauthorizing the Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) spectrum auction authority through September 30, 2034 and directing at least 600 megahertz (MHz) of spectrum to be identified and auctioned. The FCC and the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) would be required to identify at least 600 MHz of federal and commercial spectrum to be identified for auction. Of the 600 MHz identified, at least 200 megahertz would be required to be auctioned within three years of enactment, and the remaining identified spectrum would be required to be auctioned within six years of enactment. Finally, the bill excludes the 3.1–3.45 GHz and 5.925–7.125 GHz frequencies from being identified as part of the 600 MHz target.

This legislation requires at least 600 megahertz of spectrum to be identified and auctioned before September 30, 2034. While the legislation excludes certain frequencies, the Committee also directs that the frequencies between 7.25 GHz–8.4 GHz to be excluded from the 600 megahertz requirement. The Committee expects that in identifying the 600 megahertz for auction, the FCC and NTIA will work through the current processes for identifying and reallocating spectrum as required by current law.

As artificial intelligence (AI) rapidly evolves, it presents significant opportunities for the United States, including for government efficiency. This legislation proposes a $500 million investment in modernizing the Department of Commerce's information technology systems with commercial AI and automation technologies. The federal government's information technology systems are severely outdated, operating several generations behind state-of-the-art commercial systems.[22] This technological gap has hindered the effectiveness of government operations, service delivery, and cybersecurity, leaving federal departments, such as the Department of Commerce, ill-equipped to compete in a rapidly advancing technological landscape. As the U.S. faces increasing global competition, particularly from China in the realm of AI, the need for modernization is urgent.[23]

This legislation also institutes a 10-year moratorium on state-level AI regulations to ensure the Department of Commerce can continue to access AI technologies moving forward. Premature or overly restrictive laws could stifle technological progress, particularly for startups and small businesses that are essential to driving growth and innovation in this space.[24] A patchwork of state-by-state AI regulations is emerging, with over 1,000 AI-related bills introduced in 2025 alone, creating barriers to entry and creating compliance burdens for incumbents.[25] The result of this patchwork may be fewer technological innovations and higher costs for federal agencies seeking to acquire AI. By pausing state-specific AI laws, Congress can ensure that the Department of Commerce, as well as other federal agencies, will have access to commercial AI systems moving forward.[26]

Subtitle C, Part 2 establishes the Artificial Intelligence and Information Technology Modernization Initiative within the Department of Commerce. The bill appropriates $500 million for fiscal year 2025, to remain available through September 30, 2035, to support the replacement of legacy IT systems, the deployment of commercial artificial intelligence and automation technologies, and the

In addition, the legislation imposes a 10-year moratorium on most state and local regulations affecting artificial intelligence and automated decision systems, with limited exceptions, to ensure regulatory consistency and promote innovation during the modernization process.

SUBTITLE D—HEALTH

According to National Health Expenditure (NHE) projections, American health care expenditures grew 7.5 percent to $4.9 trillion in 2023, comprising 17.6 percent of U.S. Gross Domestic Product (GDP). The health care system's unsustainable growth is projected to continue—NHE projections estimated that over the course of 2023 to 2032, average NHE growth will outpace average GDP growth.[27] Past policies have failed to lower health care costs, jeopardizing safety net programs on which millions of Americans rely.

The Medicaid program is jointly financed and administered by the federal government and state programs. According to the Congressional Budget Office (CBO), in fiscal year 2024, federal outlays for the Medicaid program were $618 billion. CBO projects that federal spending on Medicaid will exceed a staggering $1 trillion by 2035, reaching parity with CBO's projection of what the Federal government will spend on national defense.[28]

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) established federal and state individual and small business health exchanges. Health plans offering coverage on ACA exchanges receive federal subsidies, largely in the form of advance premium tax credits. According to CBO and Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) joint projections, ACA marketplace and Basic Health Program subsidies are projected to expand to $1.1 trillion over the 2024 to 2033 budgetary window.[29]

CBO's January 2025 baseline update illustrated the burden the Medicaid program is under. Technical changes increased CBO's 2025 estimate of Medicaid spending by $57 billion, or 10 percent, and their estimate of the program's spending over the budget window by $817 billion, or 12 percent.[30] This is further reflected by analysis from the National Association of State Budget Officers (NASBO), who found that state Medicaid spending is estimated to have grown 5.3 percent in fiscal year 2024, representing the "largest category of total state expenditures" at 29.8 percent.[31]

Ultimately, individuals' access to care in Medicaid is inextricably linked to the costs of the program for the Federal government and States. The growth in total Medicaid spending and enrollment is a growing concern as it impedes the program's ability to provide care for those vulnerable populations who rely most on Medicaid. These challenges are exacerbated by waste, fraud, and abuse in state Medicaid programs. The Government Accountability Office's (GAO)

2025 High-Risk List again identified Medicaid program integrity as an area in which the "Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) needs to reduce billions in Medicaid improper payments, ensure the appropriate use of program dollars, and improve the quality of program data to better manage quality of care and efficiency of payments for services." [32]

For state Medicaid programs to run as efficiently and effectively as possible, the integrity of federal-state Medicaid financing must be maintained. To do so, Congress must first address deficiencies in enrollment processes that encourage fraud and ineligible individuals to enroll in the program. For example, Congress must roll back rules promulgated by the Biden Administration that will tie states' hands from effectively managing their Medicaid programs. Moreover, Congress must take steps to reduce spending on ineligible enrollees—this includes taking action to prevent beneficiaries from being enrolled in multiple State programs, remove deceased beneficiaries from Medicaid, and ensure that Federal Medicaid dollars only fund enrollees whose citizenship, nationality, or immigration status has been verified.

Next, Congress must address excess waste in the program. The Biden Administration finalized an untenable nursing home staffing mandate for Medicare and Medicaid that will do little to improve quality for beneficiaries. Congress must address Medicaid waste by also holding pharmacy benefit managers (PBM) accountable and modernizing retroactive coverage standards to prevent adverse selection and reduce unexpected costs for the federal government and state programs.

Additionally, Congress must tackle abusive financing practices and misaligned incentives like provider taxes that allow states to shift back to the federal government the cost of financing their share of Medicaid spending. While current law requires that these taxes be broad-based, uniform, and redistributive, hold harmless arrangements are used to allow states to draw down federal dollars without ever contributing additional funding. According to GAO, "states' reliance on provider tax and local government funds, decreased states' share of new Medicaid payments . . . and effectively increased the federal share of net Medicaid payments by 5 percentage points in state fiscal year 2018." [33]

Moreover, states are increasingly utilizing these provider taxes to fund expansions of state-directed payments (SDP). SDPs, a form of supplemental payments created by CMS in 2016, arose as more enrollees shifted into managed care organization (MCO) arrangements. Spending on these payments continues to grow, and regulatory changes during President Biden's administration permitted directed payments to reach as high as the average commercial rate.[34] The Medicaid and CHIP Payment and Access Commission (MACPAC) estimated that directed payments would exceed $69 billion in 2023, while CMS projects that directed payments will exceed $125 billion in 2033.[35]

Finally, Congress must increase personal accountability for the Medicaid Expansion population. Health care and work are linked in this country—roughly half of all Americans receive employer-sponsored insurance through their job; eligibility for the ACA's marketplaces is contingent on having an income; Medicare beneficiaries are only eligible for the program because they worked and paid into the system; and service members and veterans get their health care because of their work in service to our country. By establishing community engagement requirements for able-bodied adults, Congress will promote the dignity of work and recognize the value of beneficiaries' engagement with their communities.

Congress must also provide the same attention to waste, fraud, and abuse in the marketplaces established by the ACA. According to NHE data, coverage in the marketplaces reached 16.2 million in 2023 with expenditures totaling $115 billion.[36] Regulatory actions pursued by the Biden Administration weakened commonsense enrollment and eligibility safeguards in the marketplaces, which has led to program integrity concerns, market distortions, and billions of dollars in additional costs to federal taxpayers.

These program integrity issues have a direct effect on consumers seeking or maintaining coverage. Between January and August 2024, CMS received over 183,000 complaints that consumers were enrolled in coverage through an exchange on the federal platform without their consent (also known as unauthorized enrollment).[37] From June 2024 to October 2024, CMS also suspended 850 agents and brokers' ACA Marketplace Agreements for reasonable suspicion of fraudulent or abusive conduct related to unauthorized enrollments or unauthorized plan switches. These bad actor brokers would allegedly enroll people without their consent to collect commission payments; switch people to different plans or agents without notifying the enrollee; or split households into multiple plans to inflate commissions.[38] These are just a few examples demonstrating the strain the marketplaces are under and the need to restore programmatic guardrails to protect consumers and federal taxpayers.

The growing aging population and growing Medicare expenditures also necessitate action to protect the long-term fiscal health of the program and promote access to high-quality, affordable health care for seniors. Seniors are consistently seeing their drug costs rise, which is evidenced by recent data published by the nonpartisan Government Accountability Office, which examines the correlation between rebates and beneficiary drug spending in Medicare. This data showed how rebates affect formulary design and patients' costs for medicines. Specifically, a 2023 report by GAO analyzing a sample of highly rebated drugs in Medicare Part D found that "drugs with higher gross costs generally result in higher beneficiary payments relative to payments for competing drugs with lower gross costs." Of the 100 highest rebated drugs in Part D in 2021, beneficiaries paid more than the plan sponsor for 79 of those medicines once rebates were factored in. Patients spent over $20 billion for these drugs, while plan sponsors spent just over $5 billion.[39] More independent analysis underscores these findings, showing that for every $1 increase in rebates, list prices on prescription medications increased by $1.17.[40]

Seniors are also losing access to more cost-effective generic medications that are equally as effective clinically as their reference product. More data shows how generic medications have been increasingly placed on non-preferred drug formularies in Medicare Part D, leading to higher out-of-pocket spending for cheaper medications. In 2022, almost 60 percent of generic drugs were placed on non-generic drug tiers by Part D plan sponsors.[41]

The policy in the underlying bill would address the rising costs of prescription medications for seniors in Medicare through pharmacy benefit manager reforms. Specifically, these reforms prohibit PBM compensation from being based on list price or other factors relating to formulary placement. The policy also imposes new transparency requirements for PBMs in Medicare Part D by requiring these entities to submit to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services as well as Part D plan sponsors information relating to formulary placement decisions, drug dispensing data, and relationships with affiliated pharmacies.

The Medicare Payment Advisory Commission (MedPAC) has also recently studied the rates at which physicians in Medicare are reimbursed for services provided to beneficiaries. The nonpartisan commission specifically expressed concern relating to physician reimbursements in Medicare failing to keep pace with the rising costs of providing care to beneficiaries and the concomitant impacts these lagging reimbursement rates may have on seniors' ability to access care.[42]

The Committee shares these concerns and is furthermore concerned with the increased consolidation in the health care system, part of which is driven by physician burnout and reimbursement rates that have failed to keep pace with inflation. More consolidation in health care will lead to higher federal spending and more out-of-pocket spending for seniors. As such, the policy in the underlying bill seeks to address unstable physician reimbursement rates in Medicare to create more predictability for providers, preserve patient choice in how they get their care, and reduce health care costs.

The Committee remains committed to ensuring seniors can maintain access to health care services that promote long-term health and reduce spending. However, since the passage of the Inflation Reduction Act (P.L. 117–169), Medicare Part D insurance premiums have increased while plan offerings have substantially decreased.[43] The law also made significant changes that will lead to less treatment options for seniors and other vulnerable populations, which research suggests may yield less generic drug entrants that will offset any savings from the price controls established in the law for pharmaceuticals. The Committee remains concerned by the disincentives to develop cutting-edge medications in the Inflation Reduction Act. As a result, the Committee is advancing policy that will make technical corrections to the Inflation Reduction Act and further incentivize the development of orphan drugs.

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, May 12, 2025.

Re CBO's Review of the Reconciliation Recommendations of the House Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Hon. BRETT GUTHRIE,
Chairman, Committee on Energy and Commerce,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: You have asked the Congressional Budget Office to review the reconciliation recommendations posted on the website of the House Committee on Energy and Commerce on May 11, 2025, to assess compliance with the instructions included in H. Con. Res. 14.[1]

That resolution instructed the Committee to submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction that reduce the deficit by not less than $880 billion for the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034.

CBO estimates that the Committee's reconciliation recommendations would reduce deficits by more than $880 billion over the 2025–2034 period and would not increase on-budget deficits in any year after 2034.

I hope this information is useful to you. Please contact me if you have further questions.

Sincerely,

PHILLIP L. SWAGEL,
Director.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

SUBTITLE A—ENERGY

Section 41001. Rescissions relating to certain Inflation Reduction Act programs

Section 41001 rescinds the unobligated balance of any amounts made under the following sections of the Inflation Reduction Act: State-Based Energy Efficiency Training Grants, Funding for Department of Energy Loan Program Office, Advanced Technology Vehicle Manufacturing, Energy Infrastructure Reinvestment Financing, Tribal Energy Loan Guarantee Program, Transmission Facility Financing, Grants to Facilitate the Siting of Interstate Electricity Transmission Lines, Interregional and Offshore Wind Electricity Transmission Planning, Modeling, and Analysis, and Advanced Industrial Facilities Deployment Program.

Section 41002. FERC certificates and fees for certain energy infrastructure at international boundaries of the United States

Notwithstanding any requirements or statutory obligations under federal and state law, including siting, environmental and safety reviews, and permitting, Section 41002 requires an application for a certificate of crossing for cross-border energy infrastructure to include a $50,000 payment, and directs the Federal Electricity Regulatory Commission to issue the certificate. No person may construct, connect, operate, or maintain a cross-border segment for the import or export of designated energy products, or the transmission of electricity, without first obtaining the certificate of crossing. This fee structure does not apply to cross-border segments that were previously approved by a Presidential permit.

Section 41003. Natural gas exports and imports

Under Section 41003, applications to the Secretary of Energy to export natural gas from the United States to a non-free trade agreement country shall include a $1,000,000 user fee paid by the applicant. Upon receipt of the application and collection of the fee, the Secretary of Energy shall deem the application in the public interest. This Section does not alter or impact the applicant's existing obligations and requirements under the Natural Gas Act or the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's authorities.

Section 41004. Funding for Department of Energy loan guarantee expenses

Section 41004 appropriates $5,000,000 to the Department of Energy to remain available for 5 years to carry out section 116 of the Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline Act (15 U.S.C. 720n).

Section 41005. Natural Gas Act expedited permitting

Section 41005 allows applicants for an authorization under Section 3, or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, to participate voluntarily in an expedited permitting process upon the payment of $10,000,000 or one percent of the project's projected capital cost.

Within one year of payment of the fee, each Federal, State, interstate, or Tribal agency with relevant authorities shall review and approve Federal authorizations, subject to any conditions determined necessary to comply with the underlying statute by the agency. For States, this includes their authorities to impose conditions for any certifying authorities delegated to States by federal law. Following such approval, the Federal Electricity Regulatory Commission (FERC) shall review the application and approve the application subject to any conditions determined necessary by FERC.

The Commission may extend this timeline by a period of 6 months if granted consent by the applicant. Should the authorization not be approved under the applicable deadline, it shall be deemed approved, notwithstanding any procedural requirements of the underlying law.

No court shall have jurisdiction to review a claim under this section except for a claim brought by the applicant or a person who has suffered, or likely and imminently will suffer, direct and irreparable economic harm from the approval. An organization may only bring a claim on behalf of one or more of its members if each member of the organization or association has suffered, or likely and imminently will suffer, harm. Courts shall apply clear and convincing evidence as the standard of review for such claims. The United States Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction over any claim alleging the invalidity of the process or that the federal authorization is beyond the scope of authority granted by the federal law to such agency.

Section 41006. Carbon dioxide, oil, and hydrogen pipeline permitting

Pursuant to Section 41006, applicants for carbon dioxide, oil, or hydrogen pipeline projects, as defined by section 60102(i) of title 49 of the U.S. Code, may apply for a license authorizing the project to be considered in the same manner, and in accordance with the requirements of, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, including a fee of $10,000,000.

Section 41007. De-Risking Compensation Program for qualified energy projects

Section 41007 appropriates $10 million, to remain available through September 30, 2034, for administrative costs for the Secretary of Energy to establish a De-Risking Compensation Program at the Department of Energy. The program would provide compensation to sponsors of federally permitted energy projects that enroll in the program for unrecoverable capital losses caused by subsequent federal actions that revoke permits or approvals, or cancel, delay, or render the project unviable. The program would be available to applicants who invest in energy projects relating to coal, critical minerals, oil, natural gas, or nuclear energy and are valued at no less than $30 million. The sponsors would pay 5 percent of their projected share of capital contribution to the project and an annual premium into a Treasury Department fund. Upon demonstration of unrecoverable losses due to subsequent federal actions that caused the losses, the Secretary of Energy would compensate the project sponsor for up to the full amount of the loss from the available funds.

Section 41008. Strategic Petroleum Reserve

Section 41008 appropriates $2,000,000,000 to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 2025 for activities related to the Strategic Petroleum Reserve. Of this amount, $218,000,000 is appropriated for repairs to the caverns, and $1,321,000,000 is appropriated for the acquisition of petroleum products for storage in the Strategic Petroleum Reserves. The remaining funding is appropriated to the Department of Energy to buy back the sales mandates by Section 20003 of Public Law 115–97.

Section 41009. Rescissions of previously appropriated unobligated funds

Section 41009 rescinds the previously appropriated unobligated balances from the base appropriations for the following programs; Office of Inspector General, Office of Clean Energy Demonstrations, Office for Human Capital, Federal Energy Management Programs, State and Community Energy Programs, Office of Minority Economic Impact, Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy, Office of General Counsel, Office of Indian Energy Policy and Programs, Office of Management, Office of the Secretary, Office of Public Affairs, and the Office of Policy at the Department of Energy. These rescissions do not include funds appropriated under the Inflation Reduction Act, Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, and any funds from emergency appropriations. Amounts rescinded in this section do not include current, FY 2025, base year appropriations.

Section 42117. Repeal and recission relating to environmental and climate justice block grants

This section repeals section 138 of the Clean Air Act and rescinds any unobligated balance made available under that section $333 million. PART 2—REPEAL OF EPA RULE RELATING TO MULTI-POLLUTANT EMISSION STANDARDS

Section 42201. Repeal of EPA rule relating to multi-pollutant emissions standards

This section repeals the final rule issued by the Environmental Protection Agency relating to "Multi-Pollutant Emissions Standards for Model Years 2027 and Later Light-Duty and Medium-Duty Vehicles" (89 Fed. Reg. 27842 (April 18, 2024)).

PART 3—REPEAL OF NHTSA RULE RELATING TO CAFÉ STANDARDS

This section repeals the final rule issued by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration relating to "Corporate Average Fuel Economy Standards for Passenger Cars and Light Trucks for Model Years 2027 and Beyond and Fuel Efficiency Standards for Heavy-Duty Pickup Trucks and Vans for Model Years 2030 and Beyond," 89 Fed. Reg. 27842 (April 18, 2024)).

SUBTITLE C—COMMUNICATIONS

Section 43001. Identification and Auction of Spectrum

Subsection (a) would require the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), not later than 2 years after enactment of this Act, to identify at least 600 MHz of commercial or federal spectrum in the covered band to be auctioned by 2034. It would also require the President, acting through the Assistant Secretary for Communications and Information, to withdraw or modify the assignments to Federal Government stations of spectrum identified, and notify the Commission not later than 30 days after completing any necessary withdrawals or modifications. It includes a rule of construction to ensure that nothing in this section changes the respective authorities of NTIA or the FCC with respect to spectrum allocated for Federal use, non-Federal use, or shared Federal and non-Federal use.

Subsection (b) would require the FCC to auction the spectrum identified in subsection (a) on an exclusive, licensed basis for mobile broadband services, fixed broadband services, mobile and fixed broadband services, or a combination thereof. Specifically, not later than 3 years after the data of enactment, the FCC would be required to auction at least 200 MHz of the identified spectrum under subsection (a), and not later than 6 years after the date of enactment, auction the remaining spectrum identified under subsection (a).

Subsection (c) would require auction proceeds to cover 110 percent of federal relocation or sharing costs as required under section 309(j)(16)(B) of the Communications Act of 1934.

Subsection (d) would reauthorize the FCC's spectrum auction authority through September 30, 2034.

Subsection (e) defines key terms. Specifically, it defines the "covered band" as the band of frequencies between 1.3 gigahertz (GHz) and 10 GHz, inclusive, excluding the band of frequencies between 3.1 gigahertz (GHz) and 3.45 GHz and the band of frequencies between 5.925 GHz and 7.125 GHz.

Section 43201. Artificial Intelligence and Information Technology Modernization Initiative

Subsection (a) would appropriate $500,000,000 to the Department of Commerce for fiscal year 2025, to remain available through September 30, 2035, for the purpose of modernizing and securing federal information technology systems through the deployment of commercial artificial intelligence, automation technologies, and the replacement of antiquated business systems.

Subsection (b) states that the Secretary of Commerce shall use these funds to support the replacement and modernization of legacy business systems with state-of-the-art commercial artificial intelligence systems and automated decision systems, the adoption of artificial intelligence models that increase operational efficiency and service delivery, and improve the cybersecurity posture of Federal information technology systems through modernized architecture, automated threat detection, and integrated artificial intelligence solutions.

Subsection (c)(1) states that no state or political subdivision may enforce any law or regulation regulating artificial intelligence models, artificial intelligence systems, or automated decision systems during the 10-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subsection (c)(2) states that subsection (c)(1) may not be construed to prohibit the enforcement of any law or regulation where: the primary purpose and effect is to remove legal impediments to or facilitate the deployment or operation of an artificial intelligence model, artificial intelligence system, or automated decision system; the primary purpose and effect is to streamline licensing, permitting, and other procedures that facilitate the adoption of artificial intelligence models, artificial intelligence systems, and automated decision systems; there are no substantive design, data-handling, documentation, or other requirements on artificial intelligence models, artificial intelligence systems, or automated decision systems, subject to enumerated exceptions; and does not impose a fee or bond, subject to enumerated exceptions.

Subsection (d) provides definitions for key terms used in the Act, including "artificial intelligence", "artificial intelligence model", "artificial intelligence system", and "automated decision system".

SUBTITLE D—HEALTH

PART 1—MEDICAID

Subpart A—Reducing Fraud and Improving Enrollment Processes

Section 44101. Moratorium on implementation of rule relating to eligibility and enrollment in Medicare Savings Programs

This section requires the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to delay implementation, administration, or enforcement of the final rule titled "Streamlining Medicaid; Medicare Savings Program Eligibility Determination and Enrollment" until January 1, 2035.

Section 44102. Moratorium on implementation of rule relating to eligibility and enrollment for Medicaid, CHIP, and the Basic Health Program and Basic Health Program Application, Eligibility Determination, Enrollment, and Renewal Processes" until January 1, 2035.

Section 44103. Ensuring appropriate address verification under the Medicaid and CHIP programs

This section requires states to establish processes to regularly obtain beneficiary address information from reliable data sources, including by requiring state Medicaid programs to collect address information provided by beneficiaries to managed care entities (where applicable). In addition, this section requires HHS to establish a system to prevent individuals from being simultaneously enrolled in multiple State Medicaid programs by no later than October 1, 2029. States would be required to submit to the system the Social Security Number of the individual enrolled under the State plan to identify when Social Security Numbers for individuals enrolled in Medicaid are identified concurrently in two or more States at the same time.

Section 44104. Modifying certain state requirements for ensuring deceased individuals do not remain enrolled

This section requires state Medicaid programs to check the Social Security Administration's Death Master File on at least a quarterly basis to determine whether Medicaid enrollees are deceased and to disenroll individuals who are determined to be deceased from Medicaid coverage.

Section 44105. Medicaid provider screening requirements

This section requires states to conduct monthly checks of databases or similar systems to determine whether HHS or another state has already terminated a provider or supplier from participating in Medicaid and to also disenroll them from the state's Medicaid program.

Section 44106. Additional Medicaid provider screening requirements

This section codifies the requirement that state Medicaid programs check, as part of the provider enrollment and re-enrollment process and on a quarterly basis thereafter, the Social Security Administration's Death Master File to determine whether providers are deceased and enrolled in the state's Medicaid program.

Section 44107. Removing good faith waiver for payment reduction related to certain erroneous excess payments under Medicaid

This section requires HHS to reduce federal financial participation (FFP) to States for errors identified through the ratio of a State's erroneous excess payments for medical assistance, by the Office of the Inspector General, or by the Secretary are directly attributable to payments to ineligible individuals or for ineligible services.

Section 44108. Increasing frequency of eligibility redeterminations for certain individuals

This section requires States to conduct eligibility determinations for Expansion population adults every six months. Current law currently requires such determinations to occur on every twelve months.

Section 44109. Revising home equity limit for determining eligibility for long-term care services under the Medicaid program

This section establishes a ceiling of $1,000,000 for permissible home equity values for individuals when determining allowable assets for Medicaid beneficiaries that are eligible for long-term care services. This section also prohibits the use of asset disregards from being applied to waive home equity limits.

Section 44110. Prohibiting federal financial participation under Medicaid and CHIP for individuals without verified citizenship, nationality, or satisfactory immigration status

This section prohibits FFP in Medicaid for individuals whose citizenship, nationality, or immigration status has not been verified, including during reasonable opportunity periods when an individual has not yet verified citizenship, nationality, or immigration status. Current law permits states to enroll individuals in coverage immediately and then provide 90-day reasonable opportunities that allow individuals to immediately begin receiving coverage and then wait up to 90 days before verifying citizenship or immigration status, all while receiving FFP during this period. This policy permits states, at the state's option, to provide coverage during a reasonable opportunity period in which an individual may not yet have provided evidence of citizenship, nationality, or immigration status, so long as the state does not request FFP until citizenship, nationality, or immigration status have been verified.

Section 44111. Reducing expansion FMAP for certain states providing payments for health care furnished to certain individuals

This section reduces by ten percent the Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) for Medicaid Expansion States who use their Medicaid infrastructure to provide health care coverage for illegal immigrants under Medicaid or another state-based program.

Subpart B—Preventing Wasteful Spending

Section 44121. Moratorium on implementation of rule relating to staffing standards for long-term care facilities under the Medicare and Medicaid programs

This section requires HHS to delay implementation, administration, or enforcement of the final rule titled "Medicare and Medicaid Programs; Minimum Staffing Standards for Long-Term Care Facilities and Medicaid Institutional Payment Transparency Reporting" until January 1, 2035.

Section 44122. Modifying retroactive coverage under the Medicaid and CHIP programs

This section limits retroactive coverage in Medicaid to one month prior to an individual's application date. Current law provides retroactive coverage for up to three months before an individual's application date.

Section 44123. Ensuring accurate payments to pharmacies under Medicaid

This section requires participation by retail and applicable non-retail pharmacies in the National Average Drug Acquisition Cost (NADAC) survey. The NADAC survey measures pharmacy acquisition costs and is often used in the Medicaid program to inform reimbursement to pharmacies.

Section 44124. Preventing the use of abusive spread pricing in Medicaid

This section bans "spread pricing" in the Medicaid program, which occurs when pharmacy benefit managers retain a portion of the amount paid to them (a "spread") for prescription drugs.

Section 44125. Prohibiting federal Medicaid and CHIP funding for gender transition procedures for minors

Section 44126. Federal payments to prohibited entities

This section prohibits Medicaid funds to be paid to providers that are nonprofit organizations, that are essential community providers that are primarily engaged in family planning services or reproductive services, provide for abortions other than for Hyde Amendment exceptions, and which received $1,000,000 or more (to either the provider or the provider's affiliates) in payments from Medicaid payments in 2024.

Subpart C—Stopping Abusive Financing Practices

Section 44131. Sunsetting eligibility for increased FMAP for new expansion states

This section sunsets the temporary five percent enhanced FMAP afforded to states under the American Rescue Plan Act that opt to expand Medicaid. This provision would apply prospectively, not affecting states currently receiving an enhanced federal match under this authority.

Section 44132. Moratorium on new or increased provider taxes

This section freezes, at current rates, states' provider taxes in effect as of the date of enactment of this legislation and prohibits states from establishing new provider taxes.

Section 44133. Revising the payment limit for certain state directed payments

This section directs HHS to revise current regulations to limit state directed payments for services furnished on or after the enactment of this legislation from exceeding the total published Medicare payment rate. This section would not affect total payment rates for state directed payments approved prior to this legislation's enactment.

Section 44134. Requirements regarding waiver of uniform tax requirement for Medicaid provider tax

This section modifies the criteria HHS must consider when determining whether certain health care-related taxes are generally redistributive. Under this section, a tax would not be considered generally redistributive if, within a permissible class, the tax rate imposed on the taxpayer or tax rate group explicitly defined by its relatively lower volume or percentage of Medicaid taxable units is lower than the tax rate imposed on any other taxpayer or tax rate group explicitly defined by its relatively higher volume or percentage of Medicaid taxable units. The tax would also not be considered generally redistributive if, within a permissible class, the tax rate imposed on any taxpayer or tax rate group based upon its Medicaid taxable units is higher than the tax rate imposed on any taxpayer or tax rate group based upon its non-Medicaid taxable unit.

If a State has a health care-related tax waiver that meets at least one of these criteria as of the date of enactment of this legislation, the waiver must be modified to comply with these requirements. This section provides a transition period for non-compliant programs, after which a State whose health care-related taxes do not adhere to all federal requirements would be penalized by the sum of those revenues received by State.

Section 44135. Requiring budget neutrality for Medicaid demonstration projects under section 1115

This section provides budget neutrality requirements for demonstration projects under section 1115 of the Social Security Act. HHS would be required to certify that the total expenditures for FFP do not exceed what would otherwise have been spent under Title XIX absent the demonstration project. HHS must also develop methodologies for applying savings generated under a project as allowable costs to be spent in a project's extension.

Subpart D—Increasing Personal Accountability

Section 44141. Requirement for states to establish Medicaid community engagement requirements for certain individuals

This section requires states to establish community engagement requirements for able-bodied adults without dependents. An individual can meet the community engagement requirements during a month by working at least 80 hours, completing at least 80 hours of community service, participating in a work program for at least 80 hours, enrolling in an educational program for at least 80 hours, or a combination of these activities for at least 80 hours.

The requirements of this section would not apply to the following individuals: pregnant women, individuals under the age of 19 or over the age of 64, foster youth and former foster youth under the age of 26, members of a Tribes, individuals who are considered medically frail (which includes, but is not limited to, individuals who are blind or disabled, who have a chronic substance use disorder, who have a serious and complex medical condition, or who have a condition, as defined by the State and approved by the Secretary, as meeting the definition of medically frail), individuals who are already in compliance with the work requirements under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program or Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), individuals who are a parent or caregiver of a dependent child or an individual with a disability, or are incarcerated or recently released from incarceration within the past 90 days. This section also provides short-term hardship waivers for natural disasters and for counties where the unemployment rate is greater than eight percent or greater than 150 percent of the national average.

Compliance with community engagement requirements would be verified by states no less frequently than for the month preceding an individual's enrollment in Medicaid and in a month preceding the individual's eligibility redetermination and verified as part of an individual's overall eligibility determination or redetermination. States would be required to provide regular, advanced notice and outreach to make individuals aware of the requirements, would be required to streamline and simplify processes to verify compliance to reduce burdens on individuals, and to establish due process procedures for individuals before denying coverage or removing individuals from coverage.

Section 44142. Modifying cost sharing requirements for certain expansion individuals under the Medicaid program

This section requires states to impose cost sharing on Medicaid Expansion adults with incomes over 100 percent of the federal poverty level (FPL). This cost-sharing may not exceed $35 per service. Cost sharing may not exceed five percent of the individual's income, which is the current out-of-pocket limit for Medicaid beneficiaries. This section would not permit cost-sharing on prenatal care, pediatric care, or emergency room care (except for non-emergency care provided in an emergency room).

PART 2—AFFORDABLE CARE ACT

Section 44201. Addressing waste, fraud, and abuse in the ACA exchanges

This section would institute eligibility and income verification processes for Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) enrollees. In addition, it would roll back income-based special enrollment periods in the federally-facilitated and state ACA exchanges. This section would also make technical changes to health plans offered via the ACA exchanges. It would institute ACA reenrollment guardrails for enrollees in zero-dollar premium health plans. Additionally, this section would prohibit gender transition procedures from being included as an essential health benefit (EHB), and it would amend the definition of "lawfully present" for the purposes of qualified health plan enrollment. This section would also permit issuers to require enrollees to satisfy debt for past-due premiums as a prerequisite for effectuating new health coverage. The provisions within this section would take effect for plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2026.

PART 3—IMPROVING AMERICANS' ACCESS TO CARE

Section 44301. Expanding and clarifying the exclusion for orphan drugs under the drug price negotiation program

This section makes technical corrections to current law by permitting product sponsors to have one or more orphan drug indication in order to be exempt from the Drug Price Negotiation Program in statute. Current law limits exemptions from the Drug Price Negotiation Program to one rare disease indication. This section also revises the start of the timeline in which a manufacturer would be eligible for negotiation until an orphan drug receives its first non-orphan indication.

Section 44302. Streamlined enrollment process for eligible out-of-state providers under Medicaid and CHIP

For purposes of improving access to necessary out-of-state care for children enrolled in Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), this section requires states to establish a process through which qualifying pediatric out-of-state providers may enroll as participating providers without undergoing additional screening requirements.

Section 44303. Delaying DSH reductions

This section delays the Medicaid Disproportionate Share Hospital (DSH) reductions, currently $8 billion reductions per year that are set to take effect for fiscal years 2026 through 2028, to instead take effect for fiscal years 2029 through 2031. This section also extends funding for Tennessee's DSH program, which is set to expire at the end of this fiscal year, through fiscal year 2028.

Section 44304. Modifying update to the conversion factor under the physician fee schedule under the Medicare program

This section amends current law by replacing the split physician fee schedule conversion factor set to take effect on January 1, 2026, with a new single conversion factor based on a percentage of medical inflation, or the Medicare Economic Index (MEI).

Section 44305. Modernizing and ensuring PBM accountability

This section requires Pharmacy Benefit Managers (PBMs) in Medicare Part D to transparently share information relating to business practices with Medicare Part D Prescription Drug Plan Sponsors, including information relating to formulary decisions and prescription drug coverage that benefits affiliated pharmacies. The policy also prohibits PBM compensation based on a drug's list price, limiting compensation to fair market bona-fide service fees.

MINORITY VIEWS

The House Republican budget is an extreme bill—Republicans are intentionally and cruelly taking health care away from at least 13.7 million Americans and raising health care costs for millions more so they can give giant tax breaks to the ultra-rich that don't need them.

President Trump and Republicans promised to lower everyday costs for Americans, but prices have gone up because of Trump's reckless tariffs. And this Republican bill does not reduce everyday prices for hardworking Americans—in fact, it drives prices up.

The only winners in the Republican budget scheme are billionaire donors like Elon Musk who will receive huge tax breaks. Everyday Americans cannot afford the Republican budget.

Subtitle A—Energy, Providing for Reconciliation Pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14

Subtitle A contains billions of dollars of cuts to Inflation Reduction Act programs designed to enhance American energy security and reduce costs. It also contains overhauls to permitting policies at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and Department of Energy (DOE) and grants FERC brand-new powers to grant crude oil, petroleum product, hydrogen, and carbon dioxide pipeline developers eminent domain authority. It creates a de-risking program designed specifically to cost taxpayers hundreds of millions by picking winners and losers and making it harder for clean sources of energy to compete. Finally, it rescinds hundreds of millions of dollars from base annual discretionary funding for DOE offices, making it harder for them to administer a variety of programs and incentives, specifically clean energy and energy efficiency programs.

Section 41001 of Subtitle A, titled "Rescissions Relating to Certain Inflation Reduction Act Programs," rescinds unobligated funds from the State-Based Home Energy Efficiency Contractor Training Grants; the Loan Programs Office; Advanced Technology Vehicle Manufacturing; Energy Infrastructure Reinvestment Financing; the Tribal Energy Loan Guarantee Program; Transmission Facility Financing; Grants to Facilitate the Siting of Interstate Electricity Transmission Lines, Interregional and Offshore Wind Electricity Transmission Planning, Modeling, and Analysis; and the Advanced Industrial Facilities Deployment Program. Notably, many of the targeted offices and programs support the financing and development of energy efficiency, decarbonization, clean energy, and electric vehicle projects.

Rescinding funding from these offices and programs threatens ongoing applications, project financing, and project development.

The programs targeted by Section 41001, specifically those in the Loan Programs Office, are designed to support emerging technologies, support domestic manufacturing, and address rapid demand growth.[1] Rescissions can produce chilling effects on industries that are in early stages of development and growth, such as many clean energy or critical minerals industries. These actions harm the American manufacturing workforce, and hamper America's ability to compete globally.

The cuts to the Loan Programs Office will be particularly devastating to nuclear energy. As South Carolina Governor Henry McMaster noted in a letter to his state's congressional delegation, ". . . without the existing federal tax credits and loan programs for nuclear power that make financing new nuclear power generation possible, our efforts [to finish a nuclear plant] . . . are dead."[2] Combined with the proposed phase-out of the 45U tax credit in the Ways and Means Committee, Republicans are poised to completely extinguish any hopes of building new nuclear energy in the United States.[3] No nuclear reactor this century has been built without federal support, and Republicans are preparing to pull the rug out from an entire industry.

In addition to rescissions targeting Inflation Reduction Act programs, Section 41009 of Subtitle A, "Rescissions of Previously Appropriated Unobligated Funds," rescinds funding from a range of DOE offices, including but not limited to, the Office of the Inspector General, the Office of Clean Energy Demonstrations, the Federal Energy Management Programs, State and Community Energy Programs, the Office of Minority Economic Impact, the Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy, the Office of General Counsel, and the Office of Indian Energy Policy and Programs. The targeting of funding for the Office of the Inspector General shows a blatant disregard for good governance. And the targeting of clean energy and energy efficiency offices again demonstrates a commitment to gutting domestic clean energy development and access to affordable energy.

For legislation ostensibly focused on the budget, Subtitle A also contains a number of provisions making vast policy changes to the way pipeline permits are handled, granting FERC sweeping new powers to compel landowners to sell their land to developers of certain types of pipelines. Taken as a whole, these provisions do not represent a mere expediting of energy infrastructure, but rather an attempt to get rid of permitting processes altogether. As Rep. Joyce admitted answering a question from Rep. Landsman during the markup of this subtitle—these provisions represent questions of policy, not revenue.

Section 41002 closely resembles H.R. 3062. By granting FERC the authority to issue "certificates of crossing," the bill transfers to FERC authority currently vested in the President (for crude oil, hydrocarbon liquid, refined petroleum product, hydrogen, carbon dioxide, or other energy pipelines)[4] and DOE (for electricity transmission lines).[5][6] It also completely removes any consideration of foreign policy interests of the United States, which the State Department is currently obligated to consider when advising the President on Presidential permits for non-natural gas pipelines, and would remove the requirement that FERC and DOE obtain concurrence from the State Department and Department of Defense for natural gas and electricity transmission lines.[7][8] Instead, all consideration of foreign policy, the national defense, or the public interest would be prohibited from being considered, and FERC would be required to issue a certificate.

Section 41003 similarly transforms the authorization process to export natural gas to countries the United States lacks a free trade agreement with. Under section 3(a) of the Natural Gas Act (NGA), DOE is required to determine whether a proposed export of natural gas to a non-free trade agreement nation would be inconsistent with the public interest.[9] Section 41003 strips DOE of that requirement, and merely declares that any would-be exporter that pays DOE $1 million would have its proposed export application automatically found in the public interest. Given that DOE recently found that unfettered exports of liquified natural gas (LNG) ". . . would increase costs for the average American household by well over $100 more per year . . ." keeping the public interest determination is vital.[10]

Contrary to what Committee counsel suggested during the mark-up of this subtitle, there are presently zero legal hurdles in the law barring LNG exports from going to China—in 2024 alone, the United States exported 213 billion cubic feet of LNG to China. Requiring any exporter to pay one million dollars and automatically deeming their LNG exports—regardless of whether they are to China or other geopolitical rivals—in the public interest is a threat to our national security.

Section 41005 goes even further by upending not only FERC's permitting process for LNG export facilities and natural gas pipelines, but every federal, state, or Tribal agency's permitting policies. Again, similarly to sections 41002 and 41003, every applicant would be guaranteed its permit would be approved by every relevant agency.

This would particularly upend decades of precedent under the Clean Water Act (CWA) allowing states to make their own determinations under section 401 of the CWA. The CWA allows states to determine if a proposed action complies with certain sections of the CWA.[11] The case of the Northeast Supply Enhancement Project—a proposed pipeline project in New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania—is a perfect example. New York's Department of Environmental Conservation thrice denied the project a water quality certification pursuant to section 401 because it failed to meet New York's standards for mercury and copper.[12] If Subtitle A had been in effect at the time, New York would have had no choice but to issue a permit for the project, destroying New York's right to protect its citizens from pollution in its waterways.

The provision goes further by restricting lawsuits against natural gas pipelines permitted under section 41005. The section would bar organizations from suing for relief if even one member of the organization hadn't suffered "direct and irreparable economic harm" from a pipeline permit, and it ups the standard required to set aside a permit from "substantial" to "clear and convincing" evidence. This will make it harder for Americans to compel pipeline companies and every level of government to follow the law.

Finally, section 41007 would grant carbon dioxide, hydrogen, crude oil, and refined petroleum products eminent domain authority identical to that granted to natural gas pipelines under section 7(h) of the NGA and allow developers to ignore state and local laws in constructing and operating such pipelines. This comes without any Committee hearing, debate, or activity on the issue, which is especially egregious given that Midwestern states are currently debating or have enacted legislation that would prohibit the usage of eminent domain authority at the state level for carbon dioxide pipelines.[13] [14]

Furthermore, the section would regulate the siting of carbon dioxide and hydrogen pipelines similar to the siting of natural gas pipelines by FERC, but leave the economic regulation of carbon dioxide and hydrogen pipelines to the Surface Transportation Board, unlike natural gas under the NGA.[15] Without the economic and market regulatory experience, FERC would be hard-pressed to make the requisite determination that a proposed hydrogen or carbon dioxide pipeline "is or will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity."[16] The result, at best, would be mass regulatory confusion, and at worst, would see landowners across America have their property seized and spend years in litigation as FERC lacks the expertise to make the required legal determinations.

Sections 41002, 41003, 41005, and 41006 fundamentally dismantle the permitting process for pipelines and LNG exports—the fees the sections impose are merely incidental to that objective. They do not represent serious attempts at permitting reform—paying someone $10 million to receive a guaranteed permit with limited ability for anyone to challenge it is not permitting reform.

Subtitle A shows a serious disregard for the domestic clean energy economy and for household energy consumers. The policies contained in this subtitle are clearly designed to benefit Big Oil

Subtitle B—Environment, Providing for Reconciliation Pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14

Subtitle B is a radical proposal that would gut critical environmental protections and programs, harming the health and welfare of all Americans. This subtitle seeks to both repeal and rescind unobligated funds for every single Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) program included in the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA).[17] The bill continues the Republican majority's political obsession with dismantling the IRA. Since the law was enacted, they have targeted these climate, clean energy, and public health programs with countless sham hearings and so-called oversight activities. The Republican majority's own report highlights those efforts in detail. Republicans have also tried to repeal, reprogram and claw back these funds in multiple bills that have previously passed the House.[18] Republicans have demonstrated a clear pattern of opposition to these policies. This is just the latest example.

What's striking is that most, if not all, of the IRA funds have already been invested in communities across the country. The savings achieved by repealing and rescinding the IRA environmental programs is comically small—roughly 3.5 percent of the funds originally authorized for these programs, according to the Congressional Budget Office (CBO). For example:

Section 42102, to repeal and rescind grants to reduce air pollution at ports would yield $0 in savings. The IRA invested $3 billion to reduce air pollution at ports and in the communities that surround them by financing the purchase of zero-emission port equipment and technology and assisting U.S. ports in developing and implementing climate action plans. Repealing the Clean Ports Program would mean more pollution, more harm to public health—especially in frontline communities, and job losses from cutting these important projects already underway.

Section 42108, to repeal and rescind grants for advanced biofuels under the Renewable Fuel Program at EPA. Of the $15 million appropriated under the IRA, repeal of this program would yield just $1 million in savings.

Section 42109, to repeal and rescind funds to implement the American Innovation and Manufacturing (AIM) Act—a bipartisan law to phase down hydrofluorocarbons (HFCs) that was supported by industry and signed by President Trump himself. The IRA appropriated over $38 million to EPA for AIM implementation, and the repeal of this section would yield only $3 million in savings, making the budgetary impact merely incidental.

Section 42113, to repeal subsections (a) and (b) of Section 134 of the Clean Air Act and rescind funds for the Methane Emission and Waste Reduction Incentive Program. The IRA established the Methane Emissions Reduction Program to control excess methane pollution from the oil and gas industry. It recognizes the cleanest performers, holds individual companies responsible for their own leaks and wasted methane pollution, drives innovation in the sector, creates good-paying jobs, and supports projects to protect American communities from the effects of climate change. The program provided $1.55 billion in grants to assist industry with reducing current and legacy methane emissions—a far cry from the $150 million on savings CBO estimates will result from its repeal. Furthermore, Republicans have made the Methane Emissions Reduction Program a frequent target of their legislative ire, trying to repeal the program or rescind its funds multiple times in the last few years.[19]

Section 42114 would repeal and rescind funds for Climate Pollution Reduction Grants (CPRG), which provides grants to states, municipalities, and Indian Tribes to develop and implement plans to reduce climate pollution and support jobs in communities. The program has been tremendously popular, with grants supporting state, local, and Tribal governments in nearly all 50 states. All told, this section is anticipated to yield only $70 million in savings, out of the $5 billion authorized for the program.

Other political targets of Subtitle B include:

Section 42101, to repeal and rescind grants for clean heavy-duty vehicles would yield $382 in cost savings, compared to the $1 billion provided in the IRA for replacing heavy-duty vehicles—like refuse trucks and school buses—with zero emission vehicles. As outlined in the Republican majority report, programs to support clean vehicle deployment are a consistent focus of their political oversight activities.

Section 42103, to repeal section 134 of the Clean Air Act and rescind unobligated funds for the Greenhouse Gas Reduction Fund (GGRF). The Republican majority has a longstanding political vendetta against GGRF, having attempted to repeal it three times—even before the program was established and money awarded. Republicans have also held multiple hearings and sent several oversight letters to the agency, demonizing the program.[20] The budgetary significance of this provision is questionable as only $19 million is available out of the entire $27 billion appropriated. This remaining money is allocated for administrative purposes. Recission of such funds will impact EPA's ability to conduct oversight. During Committee consideration, Democratic Members offered an amendment to ensure that this section would not adversely affect American families by increasing costs. GGRF is projected to have significant economic benefits, including consumer energy cost savings of $52 billion over the next 20 years.[21] Every Section 42106, to repeal and rescind grants to reduce air pollution in schools would yield only $12 million in savings. The IRA funded air monitoring and programs to reduce air pollution at schools in low-income and disadvantaged communities. Over 100 million Americans live in counties with unhealthy levels of air pollution, with children, the elderly, low-income communities, and communities of color being disproportionately at risk.[22] Children are more susceptible to air pollution and poor air quality is proven to affect children's learning and performance at school.[23] During the markup, Democrats offered an amendment to strike this section, yet Republicans rejected it, disagreeing with the policy intent of the program and claiming that the funding does not help reduce exposure. However, Republicans cannot rewrite facts. EPA has received more applications to address indoor air quality in schools than they can award, showing significant interest in improving school air quality and significant need for resources across the country.[24] While Republicans may consider air pollution monitoring and pollution control an extreme policy, recission of such funds only hurts American children.

Section 42117, to repeal and rescind funds for the Environmental and Climate Justice Block Grants. The IRA invested $3 billion for community-led projects that address environmental and public health harms related to pollution and climate change. Without this program, projects in Republican and Democratic districts like resiliency hubs for natural disaster centers, renewable energy investments in low-income communities to lower energy costs, water contamination testing, and air pollution reduction measures, would not have been possible. During the markup, Democrats offered an amendment to prevent the recission of funds for projects that improve health outcomes in low-income communities. In arguing against this commonsense amendment, Republicans members opined on the value and purpose of environmental justice policies, demonstrating the clear non-budgetary intention of this section.

Subtitle B also repeals and rescinds a number of smaller IRA funded programs that help cut pollution, address climate change, and protect public health, specifically: Section 42104 which seeks to repeal and rescind funds for DERA grants to cut dirty diesel pollution from goods movement operations; Section 42105 which would repeal funds for various air pollution monitoring activities under Sections 103 and 105 of the Clean Air Act; Section 42107 which seeks to repeal and rescind Clean Air Act section 135 the Low Emissions Electricity Program; Section 42110 which seeks to repeal and rescind funds for enforcement technology upgrades at EPA; Section 42111 which repeals and rescinds funds meant to enhance the standardization and transparency of corporate climate commitments; Sections 42112 and 42116, which repeal and rescind funds for Environmental Product Declaration assistance and low embodied carbon labeling for construction materials, to enhance the standardization and transparency and increase competitiveness of domestic manufacturing; and Section 42115, to repeal and rescind funds to enhance the efficiency, accuracy, and timeliness of environmental reviews, permitting, and project approvals.

Beyond the IRA, Sections 42201 and 42301 propose to repeal clean vehicle standards finalized by EPA and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), jeopardizing air quality and domestic manufacturing, giving a leg up to the fossil fuel industry.[25] In terms of cost savings, these two provisions are redundant, and both double count savings associated with repealing the IRA's EV tax credits.

The Republican majority's ham-handed attempt to use the budget reconciliation process to repeal policies they disagree with is abundantly clear. When Congress passed the IRA, we made a critical and historic down payment toward a stable climate and shared economic opportunity powered by American-made clean energy, to create a clean future for all. But this bill proposes to throw that all away by eliminating the environmental protections that keep families and communities safe while doing nothing to lower energy costs. All in the service of providing tax breaks for billionaires.

PART 1—SPECTRUM AUCTIONS

Spectrum is a valuable natural resource because it is an essential building block for connecting family and friends as well as delivering critical services such as education and health care to people across the country. It is also critical to everyday safety for first responders. Without spectrum, this country would not have radio stations, smartphones, the app economy, or drones. Many of these technological advancements were developed by American innovators, pushing the limits on the ways spectrum could be used in new and exciting ways. But past performance does not guarantee future results. As such, Congressional Democrats remain committed to ensuring that America remain a leader in spectrum policy.

To that end, for more than three decades, Congress has granted the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) the authority to make spectrum available using competitive bidding, or auctions. Granting the FCC this authority has served both the public and the nation well. Today, the United States is a global leader in delivering 5G, advanced Wi-Fi, Bluetooth, and other next-generation wireless technologies to consumers across the country. At the same time, spectrum auctions, which have raised over $230 billion for the federal government, have helped fund important public communications priorities, including the Rip and Replace reimbursement program, the construction of FirstNet, and broadband infrastructure grants. This is why spectrum policy has long been an area of bipartisan agreement. In fact, Congressional Democrats have worked closely with Congressional Republicans for the past three years to pass bills through this Committee to extend the FCC's auction authority and use spectrum proceeds to pay for bipartisan spending priorities that will benefit the public good.

One of the most recent areas of bipartisan agreement was the need to fund Next Generation 9–1–1. This funding would modernize the country's 9–1–1 networks to allow the public to use modern day communications tools like sending texts, images, and videos to first responders and emergency personnel. This technology will reduce response times and equip first responders with life-saving information before they arrive at the scene, which will better assist people in their critical time of need. Unfortunately, with Subtitle C, Part 1, Congressional Republicans are now abandoning this bipartisan work and marching ahead to use spectrum auction proceeds to help fund tax breaks for the wealthy. Congressional Democrats do not believe this is how spectrum auction proceeds should be used.

Ultimately, while Congressional Democrats agree that failure to make additional spectrum available for commercial wireless use risks our nation falling behind our global counterparts, particularly China, Congressional Democrats object to using spectrum auction proceeds to fund tax cuts that only benefit a few instead of investing in all Americans regardless of their income or zip code.

PART 2—ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY MODERNIZATION

Subsection (a) of Section 43201 of the bill, appropriates $500 million to the Department of Commerce to modernize and secure federal information technology (IT) systems. Subsection (b) authorizes the funds to be spent to replace and modernize the Department of Commerce's legacy business systems with commercial artificial intelligence (AI) and automated decision systems, to facilitate the development of AI models that increase operational efficiency and service delivery, and to improve the cyber security of IT systems within the Department of Commerce. Modernizing the Department of Commerce's IT systems, incorporating AI into those systems, and improving the agency's cybersecurity protections are worthwhile goals, but the Committee has had no hearings to explore IT modernization, AI adoption, or cybersecurity needs of the Department of Commerce's IT system, and it is therefore impossible to assess whether the amount of money appropriated or the scope of the authorization are appropriate or whether these provisions are unnecessarily throwing $500 million at unexplored issues; thereby inviting waste, fraud and abuse from the Big Technology companies likely to bid on the projects.

Subsection (c) of Section 43201 is wholly unrelated to IT modernization, AI adoption, and cybersecurity protections of the IT systems at the Department of Commerce provided for in subsections (a) and (b). Subsection (c) imposes an extraordinary 10-year moratorium on state and local enforcement of their own laws regulating AI models, AI systems, or automated decision-making systems. The Department of Commerce's IT modernization efforts are not subject to state and local laws in any way and therefore would not be impeded by enforcement of the state and local laws this moratorium would suspend. This provision is a gift to Big Tech and extraordinarily harmful to all Americans. It would prevent enforcement of state laws that protect consumers' privacy, prohibit the use of AI to commit financial fraud and to steal elections, prohibit algorithmic bias in housing and credit, prohibit harmful uses of facial recognition technology, and protect consumers from AI systems that put their mental health and physical safety at risk. It would favor companies that use AI and automated decision making to exploit consumers for profit over honest small businesses using AI for legitimate purposes. It would also prevent enforcement of state laws and regulations governing the use of AI by local and state governments for all sorts of beneficial purposes including rules governing local school districts and their procurement of education technology powered by automated decision making systems; use and evaluation of AI systems by state and local police departments; and even use of AI and automated decision making systems that assist in identifying attempts to defraud programs funded by state and local governments. This state enforcement ban would occur at a time when Congress has passed a very limited set of law to address potential risks to consumers.

The Committee has heard testimony that AI and automated decision-making systems and tools can have enormous benefits, and that they carry enormous risks. There are countless examples of AI systems that provide false information, erode consumers' privacy, unjustifiably discriminate against people in employment, housing, credit, and countless other situations.

There are regular reports of AI systems used to further financial scams and election fraud, and of online algorithms that put consumers', including children's and teens', mental and physical safety at risk. At a minimum, in the absence of robust federal action to prevent the harmful effects of AI, Congress should be learning from the work done by states on AI and automated decision-making systems. We should be working to enact federal laws that protect consumers from the negative consequences of poorly understood AI models and badly designed automated decision-making systems. And we should allow states and localities to decide how to regulate their own use of AI and automated decision-making systems. Instead, this enforcement ban would leave American consumers and especially our children at the mercy of Big Tech and their powerful and invasive algorithms by preventing enforcement of existing state laws and providing nothing in their place.

Subtitle D—Health, providing for reconciliation pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14

Subtitle D raises deep concerns about the effects that it would have on health coverage for the nearly 80 million people who rely on Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program, and the more than 24 million people who rely on Affordable Care Act (ACA)

Marketplace.[26] Further, Subtitle D would have devastating effects the on the entire nation's health care safety net—leading to hospital, nursing home, home- and community-based provider, and outpatient clinic closures, as well as reductions in services, impacting all Americans' access to care. Taken together, Subtitle D eviscerates health coverage, state budget flexibility, and provider payments, and will have a catastrophic effect on our economy, jobs, and Americans' health and well-being as the nation heads toward an increasingly likely Trump recession.[27]

Subtitle D would itself leave 8.6 million Americans who rely on Medicaid and the ACA Marketplace for their health care entirely uninsured. When coupled with Subtitle D's omission of an extension to current-law enhanced Advance Premium Tax Credits (APTCs) that enable low- and middle-income Americans to access affordable health coverage on the ACA Marketplaces, 13.7 million Americans would be left uninsured. Coverage losses for the 7.6 million people expected to lose Medicaid coverage stem in large part from provisions that add myriad administrative complexities to the already-burdensome process that low-income Americans must comply with to access health coverage through Medicaid.

Section 44141 mandates that all states establish work reporting requirements as a condition of Medicaid eligibility—terminating health coverage for those who are currently enrolled in Medicaid and do not manage to comply with the reporting requirements and preventing those who cannot meet the requirements from ever enrolling. The design of these burdensome red tape requirements is much like the design of Georgia's program, through which a meager 7,000 people have managed to enroll in the nearly two years it has been in effect out of hundreds of thousands of eligible to enroll in the program.[28] [29] CBO estimates that these paperwork requirements alone would eliminate health coverage for nearly 5 million low-income Americans subjected to them—leaving them uninsured. The reporting requirements apply to the more than 20 million Americans enrolled in Medicaid through the ACA Medicaid expansion eligibility group, encompassing adults ages 19–65 who qualify for Medicaid based on their low (https://gbpi.org/georgias-pathways-to-coverage-program-the-first-year-in-review/). income (up to 138 percent of the federal poverty level, or, in the case of a one-person household, making less than $1,760 per month).[30] [31]

The low-income Americans to whom these reporting requirements would apply include pregnant women,[32] [33] low-income parents,[34] [35] people with disabilities,[36] veterans,[37] [38] low-income workers without access to affordable employer-sponsored insurance,[39] and people with complex medical conditions and health needs, including those with mental health and substance use disorder treatment needs.[40] While the text includes exceptions for some (but not all) of these groups of people from the requirements to participate in qualifying activities like working 80 hours per month, to receive such an exception, most individuals would be required to demonstrate that they qualify for the exceptions. From experience in every state that has implemented or began to implement a work reporting requirement at the state level, these exceptions have not worked.[41] [42] [43]

Making matters even more devastating for the low-income Americans who would lose their Medicaid coverage due to these paperwork requirements, Section 44141 further punishes them by barring them from subsidies on the ACA Marketplace—leaving those who could otherwise purchase subsidized health care coverage with no other affordable health coverage option at all. In this report, Republicans attempt to justify these work reporting requirements by indicating that "Medicare beneficiaries are only eligible for the program because they worked and paid into the system," yet no such work reporting requirement applies to Medicare eligibility.[44]

Among the other provisions that subject low-income Americans to additional processes and hurdles to retaining their health coverage is Section 44108, which requires individuals eligible for Medicaid via the ACA Medicaid expansion to complete eligibility redeterminations every six months—on top of up-to-monthly reporting of compliance with Medicaid work reporting requirements. Increasing the frequency of eligibility verifications would decimate health coverage gains and increase enrollment churn and undermine recent initiatives to provide longer enrollment periods for eligible Americans in recognition of the coverage and cost impacts of frequent, ineffective verifications of eligibility.[45] [46]

In the same vein, sections 44101 and 44102 would prevent implementation or enforcement until 2035 of two rules finalized by the Biden Administration to simplify eligibility and enrollment processes for the lowest-income Medicare beneficiaries who also rely on Medicaid for coverage, people with disabilities, and children eligible for the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP)—cutting 2.3 million of them off of Medicaid coverage they rely on to help pay for their prescriptions and go to the doctor, and leaving 600,000 of them entirely uninsured.[47] Elimination of these rules also subject children eligible for CHIP to months-long waiting periods, arbitrary caps on covered benefits (based on lifetime and annual dollar limits), and allow children to be locked out of their health coverage after a period of non-payment of premiums.[48]

In this report, Republicans attempt to justify their cuts by falsely claiming that "the growth in total Medicaid spending and enrollment is a growing concern as it impedes the program's ability to provide care for those vulnerable populations who rely most on Medicaid," suggesting that terminating coverage for people eligible thanks to the ACA Medicaid expansion would somehow increase funds to provide coverage to individuals who are eligible through other pathways. In reality, not one provision of Subtitle D would make Medicaid eligibility or benefits more generous for any person. Further, research has consistently and clearly demonstrated that eligibility for children, pregnant women, and parents is higher in expansion states compared to non-expansion states and that Medicaid spending per-enrollee is higher in expansion states than non-expansion states.[49] Further, state spending on Medicaid expansion is, on average, less than three percent of all state spending on Medicaid, despite Medicaid expansion representing 23 percent of all Medicaid beneficiaries nationally.[50] [51] In many cases, Medicaid expansion generates enough savings and/or new revenue to more than offset a state's share of the cost, and states have even used the budget savings generated by expansion to further improve access to services for people with disabilities, including long-term care services.[52] [53]

In addition to terminating health coverage for 8.6 million Americans, Subtitle D includes several provisions that would increase out-of-pocket costs and medical debt and devastate access to care for low-income American families and seniors. For example, Section 44122 reduces the period of time for which all Medicaid beneficiaries can receive retroactive coverage from three months prior to application to just one. As an example, this provision harms elderly Americans whose health declines rapidly and unexpectedly need to apply for Medicaid to receive coverage for long-term care (which Medicare does not provide). Iowa previously waived retroactive eligibility and nursing homes refused to take new residents while their Medicaid applications were still pending and, in Indiana, retroactive coverage protected low-income parents from incurred costs averaging $1,561 per person.[54]

Subtitle D also would prohibit federal Medicaid funding for Planned Parenthood and its affiliates across the country. Section 44126 creates a specific and narrow definition intended to target certain providers in the Medicaid program that separately, and without federal Medicaid funding, provide abortion services. As a result, these providers would no longer be able to serve Medicaid beneficiaries or provide routine preventive and reproductive health care services in the Medicaid program, including contraception counseling and birth control, breast and cervical cancer screenings and pap smears, sexually transmitted infection (STI) screenings, and preconception counseling. Even in the nearly two-dozen states that have outlawed or severely restricted abortion care, Medicaid beneficiaries would be unable to seek care at Planned Parenthood as a result of this provision. Millions of Medicaid beneficiaries would be left without the ability to seek care from their provider of choice solely because of the Republicans' hostility towards Planned Parenthood and the ability for women to seek comprehensive reproductive health care.

As these and similar provisions dramatically heighten rates of uninsurance and uncompensated care for providers, Subtitle D

cripples states' ability to finance their Medicaid programs or adequately increase payment rates to already-struggling providers.[55] Section 44132 establishes a moratorium on new or increased provider taxes, which states use along with general funds to finance their Medicaid programs. Without the ability to generate new provider taxes, states would reduce payment rates to providers (which will already have higher uncompensated care), cut back on the benefits they provide (for the people who remain enrolled in the program), and further reduce coverage.[56] As acknowledged by Republican majority counsel during the Committee's markup of Subtitle D, this moratorium on new and increased provider taxes would apply regardless of the state's circumstances or the purpose of the provider tax. For example, a state could not increase or establish new provider taxes to generate revenue to support the Medicaid program if uncompensated care costs increase given the 13.7 million people expected to become uninsured; if there is an economic downturn, when Medicaid spending tends to grow and state general fund revenues decrease; if a natural disaster like a hurricane hits, or if the state would like to improve access for home- and community-based services that elderly Americans and people with disabilities, including children, rely on to live in their homes and communities (and for which such people are currently subjected to years-long and even decades-long waiting lists).[57] Section 44133 would further devastate states' ability to shore up providers that will see a dramatic increase in uncompensated care due to this reconciliation bill, by preventing states from directing managed care plans to make payments to providers at the same levels they are permitted to make them today.

Section 44201 will make it more difficult for individuals to enroll in coverage in the ACA Marketplace, will take away coverage from eligible individuals, and will increase consumers' health care costs. Provisions in Section 44201 will result in at least 1.8 million individuals losing their health insurance. The section codifies harmful policies included in the 2025 Marketplace Integrity and Affordability Proposed Rule released by the Trump Administration on March 10, 2025.[58] According to the Trump Administration's own analysis of the policies in the proposed rule, two million Americans will lose coverage, and consumers will experience $3 billion increase in their premiums over four years.[59] The provisions in Section 44201 will impose new restrictions on the lowest income individuals accessing coverage, new bureaucratic paperwork requirements, and increased out-of-pocket costs for consumers.

Section 44201 will shorten the open enrollment period to just six weeks and will eliminate special enrollment periods for low-income Americans. Both policies will depress ACA Marketplace enrollment, raise health care costs for millions of consumers, and make it harder for the lowest-income families to enroll in coverage who experience job changes or income fluctuations. The section also includes several policies related to enrollment verification, which the Trump Administration concedes will establish enrollment barriers and deter Marketplace enrollment. Multiple polices in this section related to income verification will create barriers to coverage and increase consumer burden by increasing the amount of time it takes people to get enrolled in coverage. These policies will mostly harm low-income families and individuals with variable or unpredictable incomes, such as small business owners and self-employed individuals. As a result of the substantial increase in burden, fewer healthy people would enroll, worsening the risk pool, and raising premiums for everyone.

Multiple policies in Section 44201 will raise costs for consumers by increasing premiums and cost-sharing and reducing the tax credit that helps make coverage affordable. A provision in Section 44201 will require individuals who are automatically reenrolled in zero-dollar premium plans to pay nuisance fees. Both auto-enrollment and zero-premium plans are meant to support lower income workers and their families. Even a nominal fee applied to this will make it difficult for these individuals to continue to afford health coverage. The section would also prohibit individuals who qualify for more generous coverage from being automatically re-enrolled into a higher quality plan, and only harms consumers by preventing them from accessing better coverage at a lower cost. Finally, the section makes changes to the methodology for determining the premium adjustment percentage and includes changes to the allowable variation in actuarial value (AV). This will result in higher out-of-pocket costs for commercially insured Americans—including those with employer-sponsored insurance—and lower tax credits for individuals purchasing coverage on their own. Additionally, it will allow insurers to offer weaker coverage which reduces affordability and raises out-of-pocket costs for American families. In summary, policies in Section 44201 will result in more Americans uninsured, worsen coverage for individuals purchasing coverage on their own, and will raise health care costs for millions of individuals.

Lastly, assertions that enrollees in Marketplace coverage engaged in fraud are factually inaccurate. Any fraudulent activity in the Marketplace was perpetrated by rogue insurance agents and other bad actors—not individual health coverage enrollees. The Biden Administration quickly clamped down on the problem, and in fact, the Biden Administration blocked two bad acting brokers from accessing consumer information as it was found that they were involved in 'anomalous activity.' Instead of going after the true fraud, the Trump Administration fired 80 workers from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) group that oversees implementation of these Marketplaces, effectively gutting resources from the people tasked with cracking down on true fraud in the first place. More importantly none of the policies in Section 44201 address fraud by agents and brokers, and instead only seek to punish individuals who need health insurance by heaping bureaucracy and red tape on them.

While the Republican majority claims Subtitle D will "address the rising costs of prescription medications for seniors in Medicare . . .," in reality, it directly raises costs. In addition to the detrimental cuts to the Medicaid program and the ACA, Subtitle D also undermines the Medicare Drug Price Negotiation Program that was established in the Inflation Reduction Act and, for the first time, provided the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) with the authority and mandate to negotiate with pharmaceutical manufacturers to lower the price of prescription drugs in the Medicare program. This provision would expand the drugs eligible for exclusion from the Negotiation Program under 1192(e) of the Social Security Act by permitting drugs with multiple rare disease indications to be exempt from selection as a negotiation-eligible drug. This was not the intent of the provision when the Inflation Reduction was enacted and will only serve to prevent more beneficiaries, particularly those with rare diseases, from obtaining lower drug prices in the Medicare program.

Additionally, the provision permits pharmaceutical manufacturers to potentially have years or even decades longer on the market before being selected for negotiation by changing the calculation for the amount of time elapsed prior to negotiation. Should a drug product or biological product's first indication on the market be for a rare disease, that time will not be taken into account for the purposes of calculating the 9- or 13-year delay, respectively, required under law before a Maximum Fair Price can go into effect. As a result, manufacturers will be able to game this provision to maximize the amount of time on the market prior to their drug being potentially negotiation-eligible. This provision costs taxpayers nearly $5 billion and costs many Medicare beneficiaries years of higher prescription drug prices. Section 44301 is a giant gift for the pharmaceutical industry, resulting in continued higher prescription drug costs for the American people.

TRANSMITTAL LETTER

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, COMMITTEE ON FINANCIAL SERVICES,
Washington, DC, May 7, 2025.

Hon. JODEY C. ARRINGTON,
Chairman, Committee on the Budget,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN ARRINGTON: Pursuant to section 2001 of the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, I hereby transmit these recommendations, which have been approved by vote of the Committee on Financial Services, and the appropriate accompanying material including supplemental, minority, additional, or dissenting views, to the House Committee on the Budget. This submission is in order to comply with reconciliation directives included in H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, and is consistent with section 310 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

Sincerely,

FRENCH HILL,
Chairman.

PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H. Con. Res. 14, Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, directs 11 authorizing committees in the House of Representatives to each submit to the Committee on the Budget recommendations that either increase the deficit up to a specified amount or reduce the deficit by at least a specified amount over the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034. The Committee on Ways and Means is also instructed to submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction to increase the debt limit.

H. Con. Res. 14 instructs the Financial Services Committee to submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction to reduce the deficit by not less than $1,000,000,000 for the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034. Accordingly, the Committee Print being considered at this markup provides on a preliminary estimate more than $5 billion in savings.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 50001. Green and Resilient Retrofit Program for Multifamily Family Housing

Section 50001 rescinds the unobligated balance of amounts remaining under section 300002(a) of the Inflation Reduction Act.

Section 50002. Public Company Accounting Oversight Board

Section 50002 eliminates the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board's (PCAOB) authority to independently collect and spend accounting support fees and instead directs that such fees be remitted to the U.S. Treasury. The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) would continue these responsibilities and further fee collection would be discontinued.

Section 50003. Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection

Section 50003 modifies the Consumer Financial Protection Board's authority to draw funds from the Federal Reserve to a maximum of 5 percent of the Federal Reserve's total operating expenses for fiscal year 2009 for FY 2025 and adjusting it for inflation thereafter.

This section also restricts the Consumer Financial Protection Board from holding an unobligated balance of greater than 5 percent of the revised transfer amount from the Federal Reserve and it requires any funds exceeding that percentage be transferred to the general fund of the U.S. Treasury.

Section 50004. Consumer Financial Civil Penalty Fund

Section 50004 requires the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to return to the general fund of the U.S. Treasury any civil penalties remaining in the Consumer Financial Civil Penalty Fund after payment to direct victims.

This section also removes the use of the Consumer Financial Civil Penalty Fund for consumer education and financial literacy.

Section 50005. Financial Research Fund

Section 50005 caps assessments collected by the Office of Financial Research, limiting them to the average actual budgetary expenses of the Financial Stability Oversight Council over the preceding three fiscal years and requires excess funds to be transferred to the general fund of the U.S. Treasury.

This section also prohibits the Office of Financial Research from collecting assessments that would cause the Financial Research Fund to exceed this cap.

The Committee adopts as its own the cost estimate for the Committee Print prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office.

NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY AND CBO COST ESTIMATE

CBO has not reviewed the legislation for effects on spending subject to appropriation.

The legislation would:

- Rescind the unobligated balances of the Green and Resilient Retrofit Program
- Transfer the Public Company Accounting Board's authorities to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and eliminate the authority to collect accounting support fees to fund the board's activities
- Reduce the amount the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) may receive from the Federal Reserve and spend for administrative activities
- Limit the uses of amounts in the Civil Penalty Fund
- Reduce the amount that the Office of Financial Research may collect and spend in fees
- Increase the cost of an existing private-sector mandate on certain commercial entities if the SEC increases annual fee collections

Estimated budgetary effects would mainly stem from:

- Decreases in direct spending by the CFPB because of decreased transfer authority
- Decreases in direct spending and revenues from agencies that collect and spend fees

Legislation summary: H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, instructed the House Committee on Financial Services to recommend legislative changes that would decrease deficits by at least $1 billion over the 2025–2034 period. As part of the reconciliation process, the House Committee on Financial Services approved legislation on April 30, 2025, that would reduce deficits.

Estimated federal cost: The reconciliation recommendations of the House Committee on Financial Services would, on net, decrease deficits by $5.2 billion over the 2025–2034 period. The estimated budgetary effects of the legislation are shown in Table 1. The costs of the legislation fall within budget functions 370 (commerce and housing credit) and 600 (income security).

All budget authority amounts are estimated.

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the legislation will be enacted in summer 2025. CBO's estimates are relative to its January 2025 baseline and cover the period from 2025 through 2034.

Direct spending and revenues: CBO estimates that enacting the bill would decrease direct spending by $8.5 billion and decrease revenues by $3.3 billion; the deficit would decrease by $5.2 billion over the 2025–2034 period (see Table 2).

Green and Resilient Retrofit Program for Multifamily Family Housing: Section 50001 would rescind the unobligated balances of the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Green and Resilient Retrofit Program. Using information from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, CBO estimates that enacting the rescission would decrease direct spending by $138 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Public Company Accounting Oversight Board: Section 50002 would transfer the authorities of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB) to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) no later than one year after enactment. At the time of that transfer, the SEC would not be permitted to collect and spend accounting support fees authorized under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 that the PCAOB currently collects. Those fees, which fund the board's activities, are treated as revenues and are available to be spent without further appropriation.

CBO expects that the board's authorities would be transferred to the SEC around the end of fiscal year 2026 and that, starting in 2027, accounting support fees would no longer be collected and spent. CBO estimates that eliminating the authority to collect the fees would decrease direct spending by $3.2 billion over the 2027–2034 period.

Eliminating the fee authority also would reduce collections of fees by $3.3 billion. However, reducing such fees tends to increase taxable income for workers and businesses, leading to increased collections of income and payroll taxes. As a result, CBO expects that the reduction in fee collections would be partially offset by increases in tax receipts of about 25 percent of the gross fee reduction each year.[1] CBO estimates that, on net, revenues would decrease by $2.4 billion over the 2027–2034 period.

Although CBO anticipates that the SEC would collect fees of similar magnitude to fund those activities, the collection and spending of fees imposed by the SEC are contingent on annual appropriations providing that authority to the agency. CBO has not reviewed this legislation for effects on spending subject to appropriation, so any costs for the SEC to implement the legislation are not included in this estimate.

Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection: Section 50003 would decrease the maximum amount that the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) may request from the Federal Reserve each year to cover operating expenses. Under current law, the CFPB may request a transfer of up to 12 percent of the Federal Reserve's operating expenses from 2009, adjusted for inflation each year beginning in 2013. The provision would reduce the cap to 5 percent of the Federal Reserve's operating expenses in 2009, adjusted for inflation each year beginning in 2025.

CBO expects that the new cap would take effect at the beginning of 2026 and that the CFPB will have already received its final quarterly funding from the Federal Reserve for 2025. CBO estimates that enacting the provision would reduce transfers from the Federal Reserve by about $4.2 billion and reduce direct spending by $3.9 billion over the 2026–2034 period.

The Federal Reserve System transmits its net income to the Treasury as remittances, which are recorded as revenues. Transfers to the CFPB reduce those remittances but are recorded as other miscellaneous receipts in the budget; those two revenue streams net to zero over the 2025–2034 period. Changes in costs for the Federal Reserve banks have historically resulted in changes to remittances during the same year. However, since fiscal year 2023, the central bank has recorded a deferred asset to account for accrued net losses from expenses in excess of income. As a result, remittances have been largely suspended. In CBO's projections, remittances from the Federal Reserve will generally be suspended until 2030, and most of the changes in costs incurred by the system during that time will not be recorded as a change in remittances until they resume.[2]

Consumer Financial Civil Penalty Fund: Section 50004 would prohibit the CFPB from spending amounts in the Civil Penalty Fund for any purpose other than to pay victims of violations of consumer financial law for which penalties have been imposed. Under current law, the CFPB deposits penalties collected from judicial or administrative actions into the Civil Penalty Fund; in addition to paying victims of violations, the CFPB uses those amounts for consumer education and financial literacy programs.

Under current rules, the CFPB may use amounts associated with one penalty to pay victims associated with another penalty. This provision would effectively prohibit that practice and also would bar the CFPB from spending amounts on consumer education or financial literacy programs. Based on an analysis of the amounts returned to the fund in recent years and using other information from the CFPB, CBO expects that enacting this provision would reduce direct spending by $9 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Financial Research Fund: Section 50005 would cap assessments collected by the Office of Financial Research (OFR) and deposited into the Financial Research Fund at a three-year moving average of the expenses of the Financial Stability Oversight Council (FSOC). Under current law, the OFR collects assessments from large financial institutions to fund its operations and the operations of the FSOC. Those assessments are recorded as revenues and are available to be spent without future appropriation. CBO estimates that enacting the provision would decrease direct spending on OFR and FSOC activities by $1.2 billion.

Capping assessments also would reduce revenues by $1.2 billion. However, reducing such fees tends to increase taxable income for workers and businesses, leading to increased collections of income and payroll taxes. As a result, CBO expects that the reduction in fee collections would be partially offset by increases in tax receipts of about 25 percent of the gross fee reduction each year. On net, CBO estimates that revenues would decrease by $906 million under this provision.

Pay-As-You-Go considerations: The Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 establishes budget-reporting and enforcement procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or revenues. The net changes in outlays and revenues that are subject to those pay-as-you-go procedures are shown in Table 1.

Increase in long-term net direct spending and deficits: CBO estimates that enacting the legislation would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035.

Mandates: If the SEC increases fees to offset the costs associated with implementing provisions in section 50002 of the reconciliation recommendations of the House Financial Services Committee, the legislation would increase the cost of an existing mandate on private entities required to pay those assessments. CBO estimates that the cost of the mandate would exceed the annual threshold for private-sector mandates established in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) ($206 million in 2025, adjusted annually for inflation).

The bill contains no intergovernmental mandates as defined in UMRA.

TITLE I—FINANCIAL STABILITY

Subtitle B— Office of Financial Research

* * * * * * *

Sec. 155. FUNDING.

(a) FINANCIAL RESEARCH FUND.—

(1) FUND ESTABLISHED.—There is established in the Treasury of the United States a separate fund to be known as the "Financial Research Fund".

(2) FUND RECEIPTS.—All amounts provided to the Office under subsection (c), and all assessments that the Office receives under subsection (d) shall be deposited into the Financial Research Fund.

(3) INVESTMENTS AUTHORIZED.—

(A) AMOUNTS IN FUND MAY BE INVESTED.—The Director may request the Secretary to invest the portion of the Financial Research Fund that is not, in the judgment of the Director, required to meet the needs of the Office.

(B) ELIGIBLE INVESTMENTS.—Investments shall be made by the Secretary in obligations of the United States or obligations that are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, with maturities suitable to the needs of the Financial Research Fund, as determined by the Director.

(4) INTEREST AND PROCEEDS CREDITED.—The interest on, and the proceeds from the sale or redemption of, any obligations held in the Financial Research Fund shall be credited to and form a part of the Financial Research Fund.

(b) USE OF FUNDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Funds obtained by, transferred to, or credited to the Financial Research Fund shall be immediately available to the Office, and shall remain available until expended, to pay the expenses of the Office in carrying out the duties and responsibilities of the Office.

(2) FEES, ASSESSMENTS, AND OTHER FUNDS NOT GOVERNMENT FUNDS.—Funds obtained by, transferred to, or credited to the Financial Research Fund shall not be construed to be Government funds or appropriated moneys.

(3) AMOUNTS NOT SUBJECT TO APPORTIONMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, amounts in the Financial Research Fund shall not be subject to apportionment for purposes of chapter 15 of title 31, United States Code, or under any other authority, or for any other purpose.

(c) INTERIM FUNDING.—During the 2-year period following the date of enactment of this Act, the Board of Governors shall provide to the Office an amount sufficient to cover the expenses of the Office.

(d) PERMANENT SELF-FUNDING.—Beginning 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall establish, by regulation, and with the approval of the Council, an assessment schedule, including the assessment base and rates, applicable to bank holding companies with total consolidated assets of $250,000,000,000 [1] or greater and nonbank financial companies supervised by the Board of Governors, that takes into account differences among such companies, based on the considerations for establishing the prudential standards under section 115, to collect assessments equal to the total expenses of the Office.

(e) LIMITATION ON ASSESSMENTS AND THE FINANCIAL RESEARCH FUND.—

(1) LIMITATION ON ASSESSMENTS.—Assessments may not be collected under subsection (d) if the assessments would result in—

(A) the Financial Research Fund exceeding the average annual budget amount; or

(B) the total assessments collected during a single fiscal year exceeding the average annual budget amount.

(2) TRANSFER OF EXCESS FUNDS.—Any amounts in the Financial Research Fund exceeding the average annual budget amount shall be deposited into the general fund of the Treasury.

(3) AVERAGE ANNUAL BUDGET AMOUNT DEFINED.—In this subsection the term 'average annual budget amount' means the annual average, over the 3 most recently completed fiscal years, of the expenses of the Council in carrying out the duties and responsibilities of the Council that were paid by the Office using amounts obtained through assessments under subsection (d).

[1] Effective November 24, 2019, pursuant to section 401(c)(1)(D) and (d)(1) of Public Law 115–174, section 155(d) is amended by striking "50,000,000,000" and inserting "$250,000,000,000". Subsection (d)(2) of such section 401 also states as follows: "Notwithstanding paragraph (1), the amendments made by this section shall take effect on the date of enactment of this Act with respect to any bank holding company with total consolidated assets of less than $100,000,000,000". There is a discrepancy between the Statutes-At-Large and the enrolled bill versions as it relates to the dollar symbol (see Codification note @ 12 U.S.C. 5345).

The text of the Statute-At-Large text is incorrect, as the law signed by the President included a dollar symbol (as so enrolled). Therefore, the above reflects the execution of the amendment made by Public Law 115–174 to the enrolled version.

TITLE X—BUREAU OF CONSUMER FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Subtitle A—Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection

* * * * * * *

Sec. 1017. FUNDING; PENALTIES AND FINES.

(2) FUNDING CAP.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), and in accordance with this paragraph, the amount that shall be transferred to the Bureau in each fiscal year shall not exceed a fixed percentage of the total operating expenses of the Federal Reserve System, as reported in the Annual Report, 2009, of the Board of Governors, equal to—

(i) 10 percent of such expenses in fiscal year 2011;

(ii) 11 percent of such expenses in fiscal year 2012; and

(iii) [12 percent] 5 percent of such expenses in fiscal year [2013] 2025, and in each year thereafter.

(B) ADJUSTMENT OF AMOUNT.—The dollar amount referred to in subparagraph (A)(iii) shall be adjusted annually, using the percent increase, if any, in the employment cost index for total compensation for State and local government workers published by the Federal Government, or the successor index thereto, for the 12-month period ending on September 30 of the year preceding the transfer.

[(C) REVIEWABILITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision in this title, the funds derived from the Federal Reserve System pursuant to this subsection shall not be subject to review by the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate.]

(C) LIMITATION ON UNOBLIGATED BALANCES.—With respect to a fiscal year, the amount of unobligated balances of the Bureau may not exceed 5 percent of the dollar amount referred to in subparagraph (A)(iii), as adjusted under subparagraph (B). The Director shall transfer any excess amount of such unobligated balances to the general fund of the Treasury.

(3) TRANSITION PERIOD.—Beginning on the date of enactment of this Act and until the designated transfer date, the Board of Governors shall transfer to the Bureau the amount estimated by the Secretary needed to carry out the authorities granted to the Bureau under Federal consumer financial law, from the date of enactment of this Act until the designated transfer date.

(4) BUDGET AND FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT.—

(A) FINANCIAL OPERATING PLANS AND FORECASTS.—The Director shall provide to the Director of the Office of Management and Budget copies of the financial operating plans and forecasts of the Director, as prepared by the Director in the ordinary course of the operations of the Bureau, and copies of the quarterly reports of the financial condition and results of operations of the Bureau, as prepared by the Director in the ordinary course of the operations of the Bureau.

(B) FINANCIAL STATEMENTS.—The Bureau shall prepare annually a statement of—

(i) assets and liabilities and surplus or deficit;

(ii) income and expenses; and

(iii) sources and application of funds.

(C) FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS.—The Bureau shall implement and maintain financial management systems that comply substantially with Federal financial management systems requirements and applicable Federal accounting standards.

(D) ASSERTION OF INTERNAL CONTROLS.—The Director shall provide to the Comptroller General of the United States an assertion as to the effectiveness of the internal controls that apply to financial reporting by the Bureau, using the standards established in section 3512(c) of title 31, United States Code.

(E) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—This subsection may not be construed as implying any obligation on the part of the Director to consult with or obtain the consent or approval of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget with respect to any report, plan, forecast, or other information referred to in subparagraph (A) or any jurisdiction or oversight over the affairs or operations of the Bureau.

(F) FINANCIAL STATEMENTS.—The financial statements of the Bureau shall not be consolidated with the financial statements of either the Board of Governors or the Federal Reserve System.

(5) AUDIT OF THE BUREAU.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General shall annually audit the financial transactions of the Bureau in accordance with the United States generally accepted government auditing standards, as may be prescribed by the Comptroller General of the United States. The audit shall be conducted at the place or places where accounts of the Bureau are normally kept. The representatives of the Government Accountability Office shall have access to the personnel and to all books, accounts, documents, papers, records (including electronic records), reports, files, and all other papers, automated data, things, or property belonging to or under the control of or used or employed by the Bureau pertaining to its financial transactions and necessary to facilitate the audit, and such representatives shall be afforded full facilities for verifying transactions with the balances or securities held by depositories, fiscal agents, and custodians. All such books, accounts, documents, records, reports, files, papers, and property of the Bureau shall remain in possession and custody of the Bureau. The Comptroller General may obtain and duplicate any such books, accounts, documents, records, working papers, automated data and files, or other information relevant to such audit without cost to the Comptroller General, and the right of access of the Comptroller General to such information shall be enforceable pursuant to section 716(c) of title 31, United States Code.

(B) REPORT.—The Comptroller General shall submit to the Congress a report of each annual audit conducted under this subsection. The report to the Congress shall set forth the scope of the audit and shall include the statement of assets and liabilities and surplus or deficit, the statement of income and expenses, the statement of sources and application of funds, and such comments and information as may be deemed necessary to inform Congress of the financial operations and condition of the Bureau, together with such recommendations with respect thereto as the Comptroller General may deem advisable. A copy of each report shall be furnished to the President and to the Bureau at the time submitted to the Congress.

(C) ASSISTANCE AND COSTS.—For the purpose of conducting an audit under this subsection, the Comptroller General may, in the discretion of the Comptroller General, employ by contract, without regard to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (41 U.S.C. 5), professional services of firms and organizations of certified public accountants for temporary periods or for special purposes. Upon the request of the Comptroller General, the Director of the Bureau shall transfer to the Government Accountability Office from funds available, the amount requested by the Comptroller General to cover the full costs of any audit and report conducted by the Comptroller General. The Comptroller General shall credit funds transferred to the account established for salaries and expenses of the Government Accountability Office, and such amount shall be available upon receipt and without fiscal year limitation to cover the full costs of the audit and report.

(b) CONSUMER FINANCIAL PROTECTION FUND.—

(1) SEPARATE FUND IN FEDERAL RESERVE ESTABLISHED.—There is established in the Federal Reserve a separate fund, to be known as the "Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection Fund" (referred to in this section as the "Bureau Fund"). (2) FUND RECEIPTS.—All amounts transferred to the Bureau under subsection (a) shall be deposited into the Bureau Fund.

(3) INVESTMENT AUTHORITY.—

(A) AMOUNTS IN BUREAU FUND MAY BE INVESTED.—The Bureau may request the Board of Governors to direct the investment of the portion of the Bureau Fund that is not, in the judgment of the Bureau, required to meet the current needs of the Bureau.

(B) ELIGIBLE INVESTMENTS.—Investments authorized by this paragraph shall be made in obligations of the United States or obligations that are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, with maturities suitable to the needs of the Bureau Fund, as determined by the Bureau.

(C) INTEREST AND PROCEEDS CREDITED.—The interest on, and the proceeds from the sale or redemption of, any obligations held in the Bureau Fund shall be credited to the Bureau Fund.

(c) USE OF FUNDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Funds obtained by, transferred to, or credited to the Bureau Fund shall be immediately available to the Bureau and under the control of the Director, and shall remain available until expended, to pay the expenses of the Bureau in carrying out its duties and responsibilities. The compensation of the Director and other employees of the Bureau and all other expenses thereof may be paid from, obtained by, transferred to, or credited to the Bureau Fund under this section.

(2) FUNDS THAT ARE NOT GOVERNMENT FUNDS.—Funds obtained by or transferred to the Bureau Fund shall not be construed to be Government funds or appropriated monies.

(3) AMOUNTS NOT SUBJECT TO APPORTIONMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, amounts in the Bureau Fund and in the Civil Penalty Fund established under subsection (d) shall not be subject to apportionment for purposes of chapter 15 of title 31, United States Code, or under any other authority.

(d) PENALTIES AND FINES.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT OF VICTIMS RELIEF FUND.—There is established in the Federal Reserve a separate fund, to be known as the "Consumer Financial Civil Penalty Fund" (referred to in this section as the "Civil Penalty Fund"). The Civil Penalty Fund shall be maintained and established at a Federal reserve bank, in accordance with such requirements as the Board of Governors may impose. If the Bureau obtains a civil penalty against any person in any judicial or administrative action under Federal consumer financial laws, the Bureau shall deposit into the Civil Penalty Fund, the amount of the penalty collected.

(2) PAYMENT TO VICTIMS.—Amounts in the Civil Penalty Fund shall be available to the Bureau, without fiscal year limitation, for payments to the direct victims of activities for which civil penalties have been imposed under the Federal consumer financial laws. [To the extent that such victims cannot be located or such payments are otherwise not practicable, the Bureau may use such funds for the purpose of consumer education and financial literacy programs.]

(3) TREATMENT OF EXCESS AMOUNTS.—With respect to a civil penalty described under paragraph (1), if the Bureau makes payments to all of the direct victims of activities for which that civil penalty was imposed, the Bureau shall transfer all amounts that remain in the Civil Penalty Fund with respect to that civil penalty to the general fund of the Treasury.

(e) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS; ANNUAL REPORT.—

(1) DETERMINATION REGARDING NEED FOR APPROPRIATED FUNDS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Director is authorized to determine that sums available to the Bureau under this section will not be sufficient to carry out the authorities of the Bureau under Federal consumer financial law for the upcoming year.

(B) REPORT REQUIRED.—When making a determination under subparagraph (A), the Director shall prepare a report regarding the funding of the Bureau, including the assets and liabilities of the Bureau, and the extent to which the funding needs of the Bureau are anticipated to exceed the level of the amount set forth in subsection (a)(2). The Director shall submit the report to the President and to the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.

(2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—If the Director makes the determination and submits the report pursuant to paragraph (1), there are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Bureau, for the purposes of carrying out the authorities granted in Federal consumer financial law, $200,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, and 2014.

(3) APPORTIONMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the amounts in paragraph (2) shall be subject to apportionment under section 1517 of title 31, United States Code, and restrictions that generally apply to the use of appropriated funds in title 31, United States Code, and other laws.

(4) ANNUAL REPORT.—The Director shall prepare and submit a report, on an annual basis, to the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives regarding the financial operating plans and forecasts of the Director, the financial condition and results of operations of the Bureau, and the sources and application of funds of the Bureau, including any funds appropriated in accordance with this subsection.

DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

The Committee states that no provision of the Committee Print establishes or reauthorizes a program of the Federal Government known to be duplicative of another Federal program, including any program that was included in a report to Congress pursuant to section 21 of the Public Law 111–139 or the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

COMMITTEE VIEWS

SECTION 50001: HUD'S GREEN AND RESILIENT RETROFIT PROGRAM FUNDING

Section 50001 rescinds any remaining unobligated balances with the Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) Green and Resilient Retrofit Program, created under Section 30002 of the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022.

Background

Section 30002 of the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 appropriated $1 billion in new, mandatory spending to HUD for a Green and Resilient Retrofit Program (GRRP). The GRRP was designed to make grants and direct loans to the owners of HUD-subsidized properties to support energy efficiency and climate change resilience projects. Projects eligible for GRRP funding include: improving energy or water efficiency; enhancing indoor air quality or sustainability; implementing the use of zero-emission electricity generation, low-emission building materials or processes, energy storage, or building electrification strategies; and addressing climate resilience. The Biden administration executed 12 rounds of obligating funding under the program, with the final round of funding coming in November 2024.

SECTION 50002: PUBLIC COMPANY ACCOUNTING OVERSIGHT BOARD (PCAOB)

Section 50002 eliminates the PCAOB's authority to independently collect and spend accounting support fees and instead directs that all such fees be remitted to the U.S. Treasury after a transition period. The SEC would continue these responsibilities using funds appropriated by Congress, and further fee collection under Section 109 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ("Sarbanes-Oxley") would be discontinued.

Background

The PCAOB is a non-profit corporation Congress established to oversee the audits of public companies. The PCAOB's responsibilities include: (1) registering public accounting firms; (2) establishing auditing, quality control, ethics, independence, and other standards relating to public company audits; (3) conducting inspections, investigations, and disciplinary proceedings of registered accounting firms; and (4) enforcing compliance with Sarbanes-Oxley.[1]

The PCAOB was established as part of Sarbanes-Oxley in response to various accounting scandals of the late 1990s (i.e., Enron, WorldCom, the collapse of Arthur Anderson). Prior to its creation, the accounting profession was self-regulated. Sarbanes-Oxley provided the SEC the authority to oversee the PCAOB's operations, appoint or remove members, approve the PCAOB's budget and rules, and entertain appeals of any PCAOB inspection reports or disciplinary actions.[2] The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act ("Dodd-Frank") established the current funding regime for the PCAOB, which is done primarily through annual accounting support fees. These fees are assessed on public companies (based on their relative average monthly market capitalization) and on broker-dealers (based on their relative average quarterly tentative net capital).

SECTION 50003: CONSUMER FINANCIAL PROTECTION BUREAU (CFPB) FUNDING

Section 50003 modifies CFPB's authority to draw funds from the Federal Reserve to a maximum of 5 percent of the Federal Reserve's total operating expenses for fiscal year 2009, which were $4.98 billion,[3] and adjusting it for inflation thereafter. This would replace the current cap of 12 percent. Additionally, the CFPB would be restricted to holding an unobligated balance no greater than 5 percent of the revised transfer amount ($12.45 million for 2025) from the Federal Reserve. Any funds exceeding that percentage would be required to be transferred to the general fund of the U.S. Treasury.

Background

The CFPB was established under Title X of Dodd-Frank as a centralized federal agency to implement and enforce consumer financial laws.[4] Prior to the CFPB's creation, these responsibilities were dispersed across seven federal agencies, each with a primary statutory mission.[5] Under section 1017 of Dodd Frank, the Federal Reserve Board is required to transfer from the combined earnings[6] of the Federal Reserve System[7] to the CFPB an amount "determined by the Director to be reasonably necessary to carry out the authorities of the Bureau under Federal consumer financial law,"[8] up to a cap of 12 percent of Federal Reserve System's total operating expenses for 2009, adjusted annually for inflation.[9]

Transfers from the Board were capped at $734.0 million in FY 2022, at $750.9 million in FY 2023, $785.4 million in FY 2024, and $823.1 million in FY 2025.[10] Both the Federal Reserve and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations are expressly prohibited from reviewing or scrutinizing the Bureau's funding requests, and the Fed is legally obligated to transfer the funds upon request.[11]

SECTION 50004: CFPB CIVIL PENALTY FUND (CPF)

Section 50004 requires the CFPB to return to the general fund of the U.S. Treasury any civil penalties remaining in the CPF after payment to direct victims.

This section also removes the use of the CPF for consumer education and financial literacy.

Background

Under current law, when the CFPB obtains a civil penalty through judicial or administrative action under federal consumer financial laws, the collected penalties are deposited into the CPF. These funds are available to the CFPB—without fiscal year limitation—for payments to victims harmed by the underlying violations. Significantly, the CFPB may commingle civil penalties in the CPF and routinely uses penalties from one company to compensate victims of activities of a different company. If the CFPB determines it cannot locate the victims or finds that payments are not practicable, it may use the remaining funds for consumer education and financial literacy programs.

SECTION 50005: OFFICE OF FINANCIAL RESEARCH (OFR) FUNDING

Section 50005 caps assessments collected by the OFR, limiting them to the average actual budgetary expenses of the Financial Stability Oversight Council (FSOC) over the preceding three fiscal years. This cap would include reimbursements made to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) under Section 210(n)(10) of Dodd-Frank. Any excess funds in the Financial Research Fund above this three-year average would be required to be transferred to the general fund of the U.S. Treasury. The OFR would also be prohibited from collecting assessments that would cause the Fund to exceed this cap.

Background

Title I of Dodd-Frank established the OFR and FSOC to identify and respond to risks to the stability of the U.S. financial system. The OFR's core mission is to support FSOC and promote financial stability by improving the quality, transparency, and availability of financial data and by conducting independent research and analysis of risks to the financial system. Since fiscal year 2012, the OFR relied on assessments levied on large financial institutions—specifically, bank holding companies with over $250 billion in assets and non-bank financial firms designated as Systemically Important Financial Institutions by FSOC—rather than Congressional appropriations. These assessments are deposited in the Financial Research Fund.[12]

H. Con. Res. 14 instructs the Financial Services Committee (FSC) to submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction to reduce the deficit by not less than $1,000,000,000 for the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034.[1] Described further below, this budget reconciliation bill contains five harmful sections that significantly undermine consumer protection by crippling the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB); raise the prospects of more costly financial crises by slashing funds for the Financial Stability Oversight Council (FSOC) and Treasury's Office of Financial Research (OFR); eliminate corporate oversight by shuttering the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB); and slash funding for building and maintaining housing, even as an affordable housing crisis rages across the country.

Section 50001. HUD's Green and Resilient Retrofit Program (GRRP)

This section eliminates the remaining funds for HUD's Green and Resilient Retrofit Program, funds that were appropriated through the Inflation Reduction Act, and that have been used to help finance 37,000 housing units today.

The U.S. is experiencing one of the worst housing and homelessness crises in its history. There is a growing shortage of millions of homes for rent and purchase.[2] Since 2019 alone, median asking rents have increased by nearly 50% as house prices have reached an all-time high, surging by nearly 60% during that same timeframe.[3] The ongoing affordable housing crisis has contributed to more than 771,000 people experiencing homelessness on any given night,[4] the highest rate of renters and homeowners paying over 30% and 50% of their incomes on housing costs,[5] over 4.2 million individuals at risk of eviction or foreclosure,[6] and millions of mortgage-ready individuals being locked out of the dream of homeownership.[7] Moreover, the climate crisis is compounding the housing supply and affordability challenges as devastating storms and fires are destroying entire communities and leaving residents displaced or homeless.[8]

Section 50001 of H. Con. Res. 14 undermines efforts to address the climate and housing crises by rescinding unobligated funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) Green and Resilient Retrofit Program (GRRP). GRRP funds energy efficient and climate resilient upgrades in multifamily housing assisted through HUD's Section 8, 202, and 811 Programs.[9] Congress authorized $1 billion in mandatory funding through the Inflation Reduction Act under President Biden, including to support up to $4 billion in HUD lending authority. However, upon taking office, the Trump Administration cancelled GRRP contracts by Executive Order.[10] On April 15, 2025, the U.S. District Court for the District of Rhode Island granted a preliminary injunction in Woonasquatucket River Watershed Council, et al. v. USDA, et al., requiring HUD to immediately reinstate GRRP contracts while litigation is pending.[11] As of November 2024, HUD reported that it had supported nearly 31,000 homes with 17% of its funds being awarded in rural communities.[12]

Sec. 50002. Elimination of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB)

This section eliminates the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB), an agency that oversees the auditors of U.S. registered public companies, and transfers the responsibilities to the Securities and Exchange Commission, without providing any new funding or preserving the authority to assess fees on the regulated auditors as Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (Sarbanes-Oxley) currently provides. Congress established the PCAOB in response to the Enron and WorldCom accounting scandals. Enron's collapse alone resulted in the loss of approximately 25,000 jobs, wiped out $74 billion in shareholder value, and erased over $2 billion in employee retirement savings.[13] The failure of WorldCom cost shareholders upwards of $180 billion.[14] At the time of failure, Enron was the 7th largest U.S. public company; for comparison, today Berkshire Hathaway and Tesla are the 7th and 8th largest U.S. public companies. These events, coupled with the subsequent collapse of Arthur Andersen—then one of the world's largest accounting firms—damaged faith in the integrity of U.S. financial reporting and the auditing profession's ability to self-regulate. Some analysts have estimated this period's broader scandals resulted in approximately $7 trillion in lost wealth.[15]

In response to this crisis, Congress passed Sarbanes-Oxley—the centerpiece of which was the creation of PCAOB, whose primary purpose is to oversee the audits of public companies and to ensure the accuracy and independence of audit reports. The House—under the Financial Services Committee's Republican Chair Mike Oxley—passed Sarbanes-Oxley with a vote of 423–3, and the bill subsequently passed the Senate by a vote of 99–0. President George W. Bush described it as "the most far-reaching reform of American business practices since the time of Franklin D. Roosevelt," adding, "the era of low standards and false profits is over. No boardroom in America is above or beyond the law." He also focused on the importance of timely and reliable financial information that investors deserve, saying, "the only fair risks are based on honest information. Tricking an investor into taking a risk is theft by another name." Finally, he highlighted the critical need for an independent regulator for the auditing profession: "the accounting profession will be regulated by an independent board. This board will set clear standards to uphold the integrity of public audits and have the authority to investigate abuses and discipline offenders. And auditing firms will no longer be permitted to provide consulting services that create conflicts of interest." [16] In response to the 2008 Financial Crisis, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 subsequently expanded the PCAOB's jurisdiction to oversee auditors of SEC-registered broker-dealers.[17]

Congress established the PCAOB as an independent, non-profit body, overseen by the SEC, but crucially, made the PCAOB distinct from it. This independence was deemed essential to provide focused, specialized, and unbiased oversight of the audits of public companies and broker-dealers, and ended the century-long "voluntary self-regulation of the auditing profession and the beginning of formal, compulsory oversight." [18]

The PCAOB's mission, mandated by Congress, is explicit: "to regulate the audits of public companies and SEC-registered brokers and dealers in order to protect investors and further the public interest in the preparation of informative, accurate, and independent audit reports." [19] It fulfills this mission through four primary functions: [20]

1. Registration: Overseeing and maintaining the registration of all domestic and foreign public accounting firms that audit U.S. public companies or SEC-registered broker-dealers. Over 1,519, including more than 844 international firms in 80 countries, are currently registered.

2. Inspection: Conducting regular inspections of registered firms to assess compliance with Sarbanes-Oxley, Dodd-Frank Act, PCAOB and SEC rules, and professional auditing standards. Nine of the largest audit firms, representing 98% of the total U.S. market capitalization, are audited annually. These inspections are risk-based, focusing on areas where potential audit failures pose the greatest threat to investors. Last year, the PCAOB conducted inspections at 230 audit firms, including 200 inspections in over 31 countries.

3. Standard-Setting: Establishing and maintaining high-quality auditing, quality control, ethical, and independence standards for registered firms to follow. These standards serve as the benchmark for audit quality in the U.S. markets.

4. Enforcement: Investigating potential violations and imposing disciplinary sanctions, including monetary penalties, and barring firms or individuals from auditing public companieswhen standards are not met.

Through these integrated functions, the PCAOB plays an indispensable role in promoting the reliability of the financial statements upon which investors depend. This PCAOB's oversight has contributed to the long-term decline in the frequency of financial restatements from their peak in the mid-2000s, suggesting an overall improvement in financial reporting reliability.[21] The PCAOB's focused efforts on setting and enforcing what are widely regarded as gold-standard auditing rules are fundamental to maintaining investor confidence in U.S. capital markets.[22]

Effective audit oversight requires deep, specialized expertise. The PCAOB employs a staff of approximately 800 professionals, many with highly specialized qualifications and experience in complex audit methodologies, quality control systems, and forensic accounting techniques necessary to effectively "audit the auditors." This dedicated workforce represents a significant concentration of expertise focused solely on audit quality. The SEC has a much broader mandate, encompassing market regulation, enforcement across various sectors, corporate finance disclosure, investment management oversight, and more. Its staff expertise is necessarily diverse to cover these wide-ranging responsibilities.

The PCAOB is funded independently through mandatory accounting support fees levied on the public companies and SEC-registered broker-dealers it oversees. These fees are set annually based on the PCAOB's budget, which is approved by the SEC. The PCAOB draws no funds from the United States Treasury, and by statute its receipts are not "public monies of the United States."[23]

Effect of Eliminating the PCAOB and Transferring Responsibilities to SEC

No Transition Period. Transferring the PCAOB's highly specialized function into the larger, multi-mission SEC structure raises concerns about dilution of focus and expertise. Audit oversight could become just one of many competing priorities within the SEC, potentially losing the singular attention and resource allocation it currently receives. Furthermore, replicating the PCAOB's specialized workforce within the SEC would be a formidable challenge. It could take years, potentially decades, to recruit, train, and integrate a comparable cadre of audit oversight specialists within the SEC's structure, assuming the necessary resources were even allocated. During such a transition, the effectiveness of audit oversight could diminish, increasing risks for investors.

No Authorization for SEC Funding. Moreover, nothing in the section requires Congress to increase the budget of the SEC. Notably, because the PCAOB offsets its budget with fees paid by regulated auditors, the SEC would instead have to offset its budget with fees on securities transactions, which are paid by registered brokers.

Jeopardizing International Oversight. A component of the PCAOB's function is its international reach. Sarbanes-Oxley explicitly grants the PCAOB authority to oversee, inspect, and investigate non-U.S. audit firms that participate in the audits of companies listed on U.S. exchanges or SEC-registered broker-dealers.

This authority is vital as investors in U.S. markets rely on audits conducted across the globe. The PCAOB currently has authority to conduct inspections in over 80 foreign jurisdictions, and since 2004, has inspected auditors in over 58 non-U.S. jurisdictions. This is facilitated through extensive cross-border cooperation, often formalized in Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) or Statements of Protocol (SOPs) with foreign counterpart audit regulators. A recent significant achievement was the agreement the current PCAOB Chair Erica Williams reached with the People's Republic of China (PRC).[24] Subsequent inspections revealed alarmingly high rates of deficiencies in the initial audits reviewed.[25]

Shutting down the PCAOB would place the SOPs at significant risk. The China SOP, like other international cooperative agreements, specifically names the PCAOB as the U.S. regulatory body.[26] Dissolving the PCAOB as a distinct entity and transferring its functions to a SEC division would risk introducing serious uncertainty over the legal standing of these agreements. Renegotiation may be required not only with China but potentially with regulators in all 81 jurisdictions where the PCAOB currently has agreements to operate.

Committee staff requested technical analysis from PCAOB and the SEC regarding the effects of the bill. In Appendix A, below, we produce their responses, in relevant parts.

Sec. 50003. Significantly Reduced Funding for Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB)

This section would slash the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's budget by 70%, undermining the CFPB's ability to protect consumers. CFPB obtains its funding from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Fed), and the amount the CFPB can obtain every year is capped at 12% of the Fed's operating expenses from 2009.[27] This cap has been adjusted for inflation since the CFPB's creation, and for the current fiscal year 2025 (FY25), the CFPB's funding cap is estimated to be $823.1 million.[28] This section, however, dispenses with the past inflation adjustments, and would reduce the CFPB's funding cap to $249 million for FY25. This represents a significant 70% cut to their budget. Going forward, the cap's inflation adjustment would start again in FY26. Furthermore, this section caps CFPB's unobligated balances to 5% of the annual funding cap ($12.45 million for FY25), and anything in excess would be remitted to Treasury's general fund. This section also cuts a provision that stipulates that funds CFPB receives from the Fed are not subject to review by the Appropriations Committees in the House and Senate, so presumably this may mean they could hold hearings on CFPB's funding. However, this section does not authorize appropriations for CFPB.

In response to the 2007–2009 global financial crisis, caused in part by a period of unchecked and rampant predatory lending and a lax approach to enforcing consumer protections, Congress passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank) in 2010. Dodd-Frank created the CFPB as an independent Federal agency solely focused on protecting consumers from getting ripped off in the financial marketplace.[29] Since 2011, the CFPB has delivered remediation and relief to consumers, while imposing fines on companies and individuals that break the law. The CFPB has provided more than $21 billion in relief to 205 million harmed consumers in the form of monetary compensation, principal reductions, and canceled debts, among other things.[30] Furthermore, the CFPB has sent more than 10 million consumer complaints to financial companies named in those complaints, with 98% of consumers receiving a timely response.[31]

Congress designed the CFPB to be a strong, accountable consumer watchdog led by a single Director appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate with an independent funding mechanism that functions apart from the annual appropriations process, similar to most other financial regulators. The Supreme Court, with a 7–2 vote in an opinion written by Justice Clarence Thomas, upheld the constitutionality of CFPB's funding mechanism in the matter of Consumer Financial Protection Bureau v. Community Financial Services Association of America.[32] Additionally, the CFPB Director is required to report and testify before the Committee twice a year to discuss the agency's budget and activities, something that other regulators like the OCC and FDIC are not required to do. Unlike other financial regulators, the CFPB's rulemakings are subject to a small business review panel process, as well as review and potential veto by the Financial Stability Oversight Council.[33]

The proposed new funding cap of $249 million will not give the agency sufficient resources to carry out all of its obligations, including responding to millions of consumer complaints, issuing regulations, monitoring thousands of bank and nonbank financial companies that offer consumer financial products and services, conducting examinations of the largest consumer financial companies, and enforcing the law. In fact, this funding level is 60% less than what former Trump appointees who led the CFPB believed was required as a matter of law to fulfill the agency's statutory obligations.

After shortly taking over as CFPB Acting Director, Mick Mulvaney, who was no friend to the agency, requested $0 from the Fed because the CFPB had sufficient funds to cover the agency's operating expenses for the second quarter of FY 2018.[34] In his next quarterly request letter to the Fed, Acting Director Mulvaney complained about the structure of the CFPB but wrote, "However, I am bound to execute the law as written."[35] He also noted that Section 1017 of Dodd-Frank requires the Fed to transfer to the CFPB a quarterly sum "determined by the Director to be reasonably necessary to carry out the authorities of the Bureau under Federal consumer financial law. . ."[36] After doing so, he requested the Fed transfer to the CFPB $98.5 million ($126.2 million adjusted for inflation) for the third quarter of FY18.[37]

In fact, there were three occasions when Acting Director Mulvaney and Director Kathy Kraninger made a quarterly funding request near or above the proposed new annual funding cap of $249 million. To fund the CFPB's operations for the first quarter of FY19, FY20, and FY20, the CFPB leaders requested $219 million, $278.1 million, and $249.9 million, respectively, after adjusting for inflation.[38] In total, Acting Director Mulvaney and Director Kraninger made an average quarterly funding request from the Fed of about $130.1 million (about $155.3 million inflation-adjusted), which translated to an average of about $520.5 million annually (about $621.4 million inflation-adjusted).[39] Thus, the new funding cap of $249 million would provide only 40% of the amount of funds that Mulvaney and Kraninger decided were reasonably necessary for the CFPB to carry out their law, despite being vocal critics of the CFPB's structure.

Sec. 50004. Crippling the CFPB's Civil Penalty Fund

This section would severely limit CFPB's use of the Civil Penalty Fund (CPF). The section requires all CPF funds to be remitted to Treasury that are not used to remediate directly harmed consumers relating to that fine. This essentially undermines the purpose of the CPF, which previously allowed the CFPB to use penalties paid by bad actors to compensate harmed consumers when they may otherwise receive partial or no compensation because the violator closed or went bankrupt. This section also strikes a provision that allowed the CFPB to use any funding from CPF not immediately needed to remediate harmed consumers to support financial literacy, though it is worth noting CFPB rarely used such CPF funds for such purpose to preserve funding for situations where CFPB identified and wanted to remediate consumers were harmed by financial firms that had closed or went bankrupt.

Congress created the CPF to hold civil penalties collected by the CFPB from companies and individuals violating consumer financial protection laws.[40] Typically, when a company violates a consumer financial protection law, the CFPB will order the company to remediate harmed consumers directly and pay a fine to the Civil Penalty Fund. The CFPB is used primarily to compensate harmed consumers who cannot obtain full compensation from the violator, for example if they subsequently close or go bankrupt after they committed the consumer violation. CFPB is currently allowed to use CPF funds for consumer education and financial literacy programs, though it rarely has done so, opting to preserve funds to remediate harmed consumers that would not otherwise receive compensation.[41]

There have been numerous instances where the CPF has been helpful to compensate harmed consumers that would not otherwise receive relief, including when servicemembers, older consumers, and students have been harmed.[42] For example, in December 2024 and January 2025, the CFPB distributed $1.8 billion in refund checks using the CPF to more than 4 million consumers harmed by Lexington Law and CreditRepair.com, which the agency previously found engaged in bait-and-switch advertising and illegally collected upfront fees for marketed credit repair services.[43] CFPB also distributed $384 million to 191,000 consumers harmed by Think Finance and their illegal lending practices.[44] This section would prevent the CFPB from helping these and similarly situated harmed consumers in the future, undermining a key consumer protection tool.

Sec. 50005. Significantly Reduced Funding for Financial Stability Oversight Council (FSOC) and Office of Financial Research (OFR)

This section would significantly reduce funding for FSOC and OFR by more than 90% and would even permit future funding reductions. FSOC and OFR are both funded by the Financial Research Fund (FRF), which is funded through assessments of the largest banks and nonbank systemically important financial institutions (SIFIs) designated by FSOC.[45] In 2010, Congress, though the Dodd-Frank Act, created the Financial Stability Oversight Council (FSOC) and Treasury's Office of Financial Research (OFR) to close regulatory gaps exposed by the 2007–2009 global financial crisis and to ensure the U.S. financial regulatory framework monitored and mitigated threats to U.S. financial stability. FSOC is comprised of the Federal financial regulators and the Secretary of the Treasury, who serves as FSOC's Chairperson.[46] FSOC "was tasked with identifying risks to financial stability, promoting market discipline by eliminating expectations that the government will prevent firms from failing, and responding to emerging threats to financial stability."[47] OFR is an office within the Department of the Treasury that supports the work of FSOC and its member agencies, typically through research relating to financial stability.[48]

This section would effectively limit the FRF to the annual average of FSOC's expenses from the three most recent fiscal years that have been completed, and any excess funds would be remitted to Treasury's general fund. Notably, this formula does not include OFR's expenses too, which is much larger than FSOC's. For FY25, FSOC's budget is $19.7 million to support 48 employees, while OFR's budget is $124.6 million with 231 employees. Combined, their FY25 budget is $144.3 million. Reviewing FSOC's expenses for FY22–FY24,[49] this section appears to create an estimated cap of $13.289 million, representing a 90.8% funding reduction for FSOC and OFR combined. Furthermore, this section would not prevent FSOC from spending less than their new funding cap, and if they do, they effectively will be lowering the cap for FSOC and OFR in future years since the cap itself is based on FSOC's expenses over a three-year period.

Moreover, this significant funding cut for FSOC and OFR would also likely curtail the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's (FDIC) implementation of Orderly Liquidation Authority (OLA) pursuant to Title II of Dodd-Frank. Congress created OLA after Lehman Brother's disorderly bankruptcy contributed to the global financial crisis. OLA gives regulators an alternative to bankruptcy to safely resolve a large and complex failing financial firm. FSOC is required to use part of their funds to reimburse FDIC's reasonable expenses to implement OLA. Between 2010 and 2022, FSOC provided $64 million to FDIC for this purpose.[50] In 2018, Trump directed the Treasury Department to study OLA, and the Department affirmed, "Since the bankruptcy of a large, complex financial company may not be feasible in some circumstances, Treasury also recommends retaining OLA as an emergency tool for use under extraordinary circumstances."[51] In September 2023, FDIC's Office of Inspector General (OIG) found that FDIC had made progress in implementing the OLA framework, however the OIG made 17 recommendations of additional steps needed to improve the agency's preparedness to utilize OLA to promote financial stability.[52] Those efforts could be curtailed by this section, given the significantly less funding FSOC would have at its disposal to reimburse the FDIC with.

It Is worth noting this Is not the first time Republicans have attempted to rollback FSOC and OFR. During Trump's first term, the budget and staffing levels for FSOC and OFR were significantly reduced. One analysis noted FSOC's budget was reduced by more than 25% and staffing was reduced by almost 60%, and OFR's staffing levels were cut by more than half.[53] The Biden Administration reversed course to strengthen these financial stability bodies. For FY25, FSOC planned to increase staffing to 48 full-time equivalent staff (FTEs) compared to 14 FTEs in FY21. OFR planned to increase its staffing to 231 FTEs, which compares to when OFR had 111 FTEs in FY21.[54] However, this section would impose much more significant budget cuts on FSOC and OFR than the Trump Administration advanced in his first term, potentially crippling the work of these offices to promote financial stability.

Amendments

Committee Democrats offered dozens of amendments to improve the bill, however Committee Republicans unanimously rejected each of these.[55] They include:

- Amendment from Rep. Waters. This amendment would prevent the CFPB rollbacks and funding cuts from taking effect unless Treasury certifies that the bill will not lead to increased fraud for veterans or prevent harmed veterans from getting prompt remediation.
- Amendment from Rep. Velázquez. This amendment would exempt from the bill's CFPB's funding cut to ensure the CFPB has resources necessary for CFPB to fully enforce all regulations it has issued to protect consumers.
- Amendment from Rep. Lynch. This amendment would provide an exemption to CFPB's funding cut to ensure they have sufficient funding to protect servicemembers.
- Amendment from Rep. Foster. This amendment would provide an exemption to CFPB's funding cut to ensure they have sufficient funding to fully implement their Sec. 1033 rule to promote open banking and data privacy.
- Amendment from Rep. Foster. This amendment would ensure CFPB has sufficient funding to ensure consumers are protected from unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices (UDAAP) related to Artificial Intelligence (AI) and other emerging technologies used in consumer finance.
- Amendment from Rep. Foster. This amendment would ensure CFPB has sufficient funding to operate the consumer complaint database and ensure financial firms respond to complaints.
- Amendment from Rep. Liccardo. This amendment would ensure that reforms to undermine CFPB's Civil Penalty Fund will be blocked if the CFPB certifies that the changes would prevent consumers harmed by corporate malfeasance from being remediated.

• Amendment from Rep. Himes. This amendment would ensure harmed servicemembers and veterans would still be compensated through CFPB's Civil Penalty Fund if the financial firm has closed, went bankrupt, or is otherwise unable to remediate such harmed consumers.

• Amendment from Rep. Williams (GA). This amendment would block the White House from undermining CFPB's independence by prohibiting its ability to review or modify CFPB's budget or proposed rules and guidance before it is finalized.

• Amendment from Rep. Bynum. This amendment would ensure CFPB has sufficient funding for the purpose of ensuring student borrowers are protected.

• Amendment from Rep. Bynum. This amendment ensures that CFPB has sufficient funding for the purpose of implementing interpretative guidance on how payment consumer protections apply to emerging digital payment mechanisms, including those offered through video gaming platforms.

• Amendment from Rep. Bynum. This amendment would prevent the CFPB rollbacks and funding cuts from taking effect unless Treasury certifies that fees and other financing costs will be reduced for every consumer financial product.

• Amendment from Rep. Pressley. This amendment would maintain CFPB's robust funding and replace their funding mechanism with industry assessments, including on megabanks, big tech payment providers, and payday lenders.

• Amendment from Rep. Pressley. This amendment would maintain CFPB's robust funding and replace their funding mechanism with assessments on financial firms that broke consumer financial protection laws.

• Amendment from Rep. Bynum. This amendment would make the effective date of the PCAOB related section effective only upon certification by the SEC that retirement savers would not be exposed to greater risk, given that PCAOB will no longer inspect the auditors and public company audits.

• Amendment from Rep. Lynch. This amendment allow FSOC to study the effects of Trump's ownership of a crypto company that is creating a stablecoin and crypto exchange, and given his government role, whether such an arrangement could harm competition and financial stability.

• Amendment from Rep. Waters. This amendment authorizes the SEC $3.2 billion, to be offset by fees on well-known seasoned issuers (large public companies), to carry out the duties that PCAOB would now no longer do, including auditor registration, inspections, standard setting, etc.

• Amendment from Rep. Sherman. Strikes Sec. 50002, to not dismantle the PCAOB.

• Amendment from Rep. Pressley. This amendment would require FSOC and OFR to study DOGE cuts and their negative effect on consumer harm and financial stability.

• Amendment from Rep. Pressley. This amendment would require FSOC member agencies to report to Congress on the types and amounts of sensitive data that DOGE has had access to, and for FSOC to assess whether that information sharing has undermined data privacy, competition, cybersecurity, or other financial stability concerns.

• Amendment from Rep. Waters. This amendment would allow FSOC to investigate the President and other government officials who are gaining financial benefit from their ownership and marketing of crypto products for conflicts of interest that may harm financial stability.

• Amendment from Rep. Waters. This amendment would allow FSOC to monitor risks to financial stability arising from the government potentially requiring the use of particular stablecoins and other digital assets to contract with the government.

• Amendment from Rep. Foster. This amendment would require an FSOC and OFR study on the financial stability impact of the use of social media and other unofficial channels, including those personally owned by the President, to convey major policy initiatives, like on tariffs or attacking the independence of the Fed.

• Amendment from Rep. Vargas. This amendment would require an FSOC and OFR study on the impact that the President's attempt to undermine the independence of the Federal Reserve has on the economy, price stability, maximum employment, and dollar primacy.

• Amendment from Rep. Tlaib. This amendment would prevent these FSC provisions from taking effect if the government extends or expands tax cuts for wealthy individuals or large corporations.

• Amendment from Rep. Pettersen. This amendment would prevent these FSC provisions from taking effect if the government cuts funding for Medicaid, Social Security, or Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).

• Amendment from Rep. Liccardo. This amendment would require FSOC and OFR to study how chaotic tariff plans and a global trade war can harm the economy, financial system and dollar primacy.

• Amendment from Rep. Bynum. This amendment would require the Fed to conduct a study on the impact tariffs have on the cost of goods and services for consumers.

• Amendment from Rep. Waters. This amendment would provide over $150 billion in robust new investment in housing to address the crisis.

• Amendment from Rep. Waters. This amendment would provide full funding for 60,000 Emergency Housing Vouchers.

• Amendment from Rep. Velázquez. This amendment would strike Section 50001 and replace this section with funding to address the public housing capital backlog.

• Amendment from Rep. Green. This amendment would strike Section 50001 and replace this section with Rep. Green's Reforming Disaster Recovery Act.

• Amendment from Rep. Williams. This amendment would strike Section 5001 and replace it with funding for the HOME and CDBG programs to build, rehabilitate, and preserve affordable and resilient housing to bring down house prices and reduce the cost of post-disaster recovery efforts.

- Amendment from Rep. Pettersen. This amendment would create an exception to the requirement of transferring excess funds from the civil penalty fund to Treasury. Any remaining amounts in the fund that come from enforcement actions for violations of the Military Lending Act shall be transferred to the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Department of Veteran Affairs HUD–VASH program.
- Amendment from Rep. Liccardo. This amendment would provide that Section 50001 would not take place if the HUD Secretary determines that the rescission of funds would undermine efforts to reduce utility bills to tenants and landlords in public housing.
- Amendment from Rep. Liccardo. This amendment would provide that Section 50001 would not take place if the HUD Secretary determines that the rescission of funds would reduce funding for affordable housing projects to protect against natural disasters in disaster-prone areas.

APPENDIX A

TECHNICAL ANALYSIS FROM PCAOB

PCAOB programs would be impossible to replicate in the legislation's one year timeframe without significant disruption to audit oversight

The PCAOB has spent the last 22 years developing inspection, enforcement, and standard-setting programs that are based on audit-specific experience and expertise. That experience and expertise cannot simply be transferred to the SEC, meaning that there would be significant disruptions in our programs, putting our investor-protection mandate at serious risk.

The PCAOB operates three main programs.

- First, we inspect over 200 audit firms each year on a statutorily mandated schedule. We inspect selected audits and the quality control systems at these firms and publish our results in inspection reports. We also provide a remediation process that allows firms to correct quality control criticisms that we find during these inspections.
- Second, we conduct investigations and bring enforcement matters where we find serious violations of audit-related rules and standards.
- Finally, we set rules and standards for audits of publicly-traded companies and broker-dealers. Re-creating these programs at the SEC would be extremely difficult for two primary reasons:

First, the PCAOB has spent the last 22 years building our programs. While our policies and processes are certainly critical to our programs, it is our people who execute our investor-protection mission. We have spent more than two decades hiring experts in the field of auditing and further developing their expertise to perform inspections, investigations, and enforcement, and standard setting. It would be very difficult to re-create the talented expert staff that the PCAOB has assembled. Because each of our programs requires expertise to execute, including making complex judgments in technical areas, having the right staff is critical to our success as an audit regulator.

Second, we have spent twenty years negotiating agreements with the governments of foreign countries in which we need to perform inspections and investigations. Many of the countries in which we perform our work require by law that these agreements be in place. They are often difficult to negotiate, require the consent of multiple government bodies, and have taken years to put in place. The SEC is not a party to these agreements, and the agreements do not provide for assigning the duties and privileges of these agreements to another party, like the

SEC. As a result, the SEC will not be able to inspect or investigate in many of these countries, including China, until new agreements are reached.

As discussed in greater detail below, we estimate that it will take years to reassemble staff with the experience and expertise necessary to perform these inspections and to negotiate agreements with foreign governments required to perform our work. While those processes are ongoing, audit firms will know that their regulator is compromised and unable to adequately inspect and investigate their work. That puts investors in a dangerous position.

Experience of PCAOB staff

The PCAOB performs a large number of inspections each year. We have approximately 480 inspectors who conduct inspections, including selecting engagements for inspection, drafting inspection reports, and conducting our quality control remediation process, and many others are essential to supporting their work. In 2024, our inspectors spent over 750,000 hours inspecting 231 audit firms, including reviewing portions of over 900 individual audits, and conducting our quality control remediation process. These inspections were performed in 36 countries and include more than 20,000 hours that the PCAOB spent inspecting firms in mainland China and Hong Kong. In order to maintain that level of inspections work, the SEC would need to assemble a comparably-sized team of highly experienced staff willing and able to travel around the world to perform this work. We additionally have over 70 staff across our Office of the Chief Auditor and Office of Economic and Risk Analysis who all have unique experience to consult with and assist inspectors. These are aside from staff who have gained specialized experience operationalizing our programs. our programs.

The experience and expertise of the team are just as important as its size. Our inspections staff average 22 years of auditing and inspections experience. On average, half of that experience (11 years) was obtained working at public accounting firms and half was obtained working at the PCAOB. Our inspection leaders average over 31 years of experience, of which nearly half (14 years) occurred in public accounting prior to joining the PCAOB.

Our inspections staff have professional expertise in over 30 different industry sectors, including banking, technology, manufacturing, retail, oil and gas, and broker-dealers. Many of these sectors require specialized accounting, making this expertise invaluable. Our inspections staff also have expertise across 40 different subject matters that involve complex accounting and auditing, including revenue recognition, allowance for credit losses, derivatives, business combinations, and technology. Additionally, our inspection staff have expertise in over 30 different languages, which is important to support our work across the globe.

The same is true across our enforcement and standard-setting groups. Our staff are experts in auditing and are therefore able to bring complex auditing-related investigations and enforcement matters and draft standards that address the audit issues that put investors at risk. On average, our enforcement staff have over eight years of professional experience at the PCAOB, and most have a minimum of seven years of experience addressing complex legal and accounting/auditing issues before coming to the PCAOB. Our standard-setting staff have an average of nearly 10 years of standard-setting and rulemaking experience at the PCAOB, in addition to a minimum of 10 years of experience working in public accounting before joining the PCAOB.

Because of the experience and expertise required to successfully execute our programs, it has taken many years to build them to their current levels. Our inspection program began in 2003, and it took approximately six years for the inspection program to develop to the point where all statutorily required inspections of U.S. firms were performed at a basic level. More advanced types of inspections and inspections of certain critical foreign firms came later.

Inspectors' familiarity with the firms and their methodologies has continuously increased and contributes to the effectiveness and efficiency of inspections.

Still, even if the SEC assumed the significant cost of offering positions to all 480 plus PCAOB staff needed to conduct inspections, it is not guaranteed staff would be available to fill those roles. There is currently an industry-wide shortage of accounting and audit talent, and our team members are some of the most respected and employable members of the profession. In the last few years, firms have hired many of our staff members, often at significant salary increases. Our team members would be highly valued both in companies' accounting departments and at audit firms.

The SEC would be unable to inspect and investigate in the most critical foreign jurisdictions for a significant period of time, if at all

As a threshold matter, without greatly expanding on it in this letter, there is a risk that the Proposed Bill would be deemed to have no extraterritorial application—meaning the Proposed Bill might eliminate inspections and investigations abroad. In such case, the Proposed Bill will all but nullify the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act, signed into law by President Donald J. Trump, which gave the PCAOB historic access to Chinese audit firms.

Potential legal deficiencies aside, the PCAOB regulates audit firms that audit publicly-traded companies listed on U.S. stock exchanges (among other issuers), regardless of where those companies or their auditors are located. This means that there are many foreign audit firms that fall within the PCAOB's jurisdiction. In fact, of the 1,519 audit firms registered with the PCAOB as of April 15, 2025, 844 of them were non-U.S. firms.

The fact that a majority of registered firms are non-U.S. firms creates unique challenges. Many jurisdictions—including China, Hong Kong, and every member state of the European Economic Area—require that we enter into agreements with their governments in order to inspect and investigate audit firms in their countries. These agreements include statements of protocol with provisions on how inspections will be conducted, how foreign governments will facilitate (but not interfere with) our inspections, and how confidential information will be shared between the PCAOB and the foreign audit regulator, and they were negotiated over a period of twenty years. More than a dozen of the agreements are accompanied by separate, detailed data protection agreements that govern our procedures for handling protected information, such as personally-identifiable information, obtained in foreign jurisdictions.

The PCAOB currently has 27 working arrangements (not including accompanying data protection agreements) with foreign authorities, including a statement of protocol signed in 2022 that allows us to inspect and investigate completely in mainland China and Hong Kong for the first time. These agreements facilitate cooperation in each of these jurisdictions, but they are currently required in 20 jurisdictions for us to perform our work, including mainland China, Hong Kong, countries in the European Union and European Economic Area (EU/EEA), Switzerland, and the United Kingdom (with more EU/EEA countries requiring inspections—and therefore agreements—in the next few years). These are some of the jurisdictions with the most registered firms and some of the largest public companies. Together, firms in these 20 jurisdictions audit public companies representing $6.3 trillion in global market capitalization—roughly half of the $12.3 trillion market capitalization of public companies audited by all non-U.S. firms inspected by the PCAOB.

None of the agreements contains provisions that would allow the PCAOB's privileges and responsibilities under the agreements to be transferred to the SEC. In fact, all of the agreements are voluntary, and either party can exit the agreement at any time. This means that the foreign jurisdictions can simply end the agreements, are not in any way required to form new agreements with the SEC, and may indeed be required by their own laws to renegotiate such agreements.

These agreements give the PCAOB access that the SEC does not otherwise have. Importantly, the PCAOB's newly-obtained ability to inspect and investigate Chinese firms, made possible by the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act, would not transfer to the SEC and would be lost unless a new agreement can be formed and successfully implemented. PCAOB inspections and enforcement matters have revealed poor audit quality at several Chinese firms and have allowed us to take steps to protect investors who invest in Chinese companies traded on U.S. exchanges. That ability to protect investors in Chinese companies would, at a minimum, be significantly disrupted.

Even if the SEC were able to negotiate new agreements, it would take a significant amount of time. Many of these agreements have taken years to negotiate (and, collectively, well over a decade), and they often require the approvals of several government entities within a given jurisdiction. A transfer of PCAOB inspections functions to the SEC can be expected to delay, at least, the 2025 and 2026 inspections of non-U.S. firms as authorities in those jurisdictions assess whether they can facilitate SEC access to audit work papers in compliance with local laws under existing arrangements or whether new agreements and/or regulatory approvals are required.

For example, the law in the European Union requires an "Adequacy Decision" for foreign regulators, like the PCAOB or SEC, before any audit firm may transfer audit work papers to that audit regulator for inspections or investigations. Although the current EU Adequacy Decision recognizes the SEC as a "competent authority" to investigate audit firms in the EU, the PCAOB is the only U.S. authority to whom firms in the EU can transfer audit work papers and associated material for inspections.

The SEC would therefore need European authorities to revise the current Adequacy Decision to include the SEC as a party to whom audit work papers may be transferred for the purpose of inspections, and that statutory legal process alone requires nine months to a year. The European Commission (EC) initiates and manages this process, but it requires fact finding and legal analysis by, consultation with, and an affirmative vote of, all European Economic Area (EEA) audit regulators (via the Committee of European Audit Oversight Bodies or CEAOB). The PCAOB was able to obtain an Adequacy Decision only after an extensive education campaign about its inspection and enforcement processes and legal protections under U.S. law for information provided to the PCAOB by EU auditors, as well as reaching a nuanced understanding with regard to the reliance among audit regulators that is required by EU law.

Additionally, EU law and the Adequacy Decision require that each EEA audit regulator have in place bilateral agreements with third-country audit regulators, such as the PCAOB or SEC, that satisfy EU law, before firms can provide audit work papers to the third-country authorities. These arrangements address legal requirements on both sides, including the scope of cooperation, the confidentiality of information provided, the scope of the use of such information, potential onward transfer of information to other authorities, and the protection and use of personal data. Finally, because the U.S. is not deemed adequate by the EU with respect to the protection of personal data, an administrative arrangement (bilateral agreement) addressing the requirements of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) for the transfer of personal data to an audit regulator in the U.S. is also required. Such agreements must be approved by a European Data Protection Board (EDPB) opinion finding that the agreements are compliant with GDPR (as required by EU law, including the Adequacy Decision). The PCAOB's negotiation and EDPB approval of a model data protection agreement took well over two years, and the PCAOB continues to negotiate additional agreements based on this model, which takes months, if not longer, given the country-specific approval processes required in each EU member state.

These are just examples for European Union countries. Other countries present different challenges, and legal conflicts must be resolved frequently.

The PCAOB is uniquely positioned to secure and maintain these critical bilateral agreements. In particular, the PCAOB staff believe that the PCAOB's status as a non-governmental entity and the restrictions in SOX related to the PCAOB's use and onward transfer of information received in connection with PCAOB inspections and investigations were extremely helpful in achieving access to jurisdictions around the world. While challenges reaching new agreements with other countries are likely not insurmountable, they will take time and skill to surmount.

We do not anticipate the proposal having the desired cost savings for the federal government

It is not at all clear that transferring the PCAOB's responsibilities to the SEC would result in any cost savings for the federal government. First, it should be noted that because the PCAOB is a private entity, the majority of whose funding comes from fees paid by the largest publicly-traded companies, rather than through taxes, transferring the PCAOB's responsibilities to the SEC would require an expansion of the federal budget.

As described above, in order to execute the PCAOB's responsibilities, the SEC would need to hire hundreds of highly-skilled staff members. Although publicly-available information on SEC salary ranges also indicates that the average salaries of our inspectors are comparable to salaries of professionals at the SEC, over the last three years our staff seldom moved from the PCAOB to the SEC. The SEC also would need to set up and maintain systems that would allow them to perform inspections, including IT systems to document inspections work and retain firm work papers that serve as evidence of the inspection findings. Such systems are expected to cost tens of millions of dollars to develop and maintain.

Consequently, there likely would be minimal to no savings in compensation and IT costs related to our inspections program should it transfer to the SEC. While we have not been contacted by the Congressional Budget Office seeking our technical assistance, we stand ready to offer our perspective on the budgetary implications of the Proposed Bill.

The potential legal ramifications of the Proposed Bill's cut-and-paste approach

As an initial matter, the "cut and paste" approach the Proposed Bill takes to simply replace all references to the PCAOB under current law with the SEC may result in significant unintended consequences. For instance, the Proposed Bill requires that any reference to the Board in any law, regulation, document, record, map, or other paper of the United States be treated as a reference to the "Commission." In so doing, where Section 101(b) of SOX previously referenced the PCAOB, it would now read, "the Commission shall not be an agency or establishment of the United States Government. . . . No member or person employed by, or agent for, the Commission shall be deemed to be an officer or employee of or agent for the Federal Government by reason of such service."

This is just one example; there are more. The Proposed Bill leaves the PCAOB in a state of existential purgatory; transfers intellectual property retained by the PCAOB, including that which was developed by or in conjunction with third parties, to the SEC without consideration of the constitutional or contractual implications of doing so; makes consequential changes to the current multi-level review framework for registration disapproval decisions, inspection findings, and remediation determinations; and elevates the PCAOB's existing processes to the functional equivalent of SEC rules. These are some of the many complex issues that our staff have identified since we first learned of the language of the Proposed Bill near midnight last Friday.

The legal complexities and the potential market implications of disrupting domestic and foreign inspections (among other consequences) require careful deliberation. PCAOB staff have had mere days to consider these significant changes. By comparison, prior to enacting SOX, the Senate Banking Committee held ten hearings and engaged in a four-months-long bipartisan deliberation. The House Financial Services Committee held three hearings and deliberated for five weeks. The legal, practical, and market impacts of significant changes to the PCAOB are of such magnitude that significant difficulties may arise if those changes are made without sufficient time and deliberation, potentially resulting in harm to investors. The PCAOB staff will continue to assess the impacts of the Proposed Bill and stand ready to provide technical assistance.

The Proposed Bill would lead to significant gaps in investor protection

In summary, this proposal would lead to significant gaps in investor protection. The SEC already has a wide mandate. Adding to it would take significant time and resources. Adding a global audit oversight function would stretch the SEC's resources thin, disrupt ongoing inspections of audit firms, and nullify carefully negotiated agreements. By contrast, the PCAOB has focused exclusively on audit quality and resulting investor protection for over 20 years and has built a successful program that is a model for audit regulators around the world. Much of the PCAOB's expertise and experience would be sacrificed by transferring its functions to the SEC, and we expect that there would be significant disruptions in audit oversight over the coming years while the SEC tries to build that experience and expertise in-house and attempts to secure agreements with foreign governments.

When similar audit oversight was absent in the early 2000s, accounting restatements and fraud wiped out hundreds of billions of dollars in shareholder value. History shows us what happens when auditor scrutiny faces impediments. These disruptions invite that risk back into today's far larger and far more interconnected markets.

Technical Analysis from the SEC regarding the PCAOB section (Section 50002) of the bill produced at the request of the Committee staff, reproduced here, in relevant parts.

Does the SEC have any indication or engagement to suggest that jurisdiction that have signed SOPs with PCAOB are willing to sign similar SOPs with the SEC?

OCA Response: OCA understands that the SEC is not a party to any of the PCAOB's SOPs. For more than three decades, the SEC has developed an extensive list of Memorandums of Understanding with many foreign authorities under § 24 of the Exchange Act. Additional analysis is required to determine their breadth, including applicability to audit oversight and regulation. We feel confident that the SEC could accede to these relationships.

How many examiners or auditors does the SEC employ who have specialized experience in inspecting audit firms?

OCA Response: As of April 2025, OCA does not employ any personnel with experience conducting examinations or inspections of registered public accounting firms. Certain OCA staff in the Professional Practice Group, Accounting Group, and International Group have previous private sector experience conducting internal inspections of audits. As part of the Commission's current PCAOB oversight responsibilities, there are nine professionals in OCA's professional practice group, in addition to the Acting Chief Accountant, who regularly engage on issues related to the PCAOB's inspection program (e.g., methodology, reporting, interim Commission review of PCAOB inspection reports pursuant to 17 CFR § 202.140). There are an additional two personnel in the International Group who regularly engage on international auditing and oversight activities that consider audit firm inspection issues. Additionally, the draft legislation provides that employees of the Board "may be offered equivalent positions on Commission staff."

How many auditors does the SEC have that have previously inspected audit firms under SOX?

OCA Response: OCA is not aware of any of its personnel that have engaged in the examination of an audit firm pursuant to SOX (presumably as a member of the PCAOB staff). Note—this does not include SEC personnel's engagement on Interim Commission review of PCAOB inspection reports pursuant to 17 CFR § 202.140 as responsive. Additionally, the draft legislation provides that employees of the Board "may be offered equivalent positions on Commission staff."

How many individuals in SEC's Office of Chief Accountant are professional accounting fellows?

OCA Response: As of April 2025, 10 of OCA's 40 employees are Professional Accounting Fellows.

For each of the last 5 years, what has been the average salary (whether paid by the SEC or others) of the professional accounting fellows?

OCA Response: In each of the past five years, OCA Professional Accounting Fellows have been full time employees on the Commission staff on term appointments that typically last between two and three years and are not to exceed four years. These positions are at the SK–16 pay grade in Washington, DC, with ranges over the past five years is as follows:

Year	Pay Range—Washington, D.C. (Locality Adj. 30.48%–33.94%)
	Minimum	Maximum
2020	$148,878	$250,334
2021	148,878	252,838
2022	153,377	260,479
2023	160,831	272,100
2024	169,368	284,600
2025	173,127	289,400

How many of these professional accounting fellows have returned to accounting firms/audit firms?

OCA Response: OCA does not maintain official records of former employees' current employer. However, based on historical experience, a majority of OCA's Professional Accounting Fellows seek employment at accounting firms at the end of their fellowship. OCA also notes that OCA Professional Accounting Fellows have not solely been hired from accounting firms (e.g., fellows have been accepted into the program from public companies and standard-setting bodies).

How many of the former professional accounting fellows have appeared or practiced or engaged before OCA?

OCA Response: OCA does not maintain records of former employees' appearance and practice before the Commission or engagement with OCA. However, based on historical experience, a majority of OCA's Professional Accounting Fellows appear and practice before the Commission in some capacity (e.g., as an auditor or preparer of financial statements) following employment in accordance with the SEC post-employment restrictions.

CBO has not reviewed the legislation for effects on spending subject to appropriation.

The legislation would directly appropriate funds for

- Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to construct, upgrade, and replace barriers on U.S. borders; procure new vehicles and technology; and perform other activities related to border security
- CBP to hire additional border patrol agents and other personnel, provide signing and retention bonuses, and expand marketing and recruitment to increase the CBP workforce
- The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to protect the private residences of the President
- FEMA to reimburse state and local governments for costs incurred in hosting the 2028 Olympic Games and 2026 FIFA World Cup, to procure technology for state and local governments to counter unmanned aircraft systems, and to make grants under the Operation Stonegarden Program

Estimated budgetary effects would mainly stem from

• Expending funds directly appropriated for CBP's and FEMA's activities

Areas of significant uncertainty include

• Projecting CBP's pace of spending and the amount spent by 2034 on construction of physical barrier systems

• Projecting how quickly CBP could hire additional border patrol agents and officers

Legislation summary: H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, instructed the House Committee on Homeland Security to recommend legislative changes that would increase deficits up to a specified amount over the 2025–2034 period. As part of the reconciliation process, the House Committee on Homeland Security approved legislation on April 29, 2025, that would increase deficits.

Estimated Federal cost: The reconciliation recommendations of the House Committee on Homeland Security would increase deficits by $67.1 billion over the 2025–2034 period. The estimated budgetary effects of the legislation are shown in Table 1. The costs of the legislation fall within budget functions 450 (community and regional development) and 750 (administration of justice).

Budget authority includes only specified amounts.
* = between zero and $500,000.

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the legislation will be enacted in summer 2025. CBO's estimates are relative to its January 2025 baseline and cover the period from 2025 through 2034. Outlays of appropriated amounts were estimated using historical obligation and spending rates for similar programs.

Direct spending: Enacting this legislation would increase direct spending by $67.1 billion over the 2025–2034 period (see Table 2). All of that amount would result from specified direct appropriations for activities performed by Customs and Border Patrol (CBP) and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Border Barrier System Construction, Invasive Species, and Border Security Facilities Improvements. Section 60001 would appropriate $51.6 billion for border barrier system construction and related activities, increasing outlays by $49.7 billion over the 2025–2034 period, CBO estimates.

Border Barrier System and Technology. The legislation would appropriate $46.5 billion for CBP to construct, upgrade, and replace components of the barrier system along the southwestern, northern, and maritime borders of the United States.

Based on an analysis of information from CBP and historical rates of spending on border construction projects, CBO estimates that enacting the provision would increase outlays by $44.6 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

CBO expects that all of the funds provided by the legislation will be obligated before the period of availability expires at the end of 2029. However, we do not expect that all funds will be spent during the 2025–2034 period based on the historical spending patterns for other federal construction projects and because the pace of spending for construction projects typically spans more than five years from the time funds are obligated. (Under the rules that govern the federal budget, CBP would need to return any unspent funds to the Treasury on September 30, 2034.)

CBP Facilities and Checkpoints and Invasive Species Eradication. The legislation also would appropriate $5.0 billion for CBP to lease, acquire, and construct new facilities and checkpoints, and to upgrade or replace existing facilities and $50 million to eradicate invasive plant species along the border, increasing outlays by those amounts over the 2025–2034 period.

U.S. Customs and Border Protection Personnel and Fleet Vehicles. Section 60002 would appropriate $8.3 billion for CBP to recruit, hire, and train, personnel and to procure new vehicles and technology, increasing outlays by $8.3 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

CBP Personnel and Training. The legislation would appropriate the following amounts for CBP personnel and training:

- $4.1 billion for CBP to hire, train, and, in some cases, rehire federal employees as border patrol agents, field operations officers, air and marine agents, and support staff; and
- $2.1 billion for signing and retention bonuses.

CBP currently employs about 19,000 border patrol agents, 26,000 officers, and 1,400 air and marine operators. The agency indicates that the funding provided by the legislation would be used to hire approximately 8,500 employees, including 5,000 officers and 3,000 border patrol agents. Using information from the agency, CBO expects that officers and agents would be hired gradually over the next 10 years, with most additions occurring in the next five years, and that enacting this provision would increase outlays by $6.2 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Training, Recruitment, and Screening and Patrol Vehicle Procurement. Additionally, the legislation would appropriate the following amounts, increasing outlays equal to the appropriated amounts over the 2025–2034 period:

- $750 million for CBP to train staff at Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers and to improve those facilities;
- $600 million for marketing, recruitment, applicant screening, and programs to facilitate staff reassignments and relocation; and
- $813 million for CBP to lease or purchase patrol vehicles.

U.S. Customs and Border Protection Technology, National Vetting Center, and Other Efforts to Enhance Border Security. Section 60003 would appropriate $6.3 billion for CBP to procure, upgrade, and integrate new technology into the border control system, increasing outlays by $6.3 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

The funding would include:

- $4.5 billion for surveillance towers, linear ground detection systems, nonintrusive inspection systems, and scanners for the agency's biometric entry and exit program;
- $1.2 billion for CBP to acquire or upgrade various air and marine systems, including aircraft, watercraft, and unmanned aircraft systems, which CBO expects would be procured in bulk purchases; and
- $517 million for other CBP activities, including funds to combat drug trafficking, to support screening of applicants by the National Vetting Center, and for other activities including commemorations of events related to border security.

State and Local Law Enforcement Presidential Residence Protection. Section 60004 would appropriate $300 million for the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to reimburse state and local law enforcement agencies for costs incurred to protect the private residences of the President, increasing outlays by $300 million over the 2025–2034 period. Most of those amounts would cover overtime pay for officers and other personnel.

State Homeland Security Grant Program. Section 60005 would appropriate $2.6 billion for FEMA to support state and local law enforcement agencies addressing security threats, increasing outlays by $2.6 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

The funding would include:

- $1 billion to reimburse state and local governments for security, planning, and other costs related to hosting the 2028 Olympic Games;
- $625 million for similar activities for the 2026 FIFA World Cup;
- $500 million for FEMA to enhance state and local governments' detection and monitoring of threats from unmanned aircraft systems; and
- $450 million for the Operation Stonegarden Grant Program, which covers costs for personnel and equipment incurred by state and local governments as part of joint operations to secure U.S. borders.

Uncertainty: Significant uncertainty surrounds CBO's projections of the pace at which CBP would obligate funds and the total amount the agency could spend by 2034 to construct walls, fences, facilities, and checkpoints for the border barrier system. These amounts significantly exceed amounts previously provided for similar activities. For example, over the 2018–2021 period, lawmakers appropriated about $5.5 billion for physical barriers on the southwestern border of the United States. By the end of 2024, CBP had spent roughly $2.6 billion—less than half of the amount provided.

How quickly funds provided in this legislation would be spent will depend on factors that include the availability of contractors; fluctuations in the cost and availability of materials; and CBP's ability to acquire private land or obtain access to state, local, or tribal property.

Based on information from the agency, CBO expects that some stages of the process could progress more quickly than they might have in the past—many aspects of planning, land acquisition, and permitting for certain segments of the border have been completed or streamlined. However, the pace of spending on construction funded by the legislation is uncertain and the total amounts spent over the 2025–2034 period could be larger or smaller than CBO estimates here.

Considerable uncertainty also surrounds projections of the pace at which CBP would hire new personnel, particularly border patrol agents and officers. Although the legislation would provide funding for signing and retention bonuses and increase spending on marketing, recruitment, and screening of new employees, significant uncertainty exists about how responsive the labor supply might be to fill those positions. In recent years, because of background checks, training requirements, and other pre-employment processes, the time to recruit and hire new officers has ranged from 300 to 600 days. As a result, the pace of spending on personnel over the 2025–2034 period could be faster or slower than CBO estimates here.

Pay-As-You-Go considerations: The Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 establishes budget-reporting and enforcement procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or revenues. The net changes in outlays that are subject to those pay-as-you-go procedures are shown in Table 1.

Increase in long-term net direct spending and deficits: CBO estimates that enacting the legislation would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035.

Mandates: The legislation contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

Estimate prepared by: Federal Costs: Jeremy Crimm (for Customs and Border Protection); Jon Sperl (for Customs and Border Protection, and Federal Emergency Management Agency). Mandates: Rachel Austin.

Estimate reviewed by: Justin Humphrey, Chief, Finance, Housing, and Education Cost Estimates Unit; Kathleen FitzGerald, Chief, Public and Private Mandates Unit; Christina Hawley Anthony, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis; H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis; Chad Chirico, Director of Budget Analysis.

Estimate approved by: Phillip L. Swagel, Director, Congressional Budget Office.

APPLICABILITY TO THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Committee finds that Committee Print 119–A: Providing for reconciliation pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025 does not relate to the terms and conditions of employment or access to public services or accommodations within the meaning of section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 60001. Border Barrier System Construction, Invasive Species, and Border Security Facilities Improvements

This section appropriates $46,500,000,000 to the Commissioner of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) for construction, installation, or improvements of primary, waterborne, and secondary barriers, as well as technology upgrades such as, but not limited to, lighting, surveillance systems, smart access roads, and fiber optic cables to support enhanced communication and situational awareness across the border.

For nearly three decades, the use of physical barriers has been a core component of CBP's comprehensive border security strategy. Since the initial construction of border barriers in the San Diego Sector in 1991, U.S. Border Patrol agents have consistently advocated for barrier infrastructure, due to its proven effectiveness in enhancing domain awareness and agent safety.

The Committee believes that physical barriers serve as a critical force-multiplier by delaying illegal entries and giving frontline agents valuable time to detect, assess, and respond to migration events.

This section also appropriates $50,000,000 to CBP for the eradication and removal of carrizo cane and salt cedar plants. These invasive, dense, and fast-growing plants pose a significant tactical challenge for Border Patrol agents along the Rio Grande River as they can create major blind spots, severely limiting agents' ability to detect and respond to illegal crossings. The Committee believes that by eradication of these invasive species along key sections of the Rio Grande River will help improve and enhance visibility and ensure agent safety by restoring line-of-sight capabilities and increasing early detection of illicit activity.

Finally, this section will appropriate $5,000,000,000 for CBP to lease, acquire, upgrade, and/or expand U.S. Border Patrol, Air and Marine Operations, and Office of Field Operations facilities. CBP personnel operate on the front lines every day, yet many are forced to work out of facilities that are overcrowded, structurally inadequate, and technologically outdated. The Committee believes that investing in CBP's physical infrastructure is not just about modernization, it's about mission effectiveness and safety.

Section 60002. U.S. Customs and Border Protection Personnel and Fleet Vehicles

This section appropriates $4,100,000,000 to CBP for the hiring and training additional Border Patrol agents, Office of Field Operations officers, Air and Marine agents, rehired annuitants, and CBP support staff. Under the previous administration, agents and officers faced extreme operational pressure, mental health concerns, and an overwhelming sense of mission fatigue. The Committee believes that increasing the number of frontline personnel will help to alleviate the burden on current agents and officers and help restore morale.

This section also appropriates $2,052,630,000 to CBP for annual retention bonuses or signing bonuses to eligible Border Patrol agents, Office of Field Operations officers, and Air and Marine agents. CBP is currently facing a staffing crisis that threatens the agency's ability to meet its core national security mission. As the demands on frontline personnel continue to grow, CBP is struggling to recruit and retain the skilled workforce necessary to meet these demands. In some of the most critical geographic areas, persistent staffing shortages have left agents overextended and vulnerable to burnout. The Committee believes that the CBP mission depends on a resilient and dedicated workforce. The Committee strongly supports investments in annual retention and signing bonuses to secure the personnel needed to protect our borders, uphold the rule of law, and safeguard our national security for years to come.

This section also appropriates $813,000,000 for CBP to lease or acquire additional patrol units. CBP operates one of the largest law enforcement vehicle fleets in the federal government, with thousands of vehicles deployed across some of the most challenging and remote terrain in the country. These vehicles are essential tools serving as mobile command centers, transportation platforms, and first-response units that enable agents to carry out their mission of securing the border. Unfortunately, the agency's current fleet is rapidly aging. Many vehicles in operation have exceeded their recommended service life, leading to increased maintenance costs, higher rates of mechanical failure, and reduced reliability in the field. This not only jeopardizes agent and officer safety but also hinders mission readiness and response times during critical operations.

This section also appropriates, to the Director of the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, $285,000,000 to support the training of newly hired federal law enforcement personnel employed by the Department of Homeland Security, and $465,000,000 for the procurement, construction, and improvements to Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC) facilities.

FLETC provides training for federal law enforcement personnel across four campuses located in New Mexico, Georgia, South Carolina, and Maryland. In addition to serving over 125 federal partner agencies, FLETC also supports state, local, tribal, and international law enforcement organizations with specialized training resources. FLETC plays a vital role in both the initial training and ongoing professional development of DHS law enforcement personnel. The Committee believes funding in this section is essential as CBP and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement seek to recruit, train, and deploy additional personnel to meet mission demands.

Finally, this section also appropriates $600,000,000 to CBP for marketing, recruiting, applicant sourcing and vetting, and operational mobility programs for border security personnel. The increase in law enforcement personnel is only possible with investments to increase hiring capabilities. This can include every step from recruitment to medical and fitness assessments, entrance exams, and training professionals. In addition to these efforts to expand CBP's hiring capacity, the funding supports significant recruitment incentives to increase the pool of candidates in the application and assessment process.

Section 60003. U.S. Customs and Border Protection Technology, National Vetting Center, and Other Efforts to Enhance Border Security

This section appropriates $1,076,317,000 to CBP to procure and integrate new Non-Intrusive Inspection (NII) equipment and associated civil works, artificial intelligence, integration, and machine learning, as well as other mission support, to combat the entry of illicit narcotics along the southwest, northern, and maritime borders. At our ports of entry, CBP employs NII technology to detect and interdict illicit drugs, including fentanyl, as well as concealed currency, contraband, and individuals being smuggled into the country. While CBP has made huge strides in interdiction efforts, its current screening capacity at ports of entry remains alarmingly limited. The Committee believes that these gaps leave our southwest, northern, and maritime borders vulnerable to exploitation by transnational criminal organizations trafficking fentanyl and other deadly substances into our communities.

This section also appropriates $2,766,000,000 to CBP to upgrade and procure border surveillance technologies along the southwest, northern, and maritime borders. As threats to our national security grow more complex, CBP must have the tools it needs to detect, monitor, and respond to illicit activity across all sectors of the border. The Committee believes investing in advanced surveillance technology along the southwest, northern, and maritime borders is essential to maintaining domain awareness and ensuring the safety of our frontline personnel. Technology in this section includes, but is not limited to, ground detection sensors, integrated surveillance towers, tunnel detection capability, unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), and enhanced communications equipment.

This section also appropriates $673,000,000 to CBP for necessary expenses, including the deployment of technology, relating to the biometric entry and exit system under section 7208 of the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004 (8 U.S.C. 1365b). Investing in the expansion of CBP's entry/exit system is a critical step toward strengthening America's national security, enforcing immigration laws, and modernizing the travel experience at air, land, and seaports of entry. As the volume of international travel continues to rise and global threats evolve, traditional identity verification methods are no longer sufficient to meet today's operational demands. Unfortunately, full implementation of the exit system remains incomplete. Biometric entry and exit expansion will not only enhance CBP's operational effectiveness and efficiency, but it will also provide law enforcement and intelligence partners with timely and accurate information to help identify fraud and persons who overstay their visas.

This section also appropriates $1,234,000,000 to CBP for Air and Marine Operations (AMO) upgrades and procurement of new platforms for rapid air and marine response capabilities. Through the deployment of advanced aircraft and marine vessels outfitted with cutting-edge technology, this will enable AMO to expand their reach allowing for continuous detection, monitoring, and tracking of potential threats approaching or operating within U.S. borders.

This section appropriates $16,000,000 to CBP for necessary expenses related to U.S. Customs and Border Protection's National Vetting Center (NVC) to support screening, vetting activities, and expansion of the criminal history database of foreign nationals. As transnational criminal networks grow more sophisticated, the Committee believes that CBP must be equipped with the tools and data necessary to identify threats swiftly and accurately. Expanding the NVC is essential to enhancing national security and protecting communities by assisting frontline agents and officers to make informed, real-time decisions during border encounters.

This section appropriates $500,000,000 to the Secretary of Homeland Security (Secretary) for targeted communication campaigns designed to combat drug trafficking, fentanyl and its precursor chemicals, and counter adversarial messaging operations. Cartels increasingly exploit social media platforms such as TikTok and Snapchat to recruit associates and facilitate trafficking activities. Given the escalating threats posed by transnational criminal organizations, targeted communication plans are crucial in deterring these illicit activities and mitigating the cartel's media influence. These information campaigns can play a vital role in protecting American lives, dismantling criminal networks, and safeguarding the nation by effectively warning potential drug traffickers of the severe repercussions they will face.

Finally, this section appropriates $1,000,000 to the Secretary to support commemorative events honoring meritorious contributions and achievements related to border security, including events recognizing victims of crimes. Examples of such events include Line-of-Duty death memorials, Department or agency anniversaries, and commendation ceremonies. Funding in this section can be used for venue and setup, program materials, commemoratives (e.g., plaques, flags, awards); and personnel and services (e.g., honor guard, officiants, security).

Section 60004. State and Local Law Enforcement Presidential Residence Protection

This section appropriates $300,000,000 to the Administrator of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), for the reimbursement of law enforcement personnel costs for protection activities directly and demonstrably associated with any residence of the President that is designated pursuant to section 3 of the Presidential Protection Assistance Act of 1976 (Public Law 94–524) to be secured by the United States Secret Service.

Continued support of the Presidential Residence Protection Assistance grant is essential for the continued safety of the President. This grant provides reimbursement to state and local law enforcement agencies for operational overtime costs incurred while protecting any non-governmental residence of the President of the United States as designated or identified to be secured by the U.S. Secret Service.

With President Trump maintaining regular travel, proper security measures need to be maintained, particularly following the two highly publicized assassination attempts in 2024. Assistance from state and local law enforcement agencies is oftentimes necessary to ensure protection of the President's residences given limited U.S Secret Service resources. This funding would build upon past congressional appropriations and ensure that the Department of Homeland Security has the necessary funding to reimburse and utilize state and local law enforcement.

Section 60005. State Homeland Security Grant Program

This section appropriates funds to FEMA to be administered under the State Homeland Security Grant Program authorized under section 2004 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 605), to enhance State, local, and Tribal security through grants, contracts, cooperative agreements, and other activities. Appropriations in this section include: $500,000,000 for State and local capabilities to detect, identify, track, or monitor threats from unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) (as such term is defined in section 44801 of title 49, United States Code); $625,000,000 for security, planning, and other costs related to the 2026 FIFA World Cup; $1,000,000,000 for security, planning, and other costs related to the 2028 Olympics and Paralympics; and $450,000,000 for the Operation Stonegarden Grant Program.

The Committee believes it is essential to continue to pursue efforts to enhance counter-UAS capabilities and authorities for federal, State, and local law enforcement. As the capabilities and availability of commercially available drone technology have made significant advances in recent years, the emerging homeland security threat from such technology in the wrong hands has likewise increased. Terrorists, criminal organizations, and foreign actors can use drones to exploit vulnerabilities across a wide range of environments and targets for espionage or terrorist acts.

Suspicious drone incursions have occurred at military installations, sporting events, airports, critical energy facilities, and across the Southwest border at an alarming rate. This is a critical concern in communities nationwide, particularly for high-profile public events and critical infrastructure. $500,000,000 in appropriations for this grant program will support law enforcement efforts across the United States in developing their ability to detect, identify, track, or monitor UAS threats.

In 2026, the FIFA Would Cup will be held in eleven cities across the United States. FIFA anticipates that at least 5,000,000 fans will travel to the United States for the World Cup. Attendees will include multiple heads of state and other foreign dignitaries. The Committee recognizes the national security implications of hosting an international sporting event of this size.

On March 7, 2025, President Trump signed an Executive Order Establishing the White House Task Force on the FIFA World Cup 2026, to facilitate coordination with executive departments and agencies "to assist in the planning, organization, and execution of the events surrounding the 2025 FIFA Club World Cup and 2026 FIFA World Cup." To support President Trump's priority of the safety and security of events held on American soil, the Committee believes an appropriation of $625,000,000 for grants related to this event will enhance planning and security related to the 2026 FIFA World Cup. These funds will be made available through FEMA's State Homeland Security Grant Program, which assists State, local, and Tribal efforts to build, sustain, and deliver the capabilities necessary to prevent, prepare for, protect against, and respond to acts of terrorism.

Two years following the FIFA World Cup, the 2028 Summer Olympics and 2028 Summer Paralympics will be held in the greater Los Angeles area. The Committee believes an appropriation of $1,000,000,000 for grants to be made available for security, planning, and other costs related to the 2028 Olympics and Paralympic Games, made available through FEMA's State Homeland Security Grant Program, will have a vital impact on the security of our nation in preparation for and throughout the Olympic Games and Paralympic Games.

Already in 2024, the Department of Homeland Security designated the Olympic and Paralympic Games a National Special Security Event (NSSE), the furthest in advance that a NSSE has ever been granted. This designation is based in part on the event's significance, size, and anticipated attendance, allowing for significant resources from the federal government, as well as from state and local partners, to be utilized in a comprehensive security plan. The U.S. Secret Service is designated as the lead federal agency responsible for coordinating, planning, exercising, and implementing security for NSSEs through the Presidential Threat Protection Act of 2000.

Operation Stonegarden is part of FEMA's Homeland Security Grant Program, which provides funding to state, local, tribal, and territorial (SLTT) law enforcement agencies that are located along the borders of the United States to improve overall border security. Over the last four years, the United States faced a historic border crisis with communities and local law enforcement along the Southwest border bearing the brunt of the hardship due to the chaos brought on by failed border policies.

Operation Stonegarden is an essential part in the overall advancement of security along our borders. An addition of $450,000,000 in funding for this grant program will allow the Department of Homeland Security to further enhance its relationship with law enforcement, implementing a layered approach to secure our land and maritime borders from traffickers and smugglers. This grant program provides cooperation and coordination among U.S. Customs and Border Protection's U.S. Border Patrol and federal, state, local, tribal, and territorial law enforcement agencies by providing funding to support joint efforts to secure the United States' borders, especially in states bordering Mexico and Canada, as well as in states and territories with international water borders.

DISSENTING VIEWS OF COMMITTEE ON HOMELAND SECURITY DEMOCRATS

During the markup of the House Republican reconciliation package, Homeland Security Committee Democrats offered 34 amendments that addressed a range of concerns ignored in the disastrous underlying legislation, which was the Committee's piece of the larger, extreme Trump agenda, containing $7 trillion in giveaways to billionaires and big corporations and $880 billion in cuts to Medicaid.

The amendments—which ranged from prohibiting the Trump administration from illegally deporting U.S. citizens to upholding the supremacy of the Supreme Court to prohibiting cuts to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), among many others-addressed the Trump administration's abuse of its mass deportation agenda that has sent American citizen children with cancer to South America; its dismantling of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS); and its blatant mismanagement of the Department since taking office in January 2025.

Committee Republicans could neither promote nor defend their legislation or their party's administration. They chose silence instead.

On Tuesday, April 29, 2025, Committee Democrats fought for due process for migrants and American citizens alike. We fought for a strong DHS that did not ignore its responsibilities to keep Americans safe. We fought against handouts to billionaires and budget cuts for victims of disasters. We fought for our communities and the rule of law.

Republicans, meanwhile, leaned back in their chairs for more than 5 hours and waited in deafening silence to rubber stamp the worst excesses of a Trump administration that has proven it cannot be trusted. They waited to approve tens of billions of funds for a border wall President Trump once claimed would be paid for by Mexico.

Having rejected all the Democratic amendments during the Committee's consideration of this fast-tracked legislation, we implore our colleagues to do a little soul searching before voting to advance this legislation any further. We continue to believe that our country is better than what is represented in a bill that provides tax cuts for billionaires while denying the most vulnerable basic healthcare.

DEPORTATIONS

Committee Democrats put forward dozens of amendments to protect the American people as the Trump administration recklessly and cruelly implements its mass deportation agenda. Under President Trump and Secretary Kristi Noem, DHS is detaining and deporting American children with terminal cancer, punishing students for engaging in protected First Amendment activity, and denying due process to individuals, including those in the country legally.

Ranking Member Thompson offered an amendment to prevent funds in the legislation from being used to remove American citizens from the United States, except for compliance with treaty obligations and Federal extradition laws and policies. Committee Republicans unanimously voted against this amendment. Committee Republicans similarly rejected Democratic amendments that would have prohibited DHS from removing U.S. children—including those with cancer—veterans who served in the U.S. military and were honorably discharged, the spouses of active duty servicemembers, and pregnant women.

Committee Republicans also uniformly opposed Rep. Magaziner's amendment to prohibit deporting Americans to foreign prisons, including El Salvador's notorious Terrorism Confinement Center (CECOT). Committee Republicans then rejected Rep. Ramirez's amendment to prohibit deporting immigrants to third-country prisons, along with Rep. Garcia's amendment to prohibit removing immigrants under the Alien Enemies Act without due process.

Committee Democrats are appalled by the Trump administration's actions to send individuals to dangerous foreign prisons where they have no chance at due process or proving their innocence. Many of these individuals have never been convicted of a crime or had their day in court, in contravention of the U.S. Constitution.[1] President Trump has threatened to expand these illegal disappearances to U.S. citizens. In a meeting with President Bukele of El Salvador, he stated "The homegrowns are next, the homegrowns." Trump then instructed El Salvador's president to "build about five more places," to imprison the "homegrowns."[2]

Committee Democrats are committed to protecting the American people and the rule of law. By rejecting Democratic amendments, Committee Republicans made clear that no person is safe in America under the Trump administration's mass deportation agenda. Even American children undergoing cancer treatment are fair targets for Republicans and the Trump administration.

Rep. Magaziner also offered an amendment to ensure that no funds would be used to prevent an individual from seeking or meeting with legal counsel when being questioned or detained by immigration enforcement authorities. Republicans voted this down. Rep. Ramirez also offered an amendment prohibiting the Trump administration from reinstating family separation at the border. Republicans opposed this amendment.

Rep. Carter offered an amendment to prohibit DHS from detaining and removing any non-citizen for exercising their First Amendment right to free speech. If individuals like Rümeysa Öztürk and Mahmoud Khalil are jailed and deported for exercising their First Amendment rights, then any person in this country is under threat for doing the same thing. Republicans also voted this amendment down.

Rep. McIver and Rep. Johnson offered amendments to protect international students studying at American universities. Under the Trump administration, thousands of international students had their legal status terminated or visas revoked without transparency or justification, causing fear and chaos across the country. In some cases, students and their universities were not even notified of their change in status. These Democratic amendments would have ensured transparency and due process for students studying in the United States, yet Republicans unanimously rejected them.

Rep. Ramirez offered an amendment preventing Customs and Border Protection (CBP) from facilitating the transfer of migrants to Guantanamo Bay, a facility that President Trump promised would hold "the worst of the worst." Instead, the Trump administration wasted $40 million to temporarily jail there approximately 400 detainees, most of whom are nonviolent, low-risk individuals with no serious criminal records.[3] Committee Republicans, who claim to be against waste and abuse, voted against this amendment.

Rep. Kennedy also offered an amendment aimed at protecting American consumers and the economic vibrancy of our communities, which are heavily reliant on trade with Canada. His amendment would have prevented funds from being used to enforce tariffs on Canada, which raise the cost of everyday goods for the American people.

When the Trump administration spends its resources harassing, rounding up, and deporting American citizens, legal permanent residents, and international students in the name of border security, it is ignoring real threats from terrorism, domestic violent extremism, and gun violence. It is also putting at risk Americans who rely on government programs, like Medicaid, Social Security and FEMA's disaster relief programs, which Republicans would gut to fund the administration's campaign of terror and intimidation.

Furthermore, taxpayers should not foot the bill for failed campaign promises. This bill includes an additional $46.5 billion to construct the border wall that President Trump promised Mexico would pay for.[4] Republicans propose spending ten times the amount on Trump's failed border wall as they do on CBP personnel. Committee Democrats support the use of more efficient border security technologies to catch and detect smugglers and interdict drugs. Yet when Rep. Correa offered an amendment enabling funding in the bill to be used for new, innovative technologies, Republicans opposed that effort.

Health Care in CBP Custody

Democrats support funding for CBP to provide adequate health care to detainees in its custody, but Republicans rejected Rep. Thanedar's amendment to provide $1.8 billion over 5 years to do so. In 2018, two young children died in CBP custody within months of each other,[5] and a third child died in CBP custody in 2023.[6] After the 2023 death, CBP's Office of Professional Responsibility found numerous breakdowns in the child's health care.[7] Rep. Thanedar's amendment would have provided CBP the funding it needs to ensure adequate health care for detainees, but Republicans rejected the amendment.

DISMANTLING DHS

Committee Republicans did not just oppose commonsense amendments to stop cruel deportations. They also rejected amendments aimed at ending the Trump administration's wholesale dismantling of the Nation's homeland security and disaster response and recovery enterprise.

Republicans Wish to Abolish FEMA

The Republican reconciliation package completely neglects the fact that the Trump administration has started executing a plan to abolish FEMA. Secretary Noem and other officials in the Trump administration continue to openly discuss dismantling FEMA, which is the one agency dedicated to assisting Americans in the aftermath of disasters.[8] In a March 2025 televised Cabinet meeting, Secretary Noem even proudly declared, "We're going to eliminate FEMA."[9] Secretary Noem's remarks on eliminating FEMA come at a time when reports say FEMA will be short staffed by 20 percent at the start of hurricane season, largely due to Elon Musk's staffing schemes and politically motivated firings.[10]

In addition to weakening the FEMA workforce, the administration is unlawfully withholding billions of Federal disaster response, flood mitigation, and wildfire prevention grant funding even as court orders have instructed the Agency to immediately disburse the funding.[11] Committee Republicans rejected an amendment offered by Rep. Pou that would have prohibited implementing a process that delays or withholds the disbursement of funds made available in the measure. In April, the Trump administration announced that it was canceling nearly $4.5 billion in mitigation funding awards to communities across the country in from the Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities (BRIC) program—which is congressionally authorized and appropriated funding for mitigation projects.[12] Furthermore, political retribution is reportedly influencing key FEMA decisions on the allocation of assistance and determining which communities receive aid. Reportedly, FEMA employees are now saying that the Agency 1s politicizing "grant funds and disaster assistance like we've never seen before."[13]

Committee Republicans unanimously rejected all the amendments offered by Democrats that would have addressed the Trump administration's planned elimination of FEMA and the deleterious decisions at the Agency, including an amendment offered by Resident Commissioner Hernández that would have explicitly included the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, local, Tribal, and other territorial entities within the title's Homeland Security Grant Program section. This markup was another missed opportunity for the Committee to do its part to address the misguided effort to dismantle FEMA. At a minimum, Committee Republicans are complicit in the Trump administration's assault on Federal disaster relief and emergency support for Americans.

DHS MISMANAGEMENT

The Trump administration has paired dismantling DHS with mismanaging it. Committee Democrats attempted to draw highlight Republican failures to uphold the rule of law, strengthen cybersecurity, protect DHS systems from foreign interference through the official use of commercial messaging apps like Signal to share operationally sensitive information, and protect DHS workers.

Respect for the Rule of Law

Republicans' reconciliation package gives massive amounts of money to the Trump administration without accountability or guardrails to protect the Constitution and laws of the United States. The Trump administration has repeatedly engaged in activities that conflict with decisions and orders of American courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States.[14] For example, the Trump administration wrongfully deported a Maryland man despite an immigration judge having granted him a withholding of removal.[15] The Supreme Court stepped in and ordered the Trump administration to "facilitate" the man's release from custody in El Salvador and ensure that his case is handled as it would have been had he not been improperly deported.[16] The Trump administration has ignored the Supreme Court,[17] and President Trump has said that he does not know whether he is required to comply with the Constitution.[18]

There is no doubt that the Trump administration has—and will continue to-ignore the courts and Constitution. The reconciliation package essentially funds the Trump administration's lawlessness, and Republicans rejected Rep. Thanedar's amendments to prevent DHS funding from being used to engage in actions that conflict with court opinions or orders. Republicans are willing to spend taxpayer dollars on the diminution of the courts, laws, and Constitution of the United States, despite Democratic and democratic objections.

Ignoring Cybersecurity

On the matter of cybersecurity, once again, Republicans say one thing a do another. Despite the Chairman's pronouncement that the 119th Congress would be devoted to improving the Nation's cybersecurity, there is not one penny in the Homeland Security Committee's reconciliation title devoted to the issue. And, although the Committee did not allocate the full $90 billion allotted to it in the budget resolution, Republicans unanimously rejected an amendment offered by Rep. Magaziner that would have provided funding to rehire and retain highly sought-after employees at the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) the Trump administration indiscriminately fired or harassed into quitting in order to pass off the savings as tax cuts to billionaires. They also rejected an amendment by Rep. Swalwell that would have barred the Department from including veterans—among best trained and most devoted public employees in the Federal Government—from being included in reductions in force.

If the Chairman is waiting to find his so-called "cyber border" before investing in cybersecurity, he will be waiting a long time, and Americans will pay the price. This tone-deaf reconciliation package ignores serious threats facing the Nation—including cyber threats from Russia, China and its typhoon campaign, Iran, and cyber criminals-while turning a blind eye to the administration's reckless dismantling of America's cybersecurity agency. From election security, to threat hunting, to security by design, the Trump administration is gutting the core services CISA offers governments and the private sector alike, and Committee Republicans do not care.

Failing the Workforce

The Republican reconciliation package provides tens of billions of dollars to OHS for border security at the same time as the Trump administration undermines the government workers who actually protect the homeland. Rep. Correa proposed an amendment to prohibit OHS from using its funding to harm homeland security workers by undermining or canceling collective bargaining agreements, but Republicans rejected that amendment. Meanwhile, President Trump issued an executive order undermining collective bargaining at OHS agencies like USCIS and ICE,[19] and Secretary Noem announced that OHS would cancel its collective bargaining agreement with the union representing TSA Officers.[20] The Republican reconciliation scam is a giveaway that will harm workers, and Republicans are complicit.

Drug Trafficking

The Republican reconciliation package seeks to combat drug trafficking across our borders but fails to address the very things that fuel drug traffickers: guns and bulk cash. Firearms and bulk amounts of cash are consistently smuggled out of America and into Mexico. The outbound flow of weapons and cash to fuel cartel violence is a real threat. Just recently, CBP officers in Del Rio seized nine weapons, 260 rounds of ammunition, 24 magazines, and weapons' components hidden in two vehicles traveling to Mexico.[21] A few weeks prior, officers at the same port of entry found 16 firearms, including three assault rifles, 26 magazines, and 182 rounds of ammunition hidden in another van.[22] Moreover, in Texas, CBP officers recently seized over $270,000 dollars in unreported currency from a single Toyota headed to Mexico.[23] The seized weapons and cash could have easily gone into the hands of cartel members, furthering drug trafficking and other criminal operations. Without a mandate and resources for CBP to improve its outbound inspections program, the administration's crackdown on the drug trade is mere talk. Securing the southern border and countering drug trafficking means making sure U.S. officials are inspecting both what is entering and what is leaving the country, and the Republican legislation fails to address the latter.

Signalgate

Foreign intelligence services work around the clock to gain access to sensitive U.S. homeland and national security information. The targeting of senior government officials to elicit such information is one method used by foreign adversaries to do this. On March 24, our foreign adversaries learned that they may not have to work so hard to target the most senior national security officials in the country when it was revealed that the highest-ranking Trump administration officials had used the commercial messaging app Signal to discuss highly sensitive and classified information and inadvertently added a journalist to the text message chain.

The Trump administration and House Republicans want the American people to believe that nothing classified was discussed on these chats, but the American people know better. It is clear from the lack of investigations and introduced articles of impeachment related to the egregious national security breach—and Mike Waltz's recent promotion to nominee for UN ambassador—that House Republicans and the Trump administration could not care less about protecting information that, if disclosed, could damage our national security and harm our U.S. service men and women. This is also evident from the fact that the Republican reconciliation package allocated zero dollars for DHS counterintelligence programs, projects, or activities to detect, deter, and disrupt foreign intelligence threats.

CONCLUSION

Committee Republicans chose silence over addressing pressing concerns regarding unlawful deportations, the haphazard dismantling of DHS without legislative mandate, and the amateurish mismanagement of the Department. They have chosen to spend $69 billion in hard-earned taxpayer money to make more palatable deep cuts to Medicaid and to cut the taxes of billionaires.

Regardless of what these funds in the reconciliation package could potentially do if put in the right hands, the Trump administration has proven itself incompetent and unreliable at best and an enemy of the Constitution and Congress's power of the purse at worst. Trump and Noem are unconstitutionally dismantling DHS—firing hundreds of civil servants, freezing grants, eliminating the watchdogs who protect Americans, and failing to respond to Hurricane Helene's devastation in North Carolina. There is no guarantee that the money included this package would be spent the way it is laid out in the Committee Print—or anywhere else in the Republican legislative agenda. Moreover, congressional Republicans have also proven themselves wholly incapable of any oversight of this administration. Even worse, the Homeland Security Committee has embarked on this massive spending plan without having first held a hearing with Secretary Noem and scrutinizing her priorities and the Department's needs. The Committee scheduled its first meeting with the Secretary for more than 2 weeks after marking up this funding package.

The Republican reconciliation measure spends billions of taxpayer dollars and puts Americans' security at risk—all while cutting Medicaid to give tax cuts to billionaires and large corporations. Homeland Security Democrats strongly oppose this reckless Republican rip-off.

same time, the number of aliens in the U.S. with final orders of removal grew to nearly 1.5 million.[2] For four years, untold scores of otherwise removable aliens were allowed to remain in the United States because the previous Administration did not classify them as "priorities" for removal.[3]

The Biden-Harris Administration made it nearly impossible to remove illegal aliens from the United States. In September 2021, then-Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Secretary Mayorkas issued a memorandum entitled "Guidelines for the Enforcement of Civil Immigration Law" ("Mayorkas Memo"), which outlined three enforcement priorities: national security, public safety, and border security.[4] The Mayorkas Memo began with the assumption that "undocumented noncitizens" work hard and contribute to "our communities" and that "bipartisan groups" have "tried to pass legislation that would provide a path to citizenship or other lawful status for the approximately 11 million undocumented noncitizens" in the country.[5] From that premise, Secretary Mayorkas articulated a new policy that the mere fact that aliens are removable pursuant to U.S. law "should not alone be the basis of an enforcement action against them."[6] Under the Mayorkas Memo, for instance, "[b]efore ICE officers [could] arrest and detain aliens as a threat to public safety, they [were] now required to conduct an assessment of the individual and the totality of facts and circumstances, including various aggravating or mitigating factors."[7] In this assessment, ICE officers were prohibited from relying solely on the fact of an alien's conviction, regardless of the seriousness of the underlying crime.[8] After listing certain aggravating and mitigating factors, the Mayorkas Memo stated that the listed factors were "not exhaustive" and that "the overriding question is whether the noncitizen poses a current threat to public safety."[9] The Mayorkas Memo also did not presumptively subject aliens with aggravated felony convictions to enforcement action or detention.[10]

As a result of the Mayorkas Memo and the Biden-Harris Administration's refusal to enforce immigration laws, ICE administrative arrests and interior removals dropped off a cliff. In fiscal year 2018, under the first Trump Administration, ICE made 158,581 administrative arrests of aliens in the United States.[11] Those arrests included 105,140 convicted criminals; 32,977 with pending criminal charges; and 20,464 with other immigration violations.[12] During the same time, ICE removed 95,360 aliens from the interior of the United States.[13] The Biden-Harris Administration reversed course, arresting only 36,322 convicted criminals and only 10,074 with pending criminal charges in fiscal year 2022.[14] The drop in removals was even more staggering, with only 28,204 interior removals in fiscal year 2022.[15]

Although the Biden-Harris Administration boasted that its "overall removals" in fiscal year 2024 (271,484) exceeded the Trump Administration's overall removals in fiscal year 2019 (267,258), this increase is solely because there were more illegal aliens arriving at the border, being arrested by CBP, and being immediately removed or allowed to return to Mexico.[16] The removal numbers were not indicative of increased enforcement compared to the first Trump Administration and were only a fraction of the more than two million illegal aliens encountered at the southwest border in fiscal year 2024.[17] In fact, removals of aliens from the interior of the U.S. remained significantly lower in fiscal year 2024 than in the last full, non-COVID year of the first Trump Administration. In fiscal year 2024, the Biden-Harris Administration removed from the interior of the country only 47,732 aliens, compared to 85,958 interior removals in fiscal year 2019.[18] At the same time, the Biden-Harris Administration removed far fewer criminal aliens from the interior of the U.S. compared to the Trump Administration. For example, in fiscal year 2024, the Biden-Harris Administration removed only 36,279 convicted criminals from the interior compared to 64,991 removed in 2019.[19]

Record border encounters also led to a drop in arrests of aliens from fiscal year 2023 to fiscal year 2024.[20] In highlighting how both at-large arrests—ICE interior arrests that are made in the community and not in a controlled environment like a jail—and overall arrests of aliens dropped from fiscal year 2023 to fiscal year 2024, ICE admitted that a "focus on border cases impacted routine interior enforcement operations."[21] In other words, because of the Biden-Harris border crisis, more criminal aliens were allowed to remain in the United States. In fact, in fiscal year 2024, the Biden-Harris Administration made fewer at-large arrests of criminal aliens (14,851) than the Trump Administration in fiscal year 2019 (25,421).[22] Likewise, overall arrests of criminal aliens were far lower in fiscal year 2024 (81,312) than in fiscal year 2019

(123,128).[23] Meanwhile, the number of aliens on ICE's non-detained docket soared to more than 7.6 million, a 135 percent increase from the end of fiscal year 2020, just before President Biden and Vice President Harris took office.[24]

Accordingly, with thousands of criminal and otherwise removable aliens left roaming the streets due to the Biden-Harris Administration's policies, the Trump Administration today has been left with a tall task to enforce the immigration laws. The Committee's reconciliation package will give ICE the necessary resources to enforce current immigration law.

Adult alien detention capacity and family residential centers

Currently, ICE is funded through annual appropriations for detention beds sufficient to support an average daily population of 41,500 single adult aliens.[25] While the Trump Administration reconfigured resources and currently has detention space for nearly 50,000 aliens,[26] and has worked creatively to increase the amount of detention available to the agency,[27] a large increase in the number of detention beds is necessary to effectuate the President's immigration agenda. The Trump Administration also seeks to expand family residential center capacity. The Biden-Harris Administration, in line with its other policies that completely disregarded the enforcement of immigration laws, generally released family units into the United States.[28] In fact, by December 2021, "ICE stopped housing families entirely."[29] Although the Biden-Harris Administration briefly considered resuming family detention,[30] the outcry from open-borders activists[31] scuttled those plans.[32]

Knowing that the Biden-Harris Administration would give them a free pass into the United States, family units arrived at the southwest border in record numbers. During fiscal year 2019, CBP apprehended 473,682 aliens who were part of a family unit.[33] In fiscal year 2020, during the COVID–19 pandemic, CBP encountered 70,994 aliens who were part of a family unit.[34] In fiscal year 2021, that number soared to 478,492;[35] in fiscal year 2022, 560,646; in fiscal year 2023, 821,537; and in fiscal year 2024, CBP encountered 804,456 aliens who were part of a family unit.[36]

For years, cartels have exploited children to attempt entry into the United States. During the first Trump Administration, then-Acting CBP Commissioner Mark Morgan described how "illegal aliens were coached and mentored and given what to say by the cartels and the human smuggling organizations: You grab a kid, and that is your U.S. passport."[37] After President Biden took office, cartels took advantage of the Biden-Harris Administration's policies related to the mass release of family units. According to a report by the New York Post, cartels split up minors from their parents and then had cartel members pose as the minors' relatives to ensure quick entry into the United States.[38]

The Committee's reconciliation package provides ICE with funds to increase adult alien detention capacity and family residential center capacity. The Committee's reconciliation package also provides funding for short-term detention space for adult aliens who are charged with illegal entry so that the aliens can be detained with the alien minors who entered the United States with them.

Ground and air transportation

To effectuate the President's removal goals, an increase in ground and air transportation is also needed. The Committee's reconciliation package provides funds to increase ICE removal operations, including amounts necessary for ground transportation, air charters to return aliens to their home countries, commercial air costs associated with in-country transfers, transportation of unaccompanied alien children (UAC), and ensuring other departures of aliens.

ICE personnel

The Committee's reconciliation package provides funds to hire additional ICE officers, agents, and support personnel to enforce current immigration law. Personnel to be hired include new law enforcement officers involved in case management, detention, investigations, and removals. In addition, the Committee's proposal funds support-staff positions to allow ICE to complete its enforcement functions more efficiently.

ICE trial attorneys at the Office of the Principal Legal Advisor

The process to remove an alien from the United States usually involves an ICE attorney prosecuting the alien's removal case before an immigration judge in immigration court.[39] ICE attorneys, through the Office of the Principal Legal Advisor (OPLA), are the "exclusive representative of DHS in immigration removal proceedings before [EOIR], litigating all removal cases."[40] OPLA "is the largest legal program in DHS, with more than 1,700 attorneys and nearly 300 support personnel."[41]

The Biden-Harris Administration upended OPLA's role in prosecuting immigration cases and directed ICE attorneys to support the Administration's open-borders agenda. On April 3, 2022, Kerry Doyle, the DHS official who at the time oversaw OPLA, issued a memorandum ("Doyle Memo") to ICE attorneys directing them to promote the closure and dismissal of cases, particularly given the immigration court backlog.[42] The Doyle Memo outlined how ICE attorneys were "expected to exercise discretion"—that is, move to dismiss immigration cases—"at all stages of the enforcement process."[43] In other words, ICE attorneys were expected to ensure that certain aliens' cases never moved forward in immigration court so the Biden-Harris Administration could achieve its open-borders agenda.

Through the Doyle Memo, the Biden-Harris Administration gave ICE attorneys a playbook for ensuring countless cases disappeared from the immigration court docket or, as the Doyle Memo framed it, "efficiently remov[ing] nonpriority cases from the docket altogether."[44] For cases that were not a priority—meaning cases that ICE attorneys determined did not qualify as a threat to national security, public safety, or border security—the Doyle Memo specified that ICE attorneys should not file a Notice to Appear in the cases.[45] If DHS does not file a Notice to Appear in a case, DHS does not initiate immigration court removal against those particular aliens.[46] In non-priority cases in which immigration court proceedings have already begun, the Doyle Memo instructed ICE attorneys to seek to dismiss proceedings or "consider alternative forms of prosecutorial discretion, including administrative closure, stipulations to issues or relief, continuances, not pursuing an appeal, joining motions to reopen, and stipulations in bond hearings."[47] In both cases, ICE attorneys' actions ensured that an alien would not be removed from the United States.

[46] See Immigr. Court Practice Manual, ch. 4.2, https://www.justice.gov/eoir/reference-materials/ic/chapter-4/2 (last accessed Apr. 24, 2025). According to the Immigration Court Practice Manual, "[o]n occasion, an initial hearing is scheduled before the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has been able to file a Notice to Appear with the immigration court. For example, DHS may serve a Notice to Appear, which contains a hearing date, on a respondent, but not file the Notice to Appear with the court until sometime later. Where DHS has not filed the Notice to Appear with the court by the time of the first hearing, this is known as a 'failure to prosecute.' If there is a failure to prosecute, the respondent and counsel may be excused until DHS files the Notice to Appear with the court, at which time a hearing is scheduled." Id.

Because of the Biden-Harris Administration's policies, the workload for OPLA attorneys is now higher than ever. The numbers tell the story: During the Biden-Harris Administration, immigration judges dismissed, terminated, or administratively closed hundreds of thousands of cases,[48] most of which will likely need to be reopened or restarted so OPLA attorneys can pursue the aliens' removals from the United States. With an immigration court backlog of more than 4 million cases,[49] OPLA requires even more manpower to prosecute the millions of new cases that flooded the system under the Biden-Harris Administration. Meanwhile, a 2024 DHS report revealed how OPLA already had to "implement[ ] new virtual capabilities to address attorney shortages relative to the expansion" of the number of immigration judges.[50]

The Committee's reconciliation package provides funding to the Trump Administration to hire additional OPLA attorneys to represent DHS in removal proceedings and staff necessary to support such attorneys.

ICE HIRING AND RETENTION BONUSES

Like many law enforcement agencies, in the wake of anti-police sentiment fomented by activists on the left, ICE has faced recruiting and retention challenges. In addition to the challenge posed by general anti-law enforcement sentiment, immigration activists frequently vilify ICE for simply doing their jobs. Recently, in Los Angeles, for example, ICE agents were doxed by anti-immigration activists.[51] These kinds of actions can result in threats against individual officers, making it difficult not only for ICE to complete its mission but for the agency to maintain an appropriate level of staffing. The Committee's reconciliation package provides funding for $10,000 hiring and retention bonuses for ICE personnel. The hiring bonuses require newly hired personnel to commit to at least two years of service with ICE. The retention bonuses require personnel to commit to five additional years of service with ICE. This section provides ICE discretion in awarding retention bonuses due to issues with certain statutory pay caps. The Committee's proposal further provides that qualifying individuals will enter into written service agreements with ICE that include relevant terms and conditions.

287(G) PROGRAM

Current immigration law empowers state and local law enforcement agencies to partner with ICE to investigate, apprehend, or detain illegal aliens.[52] Under section 287(g) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), the federal government may enter into written agreements with state and local agencies, through which law enforcement officers "may carry out" immigration enforcement-related functions "at the expense of the [s]tate . . . and to the extent consistent with [s]tate and local law."[53] The program is known as the 287(g) program.[54] According to ICE, the 287(g) program gives the agency the ability "to enhance collaboration with state and local law enforcement partners to protect the homeland through the arrest and removal of aliens who undermine the safety of our nation's communities and the integrity of U.S. immigration laws."[55] Law enforcement agencies "interested in participating in the 287(g) [p]rogram must sign a[ ] [memorandum of agreement] with ICE" and "nominate officers to participate in the 287(g) [p]rogram."[56]

ICE uses three types of 287(g) agreements: the Jail Enforcement Model (JEM); the Warrant Service Officer Model (WSO); and the Task Force Model (TFM).[57] The models include varying degrees of immigration authority:

- The Jail Enforcement Model "delegates certain authority to state and local law enforcement agencies to identify criminal aliens and immigration violators in local custody and place them into immigration proceedings."[58]
- The Warrant Service Officer Model "provides legal authority to state and local law enforcement officers to execute civil immigration warrants on behalf of [Enforcement and Removal Operations] within the confines of their detention facilities."[59]
- The Task Force Model "serves as a force multiplier for state and local law enforcement agencies to enforce limited immigration authority with ICE oversight during their routine police duties."[60]

As of May 1, 2025, ICE had entered into 287(g) JEM agreements with 87 law enforcement agencies in 25 states, 287(g) WSO agreements with 189 law enforcement agencies in 28 states, and 287(g) TFM agreements with 241 agencies in 26 states.[61] In fiscal year

U.S. Customs and Border Protection

"Remain in Mexico"/Migrant Protection Protocols (MPP)

During his first term, President Trump implemented a new program called the Migrant Protection Protocols (MPP), also known as "Remain in Mexico," which addressed the increasing number of aliens illegally crossing the border.[64] Based on existing statutory authority,[65] MPP was designed for "certain aliens attempting to enter the U.S. illegally or without documentation, including those who claim[ed] asylum. . . ."[66] The first Trump Administration explained that those aliens would "no longer be released into the country. . . . Instead, [the] aliens [would] be given a 'Notice to Appear' for their immigration court hearing and [would] be returned to Mexico until their hearing date."[67]

The Committee's reconciliation package provides funding to support MPP.

Protect Americans from criminal UACs

UACs are, in general, initially encountered at the border by CBP officials.[68] Within 72 hours of encountering a UAC, CBP officials must transfer the UAC to the Department of Health and Human Services' (HHS) Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR). Under the Biden-Harris Administration, CBP did not fingerprint aliens under the age of 14 and did not sufficiently vet UACs.

The Committee's reconciliation package funds a DHS pilot program to ensure DHS checks every UAC for gang-related tattoos and contacts the consulate or embassy of the UAC's home country to determine if the UAC has a criminal history. Kayla Hamilton's killer, a UAC, had gang tattoos, was previously arrested in his home country for his affiliation with MS–13, and admitted to committing additional murders and rapes, but was released because multiple federal agencies failed to conduct these checks.[69]

State and local participation in homeland security efforts

Shortly after taking office on January 20, 2025, President Trump issued an executive order (EO) entitled "Protecting the American People Against Invasion."[73] The EO details how the Biden-Harris Administration "invited, administrated, and oversaw an unprecedented flood of illegal immigration into the United States."[74] The EO announced that the official policy of the United States would be "faithfully execut[ing] the immigration laws against all inadmissible and removable aliens."[75] The EO details several specific steps the Administration will take in furtherance of this policy, including the establishment of Federal Homeland Security Task Forces (FHSTFs).[76] Each FHSTF will include representation from relevant federal agencies and state and local law enforcement.[77]

The Committee's reconciliation package funds state and local participation in efforts to "end the presence of criminal cartels, gangs, and transnational criminal organizations," "dismantle cross-border human smuggling and trafficking networks," and use "all available law enforcement tools to faithfully execute the immigration laws," as outlined in the FHSTF EO.[78]

UAC bed space

Under current funding levels, ORR has a bed capacity of roughly 9,000 UAC beds. The Committee's reconciliation package funds UAC bed space necessary to support increased capacity at HHS ORR for the pendency of such UACs' immigration court proceedings and to prevent hasty, unsafe releases that endanger both UACs and the public. The amounts funded in the Committee's proposals presume that the annual base of $6.1 billion for UAC bed space and other related costs in connection with the UAC program will continue to be funded in the appropriations process.

UAC sponsor information

At the same time as record UAC encounters, the Biden-Harris Administration loosened safety standards for the placement of UACs with sponsors by relaxing background checks and other requirements. In 2021, HHS and DHS signed a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA), replacing a previous 2018 MOA between the two departments and removing some requirements for background checks for potential UAC sponsors.[79] The 2021 MOA removed the requirement that ORR provide biographic and biometric data for all adult members of a sponsor's household to check the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) national and statewide criminal history, child abuse and neglect, and sex offender databases prior to placement of a UAC.[80] The Biden-Harris Administration rolled back these security and background checks for sponsors of UACs encountered at the southwest border so that it could move the UACs out of government facilities more quickly.[81]

The Biden-Harris Administration's rationale for cutting these corners may have been motivated by a desire to avoid bad optics. According to a press report, "[o]fficials said at the time they wanted to avoid the images that had plagued the [first] Trump administration of children in severely congested facilities-widely derided as kids in cages.'"[82] The Biden-Harris Administration's loosening of background check requirements was particularly alarming given that, as ORR put it, "[t]he age of these individuals, their separation from parents and relatives, and the hazardous journey they take make [UACs] especially vulnerable to human trafficking, exploitation, and abuse."[83]

By prioritizing speed over safety, the Biden-Harris Administration created a crisis where record numbers of UACs were placed with inadequately vetted sponsors. On February 28, 2023, the New York Times published an exposé relating to HHS's broad failure to adequately screen sponsors of UACs and monitor them after placement.[84] The report included troubling comments by then-HHS Secretary Xavier Becerra comparing the UAC placement process to an assembly line.[85] These failures caused UACs to be exploited and work in extremely dangerous jobs that children are legally prohibited from performing.[86]

On February 8, 2023, the HHS Office of the Inspector General (OIG) released a report, "Gaps in Sponsor Screening and Follow-up Raise Safety Concerns for Unaccompanied Children," documenting the inadequacy of sponsor vetting under the Biden-Harris Administration.[87] Specifically, the OIG found:

- Case files for 16 percent of UACs examined by the OIG "did not contain any documentation that indicated one or more required safety checks for sponsors were conducted." [88] In some case files that contained references to purportedly completed public background checks (e.g. sex offender registry name and address checks and internet criminal public records checks) or address checks, the OIG was unable to identify ORR-required documentation to verify that the checks were truly completed.[89]
- For 19 percent of UACs in the audit whose sponsors required an FBI fingerprint check or a child abuse and neglect registry check, the OIG found documentation in UAC's case files indicating that a check was initiated, but the results were pending at the time of the children's release—and UAC case files were not updated to include the results of these checks after the children's release.[90]
- Of the 342 UAC case files reviewed during the OIG audit, HHS failed to conduct required sex offender name checks in one case and required sex offender address checks in 13 cases.[91]

The Trump Administration has moved swiftly to reverse course. On February 14, 2025, ORR published guidance to "enhance the safety of releases to sponsors, prevent fraud, and combat trafficking." [92] This guidance requires all adult sponsors and adult household members to be fingerprinted and tightens background check requirements for sponsors regardless of sponsor category.[93] Additionally, on March 14, 2025, ORR issued guidance that "requires DNA testing to support proof of relationship between a potential sponsor and an unaccompanied alien child where a sponsor purports to be biologically related to the child." [94] On March 21, 2025, ORR further notified care providers that, in the case of UACs in HHS custody "who either lack a Notice to Appear (NTA) or lack an NTA that has been filled with an immigration court," DHS will issue the UAC an NTA that will "be filed with the local immigration court where the child is placed." [95]

The Committee's reconciliation package funds a program through which HHS will provide DHS with information regarding the UAC sponsor and all adult residents of the sponsor's household prior to HHS releasing the UAC to such sponsor. Information collected will include names, social security numbers, dates of birth, immigration status, contact information, and background and criminal records

Protecting Americans from criminal UACs

As the first Trump Administration recognized, the UAC program has for years suffered from exploitation by criminals, including "gang members who come to this country as wolves in sheep['s] clothing" and "use th[e UAC] program as a means by which to recruit new members."[96] As the Committee's oversight has shown, under Secretary Becerra's leadership, HHS disregarded the potential gang affiliation of UACs who were released into the United States.

Indeed, as revealed in the Committee's May 2023 interim report, in May 2022, HHS released to a sponsor a UAC named Walter Javier Martinez, despite his previous arrest record for "illicit association with MS–13."[97] Martinez went on to brutally assault and murder 20-year-old Maryland resident Kayla Hamilton.[98] Incredibly, in response to requests for information about the case, on several occasions, HHS noted to the Committee that its focus was on protecting the privacy of Martinez, the UAC who killed Kayla Hamilton.[99] Although local police quickly identified Martinez as the primary suspect in the murder and expressed their concern about the threat he posed to society, Martinez was placed in a Maryland foster home with other children and enrolled in high school.[100] Later, while in custody for Kayla's murder, Martinez wrote a letter in which he "admitted to committing [four] murders, [two] rapes, and additional other crimes."[101] Martinez has since been sentenced to more than 70 years in prison.[102] As the Harford County, Maryland State's Attorney said in a statement, Martinez was "residing in our country illegally, had no legal right to be here, preying on the members of our communities, and perpetuating the same violent gang activity that he did in his own country."[103]

Despite having released Martinez—an illegal alien with gang tattoos and a history of "illicit association" with MS–13—to a sponsor, HHS under the Biden-Harris Administration told the Committee that it did not have a policy to refer known or suspected gang members to the Justice Department for investigation or, where appropriate, prosecution.[104] Then-ORR Director Robin Dunn Marcos, a senior Biden-Harris HHS official who was in charge of the UAC program at the time, admitted that while HHS contacted the consulate or embassy of UACs' country of origin or last habitual residence to verify certain documents or claimed familial relationships, HHS did not even request UACs' criminal records from their home countries.[105] At the same time, the Biden-Harris Administration's HHS admitted that it did not have any secure facilities "in-network"—that is, facilities designed for the secure placement of UACs who pose a danger to themselves or others or who have been determined to have a criminal record.[106]

The Committee's reconciliation proposal provides HHS with funding for a pilot program to ensure HHS checks UACs for gang-related tattoos and contacts the consulate or embassy of UACs' home countries to determine if UACs have a criminal history.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

EXECUTIVE OFFICE FOR IMMIGRATION REVIEW

Immigration court resources

Immigration cases are initially heard before "approximately 700 immigration judges located in 71 immigration courts and three adjudications centers" across the United States.[107] These courts are housed in the Department of Justice's Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR). Immigration judges are appointed by—and report to—the Attorney General.[108] As administrative judges, immigration judges "are career employees with no fixed terms"[109] who decide immigration cases through the Attorney General's delegated authority.[110] DHS acts as the prosecutor in immigration court, with ICE attorneys serving "as the exclusive representative of DHS in immigration removal proceedings before [EOIR], litigating all removal cases."[111] DHS initiates immigration court removal proceedings for an alien by filing the charging document, called a Notice to Appear, with an immigration court.[112]

During removal proceedings, an alien may present evidence to the immigration judge and argue why the alien should be allowed to remain in the U.S., either because the alien is eligible for asylum or on some other ground for relief.[113] If an alien disagrees with an immigration judge's decision, the alien may file an appeal with the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), "the highest administrative body for interpreting and applying immigration laws."[114] Published BIA decisions "are binding on all DHS officers and [i]mmigration [j]udges unless modified or overruled by the Attorney General or a federal court."[115] Because immigration courts are administrative courts, the Executive Branch wields broad authority over the courts' functioning. For example, the Attorney General can overrule BIA decisions, establish new immigration law precedent, and adopt new policies that immigration judges must follow.[116]

Because of the Biden-Harris border crisis, the immigration court case backlog ballooned exponentially. At the end of October 2020, less than three months before President Biden and Vice President Harris took office, EOIR had a backlog of 1.5 million cases.[117] By the time President Biden left office, the backlog reached more than 4 million cases, an increase of 167 percent.[118] As the border crisis raged, EOIR received 1.2 million new cases in fiscal year 2023 and nearly 1.8 million new cases in fiscal year 2024, compared to 1.9 million new cases received from fiscal years 2015 through 2020 combined.[119]

Given the case backlog, EOIR requires additional resources, including immigration judges, support staff, and courtrooms, to restore integrity, efficiency, and the rule of the law to the immigration system. As of the end of fiscal year 2023, for example, EOIR had only 601 courtrooms nationwide, despite employing more than 700 immigration judges.[120] At that time, 84 immigration judges "us[ed] remote hearing equipment units on a full-time basis," with "six [immigration judges] using remote hearing equipment outside of an EOIR space on a full-time basis, and 100 [immigration judges] using remote hearing equipment from in-chamber units (i.e., outside of a courtroom but inside EOIR space)."[121] Meanwhile, the Biden-Harris Administration's immigration court officials used congressionally appropriated funding to hire additional immigration judges without hiring sufficient support staff for either existing judges or new judges, in an apparent effort to stack the immigration courts with Democrat appointed judges.[122] Former EOIR Acting Director Mary Cheng ignored complaints about such hiring.[123]

Reimbursement for state incarceration of criminal aliens

Criminal aliens overwhelm local, state, and federal facilities—a problem that will only worsen following the Biden-Harris border crisis. According to a 2018 report from the Government Accountability Office, at least 39,500 criminal aliens were incarcerated in federal prisons in fiscal year 2016, with roughly 198,000 unique criminal aliens incarcerated in federal prisons from fiscal years 2011 through 2016.[124] In fiscal year 2015, at least 169,300 criminal aliens were incarcerated in state prisons and local jails.[125]

Staggering as they are, these figures do not capture the entire criminal alien population in state and local facilities, as the numbers only encompass criminal aliens for which a state or locality received reimbursement through the Department of Justice's State Criminal Alien Assistance Program (SCAAP).[126] SCAAP "reimburses states and localities for a portion of state and local incarceration costs for criminal alien populations that meet the criteria for reimbursement." [127] SCAAP reimbursement, however, is only available for aliens who "(1) had at least one felony or two misdemeanor convictions for violations of state or local law and (2) were incarcerated for at least [four] consecutive days during the reporting period." [128] In fact, for the fiscal year 2016 SCAAP program, the Department of Justice "determined that 20 percent of the incarcerations for which states or localities submitted a request for SCAAP reimbursement were ineligible for SCAAP reimbursement." [129]

The Committee's reconciliation package provides funding to partially reimburse jurisdictions for the incarceration of certain criminal aliens.

Combatting drug trafficking and illegal drug use

As illegal aliens flooded across the southwest border during the Biden-Harris Administration, drug trafficking and illicit drug seizures spiked. The Committee's reconciliation package provides funding to combat illegal drug trafficking, including of fentanyl and its precursor chemicals, and illegal drug use.

IMMIGRATION FEES

The Committee's budget reconciliation provisions also include a series of fees. Each fee includes a provision to preclude fee waivers or reductions. In general, fees will be credited to the U.S. Treasury for the purpose of deficit reduction.

Asylum application fee and asylum maintenance fee

Aliens in the United States can file for asylum affirmatively with USCIS or defensively, meaning as a defense to being removed from the United States after the alien has been placed in removal proceedings, in one of the nation's immigration courts.[130] Under section 208(d)(3) of the INA, fees may be imposed "for the consideration of an application for asylum . . . not to exceed . . . costs in adjudicating the applications."[131] Currently, however, no such fee is imposed. In addition, in general, USCIS has operated as a fee-funded agency, based on the principle that aliens, rather than U.S. citizens, should pay for the adjudication of immigration benefits they seek.[132] As such, because no fees are imposed on asylum applicants, fees paid by legal immigrants subsidize the cost of adjudicating asylum applications at USCIS.[133] At the end of fiscal year 2020, the asylum backlogs of both the immigration courts and USCIS totaled roughly 1.1 million asylum applications.[134] Today, despite the completion, and in many cases inappropriate dismissal or non-adjudication, of hundreds of thousands of asylum applications over the past four years, the combined asylum backlog from EOIR and USCIS stands at more than 3 million pending applications.[135]

Under the first Trump Administration, USCIS published a fee rule, attempting to charge a $50 fee on asylum applicants.[136] At the time, DHS noted that this fee was not designed to achieve even a modicum of cost recovery for the agency, but merely to stave off "increases of other fees that must otherwise be raised to cover the estimated full cost of adjudicating asylum applications."[137] In other words, the fee would merely limit the amount by which legal immigrants subsidize asylum application adjudications. Unsurprisingly, immigration activist groups decried these modest changes as "dramatic increases that [would] immediately devastate vulnerable populations."[138] The Trump Administration's fee rule was enjoined until it was abandoned and therefore did not go into effect.[139]

Rather than imposing fees on the aliens backlogging the immigration courts and USCIS, the Biden-Harris Administration imposed a $600 "Asylum Program Fee" on certain employers of legal immigrant or nonimmigrant workers to offset costs associated with the asylum program.[140] However, even the Biden-Harris Administration's DHS noted this fee would merely "fund part of the costs of administering the entire asylum program" within USCIS, which had expenses in excess of $400 million per year as of January 2024.[141]

The Committee's reconciliation package requires a $1,000 fee for each asylum application submitted by an alien in immigration court or with USCIS. CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision would reduce the deficit by $784 million over the 10-year window. A portion of the amounts raised will be directed to the relevant agencies for cost recovery. In addition, the Committee's proposals require a $100 annual fee for each year that an alien's asylum application remains pending. CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision would reduce the deficit by $1.1 billion over the 10-year window.

Parole fee

Section 212(d)(5) of the INA allows the DHS Secretary to grant parole to an alien "only on a case-by-case basis for urgent humanitarian reasons or significant public benefit."[142] The Biden-Harris Administration greatly expanded the use of parole.[143]

Under current law, no fee is imposed on aliens paroled into the U.S. The Committee's reconciliation package requires a $1,000 fee for any alien who is paroled into the U.S. other than in limited circumstances (such as medical emergencies, funerals, etc.). CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision would reduce the deficit by $49 million over the 10-year window.

Fee for illegal alien Temporary Protected Status applicants

Currently, TPS applicants pay a registration fee that is capped at $50, in addition to a $30 biometrics services fee, although fee waivers are available for aliens who receive means-tested public benefits, have an income at or below 150 percent of federal poverty guidelines, or are experiencing financial hardship.[144] The Biden-

Harris Administration expanded the approval of fee waivers and fee reductions. In fiscal years 2021 through 2023, the Biden-Harris Administration estimated it approved 1.4 million fee waivers, totaling an estimated $845 million.[145] According to DHS:

> The increase from [fiscal year] 2022 to [fiscal year] 2023 in approved fee waivers was driven by four forms I–765 EAD (up almost 74,000 due to the humanitarian parole programs (U4U and CHNV) and an increase in asylum filings), I–485 (up over 58,500 due to the Cuban Adjustment areas), I–821 TPS (up over 28,500), I–765 TPS (up almost 25,000 as there were new countries, redesignations and extensions). These same four forms also increased in approvals each year for the last three years. The increase in receipts from FY 2022 to FY 2023 was driven by the same four forms: I–765 EAD (up almost 81,000), I–485 (up almost 62,000), I–821 TPS (up over 32,500), and I–765 TPS (up almost 28,700). All four of these forms increased each year for the last three fiscal years.[146]

Illegal alien TPS applicants are not currently charged a fee specific to their TPS application. The Committee's reconciliation package requires a $500 fee for an alien who files a TPS application and who either (1) has not been admitted to the U.S. or (2) entered the U.S. on a temporary visa but failed to comply with the terms of the visa, including by not complying with the period of authorized stay. CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision will reduce the deficit by $2 billion over the 10-year window.

Fees relating to work authorization application, renewal, extension, and termination for asylum applicants

Section 208(d)(3) of the INA authorizes the imposition of fees associated with the adjudication of employment authorization documents (EAD) for asylum applicants, not to exceed the cost of adjudication.[147] Currently, however, asylum applicants who file employment authorization document applications are not charged for their initial application, although such aliens are charged for subsequent renewals or extensions. Depending on whether aliens file electronically or via paper, the current fee is $470 or $520.[148] The first Trump Administration attempted to charge asylum applicants the fee charged to all aliens for initial employment authorization document applications, $550 under the 2020 fee rule.[149] DHS noted that, at the time, "initial EAD applicants with pending asylum applications account for a large volume, approximately 13 percent" of all work authorization applications.[150] However, the fee rule was tied up in litigation and ultimately abandoned before it could go into effect.[151]

The Biden-Harris Administration expanded the approval of fee waivers and fee reductions, including for employment authorization applications (Form I–765). In fiscal years 2021 through 2023, the Biden-Harris Administration estimated it approved 1.4 million fee waivers or an estimated $845 million waived.[152] Of those, the Form-765 employment authorization application was the third-highest form in terms of the total dollar amount waived.[153] Between fiscal years 2021 and 2023, DHS waived nearly $150 million in fees it otherwise would have collected for employment authorization applications.[154] In a 2024 report, the Biden-Harris Administration DHS admitted that one of the main factors driving the increase in the total amount of fees waived for employment authorization applications was "an increase in asylum filings." [155]

USCIS's workload with respect to employment authorization applications increased dramatically due to the number of new border arrivals applying for work authorization during the Biden-Harris Administration. According to USCIS data, in fiscal year 2020, at the end of the first Trump Administration, out of the 960,000 employment authorization applications processed by USCIS that year, 230,000, or roughly one quarter, were employment authorization applications for asylum applicants.[156] By fiscal year 2023, the total number of work authorization applications increased dramatically to nearly 2.4 million, of which 800,000 were asylum applicants.[157] And in fiscal year 2024, those figures increased to nearly 3.5 million total employment authorization applications, with 1.2 million such applications processed for asylum applicants, quadruple the number processed just four years prior.[158] At the same time, USCIS also experienced increased flows of renewals for employment authorization applications for asylum applicants.[159] In fiscal year 2020, 250,000 of the roughly 1 million employment authorization application renewal filings were for asylum applicants.[160] By fiscal year 2024, nearly 430,000 of the 1.2 million total employment authorization renewal filings were for asylum applicants.[161]

The Biden-Harris Administration implemented a series of regulations providing for longer validity periods and automatic renewals and extensions of EADs. For instance, on May 4, 2022, USCIS issued a temporary final rule increasing the automatic renewal time-period for EADs from 180 days to 540 days.[162] The rule was effective through October 15, 2022, and applied to asylees, asylum applicants, TPS recipients, TPS applicants, aliens in the U.S. pursuant to withholding of removal, applicants for withholding of removal, and aliens who have filed for suspension of deportation, among others.[163]

On April 8, 2024, DHS issued another temporary final rule to accomplish a similar goal. The same categories of aliens were eligible for automatic EAD extensions for up to 540 days from their EAD expiration date.[164] This rule, however, sought to bind the new Trump Administration by not only applying to EAD applicants who filed their applications on or after October 27, 2023, if the application was still pending on April 8, 2024, but also applying to aliens who filed between April 8, 2024, and September 30, 2025.[165]

The Committee's reconciliation package requires USCIS to collect a $550 fee from asylum applicants who file an application for employment authorization. CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision would reduce the deficit by $3.8 billion over the 10-year window. In addition, the Committee's proposals require DHS to collect a $550 fee for asylum applicants seeking to renew or extend employment authorization. CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision would reduce the deficit by $17.2 billion.

Fees relating to work authorization application, renewal, and extension for parolees

In addition to vastly expanding the use of parole, the Biden-Harris Administration's USCIS worked to expedite the adjudication of parolees' work authorization applications. As a result, wait times for legal immigrants slowed.

USCIS is authorized to collect fees for cost recovery under section 286(m) of the INA.[166] The Trump Administration noted in its 2020 fee rule that it was necessary to increase work authorization application fees for asylum applicants, for example, to at least $550 to achieve cost recovery.[167] The fee rule was caught up in litigation for years and ultimately did not go into effect.[168]

As the Biden-Harris Administration noted, aliens granted parole "are immediately eligible to apply for employment authorization."[169] Accordingly, the previous Administration's expansion of parole led to dramatic increases in the work authorization adjudication backlog with respect to parolees. In 2020, USCIS received and processed new EAD applications for just 9,700 parolees.[170] In 2021 and 2022, the number shot up to 71,500 and 100,000, respectively[171]—and that was before the Biden-Harris Administration even fully instituted categorical parole programs for nationals of Cuba, Haiti, Nicaragua, and Venezuela (CHNV).

Today, USCIS still operates under the Biden-Harris Administration's fee rule. Under the rule, parolees who apply for or seek to renew or extend work authorization are charged a fee of $470 or $520, respectively, depending on whether they file electronically or via paper.[172] However, aliens can request a fee waiver. Indeed, the Biden-Harris Administration worked to expand the approval of fee waivers and fee reductions, including for employment authorization applications (Form I–765). In fiscal years 2021 through 2023, the Biden-Harris Administration estimated it approved 1.4 million fee waivers, or an estimated $845 million.[173] Of those, the Form I–765 employment authorization application was the third-highest form in terms of the total dollar amount waived.[174] Between fiscal years 2021 and 2023, DHS waived nearly $150 million in fees it otherwise would have collected for employment authorization applications.[175] The Biden-Harris Administration admitted that among the main factors behind the increases in the amount of fees waived relating to employment authorization applications during this period were the Administration's categorical parole programs, such as CHNV.[176]

USCIS data reflect this reality. Work authorization filings for aliens paroled into the country increased by more than 10,000 percent during the Biden-Harris Administration.[177] In fiscal year 2020, of the 960,000 initial filings for employment authorization, just 7,000 were filed by parolees.[178] By fiscal year 2024, that number increased dramatically, with total employment authorization applications rising to 3.4 million, of which 750,000 were for aliens paroled into the country.[179] Renewals for employment authorizations reflected the same trend. In fiscal year 2020, merely 2,600 of the roughly 1 million employment authorization application renewal filings were for aliens paroled into the country.[180] By fiscal year 2024, of the 1.2 million renewal filings, 43,000 were for aliens paroled into the country, an increase of more than 1,500 percent.[181]

The Committee's reconciliation package requires USCIS to collect a $550 fee from an alien who has been paroled into the U.S. and who files an application for employment authorization. In addition, the Committee's proposals require DHS to collect a $550 fee for parolees seeking to renew or extend employment authorization. CBO preliminarily estimated that the initial employment authorization

Fees relating to work authorization application, renewal, and extension for aliens granted Temporary Protected Status

Today, under the Biden-Harris Administration's fee rule, aliens with TPS who apply for or seek to renew or extend work authorization are charged a fee of $470 or $520, respectively, depending on whether they file electronically or via paper.[182] Many aliens request a fee waiver or reduction, which were expanded by the Biden-Harris Administration. In fiscal years 2021 through 2023, the Biden-Harris Administration estimated it approved 1.4 million fee waivers, leaving an estimated $845 million uncollected.[183] Of those, the Form I–765 employment authorization application was the third-highest form in terms of the total dollar amount waived.[184] Between fiscal years 2021 and 2023, DHS waived nearly $150 million in fees it otherwise would have collected for employment authorization applications.[185] The Biden-Harris Administration admitted that among the biggest drivers of the increases in fee waivers for employment authorization applications were the "new countries, redesignations, and extensions" relating to TPS.[186]

USCIS data demonstrate the impact of the Biden-Harris Administration's expansion of TPS on the agency's workload for work authorization applications. In fiscal year 2020, 251 aliens granted TPS and 119 aliens who were prima facie eligible for TPS applied for employment authorization.[187] These aliens represented less than one percent of all initial work authorization filings.[188] That same year, 28,600 aliens granted TPS and 69 aliens prima facie eligible for TPS filed to renew work authorization.[189] The following year, initial filings increased dramatically, with 115,000 aliens granted TPS—a 45,000 percent increase—and 8,000 prima facie eligible for TPS submitting work authorization applications.[190] In fiscal years 2022, 2023, and 2024, aliens granted or prima facie eligible for TPS submitted 66,000, 99,000, and 230,000 initial employment authorization applications, respectively.[191] By fiscal year 2023, work authorization renewal filings had similarly increased. That year, 227,000 aliens granted TPS, together with 1,400 aliens prima facie eligible for TPS filed work authorization renewal applications.[192] In fiscal year 2024, 150,000 aliens granted TPS and 11,000 aliens prima facie eligible for TPS submitted work authorization renewal applications.[193]

ant to a grant of TPS. CBO preliminarily estimated that this provision would reduce the deficit by $30 million. In addition, the Committee's package requires DHS to collect a $550 fee for TPS beneficiaries seeking to renew or extend employment authorization. Fee for certain special immigrant juveniles (SIJs) applying for a green card

Alien minors who (1) have been abused, neglected, or abandoned by a parent and (2) have been declared a dependent by a state court may be eligible for Special Immigrant Juvenile (SIJ) visa.[194] UACs use the SIJ process to receive green cards. The 2008 TVPRA expanded the SIJ definition to allow a juvenile or other state court to consider whether reunification is possible with "one or both" of the child's parents.[195] This language allows a minor to receive an SIJ visa even if only one of his or her two parents has abused or abandoned them, and even if the minor can still be safely reunited with their other parent.

The Committee's reconciliation package requires an alien who files an application for SIJ status to pay a $500 fee if reunification with one parent is possible despite abuse, abandonment, neglect, or other similar activity by the other parent. CBO preliminarily estimated that the fee would reduce the deficit by $18 million over the 10-year window.

Fees for unaccompanied alien child (UAC) sponsors

Each year, Congress appropriates billions of dollars to fund the UAC program. While in HHS custody, UACs receive food, education, medical services, clothing, and other services costly to U.S. taxpayers.[196] For example, in fiscal year 2021, when roughly 122,000 UAC were transferred to the care of ORR, obligations for the UAC program were roughly $7 billion, or roughly $57,000 per UAC.[197] Under the Biden-Harris Administration, UACs were then released as quickly as possible to a sponsor, often without necessary safeguards. According to an internal ORR memo, the Biden-Harris Administration released UACs to sponsors who provided images that were "obviously fake or doctored."[198] For example:

> [In one] photo, submitted by a man who wanted custody of a migrant child, showed the child's mother crudely photoshopped into the image to claim he had a relationship with her. The mother's feet were clipped off in the botched clip-art job. Another incident had a 23-year-old migrant who claimed he was a minor being held in a federal

The Committee's reconciliation package requires the sponsor of a UAC to pay a $3,500 fee prior to the release of the UAC to the sponsor. The fee will partially reimburse the government for the cost of processing, housing, feeding, educating, transporting, and otherwise caring for the UAC from the time the UAC entered U.S. government custody to the time at which the sponsor takes custody of the UAC. A portion of the fee will be directed back to the agency to fund background checks on potential UAC sponsors and all adult residents of the potential UAC sponsor's household. CBO preliminarily estimated that the fee would reduce the deficit by $350 million over the 10-year window.

Visa integrity fee

Foreign visitors to the United States must either obtain a nonimmigrant visa to legally visit the United States temporarily or, if they are a resident of one of the 40 Visa Waiver Program (VWP) countries, be authorized to travel to the U.S. through the Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) for no more than 90 days.[200] The United States welcomes tens of millions of foreign nationals with nonimmigrant visas to the United States legally each year.[201]

The Committee's reconciliation package requires the Secretary of State to impose a $250 fee on each alien issued a nonimmigrant visa by the State Department. This section provides that aliens may be reimbursed after the visa validity period expires if the alien can demonstrate compliance with certain conditions. First, if the alien demonstrates that the alien did not seek admission to the U.S., and therefore did not utilize the visa, the alien can receive reimbursement. Second, if the alien demonstrates that, after admission to the U.S., he or she complied with all terms of the visa and departed the U.S. within five days of the date on which the alien was authorized to remain in the U.S., the alien is eligible for reimbursement. Third, if the alien demonstrates he or she filed to extend, change, or adjust such status, the alien is eligible for reimbursement. According to a preliminary estimate from CBO, this fee would reduce the deficit by an estimated $28.9 billion over the 10-year window.

Form I–94 fee

CBP uses the Form I–94 to track arrival and departure record information for most aliens traveling to the U.S., as part of the agency's entry-exit system.[202] The Committee's reconciliation package creates a $24 fee for Form I–94. This fee is in addition to the current $6 fee, thus in total per Form I–94 the cost will now be $30. According to the agency, an increase in the fee is needed to achieve cost recovery.[203] While most of the increased fee will be allocated to the agency for cost recovery, a portion of the funds raised will be allocated to the Treasury for deficit reduction. CBO preliminarily estimated this fee would reduce the deficit by $10.8 billion over the 10-year window.

Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) fee

The Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007 established an electronic authorization system to pre-screen aliens prior to arrival in the United States.[204] The Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) operationalizes the requirement for all Visa Waiver Program (VWP) travelers to obtain authorization prior to travel.[205] As part of an ESTA application, aliens are currently required to pay a $21 fee.[206]

A portion of the funds raised by this fee is credited to the agency for cost recovery.[207] However, currently, the amount credited to CBP is insufficient to cover such costs.[208] Additionally, a portion of the funds raised by ESTA fees are credited to a separate account known as the Travel Promotion Fund, which funds the Corporation for Travel Promotion, a non-profit corporation established to promote tourism and travel to the U.S., also known as Brand USA.[209] Up to $100 million derived from the collection of a portion of the ESTA fee becomes available to Brand USA. The first Trump Administration proposed to zero out the Brand USA account in 2017 and "redirect the . . . surcharge . . . to support U.S. Customs and Border Protection passenger inspection activities.[210]

The Committee's reconciliation package increases the ESTA fee, paid by all foreign nationals seeking to enter the U.S. via VWP, from $21 to $40. The Committee's proposals allocate an increased portion of the funds raised to the agency for cost recovery, $10 per authorization. At least $13 per authorization is also allocated to the Treasury for deficit reduction. In addition, the amount that can be transferred to Brand USA is capped each year, and the remainder of the funds raised under that subsection in excess of the cap will be allocated to deficit reduction.

Immigration user fee

The immigration user air and sea passenger processing fee was established in 1986 at $5 and is currently set at $7 per passenger.[211] The fee applies to aliens arriving in the United States

The Committee's reconciliation package increases the immigration user fee by $3 for all passengers and eliminates a partial fee exemption for commercial sea passengers arriving from the United States, Canada, Mexico, or adjacent islands. These two adjustments will result in a total fee of $10 for all passengers, regardless of mode of transportation or point of departure. This fee was last adjusted in 2003, yet international travel volumes continue to grow at an annual rate of between 3 and 4 percent, and, according to the CBP, agency costs for immigration inspections continue to increase.[213] Nine dollars per fee imposed will be allocated to the agency for cost recovery, while one dollar per fee imposed will be allocated to the Treasury for deficit reduction. CBO preliminarily estimated that this fee will reduce the deficit by $1.4 billion over the 10-year window.

Electronic Visa Update System (EVUS) fee

When an alien applies for a nonimmigrant visa to travel to the United States, the validity period of the visa depends in large part on the type of visa and reciprocal arrangements between the United States and the country that issued the alien's passport.[214] Some visas may be issued with validity periods of up to 10 years.[215] While longer length visa validity periods may provide convenience to foreign travelers, they limit the U.S. Government's ability to receive regular updated biographic or other pertinent information from repeat visitors who travel to the United States multiple times over the life-span of a visa.[216] These concerns are of particular importance in the case of Chinese nationals.

Given these concerns, DHS and the State Department developed the Electronic Visa Update System (EVUS), which provides a mechanism through which information updates can be obtained from aliens holding a U.S. nonimmigrant visa of a designated category in a passport issued by an identified country.[217] By requiring enrollment in EVUS for periodic updates to biographic and travel information, CBP can increase the chances of identifying individuals who may pose a threat to the United States.[218] In general, EVUS is used for travelers from China with 10-year, multiple entry B1, B2, or B1/B2 visas for tourism and business.[219] EVUS requires travelers with these visas to provide updated biographic and travel information to CBP via a publicly-accessible website prior to initial travel on the visa and then at least every two years from the date of visa issuance for the duration of visa validity.[220]

The Committee's reconciliation package imposes an EVUS fee of $30. While most of the funds are allocated to the agency for cost recovery, a portion of the funds raised are allocated to the Treasury for deficit reduction. CBO preliminarily estimated that this fee will reduce the deficit by $49 million over the 10-year window.

Continuance fee

Under federal regulations, immigration judges "may grant a motion for continuance for good cause shown."[221] A continuance is a "temporary adjournment[ ] of case proceedings until a different day or time."[222]

The Committee's reconciliation package requires a $100 fee for every continuance that (1) is requested by an alien; (2) is granted by an immigration judge; and (3) is not based on "exceptional circumstances." Current immigration law defines "exceptional circumstances" as "exceptional circumstances (such as battery or extreme cruelty to the alien or any child or parent of the alien, serious illness of the alien, or serious illness or death of the spouse, child, or parent of the alien, but not including less compelling circumstances) beyond the control of the alien."[223] With a required fee for continuances, immigration courts could recoup some of the resources lost because of continuances.

Additional fees in immigration court

EOIR adjudicates applications for immigration relief before and appeals from immigration judge decisions. Although asylum applications are the most common applications filed at immigration courts, aliens can seek other forms of immigration relief before an immigration judge. In fact, immigration judges and the BIA may adjudicate numerous applications and waivers, including:

- Applications for cancellation of removal for certain permanent residents;[224]
- Applications for cancellation of removal and adjustment of status for certain nonpermanent residents;[225]

[226] Aliens who were admitted or paroled into the United States may adjust their immigration status to that of a lawful permanent resident (green card holder) if (1) the alien "is eligible to receive an immigrant visa," (2) the alien "is admissible to the United States for permanent residence," and (3) "an immigrant visa is immediately available to him at the time his application is filed." 8 U.S.C. § 1255(a). Aliens who are physically present in the United States but who entered without inspection (i.e. without being admitted or paroled) may also adjust their immigration status to that of a lawful permanent resident under additional requirements. peals.[233] By fiscal year 2019, the number of case appeals filed with the BIA swelled to 63,235.[234] In fiscal years 2023 and 2024, there were 50,855 and 50,416 total appeals filed, respectively.[235] Meanwhile, the number of pending appeals has risen dramatically, from less than 17,000 pending appeals at the end of fiscal year 2015 to roughly 130,000 pending appeals by the end of December 2024—a nearly 650 percent increase.[236]

In addition to adjudicating applications and appeals, immigration courts and the BIA receive thousands of motions to reopen and motions to reconsider each year, only compounding their increasing backlogs. Through a motion to reopen, an alien requests that an immigration judge or the BIA reopen the alien's case to "consider new facts or evidence in the case."[237] A motion to reconsider, by contrast, "either identifies an error in law or fact" in the immigration judge's or BIA's prior decision "or identifies a change in law" that affects the adjudicator's decision.[238]

The number of motions to reopen filed with immigration courts rose dramatically over the last four years. In addition to overburdening the immigration courts with a flood of new cases, the Biden-Harris Administration worked to undo immigration judges' previous decisions by encouraging ICE attorneys to join motions to reopen cases. A Biden-era memo outlined how ICE attorneys could join aliens' motions to reopen their cases so that ICE could then agree to dismiss the case altogether.[239] Aliens and ICE attorneys took note. In fiscal year 2024, 44,094 motions to reopen were filed with the immigration courts, compared to an average of 17,920 motions to reopen during the Trump Administration—a 146 percent increase.[240] In fiscal year 2024, immigration courts also received roughly 2,100 motions to reconsider, with more than 7,000 total motions filed with the BIA.[241]

Despite its historic case backlog, EOIR charges fees for only a fraction of the applications it receives—and even then, the fees have not been updated in four decades and are far from covering the cost of adjudication. EOIR last updated its fees in 1986.[242] The Trump Administration attempted to raise the fee amounts,[243] but federal district court judges stopped the implementation of the fees in January 2021 and March 2021.[244] Through new statutory fees for commonly adjudicated applications and frequently filed motions, EOIR could partially defray its adjudication costs, fund additional immigration judges and support staff, and invest in infrastructure and technology upgrades to more efficiently adjudicate cases.

- Fee for filing an application for cancellation of removal for certain permanent residents (current filing fee is $100);[245]
- Fee for filing an application for cancellation of removal and adjustment of status for certain nonpermanent residents (current filing fee is $100);[246]

- Fee for filing an appeal from a decision of an adjudicating official in a practitioner disciplinary case (current filing fee is $675);[253] and
- Fee for filing a motion to reopen or motion to reconsider (current filing fee is at least $110 for a motion to reopen or reconsider before the BIA and at least $145 for a motion to reopen or reconsider before an immigration judge).[254] removed in absentia if the aliens fail to attend an immigration court hearing.[255]

The number of in absentia removal orders rose dramatically just as the Biden-Harris Administration released more illegal aliens into the United States. In fiscal year 2023, there were 159,379 in absentia removal orders for aliens who failed to appear before an immigration judge, a 74 percent increase from the second-highest total of 91,271 such orders since 2008.[256] That is an average of 13,282 in absentia removal orders each month.[257] For asylum applicants, the number of in absentia removal orders in fiscal year 2023 reached 13,732, the highest total since at least 2008.[258] In cases that originated with an alien claiming a credible fear of persecution when encountered at the border, the in absentia removal order numbers climbed to their second-highest total since at least fiscal year 2008, with 9,988 in absentia removal orders in those cases in fiscal year 2023 alone.[259] By the end of fiscal year 2024, immigration judges ordered 222,687 aliens removed after they failed to attend their immigration court hearings.[260] In absentia cases waste the immigration courts' funding resources.

The Committee's reconciliation package requires fees in certain instances when aliens are ordered removed in absentia. The package requires the sponsor of an unaccompanied alien child to pay a $5,000 fee prior to the release of such unaccompanied alien child to a sponsor to ensure the UAC's appearance in immigration court. The sponsor may receive reimbursement for the fee if the sponsor demonstrates that (1) the UAC was not ordered removed in absentia or (2) the in absentia order was rescinded. The package also requires a $5,000 fee for any alien who (1) is ordered removed in absentia after failing to appear at an immigration court hearing and (2) is subsequently arrested by ICE. This section includes an exception for cases in which an in absentia order is rescinded.

Diversity visa program fees

Every year for decades, the United States has issued tens of thousands of immigrant visas to aliens around the world who are selected through a lottery.[261] The diversity visa program, which provides aliens a pathway to citizenship in the U.S., was enacted "to foster legal immigration from countries other than the major sending countries of current immigrants to the United States."[262]

To determine which countries' nationals are eligible for the diversity visa lottery each year, the program uses a statutory formula to calculate regions with high admissions and low admissions of aliens into the United States.[263] Aliens from high-admission regions are ineligible for a diversity visa, with 50,000 diversity visas distributed to nationals from low-admission regions.[264] During a registration period each year, aliens can enter the diversity visa lottery through the Electronic Diversity Visa website.[265] There is no cost to enter the lottery, and the eligibility criteria are low, merely requiring "at least a high school education or the equivalent, or two years of experience in an occupation that requires at least two years of training or experience."[266] Through a lottery system, "approximately 100,000 selectees are randomly chosen" and identified as "those who are eligible to apply" for a diversity visa.[267] Once selected, aliens must confirm their qualifications, submit a visa application, prepare documentation, undergo an interview, and pay relevant fees.[268] The State Department then issues roughly 50,000 diversity visas to qualified applicants.[269] The visas are "apportioned among six geographic regions with a maximum of seven percent available to persons born in any single country."[270]

Millions of people around the world register for the diversity visa lottery every year. In 2019, 14.3 million aliens entered the diversity visa lottery, with more than 8 million derivatives (spouses and children); in 2020, there were 14.7 million entrants, with 8.4 million derivatives; and in 2021, there were 6.7 million entrants and 5 million derivatives.[271] In fiscal year 2019, 453,242 Iranian nationals registered for a chance at this pathway to citizenship in the United States, with 1.8 million registrations from Uzbekistan, 240,323 from Russia, 141,679 from Yemen, 28,542 from Somalia, 35,939 from Afghanistan, and 47,368 from Iraq.[272]

The Committee's reconciliation package requires a $250 fee for each alien who registers for the diversity visa program. The Committee's proposal also requires a $400 diversity visa application fee for any alien who is selected for the program.[273] More than 20 years ago, the OIG warned that the diversity visa program's costs "significantly exceed revenues," with embassies lacking sufficient resources "to develop, investigate, and process all [diversity visa]

REGULATORY AND OTHER MATTERS

Congressional review of agency rulemaking

The Constitution separates the powers of the federal government by vesting the legislative power in Congress, the executive power in the President, and the judicial power in the courts.[276] The "[s]tructural separation between the exercise of federal executive, legislative, and judicial power preserves individual freedom" and "helps to ensure that each branch can more effectively perform its function of serving as a check on the other branches."[277] This careful system of "[c]hecks and balances ha[s] a role in ensuring a more meaningful separation of powers for they help[ ] ensure that no one branch w[ill] dominate" our federal government.[278]

Consolidating these separate powers departs from constitutional principles and jeopardizes American liberty.[279] Yet, the administrative state does just that: federal agencies exercise legislative power by issuing regulations with the force of law, executive power by enforcing those regulations, and judicial power by adjudicating disputes about them.[280]

Given the administrative state's unconstitutional assumption of legislative powers and its lack of electoral accountability to the American people, it is unsurprising that it has imposed unpopular and radical regulations. The Biden-Harris Administration routinely sought "to accomplish through regulation what [it could not] pass through Congress."[281] Federal agencies, with limited political accountability and freedom from the lawmaking procedures that the Constitution requires of Congress, often try to implement far-left policy goals that could not be attained through the legislative process. Hundreds of examples of this overreach can be found throughout the administrative state.[282]

The Administrative Procedure Act

Originally enacted by Congress in 1946, the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) provides standards for agency rulemaking, among other things.[283] Under "formal" rulemaking, an agency may issue a "rule after the kind of trial-type hearing procedures normally reserved for adjudicatory orders."[284] More commonly, agencies issue rules through "informal" or notice-and-comment rulemaking.[285] Informal rulemaking requires publication of a "notice of proposed rulemaking in the Federal Register," an opportunity for public feedback (typically through the submission of written comments), and publication of the final rule at least thirty days before its effective date.[286] Such legislative rules have the "force and effect of law."[287]

Between 1984 and 2024, agencies were given wide judicial latitude when determining the meaning of their own statute for the purposes of promulgating rules. In 1984, the Supreme Court ruled in Chevron U.S.A., Inc. v. National Resources Defense Council, Inc. that judges were required to defer to an agency's interpretation of its own ambiguous statute so long as such legal determination was "reasonable."[288] Despite being relatively innocuous in the beginning,[289] the holding in Chevron quickly allowed agencies to expand their power by finding new authorities in old statutes.[290] By exploiting ambiguities in the law, the administrative state effectively coopted legislative authority from Congress in the form of increased rulemaking.[291]

In 2024, the Court's decision in Loper Bright Enterprises v. Raimondo ended the required judicial deference imposed by Chevron.[292] In Loper Bright, the Court held that under the APA, courts are required to express independent judgement when determining whether an agency acted within the boundaries of its statutory authority.[293] While courts may look to an agency's interpretation of its own statute in reaching its independent conclusion, the Court held that the APA prohibits courts from deferring to agency interpretation without conducting its own analysis.

The Congressional Review Act

In addition to the APA, another existing law governing—and designed to constrain—agency action is the Congressional Review Act (CRA) of 1996,[294] which was part of then-Speaker Newt Gingrich's Contract With America legislative agenda.[295] The CRA requires agencies to submit rules to Congress and the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) before they can take effect, and it creates an expedited process, which cannot be filibustered, for Congress to disapprove a rule by passing a joint resolution.[296] Once both the House and Senate pass a joint resolution disapproving of the rule, and the President signs such resolution into law, the rule will no longer be in effect.[297] The CRA provides Congress with a fast-track process to prevent agency rulemaking that satisfies the Constitution's bicameralism and presentment requirements.[298]

Under the CRA, "[m]ajor rules"—those causing "an annual effect on the economy of $100,000,000 or more," "a major increase in costs or prices," or other "significant adverse effects" on the economy—are subject to additional restrictions under the CRA.[299] In particular, major rules cannot take effect until at least "60 days after the date that the rule is published in the Federal Register," double the thirty-day delay period provided under the APA, giving "Congress additional time to consider whether to overturn a major rule . . . before it goes into effect."[300]

Congress's power to disapprove agency rules under the CRA provides a check on federal administrative power. Currently, however, the CRA requires Congress to introduce separate joint resolutions for each agency rule it seeks to disapprove.[301] By forcing Congress to consider agency rules one at a time, the CRA slows Congress's ability to provide oversight of agency action. This inefficiency is especially pronounced in the final year of a President's term. In so-called "midnight rulemaking," executive agencies historically issue substantially more regulations in the President's final year of his term.[302] During the Clinton, Bush, and Obama administrations, agencies issued approximately 2.5 times more regulations during the last year of each President's term.[303]

Despite the CRA's initial promise to help reestablish Congress's proper role in making federal policy, as of July 2024, only twenty agency rules had been overturned under the CRA—because the House, Senate, and President must all be aligned with regard to the disapproval resolution, the CRA is realistically only an effective check on regulations promulgated during the waning days of a presidential administration.[304] On average, Congress has disapproved of less than one agency regulation per year since the passage of the CRA, but during that time, federal agencies issued more than 100,000 rules—thus, Congress has rejected just 0.02 percent of the rules issued by agencies.[305] agency compliance with rulemaking requirements. The Committee's proposal would also require that Congress affirmatively approve of major rules that increase revenue prior to them taking effect.

Congressional Review Act compliance

In general, agencies are required to quantify the costs and benefits that their regulations will impose on regulated entities.[306] Since 1993, Executive Order 12866 has been in effect, and along with requiring a cost-benefit analysis of all regulations, the order "encourages agencies to design their regulations in the most cost-effective manner to achieve the regulatory objective and to ensure that the benefits of a regulation justify the costs."[307] For economically significant rules, defined as imposing an annual effect on the economy of at least $200 million—raised from $100 million in 2023—agencies must quantify the costs and benefits of the regulation and reasonably feasible alternatives to such regulation.[308]

Often, the agency's analysis is either incorrect or incomplete. For example, the Federal Trade Commission estimated that its newly promulgated Premerger Notification Rule would increase the cost of preparing a merger filing by around $49,000.[309] However, some independent estimates have placed the increase in cost at over $300,000—over six times more than the agency's estimate.[310] Additionally, while the FTC only considered, albeit incorrectly, the direct costs of the regulation, the indirect costs associated with the regulation are likely far more significant.[311] The decrease in merger activity related to the rule will likely disrupt innovation and entrepreneurial activity and disrupt economic activity across the nation.[312]

While not the case for the FTC's Premerger Notification Rule, some agencies are able to avoid the "major rule" designation under the CRA by underestimating the cost of their regulations. For example, the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service's (APHIS) Electronic Identification Eartag Rule is estimated to impose only $26 million in economic costs annually,[313] less than the $100 million threshold required by the CRA to be designated as a major rule.[314] However, to fully establish an electronic database for livestock, as is the stated goal of the regulation, the economic cost is estimated to be over $550 million in the first year alone.[315] Taking these estimates as given, there are around $525 million in indirect costs associated with APHIS's regulation.

The wholesale level loses $56.0 million.").

While agencies generally initiate any economic analysis during the rulemaking process, it is the responsibility of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OIRA) to ensure that the agency is not cutting corners.[316] An important function of OIRA is to conduct oversight of the analysis conducted by agencies,[317] and while some claim that OIRA simply applies a "rubber stamp" to agency analysis,[318] there is some evidence to suggest that OIRA review makes a meaningful difference in the cost estimates produced by agencies.[319]

Despite the impact that OIRA may have in reviewing agency cost estimates, OIRA is not required to conduct its own analysis to independently verify the precision of an agency's estimate.[320] OIRA review consists of checking that the agency's calculations, methodologies, and assumptions are correct, but OIRA does not conduct its own analysis.[321]

Such de novo independent analysis by OIRA may include a complete reworking of the methodology, assumptions, and recollection of any data, but such comprehensive analysis would likely be unnecessary. In conducting de novo analysis, OIRA may review and accept an agency's assumptions and methodologies, with proper analysis detailing why the agency's assumptions and methodologies are correct, but it should not give the agency deference or rubber stamp the agency's work.

Such an analysis would be particularly impactful given the tendency of agencies to incorrectly estimate the cost of regulations.[322] While there is evidence that agencies both over- and under-estimate the costs associated with their regulatory schemes,[323] OIRA rarely intervenes to require the agency to conduct more rigorous analysis.[324] OIRA has the power to "return" regulations back to an agency for analytical deficiencies, but estimates reveal that less than one percent of regulations are returned.[325] If OIRA conducted its own de novo analysis, it may be in a better position to identify the flaws in an agency's analysis and propose enhanced methodologies and more accurate assumptions for more rigorous analysis in the future.

The Committee's reconciliation package provides funding to OMB to enhance its capacity to analyze the direct and reasonably foreseeable indirect costs of compliance with certain regulations and estimate the budgetary effects of enforcement of certain regulations

Limitation on donations made pursuant to settlement agreements to which the United States is a party

Popularized during the Obama Administration, the use of settlement slush funds is a litigation technique in which funds that should be directed to injured parties or deposited in the United States Treasury are diverted to politically-favored third-party entities or programs that the executive branch supports, all while avoiding Congressional oversight.[326] In these cases, as part of a settlement, defendants are required to make payments to favored or politically-friendly third parties.[327] Because these payments are from a defendant to a third-party, and the money does not flow through the Treasury, it can be challenging to track these settlements and the funds involved.[328] Many of these settlements also involve non-disclosure requirements, and therefore, other than public statements that may inform the defendant's shareholders of the settlement amount, there is little transparency into which entities receive the funds under the settlement.[329] Such settlements effectively seize a portion of Congress's power over the purse and put it into the hands of agencies, as the executive branch, not Congress, is determining the terms of these settlements.

An example of how settlement slush funds work in practice can be seen with President Obama's unsuccessful request in 2011 that Congress fund electric vehicle innovation.[330] After Congress did not act, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) reached a partial settlement with Volkswagen in a lawsuit related to pollution claims.[331] The settlement required Volkswagen to invest $2.7 billion in "projects across the country" to reduce emissions, with billions of dollars directed toward "improving infrastructure, access and education to support and advance zero emissions vehicles."[332] This settlement circumvented Congressional spending authority and was a form of unconstitutional overreach by the executive branch.[333] The Obama Administration also used settlements to direct funds to groups such as the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation, the National Community Reinvestment Coalition, the National Urban League, and the National Council of La Raza, among others.[334]

Unlike with federal outlays to third parties where Congress has authorized an agency to exercise discretion in directing funds, there are few requirements as to how settlement funds must be spent and accounted for.[335] For example, government contracting laws require clear disclosure and accounting of how the third parties spend funds allocated through normal government channels.[336] In contrast, settlement slush funds are not subject to such laws and enable the executive branch to apply pressure to defendants and direct funds without the same oversight that would apply in other contexts.[337] Accordingly, the details of where third-party payments go are often unknown. For example, one study found that only 1.4 percent of all settlement slush fund payments could be tracked—the remaining 98.6 percent of the $668 million were directed in ways that were undisclosed.[338]

The Trump Administration essentially ended the practice of using settlement slush funds.[339] In 2017, then-Attorney General Jeff Sessions issued a memorandum prohibiting Department of Justice (DOJ) staff from entering into these types of agreements except in limited circumstances.[340] In 2020, the Trump Administration further limited the use of these agreements.[341] Specifically, the Trump DOJ expressly prohibited its attorneys from negotiating settlements in environmental cases that directed funding to third parties, and instead directed settlement funds to be placed in the U.S. Treasury.[342]

However, in 2022, then-Attorney General Merrick Garland rescinded the Trump Administration policies that banned third-party payments.[343] In support of the rescission, then-Attorney General Garland noted that third-party payments have certain remedial purposes and should be permissible if they have a "strong connection to the underlying violation or violations of federal law at issue in the enforcement action."[344] However, as one commentator wrote, the concept of a "remedial" settlement agreement is an oxymoron: the courts already provide a legitimate avenue for remedial damages.[345] Left unabated and subject to administrative discretion, this practice can result in abuse.[346]

The Committee's reconciliation package would prohibit settlement payments to third parties for reasons other than restitution or remedying actual harm, resulting in additional revenue from enforcement actions being deposited in the Treasury.

Solicitation of orders defined

In general, the Interstate Income Act of 1959 exempts businesses whose only economic nexus in the state is the "solicitation of orders" that are subsequently fulfilled from a point outside of the state from state income tax obligation.[347] The original intent of this law was to clarify the status of state taxation of interstate commerce following a pair of Supreme Court decisions in 1959.[348] The Court held that states are permitted to impose taxes on income that foreign businesses generate within the state.[349] Those decisions left open the question of whether states could impose taxes on out-of-state businesses whose income is solicited within the state, but otherwise do not have a physical presence in that state.[350] The Interstate Income Act of 1959 was passed to ensure that businesses that only solicit orders within a state, but do not have offices, warehouses, or any other physical presence in the state, are exempt from that state's income tax regimes.[351]

In 1992, the Supreme Court narrowed the scope of business activities that fall under this tax exemption in Wisconsin Department of Revenue v. William Wrigley Jr., Co.[352] In Wrigley, the Court held that the only protected business activities are those with "no independent business function apart from their connection to soliciting orders."[353] The Court also articulated a narrow exception from tax liability for activities that occur out-of-state and are not ancillary to the solicitation of orders but otherwise provide the businesses with a de minimis value.[354]

In 2024, the Minnesota Supreme Court seized on the Wrigley decision to find that the gathering and reporting of competitor information and market conditions, despite being obtained in the process of soliciting orders, does provide the company with more than de minimis value and the company is therefore liable for tax on the income generated in that state.[355] The Minnesota Supreme Court held that making such reporting activity a component of the sales process does not necessarily mean that it is required for the solicitation of sales.[356] The Minnesota Supreme Court found that the gathering and reporting of information was an exercise in market research, and simply assigning such market research to sales personnel does convert such activity into solicitation.[357]

In effect, both the United States and Minnesota Supreme Courts have narrowed the scope of the solicitation exemption to state income tax to the point where the exemption is largely ineffective.[358] Nealy all activity that a business engages in other than the literal solicitation of orders is subject to state income taxes.[359] Further, the Multistate Tax Commission (MTC), a multi-state, intergovernmental tax agency that sets uniform tax policies which its member states agree to follow,[360] has compiled a list of numerous, routine business steps that companies engage in during the solicitation and fulfilment of orders but that the MTC has determined do not qualify as exempt under the law.[361] According to the MTC, activities such as offering post-sale customer service, offering extended warranty plans through its website, or contracting with a third party fulfilment company with fulfillment centers in a given state may cause a business to lose its tax-exempt status.[362]

The Committee's reconciliation package clarifies the tax treatment of certain interstate commercial activity regarding the solicitation of orders.

Part 1—Immigration Fees

Sec. 70001. Applicability of immigration laws. This section states that, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the bill's fees shall apply. It also clarifies that any terms in the bill are defined as in the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) and provides that any statutory references are to the INA.

Sec. 70002. Asylum fee. This section requires a $1,000 fee for any alien who applies for asylum. The section directs 50 percent of the fees received from applications filed in immigration court to the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) and 50 percent of the fees received from applications filed with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) to USCIS. The remaining fees collected will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70003. Employment authorization document fees.

(a) Asylum applicants. This section requires a $550 employment authorization application fee for any asylum applicant who seeks employment authorization while the alien's asylum application is pending. The section directs 25 percent of the fees received from such applications to USCIS, with a portion devoted to detecting and preventing immigration benefit fraud. The remaining fees collected will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70004. Parole fee. This section requires a $1,000 fee for any alien who is paroled into the U.S. other than in limited circumstances (such as medical emergencies, funerals, etc.) in accordance with the "case-by-case" limitation in the current statute. Fees collected under this section will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70005. Special immigrant juvenile fee. This section requires an alien who files an application for Special Immigrant Juvenile (SIJ) status to pay a $500 fee if reunification with one parent or legal guardian is possible despite abuse, abandonment, neglect, or other similar activity by the other parent. Sec. 70006. Temporary Protected Status fee. This section requires a $500 fee for an alien who files an application for TPS and who has not been admitted to the U.S. or who entered the U.S. on a temporary visa but who failed to comply with the terms of the visa, including by not complying with the period of authorized stay. Fees collected under this section will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70007. Unaccompanied alien child sponsor fee. This section requires the sponsor of an unaccompanied alien child (UAC) to pay a fee, prior to the release of the UAC to the sponsor, as partial reimbursement for the cost of processing and housing, feeding, educating, transporting, and otherwise caring for the UAC from the time the UAC entered U.S. government custody to the time at which the sponsor takes custody of the UAC. A portion of the amount raised by the fee will be directed back to the agency to fund background checks for potential sponsors and adult members of potential sponsors' households. The remaining fees collected will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70008. Visa integrity fee. This section requires the State Department to assess a $250 fee on aliens who travel to the U.S. pursuant to a nonimmigrant visa. Aliens can be reimbursed under certain circumstances. The fee may be reimbursed (1) if the alien demonstrates compliance with the terms of that the alien's visa, including by complying with the period of authorized stay, (2) if the alien did not utilize the visa for admission to the U.S., or (3) if the alien filed to extend, change, or adjust such status within the nonimmigrant visa's period of validity. Fees collected under this section will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70009. Form I–94 fee. This section imposes a fee of $24 on the Form I–94. This fee is in addition to the current $6 fee, increasing the total fee for the Form I–94 from $6 to $30. The Form I–94 acts as the arrival and departure record for certain categories of aliens traveling temporarily to the U.S. An increased portion of the funds will be redirected to the agency for cost recovery. In addition, a portion of each fee will be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70010. Yearly asylum fee. This section requires a $100 fee in each calendar year that an alien's asylum application remains

The section sets the employment authorization validity period at no more than six months and directs all fees collected to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70013. Fee relating to termination, renewal, and extension of employment authorization for asylum applicants. This section requires a $550 fee for any asylum applicant who seeks a renewal or extension of employment authorization. The section sets the employment authorization validity period at no more than six months and clarifies that employment authorization terminates: (1) immediately following the denial of an asylum application by an asylum officer, unless the case is referred to an immigration judge; (2) thirty days after the date on which an immigration judge denies an asylum application, unless the alien files a timely appeal with the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA); and (3) immediately following the denial of an alien's appeal by the BIA. The section directs all fees collected to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70014. Fee relating to renewal and extension of employment authorization for aliens granted Temporary Protected Status. This section requires a $550 fee for any alien granted TPS who seeks a renewal or extension of employment authorization. Sec. 70015. Diversity immigrant visa fees.

(a) Fee for filing a diversity immigrant visa application. This section requires a $400 diversity immigrant visa application fee for any alien who is selected through the diversity visa lottery and who is authorized to apply for a diversity immigrant visa. The section directs 10 percent of the fees received to the Department of State to offset program costs associated with the diversity visa program, including fraud detection and prevention; 10 percent to ICE for detention, immigration enforcement, and removal operations; and the remaining fees received to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

(b) Fee for filing an application for waiver of grounds of inadmissibility. This section requires a fee of $1,050 for any alien who files with an immigration court an application for waiver of grounds of inadmissibility or whose application for such a waiver is adjudicated by an immigration judge. The section directs no more than 25 percent of the fees received to EOIR and the remaining fees to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

(c) Fee for filing an application for Temporary Protected Status. This section requires a fee of $900 for any alien who files an appeal from a decision of an officer of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). The section directs no more than 25 percent of the fees received to EOIR and the remaining fees to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

(f) Fee for filing an appeal from a decision of an adjudicating official in a practitioner disciplinary case. This section requires a fee of $1,325 for any practitioner who files an appeal from a decision of an adjudicating official in a practitioner disciplinary case. The section directs no more than 25 percent of the fees received to EOIR and the remaining fees to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

(g) Fee for filing a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider. This section requires a fee of $900 on any alien who files a motion to reopen or motion to reconsider a decision of an immigration judge or the BIA. The section clarifies that such a fee does not apply to motions to reopen a removal order entered in absentia if the motion is based on the alien (1) failing to receive proper notice of the proceeding or (2) failing to attend the proceeding because the alien was in state or federal custody and the failure to appear was through no fault of the alien. The section directs no more than 25 percent of the fees received to EOIR and the remaining fees to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

(h) Fee for filing an application for suspension of deportation. This section requires a fee of $600 for any alien who files with an immigration court an application for suspension of deportation. Sec. 70017. ESTA fee. This section increases the fee for the Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA), which is required to be used by aliens who travel to the U.S. via the Visa Waiver Program, from $21 to $40. Currently, $4 of the fee goes to the agency for cost recovery and $17 goes to the Travel Promotion Fund. This section would change that allocation such that $10 of each fee collected is directed to the agency to achieve cost recovery. $13 per fee is allocated to the Treasury for deficit reduction. In addition, this section limits the $17 portion directed to the Travel Promotion Fund to $20 million annually. Once that cap is reached, the $17 portion of each fee will also be directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction. Finally, this section extends CBP's authority to charge ESTA fees until 2034.

Sec. 70018. Immigration user fees. Currently, air and sea passengers arriving from a foreign location on a commercial aircraft/sea vessel pay this fee. This section increases the current $7 fee to $10 and eliminates a partial exemption for certain commercial sea passengers. Per fee, $9 is directed to the agency for cost recovery and $1 is directed to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70019. EVUS fee. The Electronic Visa Update System (EVUS) provides a mechanism through which information updates can be obtained from aliens holding a U.S. nonimmigrant visa of a designated category in a passport issued by an identified country, generally Chinese nationals on B–1, B–2, and B–1/B–2 visas. EVUS requires travelers with such visas to provide updated biographic and travel information to CBP via a publicly accessible website prior to initial travel on the visa and then at least every two years from the date of visa issuance for the duration of visa validity. This section establishes in statute an EVUS fee of $30. While most of the funds are allocated to the agency for cost recovery, a portion of the funds raised are allocated to the Treasury for deficit reduction.

Sec. 70020. Fee for sponsor of unaccompanied alien child who fails to appear in immigration court. This section requires the sponsor of a UAC to pay a $5,000 fee prior to the release of such UAC to the sponsor. The sponsor may receive reimbursement for the fee if the sponsor demonstrates that (1) the UAC was not ordered removed in absentia or (2) the in absentia order is rescinded.

Sec. 70021. Fee for aliens ordered removed in absentia. This section requires a $5,000 fee for any alien who (1) is ordered removed in absentia after failing to appear at an immigration court hearing and (2) is subsequently arrested by ICE. This section includes an exception for cases in which an in absentia order is rescinded.

MINORITY VIEWS

With their budget reconciliation plan, House Republicans want to cut hundreds of billions of dollars from essential government programs and services that the American people rely on—Medicaid, food assistance for mothers and children, veterans' benefits, Meals on Wheels, and more—in order to pay for another giant tax break for billionaires.

I. OVERVIEW OF THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE'S RECONCILIATION PROVISIONS

The House Judiciary Committee's portion of the reconciliation package (Title VII), includes more than $81 billion in new spending. Most of this funding is provided to the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), primarily for immigration enforcement purposes. The bill includes $45 billion for ICE for family and adult detention centers; $14.4 billion for transportation and removal operations; $858 million for ICE bonuses and $8 billion for ICE hiring; $650 million for ICE to facilitate 287(g) agreements with state and local governments; and more. It also includes $1 billion for the U.S. Secret Service; $500 million to the Department of Justice (DOJ) for anti-drug trafficking efforts; and several million dollars for the Republicans' anti-regulation agenda. The legislation also increases existing immigration fees and imposes new ones, including—for the first time in our nation's history—a $1,000 fee imposed on people who are applying for asylum.

Subtitles B and C of the GOP's legislation include expansions of anti-regulatory bills, including the Regulations from the Executive in Need of Scrutiny (REINS) Act (H.R. 142) and the Midnight Rules Relief Act (H.R. 77); the Interstate Commerce Simplification Act (H.R. 427); the Stop Settlement Slush Funds Act; a provision that would prevent courts from enforcing contempt citations; and legislation gutting the Federal Trade Commission's (FTC) competition enforcement authority, the One Agency Act (H.R. 384). Democrats prepared amendments to eliminate all of these dangerous provisions, and secured a victory when Republicans were forced to remove the FTC provision from the bill at markup following bipartisan pushback.

II. "IMMIGRATION ENFORCEMENT"

Every day, the Trump Administration uses immigration enforcement as an excuse to violate and erode our rights and liberties. They round up people in the street and disappear them to the torture prison of a foreign dictator without even the semblance of Due Process, in direct violation of the Fifth Amendment. They strip students at American universities of their student visas for writing opeds the Administration disagrees with, in direct violation of the First Amendment. President Trump uses extraordinary emergency wartime powers like the Alien Enemies Act and threatens to invoke the Insurrection Act because he imagines an invasion at the southern border—which he also claims is safer than it has ever been.

Republicans claim that these extreme and unlawful measures are necessary to deport gang members, violent criminals, "the worst of the worst."[1] But the Trump Administration is not targeting the "worst of the worst." They're using federal agents to round-up law-abiding members of our communities who have been our friends, neighbors, and co-workers for decades, parents of American children, husbands and wives of American spouses—people who pose no threat to public safety. Agents are breaking into cars to arrest mothers as their children watch, terrified.[2] They're arresting people who are coming in for their citizenship interviews.[3] They are stalking churches, hospitals and schools, staking out people's homes, and trolling through Internal Revenue Service taxpayer data in search of tax-paying people to deport.[4] They're arresting and detaining people who are here legally. And they're making serious mistakes along the way by trashing Due Process.

In their frenzied attempt to arrest and deport anyone who looks like they might be an immigrant, they've arrested U.S. citizens, providing false and inaccurate information about why they were detained.[5] They've wrongly arrested U.S. citizens—mothers, grandmothers, and children—because they were overheard speaking Spanish.[6]

The Trump Administration has abandoned the rule of law. If Donald Trump can sweep noncitizens off the street and fly them to a torturer's prison in El Salvador with no Due Process, he can do it to citizens too, because if there is no Due Process, no fair hearing, you have no opportunity to object.

This bill is a blank check. It hands $81 billion to the Administration to do more of what we have already seen—mistakenly deporting people to a foreign prison. Deporting a two-year-old U.S. citizen and a four-year-old U.S. citizen who is battling cancer.[7] Sending masked agents with no identification to snatch students out of their neighborhoods, hauling them away in unmarked cars and sending them to a detention center across the country.[8]

This meaner, smaller version of America is not what the American people want.

It does not need to be this way. We know how to remove people from the country who should not be here. We know how to do it legally, consistent with the Bill of Rights, the Constitution, and the legal rights of every person in the United States. We have done it under Democratic and Republican presidents.

That is why, at our markup, Democrats offered 30 amendments to rein in some of the Administration's worst abuses.[9] Unfortunately, Republicans silently rejected every single one of these amendments, refusing to debate or discuss them.

Republicans rejected our amendment requiring the government to abide by the Constitution and provide Due Process before removing anyone from the U.S. and sending them to a torture prison in El Salvador. They rejected an amendment by Representative Nadler to ensure the Trump Administration does not use U.S. taxpayer dollars to send Americans to foreign dictators' jails. They even rejected an amendment offered by Representative Jayapal to bar the Trump Administration from detaining and deporting U.S. citizens to a foreign country.

Judiciary Committee Republicans opposed amendments by Representatives Garcia, Crockett, Correa, and Jayapal that would bar ICE from raiding sensitive locations, including houses of worship, hospitals, elementary schools, and shelters for survivors of domestic violence.

They opposed an amendment by Representative Garcia to ensure people who currently have legal protection under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program from being detained and deported. And they opposed amendments to halt ICE's violation of the First Amendment and Due Process rights of students at American colleges and universities.

Throughout the markup, our Republican colleagues sat silently, declining to offer any explanation as they voted against every single amendment offered.

III. OTHER PROVISIONS

While the federal courts have provided a meaningful check on President Trump's actions so far, House Republicans want to further enable President Trump's worst instincts here as well.

Instead of providing support for the judicial branch, this bill attempts to strip the courts of their power to hold the Administration in contempt when the President violates court orders, as he appears dangerously close to doing on so many fronts. Republicans rejected an amendment by Representative Johnson to ensure this bill does not defund courts' power to hold Administration officials in contempt for violating court orders and the rights and freedoms of the American people.

And to make matters worse, as Republicans race to spend more than $81 billion on "immigration enforcement," President Trump's own DOJ is terminating hundreds of millions of dollars in grants—they're cutting funding for law enforcement, cutting funding for opioid addiction treatment programs, cutting funding for crime prevention programs, and cutting funding for victims of violent crimes.[10] In a shocking move late last month, the Justice Department abruptly notified more than 300 grant recipients who work on precisely these issues that their DOJ grants were terminated immediately. The Administration's stated reason for canceling funding was that the grants no longer aligned with the Administration's goals or the agency's priorities.

This is baffling. These grants support local police in solving and preventing violent crime. They help the survivors of abuse and sexual assault navigate the legal system and connect them to the resources and support they need. They provide drug addiction treatment services and overdose prevention resources. And yet Judiciary Committee Republicans, without a word of explanation, voted against our amendment to reinstate these critical public safety grants.

And while they hamstring our police, House Republicans are also trying to handcuff the agencies that work to make sure our food and drugs are safe, and our air and water are clean.

The supercharged REINS Act is buried in this bill. It would prevent the government from enforcing our civil rights, protecting workplace safety, and guarding against misconduct by banks and financial institutions. It would require both houses of Congress and the President to approve EVERY major rule from federal agencies for them to take effect—virtually guaranteeing no more regulatory action on any subject.

This bill also includes the Midnight Rules Relief Act. This measure would allow Republicans to bundle together lots of regulations—including all of the regulations adopted in the final 365 days of the prior administration—into a single package and then vote them down as a single jumbo resolution. This tactic would, of course, only be used to hide the most destructive deregulatory votes among dozens of others.

The presence of these and other provisions in this legislation suggests that this is not merely a budgetary bill, but one that includes significant, unrelated policy changes that may run afoul of the budget reconciliation process.

IV. CONCLUSION

For all of the reasons discussed above, I urge my colleagues to oppose this legislation.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
U.S. CONGRESS,
Washington, DC, April 28, 2025.

Re CBO's Review of the Reconciliation Recommendations of the House Committee on the Judiciary.

Hon. JIM JORDAN,
Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: You have asked the Congressional Budget Office to review the reconciliation recommendations posted on the website of the House Committee on the Judiciary on April 28, 2025, to assess compliance with the instructions included in H. Con. Res 14.[1]

That resolution instructed the Committee to submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction that increase the deficit by not more than $110 billion for the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034.

CBO estimates that the Committee's reconciliation recommendations would increase deficits by less than $110 billion over the 2025–2034 period and would not increase on-budget deficits in any year after 2034.

I hope this information is useful to you. Please contact me if you have further questions.

Sincerely,

PHILLIP L. SWAGEL,
Director.

duce the royalty in that reinstated lease on the entire leasehold or any tract or portion thereof segregated for royalty purposes if, in his judgment, there are uneconomic or other circumstances which could cause undue hardship or premature termination of production; or because of any written action of the United States, its agents or employees, which preceded, and was a major consideration in, the lessee's expenditure of funds to develop the property under the lease after the rent had become due and had not been paid; or if in the judgment of the Secretary it is equitable to do so for any reason."; and

Issuance of such a lease shall be conditioned upon—

"(r) FEE FOR COMMINGLING OF PRODUCTION.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of the Interior shall approve applications allowing for the commingling of production from two or more sources (including the area of an oil and gas lease, the area included in a drilling spacing unit, a unit participating area, a communitized area, or non-Federal property) before production reaches the point of royalty measurement regardless of ownership, the royalty rates, and the number or percentage of acres for each source if the applicant pays an application fee of $10,000 and agrees to install measurement devices for each source, utilize an allocation method that achieves volume measurement uncertainty levels within plus or minus 2 percent during the production phase reported on a monthly basis, or utilize an approved periodic well testing methodology. Production from multiple oil and gas leases, drilling spacing units, communitized areas, or participating areas from a single wellbore shall be considered a single source. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent the Secretary of the Interior from continuing the current practice of exercising discretion to authorize higher percentage volume measurement uncertainty levels if appropriate technical and economic justifications have been provided.

"(s) FEES FOR PERMITS-BY-RULE.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish, by regulation not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this subsection, a permit-by-rule process under which a leaseholder may receive approval to drill for oil and gas if the leaseholder certifies compliance with such regulations and pays a fee of $5,000. Such permit-by-rule process shall allow drilling operations to commence no later than 45 days after the leaseholder has filed a registration that certifies compliance with such regulations and paid the fee required by this paragraph.

The Committee Print, as amended, and the accompanying materials were ordered to be transmitted to the House Committee on the Budget.

EARMARK STATEMENT

This legislation does not contain any Congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined under clause 9(e), 9(f), and 9(g) of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

UNFUNDED MANDATES REFORM ACT STATEMENT

An estimate of federal mandates prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act was not made available to the Committee in time for the filing of this report. The Chair of the Committee shall cause such estimate to be printed in the Congressional Record upon its receipt by the Committee, if such estimate is not publicly available on the Congressional Budget Office website.

APPLICABILITY TO LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Committee finds that the legislation does not relate to the terms and conditions of employment or access to public services or accommodations within the meaning of section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW

A Ramseyer was requested but not yet received. Therefore, with respect to clause 3(e) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee advises that compliance prior to submission to the Committee on the Budget was not possible.

DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

This legislation does not establish or reauthorize a program of the federal government known to be duplicative of another program. Such program was not included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111–139 or identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance published pursuant to the Federal Program Information Act (Public Law 95–220, as amended by Public Law 98–169) as relating to other programs.

DISSENTING VIEWS

This committee print is the most extreme, anti-environment legislation in American history, and it does nothing to address the problems facing our country and our constituents.

It's a billionaires-first, Americans-last giveaway to benefit Big Oil and polluters, contrived under the sham pretense of an energy emergency fabricated by President Donald Trump. It guts clean air, water and climate protections, slashes funding for our national parks, and sells off our public lands. For the first time, Americans who simply want their voices heard on Big Oil projects on federal land will be slapped with fees for daring to protest. Meanwhile, the legislation will hand out massive subsidies to oil, gas, and coal corporations and would create an unprecedented pay-to-play scheme allowing polluters to write a check to buy rushed environmental reviews and total immunity in the courts.

It's indefensible. Indeed, perhaps literally indefensible. Committee Republicans not only voted in lockstep for this cartoonishly extreme measure—they also refused to participate in any public debate or discussion about it other than a few pre-scripted remarks at the beginning of the 14-hour markup. Knowing how opposed Americans are to selling off public lands, they waited until the dead of night to offer an amendment to do that very thing. Committee Democrats filed 124 amendments, and Republicans refused to debate a single one. The American people deserved to hear why Committee Republicans opposed our commonsense amendments and why they support what's in this bill.

For example, Republicans must explain why they voted against amendments that would have blocked the bill's most egregious provisions and held the Trump Administration accountable by conditioning the bill's funding on actions like:

- Restoring essential and lifesaving public services like firefighting, weather forecasting, and coastal hazards mitigation;
- Rooting out corruption and conflicts of interest, including those stemming from Elon Musk and DOGE's illegal activities; and
- Repealing the Trump tariff taxes that are hammering American families and businesses with higher prices and supply chain uncertainty.

Republicans also voted in lockstep to block holding a public hearing on the committee print, continuing their pattern of ignoring voters while ramming though a partisan, unpopular anti-environment agenda. Their unwillingness to stand up to Trump and their disdain for democracy are making America weaker, less safe, and less prosperous.

Democrats showed up and fully engaged in debating and challenging this terrible legislation. We fought back. And we'll keep fighting for Americans' basic freedoms, which include clean air, safe water, healthy communities, and a livable planet for future generations.

The committee print's extreme and reckless provisions are described below.

TITLE VIII—COMMITTEE ON NATURAL RESOURCES

SUBTITLE A—ENERGY AND MINERAL RESOURCES

Sec. 80101. Onshore Oil and Gas

Requires the Secretary of the Interior to immediately resume quarterly lease sales for all eligible and nominated lands without discretion. Lease sales are mandated in Wyoming, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Montana, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Nevada, Alaska, and any other state with land available for oil and gas development. If a sale is delayed or canceled for any reason, or less than 25 percent of the acres offered receive a bid, then the Secretary must hold a replacement sale. This section wastes taxpayer resources by forcing the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) to hold unnecessary lease sales, and it will lead to federal agencies selling off our public lands at cut-rate prices.

Amends the Mineral Leasing Act to:

- Require the Secretary to offer all eligible land for lease if it has had an expression of interest in the last 18 months.
- Give the Secretary broad discretion to hold oil and gas lease sales, even if a land use plan is revised.
- Extend an "application for a permit to drill" (APD) validity to four years (from three).
- Require the Secretary to process APDs and other permits and authorizations even if there is a pending civil action against the application.
- Direct the Secretary to use certain categorical exclusions under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) for oil and gas development even if there are "extraordinary circumstances" that would otherwise require more thorough analysis.

Sec. 80102. Noncompetitive leasing

Reinstates noncompetitive oil and gas leasing, which was eliminated in the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) because it led to the hoarding of low-priced land by oil and gas companies, much of which they never bring into production. Ninety-nine percent of noncompetitive leases fail to produce in their ten-year primary term.[1] Rather than holding multiple rounds of competitive bidding for land, land is immediately available for noncompetitive leasing if no bids are received in the first round. Oil and gas companies are allowed to convert their low-producing leases to noncompetitive leases with a decreased royalty rate of 12.5 percent (down from 16.67 as enacted by the IRA).

[1] GAO, GAO–21–138, OIL AND GAS: ONSHORE COMPETITIVE AND NONCOMPETITIVE LEASE REVENUES (2020), https://www.gao.gov/assets/gao-21-138.pdf.

Authorizes the Secretary to reduce royalty rates for noncompetitive leases—possibly even down to ZERO—if it is "in his judgment it is equitable to do so" or the royalty rate would cause "undue hardship" or an early end to production.

Sec. 80103. Permit fees

Requires the Secretary to approve applications for the commingling of production from two or more sources of oil and gas before production reaches the point of royalty measurement if the applicant pays a $10,000 fee and agrees to install measurement devices. Under current law, commingling applications may be approved if the different sources being combined all have the same proportion of federal mineral interest (federal land vs. state vs. private), the same fixed royalty rate, and the same revenue distribution. More commingling could exacerbate the Department of the Interior's ongoing challenges with accurately measuring production and collecting royalties.

Requires the Secretary to establish a permit-by-rule process where an oil and gas leaseholder may receive an APD if the leaseholder certifies compliance with regulations themselves and pays a fee of $5,000. "Permit by rule" means that the reviewing authority sets a standard of requirements criteria. If an application meets these criteria, it will be automatically approved and will skip the final stage of public review.

Sec. 80104. Permitting fee for non-federal land

For a $5,000 fee, no federal permit under the Mineral Leasing Act is needed for oil and gas exploration and production that happens on non-federal lands but taps into federal subsurface oil and gas mineral estate. This applies as long as the operator has a state drilling permit and less than 50 percent of the oil and gas to be accessed is federally owned. The Secretary of the Interior may not require a bond, impose mitigation requirements, or require approval for reclamation for lands described under this section. Development under this section "shall require no federal action" and may begin as soon as 30 days after the leaseholder submits the state permit to the Secretary.

This section could degrade private and state lands, particularly in split-estate scenarios where the federal government owns the subsurface estate and another party owns the surface estate. An operator could start drilling on private land and freely access federal subsurface estate underneath a third party's property, with no notice or opportunity for that landowner to raise concerns. By eliminating federal bonding requirements, private landowners or state taxpayers would be left with the bill if an oil company made a mess and refused to clean it up.

Sec. 80105. Reinstate reasonable royalty rates

Reduces the range of offshore oil and gas royalty rates from between 16.67 and 18.75 to between 12.5 and 18.75 percent, lowering the royalty rate floor. Royalties could be reduced further at the Secretary's discretion, per the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act. Reduces onshore oil and gas royalty rates from 16.67 to 12.5 percent.

These royalty rates were increased through the IRA to provide a fair return for taxpayers. Instead, this bill would prioritize subsidies to an industry that pollutes our lands, air, water, and bodies, all while enjoying massive profits obtained by price-gouging the American public—in some cases through illegal collusion with OPEC. As a further insult, these wasteful handouts are included in the same bill that will cut Medicaid and food assistance for the most vulnerable Americans.

Part II—Geothermal

Sec. 801 1. Geothermal leasing

Amends the Geothermal Steam Act by requiring one lease sale for geothermal energy every year rather than one every two years. If the annual sale is canceled or delayed, the Secretary must hold a replacement sale. The Secretary is required to include all nominated parcels for geothermal development under a state's approved resource development plan. This would increase geothermal leasing while respecting the public resource planning process, which Committee Democrats support.

Sec. 801 2. Geothermal royalties

Amends the royalty structure in the Geothermal Steam Act to apply to each "electric generating facility producing electricity" on a geothermal lease. This gives additional discretion to the Secretary to change royalty rates on a facility-by-facility basis.

Part III—Alaska

Sec. 80121. Coastal Plain Oil and Gas Leasing

Directs the Secretary to withdraw the Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement (SEIS) prepared by the Biden administration to review the Coastal Plain Oil and Gas Leasing Program and Record of Decision (ROD), which called for an end to the program. Secretary Burgum already took this action on March 20, 2025.

Reissues the leases that were canceled by the Biden administration under the terms from the Trump administration in 2020, which was previously ordered by a federal court in Alaska and also already acted on in March 2025.[2]

Requires at least four new area-wide lease sales on the coastal plain in the next seven years, offering at least 400,000 acres each time. Directs the Secretary to issue all necessary rights of way, permits, biological opinions, incidental take statements, to develop said leases, and waives permitting requirements of ANILCA, NEPA, the Tax Act, ESA, and MMPA. Judicial review is waived except for challenges by the State of Alaska or any leaseholder. Revenue will be split 50–50 between the state of Alaska and the federal government for the next ten years, then after 2035, it switches to 90–10 between Alaska and the federal government. Seismic testing will be approved on a 30-day timeline. If the Secretary fails to comply with deadlines in this section, leaseholders can petition the courts to force action within 90 days—a remarkable exception in a bill that repeatedly strips the general public of their rights to access the courts.

Sec. 80122. National Petroleum Reserve-Alaska

Ceases implementation of the Biden administration's NPR–A rule, which protected ecologically sensitive areas from oil and gas development. Within one year of enactment, the Secretary is required to hold lease sales in the region once every two years. Rights of way, easements, and other authorizations will not be subject to judicial review, including any pending litigation. The State of Alaska and any leaseholders (but not others) may pursue judicial review, and if the court finds a violation of the act, it must order the agency to remedy the violation within 90 days. Revenue will be split 50–50 between the state of Alaska and the federal government for the next ten years, then after 2035, it switches to 90–10 between Alaska and the federal government. Seismic testing will be approved on a 30-day timeline.

Part IV—Mining

Neither of the mining sections in this scorched-earth giveaway to polluters would bring common sense to our woefully antiquated General Mining Act of 1872. Under current law, corporations can engage in destructive mining on our public lands—which consumes valuable water and leaves behind toxic pollution—and then carry off the public's mineral resources for free. Not even oil and gas receive such a generous handout.

Worse, these outdated laws allow even our foreign adversaries to take our collectively owned mineral wealth for free—enriching our adversaries at our expense. To be clear, under current law, companies literally owned by America's foreign adversaries (state-owned companies) can mine public lands by setting up a subsidiary, and then they don't even pay us for the minerals they take back. At the markup on this committee print, Republicans voted against a Democratic amendment to ban our foreign adversaries from mining on our public lands. Republicans also voted against a Democratic amendment to require our foreign adversaries to at least pay us for the minerals they take from us. What happened to America First? What happened to not letting foreign adversaries rip us off? The public can only guess as to why Republicans opposed these amendments, because they refused to explain their votes or to engage in any debate on the matter.

Sec. 80131. Superior National Forest Lands in Minnesota

Voids Public Land Order 7917, the 225,000-acre withdrawal surrounding the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness (BWCAW) and reinstates Twin Metals' leases in the region on extended 20-year terms with rights to non-discretionary renewals. The reinstatement of leases is not subject to judicial review, except of course for a leaseholder to seek judicial review regarding an alleged failure by the Secretary under this section.

The Boundary Waters in Northeastern Minnesota is a pristine wilderness. It is a treasure beloved by countless Americans and is the most visited Wilderness Area in the country. It also supports a thriving outdoor recreation economy with hundreds of thousands of annual visitors and tens of thousands of jobs across Northeastern Minnesota.

Twin Metals Minnesota—a wholly owned subsidiary of the Chilean mining company Antofagasta—has been pushing to build a sulfide-ore copper mine in the Boundary Waters watershed for over a decade. In 2016, after an extensive environmental review process, including public input and scientific analysis, the U.S. Forest Service concluded sulfide-ore copper mining—which is significantly different from the taconite mining the region is used to—could result in "extreme" and "serious and irreparable harm" in the watershed of this Wilderness Area. All operational U.S. copper sulfide mines have leaked polluted mine waste. The Forest Service found that any spills, leaks, or pollution from the Twin Metals mine would be all but impossible to contain, putting the entire ecosystem at risk.

Sec. 80132. Ambler Road in Alaska

Amends the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) to require the issuance of all rights-of-way, permits, and other authorizations for the Ambler Road, a 211-mile mining road through the Gates of the Arctic National Preserve. Reinstates the March 2020 Joint Record of Decision, Alternative A for Ambler Road, which approves the road and waives all applicable federal laws with no judicial review. Requires an annual $500,000 rental fee for the Ambler Road right-of-way for fiscal years 2025-2034. For years, numerous Alaska Native communities have strongly opposed this project, with eighty-nine Tribes and First Nations passing or signing onto resolutions against the Ambler Road.

Part V—Coal

Sec. 80141. Coal Leasing

For all applications for a coal lease sale, the Secretary is required to publish an environmental review, hold a lease sale, and issue the lease within 90 days. This section directs the Secretary to make 4,000,000 acres in the West available for coal leasing (non-competitive) that are not otherwise withdrawn.

Sec. 80142. Future Coal Leasing

Voids Secretary Jewell's Secretarial Order SO 3338 (coal moratorium while evaluating the federal coal leasing program) and any other actions limiting the federal coal leasing program. This SO was already withdrawn by the first Trump administration and never reinstated by the Biden administration.

Sec. 80143. Coal Royalty

Decreases coal royalty from 12.5 to 7 percent, with discretion to go lower, and retroactively applies this to all active coal leases. As with this bill's provisions lowering oil and gas royalties, this section prioritizes subsidies to an industry that pollutes our lands, air, water, and bodies. We should be investing in the competitive, clean, renewable energy technologies of the future, which create jobs and drive down electricity prices—instead of trying to revive an industry that is not going to come back. As a further insult, these wasteful handouts are included in the same bill that will cut Medicaid and food assistance for the most vulnerable Americans.

Sec. 80144. Authorization to mine federal minerals Automatically authorizes the Bull Mountain coal mine plan modification, which the courts have repeatedly struck down for not considering climate impacts. The Bull Mountain Mine is extremely controversial, and the owner of the mine, Signal Peak, is currently on probation with the Department of Justice (DOJ) after criminal convictions for environmental and safety violations.[3] These include more than 122 accidents and more than 1,600 citations of mine safety violations.[4] To preserve the mine's reputation, Signal Peak leadership pressured mine employees "not to report injuries that occurred while on duty, using over and implicit pressure, threats, and bribes." [5]

Part VI—NEPA

Sec. 80151. Project sponsor opt-in fees for environmental reviews.

Establishes a pay-to-play pathway for any project subject to NEPA review. If a project sponsor or developer pays 125 percent of the estimated review cost, then a six-month deadline is established to complete an Environmental Assessment (EA) and a one-year deadline to complete an Environmental Impact Statements (EIS). The EA or EIS could also be prepared by the project sponsor. EIS reviews are typically reserved for the roughly 1 percent of projects that are the largest, most complex and controversial, with the greatest potential for environmental and public health impacts—realities and challenges that this section tries to wish away. This section also eliminates administrative and judicial review of the adequacy of any EA or EIS completed under this program.

In effect, this section allows well-financed project sponsors to buy a one-year EIS (or a six-month EA) and immunity from lawsuits and judicial or administrative accountability—even in cases of flagrantly inadequate NEPA reviews.

Sec. 80152. Recission relating to environmental and climate data collection

Rescinds unobligated funds from section 60401 of the Inflation Reduction Act. These funds support data collection efforts related to the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) EJ-Screen tool and disproportionate climate and pollution impacts.

Part VII—Miscellaneous

Sec. 80161. Protest fees

The Minerals Leasing Act of 1920 allows individuals or groups to file protests challenging the Bureau of Land Management's oil and gas leasing decisions. This section adds a $150 fee to file a protest, with an additional $5 per page for each page over 10 pages. If the protest submission covers more than one lease parcel, right-of-way, or application for permit to drill, it assesses an additional $10 per lease parcel, right-of-way, or application for permit to drill. These protest filing fees are indexed to inflation (unlike the reduced oil and gas royalties, the reduced coal royalties, or the pay-to-play provision under this bill, of course).

This section targets members of the public, including hunters and anglers, private landowners, and local elected officials, who simply want their voices heard when oil companies try to lease in sensitive wildlife habitats, on their ranches, or next to national parks. For example, if an oil company tried to lease split-estate lands to drill for oil under a private ranch, it could cost the rancher several hundred dollars to file a formal protest.

Part VIII—Offshore Oil and Gas Leasing

Sec. 80171. Mandatory offshore oil and gas lease sales

For all lease sales under this title, no new analysis is required under the Endangered Species Act (ESA), Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA), NEPA, or Coastal Zone Management Act (CZMA), and it prohibits the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM) from instituting risk-reduction measures to protect the critically endangered Rice's whale. It also allows the Secretary to waive any requirement of the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act that the Secretary determines is slowing down leasing. This section allows state governors to nominate areas adjacent to their state waters, which BOEM must include in the next lease sale, and requires geological and geophysical survey permits (seismic testing) to be approved within 30 days.

Requires 30 lease sales over the next 15 years in the Gulf of Mexico (two annually). Each lease sale must amount to the entire region, or whatever remains that is unleased. This section also requires six lease sales in the Cook Inlet of one million acres each, or whatever remains if less than one million acres. Beginning in 2035, 90 percent of all revenues from leases issued offshore of Alaska pursuant to this section will go to the State of Alaska and 10 percent to the Treasury. No leases awarded under this section in either area can be cancelled, and it prevents the Secretary from imposing any additional terms on these leases, such as risk-reduction measures to avoid harming the critically endangered Rice's whale (only 51 remain, all in the U.S. portion of the Gulf of Mexico). For all leases under this section, this section permanently reinstates a Biological Opinion that essentially waives all ESA and MMPA requirements for oil and gas activities in the Gulf of Mexico. Judicial review for all permits under this section is limited to any circuit courts in the affected state. This section also decreases revenue to the Treasury by eliminating the cap on revenue-sharing to states through the Gulf of Mexico Energy Security Act for 10 years. This section absurdly refers to the Gulf of Mexico as the "Gulf of America."

Sec. 80172. Offshore commingling

Allows for comingling of offshore production unless "conclusive evidence" establishes that such comingling can't be done safely or would reduce the total amount of oil recovered from those reservoirs. This section also uses the unserious term "Gulf of America."

Sec. 80173. Limitations on amounts of distributed qualified Outer Continental Shelf revenues

Part IX—Renewable Energy

Sec. 80181. Renewable energy fees on federal land

Increases rents and fees for onshore wind and solar. Acreage-based rental rates are increased according to a fee. Once the renewable energy project begins producing, they will pay as a "capacity fee" (royalty) either the acreage rental fee or 4.58 percent of the gross proceeds of the sale of the electricity generated. Wind projects may apply for a multiple-use reduction factor to their capacity fee if 25 percent or more of the land within their right of way is used for activities other than wind generation. The Office of Natural Resources Revenue (ONRR) will publish wind and solar energy revenues collected on its website.

If renewable energy projects are more than 15 days late paying their fees, the Secretary may charge a late fee; if the project holder is more than 90 days late, the Secretary may terminate the right-of-way (lease). The bill does not place such conditions on oil, gas, or coal, of course.

Repeals the Secretary's authority, originally included in the bipartisan Energy Act of 2020 signed into law by President Trump, to reduce acreage rates and capacity fees for wind and solar based on economic conditions or in pursuit of promoting the use of wind and solar.

Sec. 80182. Renewable energy revenue sharing

Twenty-five percent of renewable revenues shall go to the state where those revenues are generated, and 25 percent to the county where it is generated. This shall be in addition to payments in lieu of taxes.

SUBTITLE B—WATER, WILDLIFE, AND FISHERIES

This subtitle rescinds unobligated IRA balances from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration that fund improvements to NOAA labs and facilities, including the National Marine Sanctuaries, and supports coastal restoration and habitat resilience, fisheries science and stock assessments, and innovative climate readiness programs. Last year, former NOAA administrator Rick Spinrad reported to the House Committee on Natural Resources that the amount of funding needed for qualified coastal and marine habitat restoration projects is 28 times higher than what NOAA could fund with IRA and Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) money. Rescinding these balances further exacerbates these needs, taking money away from important fishery research and stock assessment priorities and coastal and Great Lakes communities around the country.

This subtitle also appropriates $2.5 billion to Bureau of Reclamation storage and conveyance projects. While not explicitly named, these funds are intended for the Shasta Dam and the Friant-Kern Canal projects in California.

Sec. 80201. Recission of funds for investing in coastal communities and climate resilience

Rescinds unobligated funds from Section 40001 of the Inflation Reduction Act. These funds support conservation and restoration of marine and coastal habitats, Pacific salmon and other marine fisheries, and fisheries science and stock assessments.

Sec. 80202. Recission of funds for facilities of National Oceanic Atmospheric Administration and National Marine Sanctuaries

Sec. 80203. Surface water storage enhancement

Appropriates $2 billion to increase the storage capacity of Bureau of Reclamation storage facilities. This targets the proposed Shasta Dam raise, a project that would violate California law by inundating the McCloud River—a state-protected Wild and Scenic River—and submerging sacred sites of the Winnemum Wintu Tribe. This provision also waives standard non-federal cost-share requirements, effectively authorizing full federal funding for the project.

Sec. 80204. Water conveyance enhancement

Appropriates $500 million for restoring and increasing the storage capacity of existing Bureau of Reclamation conveyance facilities. This targets repairs and potential expansion of the Friant-Kern Canal in California. Like section 80203, this provision waives standard non-federal cost-share requirements, effectively authorizing full federal funding for the project.

SUBTITLE C—FEDERAL LANDS

This subtitle continues the theme of handing over our public lands to the highest bidder and overturing protections for sensitive and cherished landscapes. Sections 80301–80305 would strip away recent conservation gains by blocking the implementation of key planning documents designed to promote climate resilience and balanced development across millions of acres of public land. Additionally, the subtitle would rescind unobligated IRA balances to claw back funds designed to promote old growth conservation, invest in climate restoration and habitat restoration across our public lands and national parks, and support new employees at the National Park Service (NPS). Initial Congressional Budget Office (CBO) estimates indicate a $257 million reduction in funds available to hire employees at units of the National Park System. Rescinding these funds sends the message that Congress supports the Trump administration's efforts to dismantle the federal workforce—efforts that betray the public support for our national parks.

Additionally, leaning into an Executive Order issued by President Trump, the subtitle directs the Forest Service and BLM to increase timber production on national forests and public lands by 25%. This is an arbitrary increase with no direct connection to wildfire risk reduction or community resilience. In fact, an overzealous emphasis on commercial logging could threaten treasured old-growth trees and degrade forests that provide clean air, clean water, and abundant wildlife habitat.

Finally, a surprise late-night amendment from Representative Amodei directs the BLM and Forest Service to sell hundreds of thousands of acres of public land in Nevada and Utah. The amendment was filed without any notice and was not accompanied by maps or any other background material to shed light on the specifics of the proposed sales. Further, the amendment includes land in Clark County, Nevada, and was filed over the objections of the Democratic Members who actually represent the area. Proceeds from all of the authorized sales will be deposited in the U.S. Treasury rather than reinvested in conservation. This betrays a longstanding commitment to balance economic development with long-term and durable protections for public land and outdoor recreation in Southern Nevada and throughout the country.

Sec. 80301. Prohibition on the implementation of the Rock Springs Field Office, Wyoming, Resource Management Plan

Prohibits the implementation and administration of the Resource Management Plan (RMP) for the BLM's Rock Springs Field Office in Wyoming. This targets a plan developed through rigorous public input designed to strike a fair balance between development and conservation in order to prioritize oil and gas development and mining over all other considerations.

Sec. 80302. Prohibition on the implementation of the Buffalo Field Office, Wyoming, Resource Management Plan

Prohibits the implementation and administration of the RMP for the BLM's Buffalo Field Office in Wyoming. This targets a plan developed by the Biden administration designed to suspended future coalleasing in the Powder River Basin in order to reduce emissions and promote sustainable land management.

Sec. 80303. Prohibition on the implementation of the Miles City Field Office, Montana, Resource Management Plan

Prohibits the implementation and administration of the RMP for the BLM's Miles City Filed Office in Montana in order to prioritize coal production over all other considerations. This targets yet another plan developed by the Biden administration designed to suspend future coal leasing in the Powder River Basin in order to reduce emissions and promote sustainable land management.

Sec. 80304. Prohibition on the implementation of the North Dakota Resource Management Plan

Prohibits the implementation and administration of the RMP for the BLM's North Dakota Field Office in order to prioritize oil and gas development and coal mining over all other considerations.

Sec. 80305. Prohibition on the implementation of the Colorado River Valley Field Office Resource Management Plans

Prohibits the implementation and administration of the RMP for the BLM's Grand Junction and Colorado River Valley Field Office in order to prioritize oil and gas development and mining over all other considerations. This targets plans developed to better incorporate the climate impacts of oil and gas development and rolls back protections for conservation, habitat preservation, river vitality, and areas of tribal and historic significance.

Sec. 80306. Rescission of Forest Service Funds

Rescinds unobligated balances from the Inflation Reduction Act that fund the protection and mapping of old-growth forests in the National Forest System.

Sec. 80307. Recission of National Park Service and Bureau of Land Management Funds

Rescinds unobligated balances from the Inflation Reduction Act that fund conservation and climate resilience projects on NPS and BLM lands.

Sec. 80308. Recission of Bureau of Land Management and National Park Service Funds

Rescinds unobligated balances from the Inflation Reduction Act that fund habitat restoration projects on NPS and BLM lands.

Sec. 80309. Recission of National Park Service Funds

Rescinds unobligated balances from the Inflation Reduction Act that fund hiring employees to serve in the National Park System. Rescinding such funds is an outrageous affront as President Trump is actively working to dismantle and undermine the NPS. Since the beginning of 2025, the agency has lost 12.5 percent of the entire workforce. Our National Parks have been characterized as America's Best Idea. House Republicans are walking away from that sentiment and abandoning a deep-rooted national priority.

Sec. 80310. Celebrating America's 250th Anniversary

Appropriates $150 million for events and activities related to the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the United States. Appropriates $40 million to establish and maintain the "Garden of American Heroes," a proposed statuary park intended to recognize "great figures of America's history" as determined by President Trump.

Sec. 80311. Long-term contracts for the Forest Service

Requires the Forest Service to enter into at least one 20-year timber sale or stewardship contract in each region of the Forest Service for each of the fiscal years 2025—2034.

Sec. 80312. Long-term contracts for the Bureau of Land Management Requires BLM to enter into at least one 20-year timber sale or stewardship contract for the fiscal years 2025–2034.

Sec. 80313. Timber Production for the Forest Service

Requires the Forest Service to increase timber production by 25 percent over production levels in 2024. This matches an Executive Order issued by President Trump, and it is strictly designed to increase logging in national forests without any regard for wildfire mitigation or other considerations.

Sec. 80314. Timber Production for the Bureau of Land Management

Requires BLM to increase timber production by 25 percent over production levels in 2024.

Sec. 80315. Bureau of Land Management in Nevada

Directs the BLM to sell hundreds of thousands of acres of public land in Lyon, Clark, Washoe, and Pershing Counties in Nevada. The proceeds from the sales are directed to the U.S. Treasury.

Sec. 80316. Forest Service Land in Nevada

Directs the Forest Service to sell parcels of the National Forest System in Washoe County, Nevada. The proceeds from the sales are directed to the U.S. Treasury.

Sec. 80317. Federal Land in Utah

Directs the BLM to sell tens of thousands of acres of land in Beaver and Washington Counties in Utah. The proceeds from the sales are directed to the U.S. Treasury.

- Representative Hoyle's amendment (#186) to ensure the recent firings at the Power Marketing Administrations will not result in a loss of power for ratepayers.

"(A) In fiscal year 2026, $5,090,278.

SUMMARY OF BUDGETARY PROVISIONS IN THE COMMITTEE PRINT

Section 90001 of the Committee Print providing for reconciliation pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025 ("Committee Print") would achieve $31,801,000,000 in revenue increases by raising the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS) employee contribution rate for certain existing federal civilian employees and postal service employees hired before 2014 up to the current rate of 4.4% of their annual salary (or 4.9% in the case of Members and Congressional staff hired before 2013). This increase is incrementally phased-in over two years, such that the full increase is in effect starting on January 1, 2027. Exempted from this Section's effects are federal law enforcement officers, federal firefighters, U.S. Capitol and Supreme Court police officers, air traffic controllers, nuclear materials couriers, and customs and border protection officers.

Section 90002 of the Committee Print would save $10,034,000,000 by eliminating the additional retirement annuity payment for new federal retirees that are eligible to retire before age 62 which they currently receive until they reach the age of Social Security retirement eligibility (exempted from this legislative change are those mandatorily separated from federal occupations subject to statutory separation requirements).

Section 90003 of the Committee Print would save $3,100,000,000 by reducing federal pension benefit spending by basing new retirees' annuity payments on their average highest five earning years (instead of the highest three years) with a delay in enactment so that this change goes into effect for those retiring after January 1, 2027. Exempted from this Section's effects are current retirees, federal law enforcement officers, federal firefighters, U.S. Capitol and Supreme Court police officers, air traffic controllers, nuclear materials couriers, and customs and border protection officers.

Section 90004 of the Committee Print would achieve $4,541,000,000 in net savings by raising the FERS employee contribution rates by 5 percentage points—thus raising additional revenue—for newly hired Federal employees who elect to maintain existing civil service employment protections. Those new hires who elect to serve "at-will" will pay the FERS employee contribution rates applicable to new employees under existing law. Thus, those who elect to serve "at-will" will in effect receive higher take-home pay than their peers who do not.

Section 90005 of the Committee Print would raise $3,000,000 in revenue by charging a fee for Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) filings (an amount equal to a District Court filing fee). This fee would be refunded to those employees who win their appeals.

Section 90006 of the Committee Print would achieve $1,472,000,000 in net savings by requiring, and directing $80,000,000 in funding for, the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) to conduct a comprehensive audit of employee dependents currently enrolled in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP) plans—verifying marriage certificates and birth certificates, for instance—and requiring that ineligible individual found to be receiving FEHB coverage be disenrolled. The section also directs $473,267,927 in funding for OPM to develop, maintain, and conduct oversight over FEHBP systems and directs $50,057,934 to the OPM inspector general to audit the enrollment and eligibility in FEHBP systems.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Federal Retirement Revenue and Budget Saving Provisions:

The Committee recognizes that the federal workforce enjoys benefits—including generous retirement plan incentives—that largely outpace those received by the private sector workforce. According to an April 2024 Congressional Budget Office (CBO) report, in 2022 "benefits cost about $31 per hour worked, on average, for federal employees and $22 per hour worked for private-sector employees . . . [t]hus, benefits for federal workers cost 43 percent more per hour worked, on average, than benefits for private-sector workers" and such "[b]enefits also constituted a larger share of total compensation for federal workers (40 percent) than for workers in the private sector (30 percent)." [1] World-class employment benefits provided to federal employees can include eleven paid holidays; various incentives and awards; health, life, and long-term care insurance; flexible spending accounts; student loan repayment and forgiveness plans; generous leave and workplace flexibilities; and childcare, professional development, and commuter subsidies.[2]

Federal employees receive particularly generous retirement benefits. These are comprised of both defined contribution (in the form of the defined contribution 401(k) equivalent Thrift Savings Plan (TSP) investment program) and defined benefit retirement plans (in the form of annuities). By comparison, the 2024 Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) National Compensation Survey indicates that only 15% of the private sector civilian workforce had access to both defined benefit and defined contribution plans.[3] The Fiscal Year 2019 budget request to Congress noted that "[p]rivate sector employers provide a smaller share of compensation in the form of retirement benefits than does the Federal Government." [4]

Federal annuity costs are shared by the employee and federal government. Although employees contribute, the Government pays a significant share of the cost of federal employee defined benefit pensions. It is future taxpayers who will need to pay for unfunded federal employee pension obligations. In 2012, Congress sought to better balance the cost of these pensions by increasing the employee cost-share for the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS)—the defined benefit retirement plan established by Congress in 1986—for new hires to 3.1% and later in 2013 to 4.4% of the employees' gross salaries.[5] Since these changes only applied prospectively to those hired following date(s) of enactment, those enrolled before these changes were enacted continued to pay the lower, 0.8% employee contribution rate.

Better balancing the share of federal employee retirement costs between employees and taxpayers (and bringing federal employee retirement benefits into better alignment with their private sector peers) raises revenue for the Federal government and helps reduce the budget deficit. Currently, federal and Congressional employees and Members of Congress hired after December 31, 2013 contribute 10.6% of their salary (minus the current 6.2% Social Security tax rate which reaches the effective 4.4% FERS salary contribution rate seen in employee paychecks) into the FERS system, while law enforcement officers, firefighters, members of the Capitol Police, members of the Supreme Court Police, air traffic controllers, nuclear materials couriers, and customs and border protection officers pay 11.1% (to accommodate their eligibility for "enhanced" FERS retirement benefits—effectively 4.9% after the 6.2% Social Security tax rate is subtracted). However, Cohorts of federal employees hired on or prior to that date contribute less, ranging down to an effective 0.8% employee contribution rate.

Sec. 90001 of the Committee Print brings all current cohorts of employees into parity, with respect to their FERS contributions. This, generates an estimated $31,801,000,000 in revenue for budget deficit reduction over ten years. Exempted, however, from these new FERS contribution changes are law enforcement officers, firefighters, members of the U.S. Capitol and Supreme Court Police, air traffic controllers, nuclear materials couriers, and customs and border protection officers from any increased FERS contribution rates.

When a federal employee enrolled in FERS qualifies for, and receives, an "immediate retirement" benefit before attaining the eligibility age to qualify for Social Security, they become eligible to receive a supplemental retirement benefit payment in addition to their FERS annuity payment. The Fiscal Year 2019 budget request notes how the "supplement partially replaces the Social Security portion of the retirement package" and "[w]hen private sector employees retire before Social Security eligibility age, no such supplement is provided."[6]

Sec. 90002 of the committee print generates an estimated $10,034,000,000 in budget savings by eliminating the FERS annuity supplement and associated costs of supplementing the already generous defined benefit system for those employees who retire after the date of enactment. Exempted from this change, however, are, those who separate from service under federal mandatory separation requirements (as required under 5 U.S.C. 8425) (i.e., mandatory retirement, which is set at age 57 for law enforcement officers and related personnel and at age 56 for air traffic controllers).

Federal employee annuity payments are currently based on an average of their highest three years of salaried earnings during their years of service. The Fiscal Year 2021 budget request included a proposal to calculate federal "employees' annuity based on the 'High-5' highest earning salary years instead of the 'High-3' highest earning salary years" in order to "bring Federal retirement benefits more in line with the private sector, while reducing their long-term costs."[7] The 2021 budget request further details how "Federal retirement annuity calculations are based on the average of the Federal employee's three highest salary-earning years" while "[p]rivate sector pension companies commonly base employee annuity calculations on the employee's five highest salary-earning years, a formula more representative of an employee's career earnings."

While exempting law enforcement officers, members of the U.S. Capitol and Supreme Court Police, firefighters, nuclear materials couriers, air traffic controllers, and customs and border protection officers, Sec. 90003 alters the annuity calculation such that it uses the average of the top FIVE consecutive years of service for, those retiring on or after January 1, 2027. This will generate an estimated $3,100,000,000 in budget savings to reduce the deficit.

The changes to FERS calculations and benefits in Sections 90001–90003 would also apply to the U.S. Postal Service workforce which participate in FERS, but would not impact military service members since they are in the separate military retirement system (unless they transfer into the federal civilian workforce and opt out of the military retirement system).

Lastly, to further reduce the federal government's cost of funding federal employee retirement benefits into the future, Sec. 90004 would amend the law to require new federal employee hires after the date of enactment to elect to serve "at will" in exchange for higher take- home pay than their peers. This provision would raise $4,541,000,000 in estimated net decrease in the deficit through new revenue over ten years. New hires after the date of enactment would have a five-percentage point increase in their FERS contribution rate, relative to current law, unless they choose to work on an at-will basis.

Revenue Generation with Federal Employee Disciplinary Appeal Filing Fees:

With a nearly $50 million annual budget, the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) is charged primarily with "adjudicating individual employee appeals" and providing federal employees with an opportunity to argue their case before a federal administrative judge, present evidence in their own defense, call supporting witnesses, and cross-examine witnesses.[8] In Fiscal Year 2023 alone, the MSPB reported a backlog of 1,884 cases with 4,135 total appeals being decided (68.1% of which were dismissed outright).[9]

Recognizing the volume of these cases, Sec. 90005 of the Committee Print would raise additional revenue by requiring a modest fee for bringing a case filing before the MSPB (equal to a district court filing fee). The fee be refunded to employees who win their appeals. This provision is estimated to generate $3,000,000 in additional revenue over ten years, contributing to deficit reduction.

Federal Employee Health Plan Enrollment Audit Budget Savings:

The Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP) is the largest self-funded health plan in the United States.[10] According to a 2022 GAO report, the FEHBP covers approximately 8.2 million individuals, including 2.2 million federal employees, 1.9 million retirees, and an estimated 4.1 million family members costing approximately $59 billion of combined annual premiums paid by the government and enrollees. [11]

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) administers the FEHBP, contracting with approximately 87 health insurance carriers offering over 270 health care coverage options for eligible employees and family members. However, the program operates under a diffused management structure spread over 160 government employing offices individually responsible for enrollment, fraud risk management, and eligibility verification for those receiving FEHB coverage. OPM's Office of the Inspector General (OIG) estimates the annual cost of fraud and improper payments associated with ineligible members being enrolled in the FEHBP is between $250 million and $3 billion.[12]

While OPM has taken steps to enable employing offices and FEHB carriers to identify and remove ineligible FEHB members—such as providing that employing offices and FEHB carriers may request proof of family member eligibility at any time for existing participants—these accountability measures are not required in law and are therefore not achieving the potential budgetary savings. Specifically, although OPM now requires employing offices and insurance carriers to verify family members' eligibility for new-hire and qualifying life event (QLE) transactions, OPM cannot reasonably ensure such verification is actually taking place due to the current FEHBP administrative structure.

Sec. 90006 of the Committee Print requires OPM to verify the eligibility of family members for FEHBP coverage and enrollment by conducting a government-wide audit in order to determine the eligibility of family members and dependents currently receiving FEHBP coverage. The legislation specifically mandates the disenrollment or removal of any ineligible individual from FEHBP coverage, thus saving associated federal agency retiree health care plan costs. In total, this legislative requirement is estimated to reduce on-budget deficits by $1,472,000,000 over ten years.

Further, to improve FEHBP system management and ensure ongoing oversight of enrollments Sec. 90006 directs annual funding to be derived from the FEHBP trust fund itself to consolidate the FEHB program administration within OPM and ensure the OPM OIG is effectively equipped to conduct ongoing oversight of federal health plan enrollments.[13]

Federal employees and American taxpayers share in the costs associated with FEHBP coverage, including program administration. The budgetary savings achieved by this government-wide audit and improved ongoing oversight of the FEHB program vastly exceeds the implementation and administrative costs, resulting in significant deficit reduction.

The legislation would:

- Increase some employees' contributions to Federal Employees' Retirement System (FERS) and eliminate the retirement supplement for most employees in the system
- Change the years of salary history used for calculating retirement benefits for most employees to five years from three years
- Increase pension contributions of new federal hires who choose not to be at-will employees
- Require eligibility verification for dependents in the Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB) program, expand fraud assessments of the program, and deny or disenroll ineligible dependents
- Impose private-sector mandates by reducing the value of certain earned benefits

Estimated budgetary effects would mainly stem from:

- Increasing revenues from federal employees' contributions to FERS
- Reducing federal spending on retirement annuities and annuity supplements
- Verifying FEHB eligibility for dependents and disenrolling ineligible dependents

Areas of significant uncertainty include:

- Anticipating federal employees' responses to changes in FERS contributions and benefits
- Projecting how many new federal workers would choose to be at-will employees
- Predicting the number and timing of dependents who would be found ineligible for FEHB
- Projecting reductions in spending generated by disenrolling ineligible dependents from FEHB

Legislation Summary: H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, instructed the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform to recommend legislative changes that would decrease deficits by a specified amount over the 2025–2034 period. As part of the reconciliation process, the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform approved legislation on April 30, 2025, that would decrease deficits.

Estimated Federal Cost: In CBO's estimation, the reconciliation recommendations of the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform would, on net, decrease deficits by $51.0 billion over the 2025–2034 period. The estimated budgetary effects of the legislation are shown in Table 1. The costs of the legislation mainly fall within budget functions 550 (health), 600 (income security), 800 (general government), and 950 (undistributed offsetting receipts).

[a] Cash flows for USPS are recorded in the federal budget in the Postal Service Fund and are classified as off-budget direct spending.

Basis of Estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the legislation will be enacted in summer 2025. CBO's estimates are relative to its January 2025 baseline and cover the period from 2025 through 2034.

Direct Spending and Revenues: CBO estimates that enacting the legislation would decrease direct spending by $11.7 billion and increase revenues by $39.2 billion over the 2025–2034 period; the deficit would be reduced $51.0 billion over the 2025–2034 period (see Table 2).

Increase in FERS Employee Contribution Requirements: The federal government provides most of its civilian employees a defined benefit retirement plan through the Federal Employees' Retirement System (FERS). The plan provides eligible retirees with a monthly benefit in the form of an annuity. Those benefits are funded jointly by contributions from employees and their employing federal agencies. Contribution rates, benefit formulas, and qualification criteria vary across different categories of employees.

Section 90001 would raise the required contribution rates for certain groups of people who entered FERS before January 1, 2014; specifically, most federal employees, Members of Congress, and Congressional staff.

FERS contributions would not change for federal employees who are both eligible for enhanced retirement benefits and subject to mandatory retirement, specifically federal law enforcement officers and firefighters, Customs and Border Protection officers, members of the U.S. Capitol Police and the Supreme Court Police, air traffic controllers, and nuclear materials couriers. (Enhanced benefits are calculated using a higher percentage of federal salary—1.7 percent—for the first 20 years of service compared with the regular benefits that generally use 1 percent.) FERS contributions also would not change for people who entered FERS after 2013 (those employees are referred to as FERS Further Revised Annuity Employees).

Under current law, most regular federal employees who entered FERS before January 2013 contribute 0.8 percent of their annual salary toward retirement; most who entered FERS during 2013, referred to as FERS Revised Annuity Employees, contribute 3.1 percent (see Table 3). The proposed higher contribution rates for affected employees would be phased in over two years, beginning in January 2026.

By the end of the phase-in period (2027), most employees who entered FERS before January 1, 2014, would contribute 4.4 percent of their annual salary. The contributions of FERS recipients who are eligible for enhanced benefits and also subject to mandatory retirement would remain unchanged at 1.3 percent. Members of Congress and Congressional staff who entered FERS before 2013 are eligible for enhanced benefits; their contributions would rise from 1.3 percent to 4.9 percent over the phase-in period. Members and staff who entered FERS after January 1, 2013, are not eligible for enhanced benefits.

TABLE 3.—FEDERAL PENSION CONTRIBUTIONS, BY FERS CATEGORY, AS REQUIRED UNDER SECTION 90001

	Contribution Rate, Percentage of Annual Salary
	2025	2026	2027
FERS, Entered FERS Before 2013
Regular Federal Employees	0.80	2.60	4.40
Members of Congress, Congressional Staff	1.30	3.10	4.90
Enhanced-Benefit Recipients Subject to Mandatory Retirement	1.30	1.30	1.30
FERS RAE, Entered FERS In 2013
Regular Federal Employees, Members of Congress, Congressional Staff	3.10	3.75	4.40
Enhanced-Benefit Recipients Subject to Mandatory Retirement	3.60	3.60	3.60
FERS FRAE, Entered FERS After 2013
Regular Federal Employees, Members of Congress, Congressional Staff	4.40	4.40	4.40
Enhanced-Benefit Recipients Subject to Mandatory Retirement	4.90	4.90	4.90

FERS = Federal Employees' Retirement System; FRAE = Further Revised Annuity Employees; RAE = Revised Annuity Employees.

The rate for most federal employees, Members of Congress, and Congressional staff who entered the system in 2013 would increase from 3.1 percent to 4.4 percent over the phase-in period. Contributions would remain constant at 3.6 percent for employees who entered in 2013 who are eligible for enhanced benefits and also subject to mandatory retirement. The contributions for FERS Further Revised Annuity Employees (those who entered after 2013) would remain constant at 4.4 percent of their annual salary over the phase-in period for most federal employees, Members of Congress, and Congressional staff and at 4.9 percent for employees who are eligible to receive enhanced benefits.

Contributions paid by federal employees toward their retirement are recorded as revenues in the federal budget. CBO estimates that the proposed increases in employee contributions would increase revenues by $34.5 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Federal agencies also contribute to their employees' retirement. For each increase proposed for employees, there would be a corresponding reduction for employing agencies. Reducing employers' contributions for FERS employees (other than employees of the Postal Service, USPS) would reduce spending subject to appropriation by $31.8 billion over the 2025–2034 period, CBO estimates. That, in turn, would reduce the intragovernmental offsetting receipts paid into the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund (CSRDF) by an equal amount. Because that budgetary action is contingent on future appropriations, the increase in the deficit from the decline in estimated offsetting receipts is not attributed to this legislation.

By contrast, outlays by USPS are classified as off-budget direct spending. Reducing that agency's contributions to employee retirement would result in smaller intragovernmental offsetting receipts being paid into the CSRDF, therefore increasing on-budget direct spending by that same amount.

Under section 90001, the total amount of retirement contributions (employee plus agency shares) paid into the CSRDF would remain the same as under current law. That is, the legislation would replace some of the payments by agencies with payments by federal employees. CBO attributes budgetary savings to the proposal because employees' contributions are classified in the budget as revenues, whereas agency payments are classified as intragovernmental transfers that are subject to future appropriation. If the reduction in intragovernmental transfers makes possible an offsetting increase in other appropriations, the net effect would be an increase in outlays—because an intragovernmental payment would be replaced by spending that goes outside the government.

CBO estimates that reducing the USPS contribution rate for affected employees would reduce that agency's required payments to the CSRDF by nearly $2.7 billion over the 2025–2034 period. That reduction of receipts into the fund would result in a nearly $2.7 billion increase in on-budget direct spending over the period. Because CBO projects that USPS will exhaust both its borrowing authority and its reserve funds in 2027, any savings to the Postal Service Fund from lower retirement contributions would be fully offset beginning in that year. As a result, CBO estimates that enacting the provision would result in a reduction in off-budget outlays in 2026 that would be offset by increased off-budget direct spending beginning in 2027 as USPS would spend the amount it saved from lower accrual payments to fund its operations.

Elimination of FERS Annuity Supplement: Under current law, certain FERS employees who retire before age 62 receive a supplement to their annuity that is intended to equal the amount they would receive from the Social Security Administration if they were eligible for Social Security benefits at the time of retirement. The annuity supplement ends when the retiree turns 62 or becomes eligible to receive Social Security benefits.

Section 90002 would eliminate the annuity supplement for most newly retired people under FERS. Employees who retire under a mandatory authority would continue to receive the supplement as under current law. Current FERS annuitants and those who retire before enactment also would continue to receive the supplement.

Using data from the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), CBO estimates that about 21,000 new FERS retirees who do not retire under a mandatory authority are added to the annuity supplement rolls each year. In fiscal year 2025, the average annual supplement for affected annuitants would be about $18,000, CBO estimates. Those annuitants begin to receive the supplement, on average, at age 59 and would therefore receive the supplement for about three years. On that basis, CBO estimates that eliminating the supplement for new annuitants would reduce direct spending by $10.0 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

High-5 Average Pay for Calculating CSRS and FERS Pension: Most federal employees hired before 1987 are part of the Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS), the defined benefit pension plan that was replaced by FERS. Under current law, retirement annuities under both systems are based on a participant's average salary over the three consecutive years with their highest earnings.

Section 90003 would change the annuity calculation to use a five-year average for most CSRS and FERS employees who retire on or after January 1, 2027. The annuity calculation for employees who are subject to mandatory retirement would remain at the three-year average, as under current law.

Using data from OPM, CBO estimates that about 90,000 employees who are not subject to mandatory retirement are added to the CSRS and FERS retirement rolls each year. Under current law, the average monthly benefit for CSRS annuitants was about $5,700 in fiscal year 2024; for FERS the average was about $2,300. Using the five-year average, rather than the three-year average, would reduce an affected retiree's annuity by about 3 percent. CBO estimates that enacting section 90003 would reduce direct spending by $3.1 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Election for At-Will Employment and Lower FERS Contributions for New Federal Civil Service Hires: Section 90004 would require most new federal civilian hires to choose either to serve as at-will employees or to contribute an additional five percent of their salary toward their retirement. The change would apply to employees hired or appointed after enactment. It would not apply to employees who cannot appeal adverse actions to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including most USPS employees. It also would exclude certain other employees, including positions excepted from the competitive service due to the confidential, policy focused nature of their work.

At-will employees can have their employment terminated at any time without cause. Those employees retain protection under anti-discrimination laws, however, including laws that prohibit termination on the basis of race, sex, or religion. Under this provision, new hires who choose not to become at-will employees would retain civil service protections that require employers to show cause for any adverse personnel action and would retain the right to appeal employment termination.

Based on data from OPM, CBO estimates that roughly 124,000 affected federal hires will enter FERS in fiscal year 2026 with an annual salary of about $71,000, on average. Using data about employees' perceptions of job security and willingness to forgo current compensation for future benefits, CBO estimates that roughly one quarter of affected federal hires would choose to contribute an additional 5 percent of their salary toward retirement rather than enter into at-will employment. On that basis, CBO estimates that the larger retirement contributions of those who reject at-will employment would increase revenues by $4.7 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Federal agencies also are required to contribute toward employees' retirement. Under section 90004, agencies' contributions would decrease by the same percentage that employees' contributions rise. CBO estimates that reduced employer contributions for FERS employees in agencies other than USPS would decrease spending subject to appropriation by $4.5 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

CBO estimates that section 90004 would apply to roughly 10 percent of USPS employees. A reduction in USPS's contributions for affected hires who do not choose at-will employment would reduce that agency's required payments to the CSRDF (as well as receipts into the fund) by $112 million over the 2025–2034 period, CBO estimates, thereby boosting on-budget direct spending by that amount. Because CBO projects that USPS will exhaust both its borrowing authority and its reserve funds in 2027, any savings to the Postal Service Fund would be fully offset beginning in that year. Thus, CBO estimates no net change in off-budget outlays by USPS over the 2025–2034 period.

Filing Fee for Merit Systems Protection Board Claims and Appeals: Section 90005 would direct the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) to impose fees for employees, former employees, or applicants for employment to file certain types of claims against federal agencies. Fees collected from claimants whose appeals are denied would be deposited into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. CBO expects that under this provision fewer claims would be filed than the 4,000 that are filed annually, on average, under current law. Using information from the MSPB, CBO estimates that enacting the provision would increase revenues by $3 million over the 2025–2034 period.

FEHB Protection: Section 90006 would require federal agencies to verify the eligibility of enrollees' dependents to participate in the FEHB program. That program provides health insurance to about 8 million federal workers and annuitants, including current and retired USPS employees, and coverage for their dependents and survivors. Verification would occur when the employee or annuitant starts or changes a dependent's enrollment—for example, during open season, because of a change in employment, or in response to a qualifying life event, such as a marriage or the birth or adoption of a child. Within six years of enactment, the legislation would require OPM to conduct a verification audit of all dependents enrolled in the program. Dependents found to be ineligible would be denied enrollment or disenrolled. The legislation also would expand OPM's annual assessment of fraud risk to include a risk assessment for enrollment by ineligible dependents.

Agencies currently verify dependents' eligibility at initial enrollment or when employees change their coverage at the time of a qualifying life event. OPM requires federal agencies to verify 10 percent of enrollment elections during open season. However, the Government Accountability Office has indicated that some ineligible dependents have been enrolled and that additional measures could be taken to reduce fraud in the program.[1]

Over the 2026–2034 period, the legislation would authorize OPM to spend $604 million from the FEHB trust fund to expand that agency's oversight of the program, increasing outlays by the same amount. Authorized amounts would be for the following activities:

- $474 million to develop, maintain, and conduct ongoing verifications for and oversight of the FEHB program's enrollment and eligibility systems;
- $80 million to audit enrollment of dependents; and
- $50 million for program oversight by OPM's Office of the Inspector General.

Those amounts would be used in part for activities that would reduce enrollment in FEHB and result in smaller government contributions to premiums. CBO anticipates that OPM would implement the section's auditing requirements using contracts with private-sector entities. Given the likely duration and complexity of such an undertaking, CBO expects that the audit would begin later in fiscal year 2026 and continue through 2031.

[1] Government Accountability Office, Federal Employees Health Benefits Program: Additional Monitoring Mechanisms and Fraud Risk Assessment Needed to Better Ensure Member Eligibility, GAO–23–105222 (January 2023), www.gao.gov/products/gao-23-105222.

Using data on the composition of enrollment in the FEHB program, along with information about the share of dependents removed as a result of other verification audits, CBO expects that implementing the section would cause enrollment to decline by about 100,000 people, on average, in each year over the 2026–2034 period, of which about 10,000 would be removed as a result of open-season verifications.

Government contributions to premiums for federal annuitants and USPS employees are classified in the budget as direct spending. Therefore, a decline in FEHB enrollment among those groups would reduce direct spending. CBO estimates that about 35 percent of the people disenrolled would be ineligible dependents of federal annuitants and USPS employees, at an average annual cost of about $6,900 per dependent, for a total reduction in direct spending of $2.1 billion over the 2026–2034 period.[2]

In total, CBO estimates enacting the section would reduce direct spending by about $1.5 billion over the 2026–2034 period.

Uncertainty: CBO's estimates for the budgetary effects of enacting title IX are subject to uncertainty. Several areas in particular are difficult to estimate:

- Anticipating federal employees' responses to changes in FERS contributions and benefits is uncertain because decisions related to employment and retirement depend on a wide variety of individual circumstances.
- Estimating new federal employees' responses to a requirement to contribute a larger percentage of their salary toward their retirement or accept at-will employment is subject to significant uncertainty due to limited data and historical experience related to how workers have responded in similar situations.
- Estimating the budgetary effects of section 90006 is subject to significant uncertainty because no similar verification audit of the FEHB program has been undertaken. CBO projected the cost of an audit, length of time required to complete an audit, the number of dependents who could be found ineligible, and the number disenrolled, but actual amounts could be larger or smaller than estimated. Moreover, given the inherent uncertainty concerning patterns of health care use by people who would be newly found ineligible, the reductions in spending that would be generated by an audit also could be larger or smaller than estimated here.

Pay-As-You-Go Considerations: The Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 establishes budget-reporting and enforcement procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or revenues. The net changes in outlays and revenues that are subject to those pay-as-you-go procedures are shown in Table 1. Only on-budget changes to outlays or revenues are subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.

Increase in Long-Term Net Direct Spending and Deficits: CBO estimates that enacting the legislation would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035.

Mandates: The Committee on Oversight and Government Reform's reconciliation recommendations would impose private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) by reducing the value of certain earned benefits for current federal employees. Specifically, the legislation would impose mandates by eliminating the FERS annuity supplement for most federal employees and by calculating most future retirees' annuities using their average highest five years of earnings rather than the three-year average specified under current law.

[2] By contrast, spending for federal employees is classified as spending subject to appropriation and contingent on subsequent appropriations; therefore, any reductions in spending for that population are excluded here.

In general, changes to the conditions of federal employment are not mandates because federal employment is voluntary. However, CBO considers provisions that reduce the value of a benefit that is already earned to impose a mandate because the change is retroactive, and affected employees lack the opportunity to make an alternative choice.

The cost of the mandates would be the loss of the annuity supplement and the reduction in the value of current federal employees' retirement annuities. CBO estimates that the average annual cost in the first five years that the mandates are in effect would be $750 million, which would exceed the annual private-sector threshold established in UMRA ($206 million in 2025, adjusted annually for inflation).

The legislation would not impose any intergovernmental mandates as defined in UMRA.

Other provisions within the legislation, including the increase in required retirement contributions by current federal employees, are prospective and do not decrease the value of any earned benefits. Therefore, those provisions do not impose mandates.

Budget authority includes estimated and specified amounts. Components may not sum to totals because of rounding.

CSRS = Civil Service Retirement System; FEHB = Federal Employees Health Benefits; FERS = Federal Employees' Retirement System; * = between zero and $500,000.

a. The on-budget effect arises from reduced contributions by the Postal Service for FERS employees' retirement, resulting in smaller deposits of offsetting receipts into the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund.

b. The off-budget effect arises from reduced contributions by the Postal Service for FERS employees' retirement. Under current law, CBO expects that the Postal Service will exhaust both its borrowing authority and its reserve funds in 2027. As a result, CBO expects that the savings to the Postal Service Fund under the legislation would be fully offset beginning in that year.

c. The on-budget effect arises from reductions in enrollment in the FEHB program of dependents of federal annuitants.

d. The off-budget effect comes from reduced Postal Service contributions for postal employees' health benefits. Under current law, CBO expects that the Postal Service will exhaust both its borrowing authority and its reserve funds in 2027. As a result, CBO expects that the savings to the Postal Service Fund under the legislation would be fully offset beginning in that year.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL

Pursuant to clause 3(e) of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, a comparative print of changes in existing law made by the Committee Print, as reported, has been requested but not received.

MINORITY VIEWS

Congressional Republicans have instructed the Committee on Oversight and Government Reform to target our federal workforce with approximately $50 billion in funding cuts—regardless of their impact on hard-working federal employees and the critical services they provide to the American people. In just 100 days, we have witnessed this administration: lay off more than 200,000 probationary employees—including leading public health experts, veterans, and other critical positions; coerce 75,000 civil servants into resigning; replace 50,000 non-partisan civil servants with political appointees; and illegally terminate non-partisan, independent oversight by federal watchdogs. This partisan bill threatens to further undermine the federal workforce—by reducing the take-home pay, benefits, and workforce protections of 2.4 million federal employees, most of whom are middle-class American workers and a third of whom are military veterans. This is more of the same—an unprecedented assault and political purge of the civil service.

If this legislation becomes law, almost every federal employee hired before 2013 under the federal employee retirement system, or FERS, would see a nearly 4% pay cut under the bill's new, forced retirement contributions.

The FERS annuity supplement, a monthly payment for retirees before they are eligible for social security age at 62, would be eliminated for anyone not actively receiving the supplemental payment at the time this bill is enacted, or who does not meet a specific exemption. Federal workers like letter carriers, Veterans Affairs hospital nurses, and food inspectors who have committed decades to the job and are eligible to retire would not be able to receive this vital payment to make ends meet.

This legislation would also change the annuity formula to base most employees' annual retirement payments on their highest five years of earnings, instead of the highest three—an outright theft of earned benefits that would cost federal retirees thousands of dollars annually.

A particularly egregious provision in this bill would force any newly hired federal employee to accept at-will employment status or face an additional 5% retirement contribution on top of the 4.4% already required. Firefighters, Capitol Police officers, air traffic controllers and other federal workers who choose to remain under the merit-based system would be forced to contribute nearly 10% of their paycheck toward retirement.

This legislation would also require current and former federal employees to pay a $350 filing fee for most appeals before the Merit Systems Protection Board—which would create a financial barrier for employees seeking justice, particularly for low-income or recently separated workers.

A strong, non-partisan federal workforce is fundamental to a functioning democratic government. These dedicated workers deserve our respect and support. Despite the claims of this administration, federal workers are not leeches on the system but hard-working, dedicated public servants who are paid about 25% less than their private sector counterparts. The Committee Print advanced by the majority breaks the contract the federal government made with its workers when they were hired by imposing new, onerous, and costly conditions on their annuities.

Like most Americans, federal workers face increased costs for groceries and housing—and economic uncertainty because of President Trump's reckless tax and tariff agenda. The Trump tariffs are estimated to cost American households $4,900 per year—the largest tax increase since 1968. Republicans are also advocating for a tax regime that will actually increase the federal deficit by more than $5 trillion.

Worst of all, Republicans are seeking to offset these costs by gutting $800 billion from the Medicaid program. My Democratic colleagues and I do not support that. Oversight Democrats stand with struggling families, we oppose corruption and abuse of power, and we are committed to solving our nation's crises without sacrificing the well-being of our country's civil servants.

The majority was gravely mistaken to support this legislation and should instead work towards a budget that respects American workers and the vital services they provide.

TRANSMITTAL OF THE COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE COMMITTEE ON THE BUDGET PURSUANT TO H. CON. RES. 14, CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2025

The Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure was instructed to submit changes in laws within its jurisdiction to reduce the deficit by at least $10 billion for the period of fiscal years 2025 through 2034 in a Committee Print providing for reconciliation pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Budget for Fiscal Year 2025.

BACKGROUND

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, provides recommendations to the Committee on Budget that reduce the deficit by at least $10 billion over the next decade, while making necessary investments in border security, national security, and aviation safety. Further, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, provides a historic investment of $21.2 billion to recapitalize assets of the United States Coast Guard (Coast Guard or Service), including the acquisition of cutters, aircraft, and icebreakers and the construction of facilities necessary to support the President's maritime border security initiatives and national security priorities. Additionally, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, responds to the recent aviation accidents and the President's call to action by investing $12.5 billion as a down payment on efforts to overhaul and modernize failing air traffic control systems and to ensure robust air traffic controller staffing and training.

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, assesses a $250 annual registration fee on electric vehicles (EVs) and a $100 annual fee on hybrids. These fees will be deposited into the Highway Trust Fund (HTF), continuing the user-pays principle of the trust fund. Ensuring EVs pay into the HTF will help address solvency and reduce the need for future bailouts of the trust fund by all taxpayers. Finally, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, also rescinds wasteful spending for Inflation Reduction Act programs, increases tonnage duties from current 1909 levels to 2006 levels, establishes a website to display motor carrier compliance with Federal operating requirements, and provides $257 million to the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Coast Guard Assets Necessary to Secure the Maritime Border and Interdict Migrants and Drugs

United States Coast Guard

The United States Coast Guard (Coast Guard or Service) was established on January 28, 1915, through the consolidation of the Revenue Cutter Service (established in 1790) and the Lifesaving Service (established in 1848).[1] The Coast Guard later assumed the duties of three other agencies: the Lighthouse Service (established in 1789), the Steamboat Inspection Service (established in 1838), and the Bureau of Navigation (established in 1884).[2]

The Coast Guard supports critical maritime border security and national defense missions. Among the Service's primary duties under section 102 of title 14, United States Code, the Coast Guard has responsibility to enforce or assist in the enforcement of all applicable Federal laws on, under, and over the high seas and waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, including engaging in maritime air surveillance and interdiction; to carry out domestic and international icebreaking activities; and, as one of the six armed forces of the United States, to maintain defense readiness and operate as a specialized service in the Navy upon the declaration of war or when the President directs.[3]

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2024, the Coast Guard interdicted 3,687 out of the 14,211 known maritime illegal immigrants (25.8 percent). The Coast Guard was responsible for 72 percent of maritime interdictions completed by Federal Government agencies in FY 2024. During the same fiscal year, the Coast Guard removed 106,290.1 kilograms of cocaine and 41,799.1 pounds of marijuana, worth an estimated $3.24 billion.[4]

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, appropriates $21.2 billion for the acquisition of afloat and air assets and to rebuild the Coast Guard's crumbling shoreside infrastructure and facilities in support of the Coast Guard's maritime border security and national defense missions.

Investments in the Coast Guard

The Coast Guard endured chronic undercapitalization for decades—jeopardizing the Service's ability to carry out its maritime border security and national defense missions. Recognizing that many of its assets were nearing the end of their service lives or were technologically insufficient, in 2007, the Coast Guard approved a program of record to modernize its surface, air, information technology, and shoreside infrastructure, which has subsequently been updated.[5] Sadly, many of these assets were utilized well beyond their planned service life since funds to carry out the recapitalization were not forthcoming. The Coast Guard is more than 17 years into this recapitalization program and while significant progress has been made, heavy icebreakers and medium endurance cutters are aging out before they can be replaced. In addition, one of the Coast Guard's two rotary wing aircraft is aging out, and one of its medium-range fixed-wing aircraft is being retired.[6]

While the Coast Guard has successfully undertaken some of the steps outlined in its original recapitalization vision, such as the procurement and deployment of the Fast Response Cutter (FRC), programs such as the Offshore Patrol Cutters (OPC), Polar Security Cutters (PSC), rotary wing aircraft and shoreside infrastructure remain dangerously behind schedule due to inadequate funding requests, and equally inadequate appropriations. These shortcomings have created serious capability gaps in the Service's ability to field the assets needed to fulfill its mission demands.[7]

To address these capability gaps, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, makes significant investments in the Service's surface assets. To support the Coast Guard's counter drug and migrant missions, the measure appropriates $4.3 billion for OPCs and $1 billion for FRCs. This funding is intended to procure additional FRCs which have proven to be a reliable workhorse for the Coast Guard. The funding will also allow for the procurement of nine OPCs to complete the first two phases of the OPC program of record.

With substantial national interests in the Arctic and along the Northern border, there is also a need to recapitalize and expand the Coast Guard's icebreaking fleet. The Arctic alone includes one million square miles of territorial waters and Exclusive Economic Zone, a $3 billion arctic seafood industry, 90 billion barrels of undiscovered oil reserves, 30 percent of the world's undiscovered natural gas, $1 trillion in rare earth minerals, and increased commercial and tourism activity.[8] Additionally, the Coast Guard is responsible for icebreaking missions in the Great Lakes and other domestic locations. Despite the importance of the Coast Guard's icebreaking missions, the current operational ocean-going icebreaking fleet is limited to three vessels and icebreakers along the Great Lakes and the Northeast are approaching or beyond their service life.[9]

To support the Service's national security measures, project sovereignty in the Arctic, and ensure the flow of maritime commerce in territorial waters, the measure provides $4.3 billion for the Polar Security Cutter Program as well as nearly $5 billion for the Arctic Security Cutter Program and domestic icebreakers. The funding for domestic icebreakers is intended to support procurement, project management, and spare parts for light and medium domestic icebreakers, as well as one heavy domestic icebreaker at least as capable as the Coast Guard Cutter Mackinaw (WLBB–30), utilizing existing designs to the greatest extent possible, and missionization of the USCGC STORIS, WAGB–21.

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, also makes significant investments in the Service's air assets. The measure provides $571.5 million for fixed wing assets, $1.283 billion for rotary wing assets, and $140 million for long-range unmanned aircraft systems. The fixed wing funding is intended to support the acquisition of three new, fully missionized HC–130J aircraft to complete the Service's program of record of 22 aircraft. Funding for rotary wing assets is intended to support fleet growth of the MH–60T program. Given the age of the MH–65 aircraft, the Committee recognizes the challenges of their continued operations over the long-term and even the medium term. However, the Committee continues to have significant concerns with the prospect of the Coast Guard moving to an MH–60 only fleet, as the aircraft is not well suited to cover several Coast Guard missions. The Committee strongly urges the Service to continue to examine solutions to maintain a fleet of smaller rotary wing aircraft that are well suited to undertake the MH–65s missions. Moreover, the Committee urges the Coast Guard to maintain a fleet of not less than 140 rotary wing assets to maintain sufficient capabilities and coverage.

The Coast Guard requires enhancements to its shoreside infrastructure to facilitate new assets and more complex mission sets. Currently, limitations in existing physical infrastructure have hindered newer platforms from utilizing the full scope of their capabilities. Moreover, due to years of underinvestment, the Coast Guards' shoreside infrastructure is in an advanced state of disrepair. The Government Accountability Office (GAO) estimates that it will cost at least $7 billion to address the Service's backlog of shoreside projects, with half of the Services' facilities beyond their intended service life.[10] The number is likely higher, as GAO's estimate does not include 234 projects for which the Coast Guard has not developed estimates. The Coast Guard notes that based on the Service's $24 billion property portfolio, and accounting for the poor conditions of current property, the Service requires between $500 million to $1 billion annually to meet its shoreside investment needs.[11]

To address these capability gaps, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, appropriates $3.15 billion for the design and construction of necessary shoreside facilities, including hangers and home ports to support air and surface assets for which appropriations are provided in this bill. This includes $400 million to support aircraft hangers, maintenance and crew facilities, $2.329 billion for homeports for cutters, including homeporting for the USCGC STORIS, WAGB–21, and $425 million for the recapitalization of barracks and a multi-use training center at the Coast Guard's enlisted bootcamp.

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, also includes $1.3 billion to improve the Coast Guard's depot maintenance facilities, including $500 million to be used for construction of a ship handling facility and necessary dredging at the Coast Guard Yard, to provide the facility with the capability to provide repairs and maintenance for the Service's Offshore Patrol Cutters and National Security Cutters. For over a century, Coast Guard vessels have been built, repaired, and renovated in the Yard, which provides a unique capability to support the Coast Guard and the national fleet.

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, includes $180 million to support the Coast Guard's maritime domain awareness activities, of which $75 million is directed to be spent on autonomous maritime systems, and $15 million is intended to improve merchant marine credentialing software. The Committee supports the Coast Guard's continued investments in autonomous maritime domain awareness assets that strengthen the ability of the Service to confront drug and human smugglers, and other threats to the homeland.

Procurement Requirements and Continued Oversight of the Coast Guard

The Committee is disappointed by the Coast Guard's inability to produce statutorily required acquisition planning documents. Section 5102 of Title 14, United States Code, requires the Coast Guard to submit to Congress an annual five-year Capital Investment Plan not later than 60 days after the President submits his budget to Congress.[12] The Committee has received neither the Fiscal Year 2024 Capital Investment Plan nor the Fiscal Year 2025 Capital Investment Plan. Additionally, section 5103 of Title 14 United States Code, requires the Coast Guard to submit a biennial report to the Committee on the status of the Coast Guard's major acquisition programs.[13] By the Coast Guard's own admission, the major acquisition program report was last made available in Fiscal Year 2015 and has not been produced since then because of "the complexity and highly speculative nature of projecting long-term resource implications. . . .”[14] The Committee is willing to make the largest investment in the Coast Guard’s history based on demonstrated need. The Service’s latest history with major acquisition processes raises concern, and demands greater oversight from Congress, not less. Accordingly, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, includes language that prohibits the Coast Guard from spending the funding contained in this bill until certain statutorily required acquisition reports are delivered to Congress. Similarly, the measure restricts funding for fixed wing and rotary wing assets until the Service provides a report detailing the sufficiency of the Coast Guards aviation assets to meet mission demands.[15]

The Committee recognizes the need to procure new surface and air assets as quickly and efficiently as possible. Accordingly, the Committee waives the requirements of sections 1131, 1132, and 1133 of Title 14, United States Code. Additionally, the Committee continues to strongly support the domestic maritime industrial base—both in terms of the economic benefits it brings to our country and the national security readiness it provides in times of war or national emergency. The Committee maintains the requirement of section 1151 of Title 14, United States Code, and mandates additional notification requirements should the President determine an exemption from the requirement of that section is necessary. The Committee also provides authority to use vessel construction managers for procurement of domestic icebreakers, Arctic Security Cutters, and a floating drydock for the Coast Guard Yard. A similar procurement technique has proven successful in other government agencies and provides the Service with an additional capability to expeditiously procure these assets. The Committee does not modify any additional procurement requirements, and expects the Coast Guard to comply in good faith with the requirements set by statute. Additionally, the measure directs the Coast Guard to provide the Committee with a detailed expenditure plan and notify the Committee no less than one week prior to taking any procurement actions impacting estimated costs or timelines for acquisitions or procurements funded in this bill.

Changes to Mandatory Benefits Programs to Allow Selected Reserve Orders for Preplanned Missions to Secure Maritime Borders and Interdict Persons and Drugs

Under current law, the Department of Defense has the authority to involuntarily activate members of the Selected Reserve for preplanned missions under Chapter 12304b of Title 10, United States Code. This extends the same authority to the Commandant of the Coast Guard.

This authority is necessary to augment the regular Coast Guard for foreseeable or regularly occurring, non-emergency operations. These include, but are not limited to, support of the Department of Defense’s Request for Forces in support of law enforcement operations, like border security. The absence of this authority has limited the Coast Guard’s ability to execute preplanned missions because the Service is forced to rely on volunteer reservists.

Vessel Tonnage Duties

Under current law, regular tonnage taxes are collected from vessels entering from foreign ports. United States flagged vessels, recreational vessels and barges, which are engaged in voyages to nowhere are exempt from these duties.[16] The amount of duties collected under current law was temporarily increased for fiscal years 2006 through 2010. The T&I Committee Print, as amended, restores the tonnage taxes on foreign vessels entering from foreign ports to their previous levels.

Registration Fee on Certain Vehicles

The Highway Trust Fund (HTF) was created in 1956 and has since served as the chief funding source at the Federal level for surface transportation funding. The HTF is funded by several user-fees, with the largest source of revenue being excise taxes on gasoline and diesel fuels. Tax rates on gasoline and diesel fuels were most recently raised in 1993 to 18.4-cents and 24.3-cents per gallon, respectively. The user-fee structure sustained HTF spending for decades, but expenditures began eclipsing revenues in 2001. This disparity has ballooned over the years and is attributable to several factors. For example, vehicle fuel efficiency has improved and inflation has weakened purchasing power. The prevalence of electric vehicles, which use no gasoline and therefore do not contribute to the HTF, has also increased in recent years. While these factors have impacted revenues, Congress has also increased spending from the HTF. To cover this funding gap, since 2008, Congress has transferred $275 billion, mainly from the Treasury's General Fund. The Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA; P.L. 117–58) alone required a $118 billion General Fund transfer, which represents more than 40 percent of General Fund transfers to the HTF to date. The Committee recognizes the need to address the solvency challenges facing the HTF to ensure continued support for our nation's surface transportation infrastructure.

To preserve the user-pays model and ensure electric vehicles begin contributing to the HTF similar to other motorists, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, requires the Administrator of the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) to impose certain annual motor vehicle registration fees: $250 for an electric vehicle and $100 for a hybrid vehicle. Fees do not apply to commercial motor vehicles or covered farm vehicles and are to be indexed annually for inflation. Intending to leverage existing state systems, fees are to be collected by state departments of motor vehicles and balances then remitted to FHWA. No personally identifiable data, including vehicle ownership information, is intended to be transmitted from a state to the Federal government for purposes of implementing this collection mechanism. For any state not in compliance with these requirements, FHWA will withhold Federal highway formula funding at an amount equal to 125 percent of the fees that were required to be remitted.

To support the states, the T&I Committee Print, as amended, print provides $104 million for implementation of the registration fee process. States in compliance with the requirements of the T&I [16] 46 U.S.C. § 60301.

Committee Print, as amended, are permitted to retain up to one percent of total fees collected annually by that state for administrative expenses. The Committee print provides that for amounts accrued by these fees be deposited into the HTF.

Motor Carrier Data

Under current law, a motor carrier is not authorized to operate on the Nation's roadways if that motor carrier has received an unsatisfactory safety rating via the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration's (FMCSA's) Safety Measurement System (SMS) or has been ordered to discontinue operations by the FMCSA for additional violations.[17] The T&I Committee Print, as amended, will improve transparency and increase roadway safety by requiring motor carrier safety rating data is available on a website. A broker, freight forwarder, or household goods freight forwarder who relies on the website's determinations of whether motor carriers have met FMCSA requirements has made reasonable and prudent determinations when engaging that motor carrier.

IRA Recissions

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, rescinds wasteful spending for Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) programs. The IRA was passed on a partisan basis, and the Committee rescinded unobligated balances that were supporting the Biden Administration's Green New Deal agenda in order to reduce the deficit.

General Services Administration

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, rescinds unobligated funding for funding included in the IRA provided for the General Services Administration to convert facilities to high-performance green buildings, acquire and install low carbon material for the construction or alteration of federal buildings, and for emerging and sustainable technologies.

Federal Highway Administration

The T&I Committee Print, as amended, rescinds unobligated funding for Federal Highway Administration initiatives provided under the IRA, including the Neighborhood Equity and Access Grant, Low-Carbon Transportation Materials Grants, and Environmental Review Implementation funds.

Federal Aviation Administration

The T&I Committee print, as amended, rescinds unobligated funding for the Federal Aviation Administration's Fueling Aviation's Sustainable Transition (FAST) grant program, which funded various projects related to sustainable aviation fuel.

tion's air navigation service provider and air traffic control (ATC) system operator, providing safe and efficient navigation and surveillance services for aircraft operators such as major airlines, business aviation, general aviation, the military, and other users of the NAS. FAA's Air Traffic Organization (ATO) is responsible for operating the ATC system, which includes maintaining the technical and physical infrastructure necessary to operate the NAS, and employing and training highly skilled workers to ensure the proper and safe functioning of the NAS.[18] Approximately 14,000 air traffic controllers, 4,100 air traffic supervisors and air traffic managers, 2,200 engineers, and 5,800 maintenance technicians make up ATO's workforce.[19]

Much of the FAA's air traffic infrastructure is several decades old, which decreases efficiency and jeopardizes the reliability of critical navigation and surveillance services provided to aircraft operating in the NAS.[20] The challenges with the FAA's efforts to swiftly modernize ATC programs remain a serious concern for the Committee and poses a critical risk to the safety of the NAS if left unaddressed.[21] For decades, GAO and others have reported the ongoing challenges facing the FAA's modernization of ATC systems.[22] As early as 1995, GAO designated the FAA's ATC modernization efforts as "high-risk" due to the many delays and cost overruns the agency has encountered.[23] More recently, the GAO found that these challenges are also due to the unavailability of parts, reduced technical expertise in outdated technologies, growth in airspace demand, among other factors.[24] Although the FAA has acknowledged these gaps and are working to establish greater accountability with its investments,[25] more must be done to improve the safety and efficiency of the NAS. For these reasons, the T&I Committee print, as amended, appropriates $12.5 billion for the acquisition, sustainment, improvement, and operations of FAA facilities and equipment necessary to improve or maintain aviation safety. This sum also covers personnel expenses related to such facilities and equipment, including for airway transportation system specialists necessary to safely integrate new facilities, equipment, and systems into the NAS.

ATC Infrastructure

The ATC system's physical infrastructure system serves as the backbone of the NAS and is the most visible element of the system.

From FAA facilities, air traffic controllers provide air traffic services to approximately 45,000 flights each day carrying 2.9 million passengers and assist roughly 5,400 aircraft at any given time during peak operational hours.[26] ATC services are provided to operators 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The age and poor physical condition of many of these facilities and equipment introduce unnecessary risk into the NAS.[27] Some major types of ATC facilities include the following:

- Terminal Radar Approach Control (TRACON) facilities. Radar approach control facilities that provide separation services for aircraft operating in terminal areas, the airspace generally located within 40 miles of a major airport. In FY 2023, there were 146 TRACON facilities of various configurations.[28]
- Airport traffic control towers. These towers direct aircraft on the airport surface, as well as landings and take-offs at airports. In FY 2023, the FAA operated 142 stand-alone towers.[29]
- Federal contract towers. Federal contractors, rather than FAA employees, provide air traffic control services at visual flight rule airports. FAA oversees the safe operation of these towers. In FY 2023, there were 262 contract towers in the NAS.[30]
- Combined control facilities (CCF). These air traffic control facilities provide approach control services for one or more airports, as well as en-route air traffic control for a large area of airspace. In FY 2023, there were four CCFs in the NAS.[31]

According to the FAA, the average age of air traffic control tower is 40 years and the average age of a TRACON facility is 27 years.[32] The condition of these facilities continues to worsen with age and they are in critical need of replacement.[33] However, funding levels over the past decade have failed to sustain the pace necessary to support these facilities.[34] With a finite capital budget and unstable funding, the FAA is forced into the impossible predicament of having to dedicate vast amounts of money on simply sustaining old and outdated systems with little left over for capital improvement projects. Therefore, the T&I Committee print, as amended, appropriates $2.16 billion for air traffic control tower and TRACON replacement.

Air traffic controllers in these facilities use a suite of technical operating systems to monitor weather, conduct navigation and surveillance, and communicate with aircraft in the NAS. However, many of these systems are obsolete and much of the infrastructure has well exceeded its expected service life. In a GAO report last year, the FAA determined that, of its 138 ATC systems, 51 were unsustainable and 54 were potentially unsustainable.[35] Additionally, GAO identified 17 systems that were "especially concerning" given they are both "unsustainable" and "critical to the safety and efficiency of the national airspace" and that their replacement systems "will not be completed for at least [six] more years and in some cases, they will not be completed for 10 to 13 years."[36] Many aviation stakeholders have expressed concerns with these findings given that these systems comprise the suite of complex technical systems that enable air traffic controllers to safely monitor and control the separation of aircraft in the NAS.[37]

Specifically, the FAA owns and operates a vast network of 618 radar systems necessary for the safety and security of our airspace.[38] There are two main types of radar systems: "cooperative radars" which identify and track aircraft with the help of on-board aircraft transponders, and "non-cooperative radars" which identify and track and aircraft's position independently.[39] These radars are essential tools used by air traffic controllers to detect and monitor aircraft, and the NAS cannot operate without them.[40] However, several of these radar systems are approaching 36 years of age and are experiencing structural deficiencies and maintenance-related issues, resulting in more frequent repairs and periods when the system is not operational.[41] Modernizing these systems will increase the safety and efficiency of the NAS, which is why the T&I Committee print, as amended, appropriates $3 billion for radar systems replacement.

Furthermore, the FAA maintains mission critical telecommunications infrastructure necessary for voice, radar, and flight data communications for air traffic control operations.[42] However, the current telecommunications system is comprised of obsolete copper wire infrastructure that is costly to maintain, prone to network failures, and no longer supported by common service providers.[43] The Committee is concerned that the FAA is obligated to pay over $100 million a month in obsolescence fees to service providers to maintain the old system.[44] Therefore, the Committee believes a substantial investment in telecommunications infrastructure replacement is necessary to promote valuable use of taxpayer dollars and provide the FAA the resources necessary to upgrade this mission critical system. For this reason, the T&I Committee print, as

Runway Safety

In the past several years, there have been an alarming number of near misses at airports. Most notably, on February 4, 2023, a FedEx flight inbound to Austin Bergstrom International Airport (AUS) in Austin, TX, and almost landed on top of a Southwest flight, with 128 passengers and crew onboard, taking off from the same runway. A National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) report noted the aircraft came within 150 to 170 feet of each other during this incident and attributed the near miss to dense fog and a lack of surface detection equipment that could have alerted the air traffic controller in the tower to a potential collision.[45]

In recognition of the increase in near misses, the Committee included section 347 of the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2024, which requires the FAA to identify and deploy surface surveillance and detection systems and technologies at all medium and large hub airports, and airports that do not have such technologies.[46] Furthermore, section 347 requires the FAA to conduct a study of runway incursions and other surface safety events to determine how advanced technologies may be able to reduce the frequencies of such events.[47] The Committee continues to remain concerned about the potential for future near misses. Therefore, the T&I Committee print, as amended, appropriates $500 million for runway safety projects, airport surface surveillance projects, and to carry out section 347.

Alaska Aviation Safety

Aviation in Alaska is a vital necessity given that 82 percent of Alaskan communities are inaccessible by road.[48] However, aviation operators in Alaska face unique challenges compared to operators in the contiguous states, due in large part to the state's challenging geography, unpredictable weather, and relative lack of aviation and air traffic control infrastructure. The Committee recognizes the challenges unique to Alaska aviation and included section 342, which establishes the Don Young Alaska Aviation Safety Initiative (DYAASI) in the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2024.[49] The objective of DYAASI is to reduce the number of fatal accidents in Alaska and the territories by 90 percent from 2019 to 2033 and eliminate fatal accidents for Part 135 operations by 2033. To realize these objectives, DYASSI requires the FAA to install reliable automated weather systems at certain airports, install and continually assess the state of weather cameras, and implement certain NTSB recommendations, among other provisions.[50] The Committee recognizes the substantial resources necessary to achieve these objec-

NextGen

To meet an anticipated growth in air traffic, in 2007 the FAA launched a series of initiatives to revamp the Nation's ATC system known as "NextGen."[51] The goal of NextGen is to transition from ground-based navigation and surveillance systems to a satellite-based system to increase the efficiency, capacity, and flexibility of our airspace. Specifically, NextGen initiatives should reduce the required separation between aircraft, resulting in more efficient routes and decrease congestion. Together, these initiatives should provide better experience for the travelling public.[52]

The goal at the inception of NextGen was to achieve transformation of the NAS by 2025.[53] However, NextGen programs have been vulnerable to delays and cost-overruns.[54] According to a September 2024 GAO report, NextGen activities' initial completion dates of 2025 have been delayed to 2030.[55] Although anticipated costs for NextGen programs have fallen back in line with original estimates, challenges remain for FAA's continued implementation, including uncertainty of future funding, unanticipated system requirements, and aircraft owners' equipage to fully utilize NextGen improvements, FAA's leadership stability, and cybersecurity issues.[56]

In recognition of the ongoing challenges and delays of the NextGen program, the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2024 effectively sunsets the NextGen program[57] and requires the FAA to achieve what the NextGen program could not, closing out key airspace modernization initiatives that will improve the safety and efficiency of the NAS.[58] Specifically, section 619 requires the FAA to expedite the implementation of the following programs and capabilities previously under the NextGen brand: Performance Based Navigation, Data Communications, Terminal Flight Data Manager and Aeronautical Information Management.[59] The Committee views the airspace modernization initiatives as critical to the safety and efficiency of the NAS. Therefore, the T&I Committee print, as amended, includes $300 million to carry out Section 619.

ATC Workforce

For many years, the FAA failed to hire and train a sufficient number of air traffic controllers.[60] At the onset of the COVID–19 pandemic, decreased demand for air travel led to the elimination or reduction of activities at air traffic control facilities, and the hiring goals at ATO for 2021 were reduced to account for decreased demand.[61] Additionally, ATO shuttered the FAA ATC Training Academy due to the pandemic.[62] As demand for air travel dramatically increased post-pandemic, ATO struggled with staffing shortages at critical facilities.[63]

In the 2022 Air Traffic Controller Workforce Plan, the FAA nearly doubled its hiring goals compared to 2021 to match increasing air travel demand.[64] However, the process of hiring and adequately training an air traffic controller is a lengthy process, often taking several years to complete.[65] While the FAA has sought to increase staffing numbers in air traffic control centers, its Air Traffic Control Workforce Plan counts newly hired and untrained air traffic controllers in its overall workforce numbers, which can give the appearance that a facility is appropriately staffed when the facility does not have enough fully trained controllers.[66] Unfortunately, this dynamic creates uncertainty and confusion in the overall air traffic controller workforce and the FAA's ability to meet operational needs. At the end of FY 2024, the FAA had a net gain of only 34 Certified Professional Controllers (CPCs); which meant that there were 1,020 fewer CPCs than there were at the end of FY 2012, a nine percent decrease.[67]

In the latest Aerospace forecast for the 2024–2044 period, the FAA noted that "with robust air travel demand growth in 2024 and steady growth thereafter, [they] expect increased activity growth [which] has the potential to increase controller workload."[68] To directly address the controller workforce bottleneck in the aviation system, section 437 of the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2024 directs the FAA to set the minimum hiring target for new air traffic controllers, for each of FYs 2024 through 2028, to the maximum number of individuals trained at the FAA Air Traffic Control Academy.

Additionally, the Trump Administration and Secretary Duffy have announced a series of actions to supercharge the controller workforce.[69] These actions include increasing starting salaries for controller candidates, streamlining the hiring process to improve efficiency, and expand the number of instructors at the Air Traffic Controller Academy in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, among other initiatives.[70] The Committee views a healthy and robust certified controller workforce as essential for maintaining aviation safety. Therefore, the T&I Committee print, as amended, appropriates $1 billion for air traffic controller recruitment, retention, training and advanced training technologies.

Kennedy Center Appropriations

In 1958, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed into law the National Cultural Center Act establishing a cultural arts center in Washington, D.C. to present performance arts, lectures, programs for children, youth, and the elderly as well as provide facilities for other civic activities.[71]

In 1963, following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, President Johnson signed into law legislation renaming the National Cultural Center as the "John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts", as a "living memorial" to President Kennedy.[72] As the national memorial to the late President Kennedy, Congress provides funding for the Kennedy Center's buildings and grounds. However, the Kennedy Center's programming and other functions are paid for almost exclusively through ticket sales and donations.[73]

The T&I Committee print, as amended, print includes funding for capital improvements, operations and maintenance and associated administration costs to address deferred maintenance and upkeep of the Kennedy Center's buildings and grounds as a memorial to the late President Kennedy and to ensure continued proper use as a performing arts center for the American people as intended by President Eisenhower. More specifically, this funding would generally support water system upgrades, office space improvements, electric enhancements, elevator updates, rigging replacement (suspending lights, cameras, speakers), seating replacement, lighting and backstage improvements, hydronic system (water heaters) modernization, and bathroom upgrades, among other items.

HEARINGS

For the purposes of rule XIII, clause 3(c)(6)(A) of the 119th Congress, the Committee held numerous hearings that supported the proposals included in the T&I Committee print, as amended. Below are examples of hearings that informed specific provisions.

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

With respect to the requirements of clause 3(c)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee's oversight findings and recommendations are reflected in this report.

NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY AND TAX EXPENDITURES

Clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives does not apply where a cost estimate and comparison prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office under section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 has been timely submitted prior to the filing of the report and is included in the report. Such a cost estimate is included in this report.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

With respect to the requirement of clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee has received the enclosed cost estimate for the T&I Committee Print, as amended, from the Director of the Congressional Budget Office:

Reconciliation Recommendations of the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure

As ordered reported on April 30, 2025

https://tinyurl.com/bdpppbbe

By Fiscal Year, Millions of Dollars	2025	2025-2029	2025-2034
Direct Spending (Outlays)	-612	10,439	27,758
Revenues	0	10,800	64,309
Increase or Decrease (-) in the Deficit	-612	-361	-36,551

Increases net direct spending in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035?	No	Statutory pay-as-you-go procedures apply?	Yes
		Mandate Effects
Increases on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035?	No	Contains intergovernmental mandate?	Yes, Over Threshold
		Contains private-sector mandate?	Yes, Over Threshold

CBO has not reviewed the legislation for effects on spending subject to appropriation.

The bill would:

Appropriate funds for activities of the Coast Guard, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), and the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts

Increase tonnage duties charged to shippers that enter U.S. ports

Impose annual registration fees on electric and hybrid vehicles and require states to collect and remit those fees

Rescind funds appropriated under Public Law 117–169 for transportation and federal buildings programs

Impose intergovernmental and private-sector mandates

Estimated budgetary effects would mainly stem from:

Expending funds appropriated for Coast Guard, FAA, and other activities

Increasing tonnage duties

Collecting fees on electric and hybrid vehicles remitted by states

Rescinding funds for transportation and federal buildings programs

Areas of significant uncertainty include:

Anticipating the volume of goods imported into the U.S., tariff rates, and other factors that affect tonnage fees

Estimating the number of electric and hybrid vehicles that will be registered and the rates at which states remit the motor vehicle fees required under the bill

Legislation summary: H. Con. Res. 14, the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025, instructed the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure to recommend legislative changes that would decrease deficits by a specific amount over the 2025–2034 period. As part of the reconciliation process, the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure approved legislation on April 30, 2025, with provisions that would decrease deficits.

Estimated Federal cost: In CBO's estimation, the reconciliation recommendations of the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure would decrease deficits by $36.6 billion over the 2025–2034 period. The estimated budgetary effects of the legislation are shown in Table 1. The costs of the legislation fall within budget functions 400 (transportation), 500 (education, training, employment, and social services), 700 (veterans benefits and services), and 800 (general government).

Budget authority includes estimated and specified amounts.

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the legislation will be enacted in summer 2025. CBO's estimates are relative to its January 2025 baseline and cover the period from 2025 through 2034. Outlays of appropriated amounts were estimated using historical obligation and spending rates for similar programs. CBO's estimate incorporates administrative and judicial action as of April 10, 2025, the date that H. Con. Res. 14 was approved by the Congress.

Direct spending: Enacting the bill would increase direct spending by $27.8 billion over the 2025–2034 period (see Table 2), CBO estimates. Most of that amount would result from specified direct appropriations for activities of the Coast Guard and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), offset by a reduction in direct spending from funds rescinded from transportation projects and programs involving federal buildings.

Coast Guard Assets Necessary to Secure the Maritime Border and Interdict Migrants and Drugs: Section 100001 would appropriate $21.2 billion for the Coast Guard to acquire, procure, and improve equipment and facilities, as follows:

$14.6 billion for vessels, including offshore patrol cutters, polar security cutters, and arctic security cutters;

$3.2 billion for shoreside infrastructure;

$2.0 billion for aircraft; and

$1.5 billion for other activities, including $500 million to acquire, procure, or construct a floating dry dock at the Coast Guard Yard in Baltimore, Maryland.

Based on historical spending patterns for similar projects, and using information from the Coast Guard, CBO estimates that enacting section 100001 would increase outlays by $19.6 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Changes to Mandatory Benefits Programs to Allow Selected Reserve Orders for Preplanned Missions to Secure Maritime Borders and Interdict Persons and Drugs: Section 100002 would authorize the Coast Guard to place members of the Selected Reserve on active duty under certain circumstances. That time would count toward the reservists' entitlement for benefits under the Post-9/11 GI Bill; those benefits are paid from mandatory appropriations. Accounting for the increased benefits some reservists and their dependents would receive and using information from the Coast Guard, CBO estimates that each year, 250 reservists, on average, would accrue about six months of additional active duty that would be counted toward their eligibility.

Using information from the Department of Veterans Affairs, CBO estimates that the longer time reservists spend on active duty would increase direct spending by $9 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Vessel Tonnage Duties: Section 100003 would increase tonnage duties on vessels entering the United States. Those charges are levied by Customs and Border Protection and recorded in the budget as offsetting receipts (that is, as reductions in direct spending). In general, the bill would increase tonnage duty rates by 125 percent relative to rates under current law. In 2024, the government collected about $33 million in such charges.

CBO estimates that the higher rate would increase collections (and reduce direct spending) by about $38 million per year relative to current law, totaling $343 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Registration Fee on Motor Vehicles: Section 100004 would appropriate $104 million in 2026 to support states as they implement systems for collecting registration fees for electric and hybrid vehicles. Those collections are discussed below in the section on Revenues.

Based on historical spending patterns for similar programs, CBO estimates that enacting this section would increase outlays by $102 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Motor Carrier Data: Section 100006 would appropriate $5 million to the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) to create a public website for tracking motor carriers' compliance with the agency's operating requirements. The provision also would allow FMCSA to collect fees from entities that access the website, which could be spent without further appropriation. Those collections are discussed below in the section on Revenues.

CBO estimates that enacting this section would increase outlays by $20 million over the 2025–2034 period, reflecting spending of the direct appropriation ($5 million) and the collected fees ($15 million).

Rescissions: Section 100007 would rescind funds from seven programs established under the 2022 reconciliation act with the following purposes:

Support development of sustainable aviation fuel;

Support projects to improve walkability, safety, and transportation access in disadvantaged communities;

Convert General Services Administration (GSA) facilities to high-performing green buildings;

Install low-carbon materials in GSA facilities;

Support use of emerging technologies for environmental programs in GSA facilities;

Support environmental review for transportation projects; and Support development of low-carbon transportation materials.

CBO estimates that enacting this section would reduce budget authority by $5.2 billion and outlays by $4 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Air Traffic Control Staffing and Modernization: Section 100008 would appropriate $12.5 billion for the FAA to construct, acquire, improve, and operate various facilities and equipment as follows:

$7.8 billion for radar and telecommunications systems;

$2.2 billion for air traffic control facilities;

$1.0 billion for air traffic controller recruitment, retention, and training; and

$1.6 billion for other activities, including runway safety projects and unstaffed infrastructure.

Based on historical spending patterns for similar projects and using information from the FAA, CBO estimates that enacting this section would increase outlays by $12.0 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts Appropriations: Section 100009 would appropriate $257 million for the John F.

Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, increasing outlays by the same amount over the 2025–2034 period.

Revenues: Enacting the bill would increase revenues by $64 billion over the 2025–2034 period (see Table 2). Almost all of that would be collected in registration fees on electric and hybrid vehicles under section 100004.

Registration Fee on Motor Vehicles: Sections 100004 and 100005 would require states to collect annual registration fees of $250 for electric vehicles and $100 for hybrid vehicles, through September 30, 2035, and to deposit those collections into the Highway Trust Fund. States would be required to remit 99 percent of the collected fees to the federal government, retaining up to 1 percent to cover administrative costs associated with collections. The Federal Highway Administration would be directed to withhold apportionments from the Highway Trust Fund for states that do not collect and remit the fees. Starting in fiscal year 2027, the withheld amount would be 125 percent of the amount required to be remitted.

CBO expects that states would generally enact the necessary legislative or administrative measures to implement and collect the required fees within a few years of enactment and would comply with the remittance requirements. Proceeds from the collections would be deposited into the Highway Trust Fund; outlays from the fund are controlled by annual obligation limitations and therefore are considered discretionary.

Indirect taxes and regulatory fees tend to reduce collections of income and payroll taxes. As a result, CBO expects that the new fee collections would be partially offset by decreases in tax receipts of about 25 percent of the gross fee collections each year.[74] CBO estimates that enacting sections 100004 and 100005 would increase revenues, on net, by $64 billion over the 2025–2034 period.

Motor Carrier Data: Section 100006 would authorize FMCSA to charge an annual fee of $100 for access to a website that would track motor carriers' compliance with FMCSA's operating requirements. Under the provision, brokers and similar entities would be considered to have exercised reasonable and prudent care in engaging motor carriers if they use the website to verify a carrier's compliance status.

When they are collected by the federal government under its sovereign authority, fees are considered revenues. CBO considers a determination that an entity has acted in a "reasonable and prudent" manner as a matter of law to be an exercise of sovereign authority, so those access fees would be considered revenues.

Based on expected participation rates, and accounting for the offset for indirect taxes, CBO estimates that the collection of access fees would increase federal revenues, on net, by $12 million over the 2025–2034 period.

Uncertainty: Many of CBO's estimates for the budgetary effects of enacting title X are subject to uncertainty because they rely on underlying projections and other estimates that are themselves difficult to estimate.

[74] For more information, see Congressional Budget Office, CBO's Use of the Income and Payroll Tax Offset in Its Budget Projections and Cost Estimates (October 2022), www.cbo.gov/publication/58421.

The amounts collected in tonnage duties under section 100003 could vary from CBO's estimates because the volume of goods imported into the United States is uncertain. CBO also cannot predict changes in tariffs or certain other factors that would affect the volume of imported goods.

Revenues collected for registrations of electric and hybrid vehicles under section 100004 could differ from estimated amounts if states begin to collect fees more quickly or slowly than CBO expects, or if there are more or fewer registrations than expected under current law.

Pay-As-You-Go considerations: The Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 establishes budget-reporting and enforcement procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or revenues. The net changes in outlays and revenues that are subject to those pay-as-you-go procedures are shown in Table 1.

Increase in long-term net direct spending and deficits: CBO estimates that enacting the legislation would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2035.

Mandates: The reconciliation recommendations included in title X of the legislation would impose intergovernmental and private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA). CBO estimates that the total cost of those mandates would exceed the thresholds established in UMRA for intergovernmental and private-sector mandates ($103 million and $206 million in 2025, respectively, adjusted annually for inflation).

Electric and Hybrid Vehicle Fees: Section 100004 would require the owners of electric and hybrid vehicles to remit annual registration fees, which would impose intergovernmental and private-sector mandates on the owners of those vehicles. The requirement would include some light-duty vehicles owned by state and local governments, including schools, universities, and other public entities that are subject to state registration requirements. The legislation would exclude some commercial vehicles from the fee.

CBO estimates that the cost of the mandate would exceed $10 billion each year once the policy has been fully implemented. The cost for intergovernmental entities to comply with the mandate would exceed the threshold starting in 2029 and remain above it each year through 2034. As a result of the legislation, to avoid paying the registration fees, some states could choose to modify their registration requirements for government-owned vehicles.

The section would impose an additional intergovernmental mandate by requiring states to administer and collect the fees on behalf of the federal government. States would update their registration processes unless an alternative is approved by the administrator of FMCSA. The legislation would provide a onetime grant to states to implement the policy and allow them to retain a portion of the remittances to cover administrative costs. For states unable to recover credit and debit card fees from vehicle registration remittances, CBO estimates that the requirement would result in a net loss of several million dollars in revenue each year.

Motor Carriers: Section 100006 would require FMCSA to establish a website that would provide information to brokers and similar entities on the status of a motor carrier's compliance with FMCSA operational requirements. That provision would impose a private-sector mandate by limiting the rights of action that petitioners may make against brokers. Currently, when a motor carrier causes injuries or property damage, a petitioner may challenge whether the broker exercised due care in selecting the carrier. Under the legislation, brokers using that site will be considered to have exercised due care in selecting a motor carrier. The cost of the mandate would be any monetary damages that would not be awarded as a result. CBO cannot estimate the cost of the mandate because it would depend on the outcome of future litigation.

Coast Guard Selected Reserve: Section 100002 would expand the scope of an existing intergovernmental and private-sector mandate on employers. That section would extend the employment protections of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 to members of the Coast Guard Selected Reserve who are placed on active duty. Employers would be required to treat those reservists as furloughed employees or employees on a leave of absence, which would entitle them to any compensation or benefits otherwise available to them in that status. Upon their return from active duty, employers would be required to provide them with the same benefits, pay, and seniority as though they had not been deployed. The cost of the mandate would be the cost to employers that provide those benefits. CBO expects that each year the provision would affect 250 reservists, on average. The cost for public and private employers would be small.

Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts); Paul B.A. Holland (for veterans' education programs); Aaron Krupkin (for aviation and maritime programs); Willow Latham-Proença (for surface transportation programs); Matthew Pickford (for federal buildings); Molly Sherlock (for revenues); Mandates: Brandon Lever.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

With respect to the requirement of clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the performance goal and objective of this Committee Print is to provide recommendations to the Committee on Budget that reduce the deficit by at least $10 billion over the next decade, while making necessary investments in border security, national security, and aviation safety.

DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(5) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee finds that no provision of the T&I Committee Print, as amended, establishes or reauthorizes a program of the Federal Government known to be duplicative of another Federal program, a program that was included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111–139, or a program related to a program identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

CONGRESSIONAL EARMARKS, LIMITED TAX BENEFITS, AND LIMITED TARIFF BENEFITS

In compliance with clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, this bill, as reported, contains no congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(e), 9(f), or 9(g) of the rule XXI.

FEDERAL MANDATES STATEMENT

The Committee adopts as its own the estimate of Federal mandates prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (Public Law 104–4).

PREEMPTION CLARIFICATION

Section 423 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 requires the report of any Committee on a bill or joint resolution to include a statement on the extent to which the bill or joint resolution is intended to preempt state, local, or tribal law. The Committee finds that the T&I Committee Print, as amended, does not preempt any state, local, or tribal law.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE STATEMENT

No advisory committees within the definition of Section 5(b) of Public Law 92–463 (5 U.S.C. 10004(b)), the Federal Advisory Committee Act, are created by this legislation.

APPLICABILITY TO LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Committee finds that the Committee Print does not relate to the terms and conditions of employment or access to public services or accommodations within the meaning of section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act (Public Law 104–1).

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE COMMITTEE PRINT

Sec. 100001. Coast Guard Assets Necessary to Secure the Maritime Border and Interdict Migrants and Drugs

This section provides $21.2 billion to the United States Coast Guard (Coast Guard or the Service) for the acquisition, sustainment, improvement, and operations of Coast Guard assets necessary to provide presence, surveillance, and security of the maritime border. Specifically this section makes the following funds available for obligation through September 30, 2029: $571.5 million for fixed wing aircraft; $1.283 billion for rotary wing aircraft; $140 million for long-range unmanned aircraft and base stations; $4.3 billion for Offshore Patrol Cutters; $1 billion for Fast Response Cutters; $4.3 billion for Polar Security Cutters; $4.978 billion for Arctic Security Cutters and domestic icebreakers; $3.154 billion for shoreside infrastructure, of which $400 million is for hangars, maintenance, and crew facilities for fixed wing aircraft and rotary wing aircraft, $2.33 billion is for homeports for Offshore Patrol Cutters, Fast Response Cutters, Arctic Security Cutters, Polar Security Cutters, and National Security Cutters, and $425 million for design, engineering, construction management of, and program management for enlisted boot camp recapitalization, including barracks' replacement and a multi-use training center; $1.3 billion for aviation, cutter, and shoreside facility depot maintenance, of which $500 million is for a floating dry dock; and $180 million for maritime domain awareness, of which $75 million is for autonomous surface assets.

This section waives certain acquisitions requirements under chapter 11 of title 14, United States Code, related to acquisition, procurement, and construction for programs funded with appropriations under this section. Additionally, this section allows the use of a vessel construction manager for the construction of a floating drydock, Arctic Security Cutters, or domestic icebreakers. It also limits design, planning and engineering to 15 percent of the amount appropriated.

Before spending funds appropriated by this section, the Coast Guard is required to submit overdue reports on Coast Guard acquisition, provide an expenditure plan, and notify the Congressional committees of jurisdiction before taking actions impacting estimated acquisition costs or timelines. Finally, the President is required to notify the Congressional Committees of jurisdiction before exercising an exception under section 1151(b) of title 14, United States Code.

Sec. 100002. Changes to Mandatory Benefits Programs to Allow Selected Reserve Orders for Preplanned Missions to Secure Maritime Borders and Interdict Persons and Drugs

This section gives the Commandant of the Coast Guard the authority to order any member of the Selected Reserve to active duty for no more than 365 consecutive days to conduct preplanned missions.

Under current law, the Coast Guard has authority to call up reservists to respond to emergencies. In contrast, the Department of Defense has the authority to call up the reservists of the other five armed forces both to respond to emergencies and to conduct preplanned activities. This section provides the Coast Guard parity with the other armed forces.

Sec. 100003. Vessel Tonnage Duties

This section increases vessel tonnage duties imposed on vessels that enter the United States from a foreign port or place or depart from and return to a United States port or place after a "voyage to nowhere." Current tonnage duty rates were established in 1909 and were temporarily increased in fiscal years (FYs) 2006 through 2010. This section returns the tonnage duty level to the amount that was imposed in FYs 2006 through 2010.

Sec. 100004. Registration Fee on Motor Vehicles

This section directs the Administrator of the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) to impose the following Federal annual motor vehicle registration fees: $250 for an electric vehicle and $100 for a hybrid vehicle. This section also requires each fee to be increased annually for inflation. Covered motor vehicles include vehicles intended for roadway use but exclude commercial motor vehicles and covered farm vehicles. This section requires that the collection of fees for electric vehicles and hybrid vehicles begins no later than the end of FY 2026 and that these fees terminate in FY 2035.

This section instructs state departments of transportation to collect the fees and remit the balance of the fees collected monthly to the FHWA Administrator. If a state fails to remit collected fees required under this section, FHWA will withhold Federal highway formula funding at an amount equal to 125 percent of the fees that were required to be remitted.

Additionally, this section provides $104 million for states to establish the registration fee process, providing that a state may receive not more than $2 million. A state found to be in compliance with this section is permitted to retain up to one percent of total fees collected by that state for administrative expenses.

This section requires the FHWA Administrator to issue any necessary regulations and guidance to carry out this section. This section also requires that the Administrator report to Congress on the status of implementation.

Sec. 100005. Deposit of Registration Fee on Motor Vehicles

This section provides that amounts accrued pursuant to 23 U.S.C. 180 (the fees on motor vehicles created in section 100004 of this Committee Print) are deposited into the Highway Trust Fund.

Sec. 100006. Motor Carrier Data

This section provides $5 million to the Administrator of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) to establish a public website that details whether each motor carrier, as defined in section 13102, of title 49 United States Code, meets FMCSA operating requirements. Additionally, this section establishes an annual $100 fee for accessing the website. This section also details that a broker, freight forwarder, or household goods freight forwarder who relies on the website's determinations of whether motor carriers have met FMCSA requirements has made reasonable and prudent determinations when engaging that motor carrier.

Sec. 100007. IRA Rescissions

This section permanently rescinds unobligated balances for seven programs created under the Inflation Reduction Act: alternative fuel and low-emission aviation technology program, neighborhood access and equity grant program, Federal building assistance, use of low-carbon materials for Federal building assistance, General Services Administration emerging technologies, environmental review implementation funds, and low-carbon transportation materials grants.

Sec. 100008. Air Traffic Control Staffing and Modernization

This section appropriates $12.5 billion to the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) for the acquisition, sustainment, improvement, and operation of facilities and equipment necessary to improve or maintain aviation safety, as well as supporting the personnel related to those facilities. Specifically, the section makes the following funds available for obligation until September 30, 2029: $2.16 billion for air traffic control tower and terminal radar approach control facility replacement, of which at least $240 million will be available for Contract Tower Program air traffic control tower replacement and airport sponsor-owned air traffic control tower replacement; $3 billion for radar systems replacement; $4.75 billion for telecommunications infrastructure replacement; $500 million for runway safety projects, airport surface surveillance projects, and to carry out section 347 of the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2024 related to surface safety risk mitigation; $550 million for unstaffed infrastructure sustainment and replacement; $300 million to carry out section 619 of the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2024 related to NextGen programs; $260 million to carry out the Don Young Alaska Aviation Safety Initiative; and $1 billion for air traffic controller recruitment, retention, training, and advanced training technologies. Additionally, this section requires the FAA Administrator to provide a quarterly report on how these funds have been expended.

Sec. 100009. Kennedy Center Appropriations

This section appropriates nearly $241.8 million, which will remain available for obligation until September 30, 2029, for expenses related to capital repair and restoration of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts (Kennedy Center). The section also appropriates $7.7 million, which is available for obligation until September 30, 2026, for the operation, maintenance, and security at the Kennedy Center. Additionally, the section appropriates $7.2 million, available until September 30, 2029, for administrative expenses.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL, AS REPORTED

In compliance with clause 3(e) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (existing law proposed to be omitted is struck through, new matter is printed in italic, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):

§ 3715. Selected reserve: order to active duty for preplanned missions in support of the active component

(a) Authority.—When the Commandant determines that it is necessary to augment the active forces for a preplanned mission in support of Coast Guard requirements, the Commandant may subject to subsection (b), order any member of the Selected Reserve, without the consent of the member, to active duty for not more than 365 consecutive days.

(b) Limitations.—Members of the Selected Reserve may be ordered to active duty under this section only if—

(1) The manpower and associated costs of such active duty are specifically included and identified in the materials submitted to Congress by the Secretary of the department in which the Coast Guard is operating, in support of the budget for the fiscal year or years in which such members are anticipated to be ordered to active duty; and

(2) The budget information of such costs includes a description of the mission for which such members are anticipated to be ordered active duty and the anticipated length of time of the order of such members to active duty on an involuntary basis.

(c) Exclusion from Strength Limitations—Members of the Selected Reserve ordered to active duty under this section shall not be counted in computing authorized strength in members on active duty or the total number of members in grade under this title or any other law.

(d) Termination of Duty—Whenever any member of the Selected Reserve is ordered to active duty under subsection (a), such service may be terminated—

(1) By order of the Commandant; or

(2) By law.

(e) Considerations for Involuntary Order to Active Duty.—In determining which members of the Selected Reserve will be ordered to duty without their consent under subsection (a), appropriate considerations shall be given to—

(1) The length and nature of previous service, to assure such sharing of exposure to hazards as national security and military requirements will reasonably allow;

(2) The frequency of assignments during service career;

(3) Family responsibilities; and

(4) Employment necessary to maintain the national health, safety, or interest.

(f) Policies and Procedures.—The Commandant may prescribe policies and procedures to carry out this section, including on determinations with respect to orders to active duty under subsection (e).

(C) the employment from which the person leaves to serve in the uniformed services is for a brief, nonrecurrent period and there is no reasonable expectation that such employment will continue indefinitely or for a significant period.

(2) In any proceeding involving an issue of whether—

(A) any reemployment referred to in paragraph (1) is impossible or unreasonable because of a change in an employer's circumstances,

(B) any accommodation, training, or effort referred to in subsection (a)(3), (a)(4), or (b)(2)(B) of section 4313 would impose an undue hardship on the employer, or

(C) the employment referred to in paragraph (1)(C) is for a brief, nonrecurrent period and there is no reasonable expectation that such employment will continue indefinitely or for a significant period, the employer shall have the burden of proving the impossibility or unreasonableness, undue hardship, or the brief or nonrecurrent nature of the employment without a reasonable expectation of continuing indefinitely or for a significant period.

(e)(1) Subject to paragraph (2), a person referred to in subsection (a) shall, upon the completion of a period of service in the uniformed services, notify the employer referred to in such subsection of the person's intent to return to a position of employment with such employer as follows:

(A) In the case of a person whose period of service in the uniformed services was less than 31 days, by reporting to the employer—

(i) not later than the beginning of the first full regularly scheduled work period on the first full calendar day following the completion of the period of service and the expiration of eight hours after a period allowing for the safe transportation of the person from the place of that service to the person's residence; or

(ii) as soon as possible after the expiration of the eight-hour period referred to in clause (i), if reporting within the period referred to in such clause is impossible or unreasonable through no fault of the person.

(C) In the case of a person whose period of service in the uniformed services was for more than 30 days but less than 181 days, by submitting an application for reemployment with the employer not later than 14 days after the completion of the period of service or if submitting such application within such period is impossible or unreasonable through no fault of the person, the next first full calendar day when submission of such application becomes possible.

(D) In the case of a person whose period of service in the uniformed services was for more than 180 days, by submitting an application for reemployment with the employer not later than 90 days after the completion of the period of service.

jury, report to the person's employer (in the case of a person described in subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (1)) or submit an application for reemployment with such employer (in the case of a person described in subparagraph (C) or (D) of such paragraph). Except as provided in subparagraph (B), such period of recovery may not exceed two years.

(B) Such two-year period shall be extended by the minimum time required to accommodate the circumstances beyond such person's control which make reporting within the period specified in subparagraph (A) impossible or unreasonable.

(3) A person who fails to report or apply for employment or reemployment within the appropriate period specified in this subsection shall not automatically forfeit such person's entitlement to the rights and benefits referred to in subsection (a) but shall be subject to the conduct rules, established policy, and general practices of the employer pertaining to explanations and discipline with respect to absence from scheduled work.

(f)(1) A person who submits an application for reemployment in accordance with subparagraph (C) or (D) of subsection (e)(1) or subsection (e)(2) shall provide to the person's employer (upon the request of such employer) documentation to establish that—

(A) the person's application is timely;

(B) the person has not exceeded the service limitations set forth in subsection (a)(2) (except as permitted under subsection (c)); and 2

(C) the person's entitlement to the benefits under this chapter has not been terminated pursuant to section 4304.

(2) Documentation of any matter referred to in paragraph (1) that satisfies regulations prescribed by the Secretary shall satisfy the documentation requirements in such paragraph. (3)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the failure of a person to provide documentation that satisfies regulations prescribed pursuant to paragraph (2) shall not be a basis for denying reemployment in accordance with the provisions of this chapter if the failure occurs because such documentation does not exist or is not readily available at the time of the request of the employer. If, after such reemployment, documentation becomes available that establishes that such person does not meet one or more of the requirements referred to in subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of paragraph (1), the employer of such person may terminate the employment of the person and the provision of any rights or benefits afforded the person under this chapter.

(B) An employer who reemploys a person absent from a position of employment for more than 90 days may require that the person provide the employer with the documentation referred to in subparagraph (A) before beginning to treat the person as not having incurred a break in service for pension purposes under section 4318(a)(2)(A).

(4) An employer may not delay or attempt to defeat a reemployment obligation by demanding documentation that does not then exist or is not then readily available.

(g) The right of a person to reemployment under this section shall not entitle such person to retention, preference, or displacement rights over any person with a superior claim under the provisions of title 5, United States Code, relating to veterans and other preference eligibles.

(h) In any determination of a person's entitlement to protection under this chapter, the timing, frequency, and duration of the person's training or service, or the nature of such training or service (including voluntary service) in the uniformed services, shall not be a basis for denying protection of this chapter if the service does not exceed the limitations set forth in subsection (c) and the notice requirements established in subsection (a)(1) and the notification requirements established in subsection (e) are met.

CHAPTER 55—MEDICAL AND DENTAL CARE

§ 1074. Medical and dental care for members and certain former members

(a)(1) Under joint regulations to be prescribed by the administering Secretaries, a member of a uniformed service described in paragraph (2) is entitled to medical and dental care in any facility of any uniformed service.

(2) Members of the uniformed services referred to in paragraph (1) are as follows:

(A) A member of a uniformed service on active duty.

(B) A member of a reserve component of a uniformed service who has been commissioned as an officer if—

(i) the member has requested orders to active duty for the member's initial period of active duty following the commissioning of the member as an officer;

(ii) the request for orders has been approved;

(iii) the orders are to be issued but have not been issued or the orders have been issued but the member has not entered active duty; and

(iv) the member does not have health care insurance and is not covered by any other health benefits plan.

(b)(1) Under joint regulations to be prescribed by the administering Secretaries, a member or former member of a uniformed service who is entitled to retired or retainer pay, or equivalent pay may, upon request, be given medical and dental care in any facility of any uniformed service, subject to the availability of space and facilities and the capabilities of the medical and dental staff. The administering Secretaries may, with the agreement of the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, provide care to persons covered by this subsection in facilities operated by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs and determined by him to be available for this purpose on a reimbursable basis at rates approved by the President.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to a member or former member entitled to retired pay for non-regular service under chapter 1223 of this title who is under 60 years of age.

(c)(1) Funds appropriated to a military department, the Department of Homeland Security (with respect to the Coast Guard when it is not operating as a service in the Navy), or the Department of Health and Human Services (with respect to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the Public Health Service) may be used to provide medical and dental care to persons entitled to such care by law or regulations, including the provision of such care (other than elective private treatment) in private facilities for members of the uniformed services. If a private facility or health care provider providing care under this subsection is a health care provider under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services, the Secretary of Defense, after consultation with the other administering Secretaries, may by regulation require the private facility or health care provider to provide such care in accordance with the same payment rules (subject to any modifications considered appropriate by the Secretary) as apply under that program.

(2)(A) Subject to such exceptions as the Secretary of Defense considers necessary, coverage for medical care for members of the uniformed services under this subsection, and standards with respect to timely access to such care, shall be comparable to coverage for medical care and standards for timely access to such care under the managed care option of the TRICARE program known as TRICARE Prime.

(B) The Secretary of Defense shall enter into arrangements with contractors under the TRICARE program or with other appropriate contractors for the timely and efficient processing of claims under this subsection.

(C) The Secretary of Defense shall consult with the other administering Secretaries in the administration of this paragraph.

(3)(A) A member of the uniformed services described in subparagraph (B) may not be required to receive routine primary medical care at a military medical treatment facility.

(B) A member referred to in subparagraph (A) is a member of the uniformed services on active duty who is entitled to medical care under this subsection and who—

(i) receives a duty assignment described in subparagraph (C); and

(ii) pursuant to the assignment of such duty, resides at a location that is more than 50 miles, or approximately one hour of driving time, from the nearest military medical treatment facility adequate to provide the needed care.

(C) A duty assignment referred to in subparagraph (B) means any of the following:

(i) Permanent duty as a recruiter.

(ii) Permanent duty at an educational institution to instruct, administer a program of instruction, or provide administrative services in support of a program of instruction for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

(iii) Permanent duty as a full-time adviser to a unit of a reserve component.

(iv) Any other permanent duty designated by the Secretary concerned for purposes of this paragraph.

(4)(A) Subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary of Defense considers appropriate, coverage comparable to that provided by the Secretary under subsections (d) and (e) of section 1079 of this title shall be provided under this subsection to members of the uniformed services who incur a serious injury or illness on active duty as defined by regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

(B) The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe in regulations—

(i) the individuals who shall be treated as the primary caregivers of a member of the uniformed services for purposes of this paragraph; and

(ii) the definition of serious injury or illness for the purposes of this paragraph.

(d)(1) For the purposes of this chapter, a member of a reserve component of the armed forces who is issued a delayed-effective-date active-duty order, or is covered by such an order, shall be treated as being on active duty for a period of more than 30 days beginning on the later of the date that is—

(A) the date of the issuance of such order; or

(B) 180 days before the date on which the period of active duty is to commence under such order for that member.

(2) In this subsection, the term "delayed-effective-date active-duty order" means an order to active duty for a period of more than 30 days under section 12304b of this title or a provision of law referred to in section 101(a)(13)(B) of this title[, or section 3715 of title 14] that provides for active-duty service to begin under such order on a date after the date of the issuance of the order.

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER 58—BENEFITS AND SERVICES FOR MEMBERS BEING SEPARATED OR RECENTLY SEPARATED

§ 1145. Health benefits

(a) TRANSITIONAL HEALTH CARE.—(1) For the time period described in paragraph (4), a member of the armed forces who is separated from active service as described in paragraph (2) (and the dependents of the member) shall be entitled to receive—

(A) except as provided in paragraph (3), medical and dental care under section 1076 of this title in the same manner as a dependent described in subsection (a)(2) of such section; and

(B) health benefits contracted under the authority of section 1079(a) of this title and subject to the same rates and conditions as apply to persons covered under that section.

(2) This subsection applies to the following members of the armed forces:

(A) A member who is involuntarily separated from active duty.

(B) A member of a reserve component who is separated from active duty to which called or ordered under section 12304b of this title or a provision of law referred to in section 101(a)(13)(B) of this title [, or section 3715 of title 14] if the active duty is active duty for a period of more than 30 days.

(C) A member who is separated from active duty for which the member is involuntarily retained under section 12305 of this title in support of a contingency operation.

(D) A member who is separated from active duty served pursuant to a voluntary agreement of the member to remain on active duty for a period of less than one year in support of a contingency operation.

(E) A member who receives a sole survivorship discharge (as defined in section 1174(i) of this title).

(F) A member who is separated from active duty who agrees to become a member of the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve of a reserve component.

(G) A member of the National Guard who is separated from full-time National Guard Duty to which called or ordered under section 502(f) of title 32 for a period of active service of more than 30 days to perform duties that are authorized by the President or the Secretary of Defense for the purpose of responding to a national emergency declared by Congress or the President and supported by Federal funds.

(3) In the case of a member described in subparagraph (B) or (G) of paragraph (2), the dental care to which the member is entitled under this subsection shall be the dental care to which a member of the uniformed services on active duty for more than 30 days is entitled under section 1074 of this title.

(4) Except as provided in paragraph (7), transitional health care for a member under subsection (a) shall be available for 180 days beginning on the date on which the member is separated from active service. For purposes of the preceding sentence, in the case of a member on active service as described in subparagraph (B), (C), (D), or (G) of paragraph (2) who, without a break in service, is extended on active service for any reason, the 180- day period shall begin on the date on which the member is separated from such extended active service.

(5)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (D), the Secretary concerned shall require a member of the armed forces scheduled to be separated from active service as described in paragraph (2) to undergo a physical examination and a mental health assessment conducted pursuant to section 1074n of this title immediately before that separation. The physical examination shall be conducted in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense.

(B) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), if a member of the armed forces scheduled to be separated from active service as described in paragraph (2) has otherwise undergone a physical examination within 12 months before the scheduled date of separation from active service, the requirement for a physical examination under subparagraph (A) may be waived in accordance with regulations prescribed under this paragraph. Such regulations shall require that such a waiver may be granted only with the consent of the member and with the concurrence of the member's unit commander.

(C) The Secretary concerned shall ensure that each physical examination of a member under subparagraph (A) includes an assessment of whether the member was—

(i) based or stationed at a location where an open burn pit, as defined in subsection (c) of section 201 of the Dignified Burial and Other Veterans' Benefits Improvement Act of 2012 (Public Law 112–260; 38 U.S.C. 527 note), was used; or

(ii) exposed to toxic airborne chemicals or other airborne contaminants, including any information recorded as part of the registry established by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs under such section 201.

(D) The requirement for a physical examination and mental health assessment under subparagraph (A) shall not apply with respect to a member of a reserve component described in paragraph (2)(B) unless the member is retiring, or being discharged or dismissed, from the armed forces.

(6)(A) The Secretary of Defense shall, in consultation with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, ensure that appropriate actions are taken to assist a member of the armed forces who, as a result of a medical examination under paragraph (5), receives an indication for a referral for follow up treatment from the health care provider who performs the examination.

(B) Assistance provided to a member under paragraph (1) shall include the following:

(i) Information regarding, and any appropriate referral for, the care, treatment, and other services that the Secretary of Veterans Affairs may provide to such member under any other provision of law, including—

(I) clinical services, including counseling and treatment for post-traumatic stress disorder and other mental health conditions; and

(II) any other care, treatment, and services.

(ii) Information on the private sector sources of treatment that are available to the member in the member's community.

(iii) Assistance to enroll in the health care system of the Department of Veterans Affairs for health care benefits for which the member is eligible under laws administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

(7)(A) A member who has a medical condition relating to active service that warrants further medical care that has been identified during the member's 180-day transition period, which condition can be resolved within 180 days as determined by a Department of Defense physician, shall be entitled to receive medical and dental care for that medical condition, and that medical condition only, as if the member were a member of the armed forces on active service for 180 days following the diagnosis of the condition.

(B) The Secretary concerned shall ensure that the Defense Enrollment and Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS) is continually updated in order to reflect the continuing entitlement of members covered by subparagraph (A) to the medical and dental care referred to in that subparagraph.

(b) CONVERSION HEALTH POLICIES.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall inform each member referred to in subsection (a) before the date of the member's discharge or release from active service of the availability for purchase by the member of a conversion health policy for the member and the dependents of that member. A conversion health policy offered under this paragraph shall provide coverage for not less than an 18-month period.

(2) If a member referred to in subsection (a) purchases a conversion health policy during the period applicable to the member (or within a reasonable time after that period as prescribed by the Secretary of Defense), the Secretary shall provide health care, or pay the costs of health care provided, to the member and the dependents of the member—

(A) during the 18-month period beginning on the date on which coverage under the conversion health policy begins; and

(B) for a condition (including pregnancy) that exists on such date and for which care is not provided under the policy solely on the grounds that the condition is a preexisting condition.

(3) The Secretary of Defense may arrange for the provision of health care described in paragraph (2) through a contract with the insurer offering the conversion health policy.

(4) If the Secretary of Defense is unable, within a reasonable time, to enter into a contract with a private insurer to provide the conversion health policy required under paragraph (1) at a rate not to exceed the payment required under section 8905a(d)(1)(A) of title 5 for comparable coverage, the Secretary shall offer such a policy under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services. Subject to paragraph (5), a member purchasing a policy from the Secretary shall be required to pay into the Military Health Care Account or other appropriate account an amount equal to the sum of—

(A) the individual and Government contributions which would be required in the case of a person enrolled in a health benefits plan contracted for under section 1079 of this title; and

(B) an amount necessary for administrative expenses, but not to exceed two percent of the amount under subparagraph (A).

(5) The amount paid by a member who purchases a conversion health policy from the Secretary of Defense under paragraph (4) may not exceed the payment required under section 8905a(d)(1)(A) of title 5 for comparable coverage.

(6) In order to reduce premiums required under paragraph (4), the Secretary of Defense may offer a conversion health policy that, with respect to mental health services, offers reduced coverage and increased cost-sharing by the purchaser.

(c) Health Care For Certain Separated Members Not Otherwise Eligible.—(1) Consistent with the authority of the Secretary concerned to designate certain classes of persons as eligible to receive health care at a military medical facility, the Secretary concerned should consider authorizing, on an individual basis in cases of hardship, the provision of that care for a member who is separated from the armed forces, and is ineligible for transitional health care under subsection (a) or does not obtain a conversion health policy (or a dependent of the member). (2) The Secretary concerned shall give special consideration to requests for such care in cases in which the condition for which treatment is required was incurred or aggravated by the member or the dependent before the date of the separation of the member, particularly if the condition is a result of the particular circumstances of the service of the member.

(d) Physical Examinations for Certain Members of a Reserve Component.—(1) The Secretary concerned shall provide a physical examination pursuant to subsection (a)(5) to each member of a reserve component who—

(A) during the two-year period before the date on which the member is scheduled to be separated from the armed forces served on active service in support of a contingency operation for a period of more than 30 days;

(B) will not otherwise receive such an examination under such subsection; and

(C) elects to receive such a physical examination.

(2) The Secretary concerned shall—

(A) provide the physical examination under paragraph (1) to a member during the 90-day period before the date on which the member is scheduled to be separated from the armed forces; and

(B) issue orders to such a member to receive such physical examination.

(3) A member may not be entitled to health care benefits pursuant to subsection (a), (b), or (c) solely by reason of being provided a physical examination under paragraph (1).

(4) In providing to a member a physical examination under paragraph (1), the Secretary concerned shall provide to the member a record of the physical examination.

(e) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term "conversion health policy" means a health insurance policy with a private insurer, developed through negotiations between the Secretary of Defense and a private insurer, that is available for purchase by or for the use of a person who is no longer a member of the armed forces or a covered beneficiary.

(f) COAST GUARD.—The Secretary of Homeland Security shall implement this section for the members of the Coast Guard and their dependents when the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy.

(4) is not entitled, under any other provision of law, to retired pay from an armed force or retainer pay as a member of the Fleet Reserve or the Fleet Marine Corps Reserve.

(b) Application for retired pay under this section must be made to the Secretary of the military department, or the Secretary of Homeland Security, as the case may be, having jurisdiction at the time of application over the armed force in which the applicant is serving or last served.

(c)(1) A person who, before August 16, 1945, was a Reserve of an armed force, or a member of the Army without component or other category covered by section 12732(a)(1) of this title except a regular component, is not eligible for retired pay under this chapter unless—

(E) The term "Vietnam era" means the period beginning on August 5, 1964, and ending on March 27, 1973.

(d) The Secretary concerned shall notify each person who has completed the years of service required for eligibility for retired pay under this chapter. The notice shall be sent, in writing, to the person concerned within one year after the person completes that service. The notice shall include notice of the elections available to such person under the Survivor Benefit Plan established under subchapter II of chapter 73 of this title and the Supplemental Survivor Benefit Plan established under subchapter III of that chapter, and the effects of such elections.

(e) Notwithstanding section 8301 of title 5, the date of entitlement to retired pay under this section shall be the date on which the requirements of subsection (a) have been completed.

(f)(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the eligibility age for purposes of subsection (a)(1) is 60 years of age.

(2)(A) In the case of a person who as a member of the Ready Reserve serves on active duty or performs active service described in subparagraph (B) after January 28, 2008, the eligibility age for purposes of subsection (a)(1) shall be reduced, subject to subparagraph (C), below 60 years of age by three months for each aggregate of 90 days on which such person serves on such active duty or performs such active service in any fiscal year after January 28, 2008, or in any two consecutive fiscal years after September 30, 2014. A day of duty may be included in only one aggregate of 90 days for purposes of this subparagraph.

(B)(i) Service on active duty described in this subparagraph is service on active duty pursuant to a call or order to active duty under section 12301(d) or 12304b of this title, or under a provision of law referred to in section 101(a)(13)(B) of this title ❲, or section 3715 of title 14❳. (c) COLLECTION AND REMITTANCE OF FEE.—

(1) COLLECTION OF FEE.—A State motor vehicle department shall—

(3) COVERED HYBRID VEHICLE.—The term ''"covered hybrid vehicle"'' means a covered motor vehicle propelled by a combination of an electric motor and an internal combustion engine or other power source and components thereof.

SUPPLEMENTAL, MINORITY, ADDITIONAL, OR DISSENTING VIEWS

MINORITY VIEWS

Committee Democrats oppose the Committee's Budget Reconciliation recommendations, as amended and ordered transmitted to the House Committee on the Budget on April 30, 2025, pursuant to H. Con. Res. 14.

Reconciliation is an inherently partisan process, and we recognize that this legislation is a departure from the regular work of this Committee.

Democrats stand ready to work with the Majority on transportation and infrastructure investment and other shared goals, but not to further the instructions of H. Con. Res. 14, a fiscally reckless package that provides a gut punch to hardworking families. The Republican Reconciliation package adds more than $14 trillion in new debt over ten years; gives away $7 trillion in deficit-financed tax cuts to the wealthy; and slashes access to health care and food assistance for families.

We agree that providing additional resources for the Coast Guard, funding to improve our air traffic control system, and shoring up investments in surface transportation are important investments.

In the 117th Congress, Democrats used the gavel to enact historic levels of funding for all means of travel, to promote clean energy, to support supply chain improvements, to modernize water infrastructure, and to build and connect stronger, healthier communities. In stark contrast to the tax giveaways to billionaires advanced by Republicans, Democrats promoted investments in public goods designed to benefit everyone, not a select few, for decades to come. In addition, one of the revenue raisers in this bill is an increase to the tonnage tax. This tax is assessed on all cargo entering the United States and will increase costs for all Americans.

We are also deeply concerned that the budget resolution that underlies this reconciliation legislation leaves little room to advance robust bipartisan investments for the remainder of this Congress. The budget resolution cuts transportation budget authority by $406 billion over the next ten years compared to the CBO baseline.

These assumptions do not include a continuation of the nearly $200 billion enacted by the 117th Congress through emergency advanced appropriations which end in September 2026. These investments include: $66 billion in guaranteed investment in passenger and freight rail, $47 billion in bridge investments, $25 billion in airport grants, $21 billion in transit rail and bus grants, $13 billion to shore up Clean Water State Revolving Funds, $12 billion to supplement major project grants, and $2 billion for port infrastructure development. The budget resolution does not provide room to continue these investments, nor does the resolution provide a reserve fund to accommodate transportation or infrastructure legislation outside of the budget allocations.

Reauthorization of surface transportation programs is a major priority for the Committee in the 119th Congress. The Highway Trust Fund (HTF) faces a deficit of over $140 billion in the next five years. The changes to motor vehicle fees contained in the Committee recommendations represent a marked shift in how we generate revenue for highways and transit. These changes deserve robust debate and a full vetting of views by members on both sides of the aisle, on both sides of the Capitol, by Governors, Mayors, transportation stakeholders and many others.

The day before marking up the Committee recommendations, the Committee received testimony that $90 per year is an equivalent charge for electric vehicles (EVs) if the goal is to ensure EVs pay into the HTF on par with what drivers of gas-powered vehicles pay. This legislation, as amended, institutes a fee of $250 per year for EVs and $100 for hybrid vehicles, establishing EV and hybrid fees that far exceed what is paid by the average gas-powered vehicle. This legislation does not execute the deposit of these fees into the Highway Trust Fund, to both the Highway and Mass Transit Accounts, as is the current practice with other revenues. We agree that current gas tax revenues are insufficient to fund surface transportation needs. We also agree on the need for a robust debate on sustainable funding for surface transportation as we move through reauthorization. A budget resolution without a reserve fund and a markup that demonstrated a lack of consensus among Republicans on car fees means we have more work to do.

As noted during the markup, Democrats also strongly oppose Section 100007 of the legislation that claws back funding provided by the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). The cuts contained in the Committee recommendations are unnecessary to comply with the Senate reconciliation instructions. These programs are targeted for cuts simply because our colleagues don't agree with the policies.

Many of the grant programs listed for rescission have already been announced for specific projects. For example, the rescission of Neighborhood Access Grants claws back 80 grants that have been awarded—including to projects in 41 Congressional districts represented by Republican Members. Communities have spent time and resources applying for these grants and are relying on the anticipated funds in their budgets. Cutting this funding is a direct attack on many of our constituents. A list of announced projects under the IRA's Neighborhood Access and Equity Grants is attached.

Similarly, the legislation rescinds unobligated balances of IRA funding provided to the General Services Administration to improve and upgrade federal buildings and Land Ports of Entry. These rescissions are expected to impact over 140 projects across the country, a list of which is attached.

A robust debate at markup, in which Democrats offered 100 amendments, demonstrates the desire to work together and make investments that can garner broad support. We have a lot of work to do together this Congress to support the Coast Guard, to improve our air traffic control system, and to shore up investments in surface transportation. This Committee does not exist in a vacuum, however, and the product produced by the Committee will go into a fiscally irresponsible package with massive cuts to hard-working families. For these reasons, Transportation and Infrastructure Committee Democrats opposed the legislation.

Ranking Member.
